

Chapter 1087 Arrogant People From The Media

Before it could even begin, the cooperation between Trevor and Nyomi had already fallen into a bad situation.

Rumors were a fatal blow to the people in the entertainment industry.

"Xzavier... This must be Xzavier's revenge!" Nyomi was so aggrieved that she wanted to cry. "Those people from the media dare to tell lies because their real identities are protected."

This was one of the disadvantages of the Internet. People could spread rumors for free without the need to reveal their identities.

That was why they could stimulate public opinion on the Internet and slander others.

At this moment, Trevor received another phone call.

"Hey, this is Levi, right? Since you didn't reply to me before, the hush money will increase to two hundred fifty dollars now. Don't hang up the phone in a hurry. Otherwise, you'll have to pay three hundred thousand dollars next time."

The voice of the man from the other end of the line was dripping with sarcasm. Then he laughed wickedly. He was full of confidence as if he was sure that Trevor was at his disposal.

Trevor raised his eyebrows. Of course, he refused calmly and firmly. "Dream on! You won't take a penny from me."

The man couldn't see Trevor's face at the moment.

He thought that Trevor was just being stubborn, so he threatened, "Okay, then. Don't blame me, but I'm sure you will regret it. I have ten new articles in my hands, and your reputation will soon be ruined."

Trevor was not in the mood to continue listening to the arrogant man, so he hung up the phone without hesitation.

Nyomi watched him, feeling a little anxious.

In the past, her agent handled things like this. But unfortunately, she had just fired her agent. She had no experience in dealing with such serious slander.

She took a sip of her drink and asked anxiously, "Levi, what should we do?"

Trevor smiled mysteriously. Then he said, "Don't worry, I already have an idea. Let me make a call first."

Those people from the media were confident that their true identities were protected, so they dared to spread rumors unscrupulously on the Internet.

But what if Trevor could find out about their identities and even control their computers?

Trevor immediately called Antoni. How could he forget this genius hacker?

During this time, he often took time to train and teach Antoni some self-defense skills.

Antoni was very excited when he received a call from Trevor.

"Levi, I know you will remember me. Don't worry, I have already seen the things that happened on the Internet these past two days. And I have tracked down the IP addresses of those people. Just give me an order, and I will hack their computers."

Trevor smiled. He was not wrong about Antoni at all. The latter was very smart and capable.

"Great job! Please shut them up, Antoni!" Trevor said decisively.

"It's just a piece of cake." Antoni's voice was full of confidence.

Trevor heard the sound of the keyboard tapping from the other end of the line. After a while, Antoni said, "It's done. They can't do anything on the Internet now."

Sure enough, those people from the media found that something was wrong with their computers.

They tried to publish the articles they wrote, but they failed. Even those articles and pictures they saved disappeared from their computers inexplicably.

At this moment, those people from the media who accepted money from Xzavier started to panic.

Taking bribes was an unspoken rule in the entertainment industry. But those who received the money must do the things they needed to do. If they failed, then they broke the rule.

They were very worried, but they didn't dare to offend a business tycoon like Xzavier. They couldn't do anything but be anxious.

They had no idea that Antoni was browsing all the information on their computers now.

And when he found something, he called Trevor excitedly.

"Levi, I found something interesting. Those people received money from the same person. I tracked the records on their computers. And according to the IP address of the sender, the money was from Star Film and Television Company."

Trevor was stunned upon hearing this.

If the money was from Star Film and Television Company, it meant that Xzavier was the one who transferred it.

"What else did you find?" Trevor asked, squinting his eyes.

Antoni replied, "I hacked Xzavier's personal computer too. I found out that he kept sending money and women to others in his early years to gain power. And this made Star Film and Television Company rise step by step. Levi, what do you want to do next?"

What should they do next?

Trevor smiled.

Of course, it was time for their counterattack to begin.

Chapter 1088 It's Payback Time

Slowly tapping his fingers on the table, Trevor said into his phone, "Antoni, you've got two tasks. Firstly, I need you to control the media accounts and dismiss all the rumors and scandals using them."

Nyomi's expression brightened as she gave Trevor a grateful look.

Fame and self-image were the life of the people who belonged to the entertainment industry. So naturally, as a popular star in the field, she was pretty worked up about her public image getting ruined. If those groundless rumors against her didn't clear, her reputation would be at stake from getting ripped.

So, at that time, using the accounts that slandered her to publish the needed statements was the best option at hand.

Trevor's command turned the public opinion on the Internet to a favorable side. New articles started appearing from the media accounts to undo the baseless rumors.

"Previously, I published an article about Sky Film and Television Company without any evidence. Please ignore it and don't be deceived by it.

"Nyomi's scandal is made up. I feel like she has been under the radar of someone's hostile motives."

"Those were just rumors. People from Star Film and Television Company attacked Nyomi with false news."

"Sorry, I posted a fake message."

The Internet was suddenly flooded with apologies. Such an amount of apologies was new for them. Plus, the attitude of people changed in a snap of a finger.

A satisfactory smile relaxed Trevor's features as he went through the heated popping messages on the Internet. He dialed Antoni's number again as he gave the second order.

"Did you get the proof of Xzavier giving money and women for bribes? Post it online if you did. It's time for a surprise for Xzavier!"

Antoni was excited.

He wasn't a guy who hacked into others' computers.

But in case of exposing a bad guy, he felt no scruple.

In fact, Antoni would feel satisfied doing this deed.

"Surely! Call it a long-awaited plan."

