Chapter 3143

Married At First Sight Chapter 3143-Serenity said, "Then it can't be proven this time. If you are defenseless, there will be opportunities. As long as she is pretending, there will always be flaws exposed.

Miss Erickson doesn't know much about Mrs. Labbe or your sister. She can't prove anything by asking her to come forward."

Camryn hummed, "Then we can only wait until we have the opportunity to try it out again in the future. I feel that even if Mrs. Labbe has a purpose, she is targeting you. I rarely encounter her by chance, but you can often see her.

Every time you meet her at the entrance of the kindergarten, do you see her sister-in-law?"

Serenity replied, "I haven't seen it. Every time she says that her sister-in-law hasn't come out yet or that she has just sent her in, I don't know if she really sent her sister-in-law in or if she was lying. When I see her again, I will hide. I'll go back to the car and see if she actually picked up the kid."

"Is there something going on in your company?" Serenity changed the topic.

"It's just a meeting to deal with important documents. I can see it now. I will always come back and take a look. I can't just leave it to Brother Dal to help me with everything. My sister-in-law is pregnant, and I won't let Brother Dal do so much about the company's affairs. He wants me to spend more time with my sister-in-law."

Hearing that Melissa was pregnant, Serenity smiled and congratulated Camryn, "Congratulations on becoming an aunt."

Camryn smiled. "Thank you. I just knew that my sister-in-law was pregnant, so I went back to the company to have a look and also to see my sister-in-law."

She bought a lot of nutritional supplements for Melissa.

Although Camryn and Dalton were not biological siblings, they had known each other for more than ten years. Dalton was the person she trusted the most and was the most loyal to her. She had long regarded Dalton as her biological brother.

Before, Dalton's feelings for her might have been a mixture of male and female emotions, but now they are unquestionably no longer present. He really regarded her as a sister.

She has Callum, and Dalton also has Melissa. They are married, and now Melissa is pregnant.

Dalton's little family was very happy. He felt relieved to know that she and Callum were together.

Serenity: "That's what you need. You go first." When I get Sonny, I'll take him to Brother Dal's company."

"Well, I'll contact you if anything happens." Camryn took the initiative to end the call.

As soon as Camryn ended the call, Sonny came out of the kindergarten.

"Auntie."

Sonny always grinned when he saw Serenity, and then trotted towards her with his little schoolbag on his back.

Serenity took a few steps forward. When Sonny ran out, she held Sonny's hand and said goodbye to the teacher.

Sonny had a small red flower sticker on his forehead. He happily said to Serenity, "Auntie, I performed very well today. The teacher rewarded me with a small red flower."

"Oh, really, Sonny is awesome!" A smile greeted him as Serenity led him away. "And a certificate of award."

Sonny said, "The certificate is in my schoolbag."

Serenity asked, "What certificate is it?"

Sonny said, "Certificate of the Good Boy."

Serenity smiled and said, "Every child has one, right?"

After Sonny was silent, he responded, "Yes."

Serenity said, "Every child is a good boy, and our Sonny is especially a good boy."

Sonny liked others to praise him. Serenity knew very well about the child she raised by herself, so she immediately praised him again.

The expression on Sonny's face became happy.

After getting in the car, Serenity helped him take off his schoolbag.

"Auntie, I want to have a video chat with my mother. Tell her that I got a little red flower and a certificate."

Sonny spoke as he removed the certificate of award from his small school bag.
