

Chapter 1037 Sky Film And Television Company

Trevor was sitting leisurely on the sofa. He was in a good mood right now.

Wilbert must be watching the video by now.

At the thought of this, a sneer tugged at the corners of Trevor's mouth. He figured that that freak must be terrified out of his wits. Well, that bastard deserved it after taking those obscene videos in secret.

Trevor did not take the matter too seriously.

Xzavier was Trevor's real goal.

At this moment, he placed the documents he had collected on the table and took the one on the top.

Written on the document were the core asset of his opponent—Star Film and Television Company.

It was said that this was the leading enterprise Xzavier had established.

Trevor's eyes narrowed as he stared at the stack of documents on the table.

"I've received quite a huge sum of money from Dooley. What if I use my current identity to run a business? I'd like to see the look on Xzavier's face when I destroy Star Film and

Television Company.*

Without another word, he picked up the documents on the table and fell into deep thought.

Xzavier was more suspicious than Dooley. He might have even been involved in the attack in Dreles the other night.

All of a sudden, Trevor's gaze turned sharp like an eagle's.

Xzavier deserved his revenge. Trevor swore to himself that he would destroy Xzavier's pride and let him have a taste of his own medicine.

"If I want to defeat the leading enterprise in the industry, I'll need a lot of start-up capital. Sadly, I don't think that the money I have on me right now is not enough."

Trevor suddenly stood up.

Now was not the right time for avenge. If Trevor wanted to succeed, he needed to be cautious.

Right now, what he had to do was establish a company and develop it.

As the saying went, "Rome is not built in a day." A leading company of an industry could not be destroyed overnight.

Since Trevor had set his eyes on the target, he had to act now.

That day, he registered a company called Sky Film and Television Company and rented spacious office space.

He was aware that a newly-established film and television company would not attract top agents and popular celebrities.

Therefore, he printed several copies of the company's posters and went to an art school in Barlowtown.

Trevor planned to recruit college students and see if he could discover hidden talents.

All he brought with him was a table and chair.

When Trevor arrived, he sat at the gate of the art school and waited for interested students. This was what he had planned on doing to hire staff in his company. In all honesty, he looked a little untrustworthy.

However, the students were used to this kind of setup. Graduating students, and even those who had already graduated, approached Trevor and asked his purpose.

But upon learning that Sky Film and Television Company was just found, their smiles faltered, and their enthusiasm disappeared in an instant.

Trevor did not discouraged, though.

At this moment, two ladies walked over to Trevor hand in hand.

They were beautiful and had perfect hourglass figures. Those who passed by them could not help but crane their necks to admire their beauty.

But upon hearing about Trevor's newly-established company, their reaction was different from the others'.

"Your company is new? If that's the case, we'll receive special treatment in the company, won't we?" one of the girls asked thoughtfully. She then looked at her friend and asked,

"Cristina, what do you think?"

The other girl, whose name was Cristina Vaughn, smiled scornfully and said, "Ivanna, you're so naive. I've never heard of that company before. It must be a fraud. Look. The company's representative is young and looks inexperienced. Don't you think it looks suspicious? Let's go. This bastard is probably just looking for girls he can accost."

Trevor felt a little helpless. But since he noticed that Ivanna Perry was interested, he did not give up and persuaded them.

"You're right. Sky Film and Television Company has just been established. But isn't it a good thing? This means that there are a lot of opportunities in our company waiting for you. If you perform well, you'll receive special treatment."

But before Trevor could finish his words, Cristina had already pulled Ivanna back.

Cristina did not seem interested in Trevor's company. But just as she turned around to leave, her eyes lit up in delight, and she shouted, "Hey! Mr. Larson! Mr. Larson, over here!"

Chapter 1038 Hiring Employees

Upon hearing the name, Trevor looked sideways. And he couldn't help raising his eyebrows.

The person Cristina called "Mr. Larson" just now was actually Wilbert.

This exclamation also made the students around restless. They started whispering to each other.

"It's Wilbert. I heard he got the scholarship of the Department of Directing this year."

"Yes, and I heard he has directed several excellent works."