Antoni typed and started exposing Xzavier.

In minutes, Trevor saw the Internet again getting flooded with new pieces of news.

The Internet exploded with Xzavier's bribes that he drove with money and women to get into power. Antoni even posted transfer records, videos, and photos as evidence.

Xzavier and his mistakes, the way he developed Star Film and Television Company, and his dark secrets, were uncovered in front of the public.

The owners of those media accounts were baffled.

"Damn it! Fuck! Xzavier will kill me!" Grabbing their heads, they shouted in despair.

Their media accounts were to be blamed. When Xzavier found who released the news, they'd be busted and unable to explain.

Within several minutes, the whole Internet had one topic to debate over, and that was Xzavier.

This debate finally led many victims of his viciousness find a voice in the whole mess.

Some tried to win sympathy, some got the spotlight to protect themselves, and some, stronger ones, raised their voices for justice. The Internet was literally heated with several opinions and comments.

"I guess Xzavier made history as the most discussed person on the Internet. He will love this gift for sure," Trevor said with a sarcastic smile.

He just paid Xzavier back in his own coin.

Xzavier got to know about the whole mess while he was conducting a meeting at the company. His blood boiled as he heard about the news.

"How the fuck! Fuck! Damn it!" Xzavier was fuming with rage as he banged at his office desk before overturning it with a loud smash.

"You rebellious punks! How dare you post such information on the Internet? Are you out of your damn minds? You are courting fucking death!"

Xzavier was losing his shit in the whole shock. The media prepared to ruin Trevor was actually ruining his reputation, revealing his own secrets.

"Damn it! Fuck you, Levi! Why don't you just die?"

Anger worked Xzavier up as he grabbed the documents at hand and shredded them into pieces. Pieces of paper scattered over the floor.

Even without proof, he knew it was all Trevor's work.

Xzavier clenched his fists tightly as his eyes turned red with anger.

"Levi! Your death will be just so horrible, the whole world will be shaken. I promise you this!"

Chapter 1089 Blocking The Way

Ultimately, Xzavier used his wealth to soothe public opinion effectively.

In exchange, he had to pay a heavy price.

Even though Star Film and Television Company was a big company, Xzavier still found it hard to accept such a loss.

"Bastard!"

He was so angry that he clenched his teeth.

A furious Caitlin told her father, "Dad, it must be Levi's plot. There is no way he's getting away with this."

"I know. Don't tell me what to do." Xzavier slumped in his chair and lit a cigar. "Sky Film and Television Company must go bankrupt. Otherwise, Star Film and Television Company's reputation will tarnish."

Caitlin's eyes sparkled. She had a grudge against Trevor as well. Seeing her father was going to deal with Trevor, she could not help but get excited.

Xzavier, holding a cigar, calmed down and said, "That military movie will probably empty his small company dry as long as the movie screws up. Levi will be doomed."

"Dad, what can we do?" Caitlin asked urgently.

Casting a quick glance at her, Xzavier answered, "You're shooting a military movie too, aren't you? I'll take it over and beat Levi at his own game. I will ruin his company so badly that there is no way for him to recover."

The idea made Xzavier sneer.

"I will contact a well-known director on a global scale to collaborate with me. Are you familiar with Gerard Burke? There's a rumor that he and Asho Murray don't get along very much. As long as he's working with me, there's no doubt he will make the movie successful. If we get famous stars to appear in our movie, we will be able to beat Levi's movie."

When Caitlin heard this, she felt thrilled. It was more likely that the movie would be a success with her father's support.

She exclaimed, "Oh, yeah! We can also set up our filming site next to Levi's and piss them off."

Xzavier smirked and made a call for the necessary arrangements.

A deal was immediately established between Star Film and Television Company and the well-known director, Gerard Burke. Then, they revealed the cast to the public.

Soon after, a brand new studio was constructed just next to where Trevor had been filming.

Frowning, Asho asked, "What should we do? They must have ill intentions."

Unlike him, Trevor was calm.

"Don't mind them and just continue to shoot as planned. Have you thought of an appropriate role for Nyomi in the movie?"

Stroking his hair, Asho replied, "Yes. As far as I know, Nyomi has good acting skills."

"That's good to hear. I'll go and pick Nyomi up now." Trevor nodded.

This was going to be Nyomi's first day, so Trevor decided to personally pick her up.

In response to Star Film and Television Company's aggressive behavior, he decided to act according to the circumstances.

Competing with them did not faze Trevor. His faith in Sky Film and Television Company and Asho was unshakeable.

He hopped in his car and headed to Nyomi's place to pick her up.

However, when Trevor went back to the filming site, he was stopped on the road.

Not only his car was stopped, but also many other cars passing by were also stopped.

"What happened?" Nyomi got curious about what had happened, so she stretched her neck to see what was happening.

Trevor replied, "Please stay in the car. I'll check what is going on outside."

Then he stepped out of the car and confronted the guy who had stopped him.

The man said impatiently, "Do not ask for any details. Some big star is coming, so we must block the road."

Trevor was instantly annoyed.

The whole road was closed down for one star. Who could that be?

Even the famous Nyomi never behaved in such a manner.

When the other drivers heard the explanation, they, too, began to protest loudly.

However, all of the staff standing in their way were strong men.

They arranged themselves as a wall in front of them, placing their hands on their hips.

"Who do you think you are? It's only natural that a big star should be treated like this. What would happen if some crazy fans were hiding among you? Just be calm and stay here quietly."