"Hey, your news is too old. I heard Wilbert has received a job offer from Star Film and Television Company."

"Wow, really? That's awesome! No wonder he is a well-known student in the Department of Directing."

Was Wilbert a well-known student in the Department of Directing?

Trevor felt absurd.

At this moment, Wilbert also saw Trevor.

Wilbert was instantly reminded of that day when he was fooled because of the video edited by Trevor. His eyes turned bloodshot and he wanted to rush and kill Trevor.

On the other hand, Cristina was very excited when she saw Wilbert. She said hurriedly, "Mr. Larson, when are you free? I've made an appointment for the audition. I hope you can give me a chance."

As she spoke, she deliberately twisted her body to show her curvaceous figure. Then she turned to her good friend and said, "Ivanna, you'd better sign up for the audition with Wilbert too. Maybe you can also get the chance to audition."

Ivanna didn't say anything. She just shook her head timidly and pursed her lips. She had already met Wilbert several times before.

Wilbert's eyes were always bold and aggressive, and this made her feel uncomfortable.

Cristina was determined to do everything to please Wilbert.

When she saw that Wilbert was staring at Trevor fiercely, she immediately guessed that he must hold a grudge against Trevor.

This could be her chance.

With a joyful look, Cristina said quickly, "Mr. Larson, you came just in time. This man is claiming to be the representative of a film and television company. But he is absolutely a swindler, playing tricks to mislead the students of our school. Please remind the other students not to be fooled by him."

Cristina slandered Trevor, not caring about the truth at all.

Upon hearing her words, Trevor frowned and sneered inwardly.

He didn't know anyone else in the art school. But he was sure that Wilbert was definitely not a good person.

Trevor pondered for a while. He knew that an audition arranged by this kind of person was not a serious one. There might be some dirty deals hidden in it.

Then he looked at Cristina with contempt. He thought that she was not a good woman either. She and Wilbert were from the same university, so she must know something was wrong with Wilbert. But she was still trying to please him. Her behavior was already disgusting enough.

Now that Cristina was slandering him, Trevor picked up a document from his desk and shouted, "The company information I advertised is absolutely true. And, whether you are hired or not, as long as you are willing to audition, you can get one thousand dollars."

One thousand dollars?

This was undoubtedly a very generous reward for fresh graduates.

And this was just an audition, not an official shoot.

In an instant, the students who were still watching around were eager to audition in Trevor's company.

And when Wilbert saw this, he couldn't help but stand up and shout, "Bullshit! As far as I know, you just bought an apartment. You don't look like a rich man at all. How can you have so much money to pay?"

Cristina echoed, "That's right! I can see that he looks poor."

Maybe he's thinking that the students are easy to deceive. He must be a swindler who wants to get money and have sex with female students. Is he not afraid of being caught by the police?"

On the other hand, Ivanna wanted to give it a try. The sincerity in Trevor's tone somehow convinced her.

She took a deep breath and said to Trevor, "I want to audition. Are you really going to give me a thousand dollars? I heard that many companies have rules that are difficult for fresh graduates. And we don't get paid for an audition."

Trevor smiled and took out his wallet. Then he pulled out some banknotes and handed one thousand dollars to Ivanna without saying a word.

Of course, actions were the best proof.

The students around were in an uproar. One thousand dollars was a huge sum of money for them.

They all rushed to Trevor excitedly to sign up for the audition.

Trevor couldn't help smiling. But he only chose a dozen of students, then he stopped accepting more. And he paid them in advance before the audition.

Trevor's gaze swept across the crowd, and he saw that only Wilbert and Cristina looked terrible.

Wilbert felt humiliated in front of everyone. Just now, he said that Trevor couldn't afford to pay. But Trevor paid more than ten thousand dollars on the spot.

It was like a slap in his face.

Wilbert stood still, feeling ashamed and furious. His eyes were full of anger and fierceness.

Wilbert couldn't help cursing inwardly. He was so furious, thinking that Trevor must want to insult him deliberately.

Cristina also felt regretful. One thousand dollars for a simple audition? Who wouldn't want to get that money? She clenched her fists. If she hadn't said so much against Trevor just now, she would also want to sign up.
