

Married At First Sight

Married At First Sight Chapter 3257-Evan cursed in his heart. Why did Grandma and Abby both tell him not to regret it in the future?

What did he regret?

Who he really liked and what he wanted, he didn't know yet.

He was no longer a three-year-old child; he was almost thirty years old and had a very mature mind.

He didn't let himself do anything he would regret.

What Abby said was similar to what Grandma said. No wonder Grandma liked Abby.

Evan said, "Abby, I never do anything that I regret. Even if the decision I make is not good, I will face it calmly and have no regrets."

Abby smiled and said, "Okay, I understand. Since you really can't fall in love with me, I won't force it. It's not like I can't get married, so why bother pestering you to let me go? I won't lose my price."

She also grew up pampered by her parents and was the apple of her family's eye.

It was not like no one wanted her.

The Du family was also a wealthy family in Hiribaty, and she, the second young lady, had status.

As long as she wanted to get married, there were many men lining up to marry her. She didn't have to worry about a man who didn't care about her.

"Abby, although we can't be husband and wife, we can still be business partners. In fact, I really don't hate you. My sister-in-law and you get along well. You can be friends and come to Wiltspoon as a guest when you have time."

Abby stopped and looked at him for a moment, then walked forward again.

She looked at the feasting in the distance and said, "Our family's business focus is in Hiribaty, and your York family's business focus is in Wiltspoon. Although there are branches all over the major cities, if you want to do business, I'm afraid it will be difficult.

In some industries, the two of us are still competitors. Although there are no permanent enemies or permanent friends in the business world, I don't think the chance of our cooperation is high.

Moreover, I have liked you, and you still want to cooperate with me in business and let us meet often. I'm afraid that my heart will become active again after I let it go, and I can't help but fall in love with you again. If I pursued you, wouldn't I get it for myself? Cut yourself twice? Evan, I don't want to do this kind of thing.

My dealings with Sister Seren are between us two women and have nothing to do with you. I won't disturb you when I come to Wiltspoon in the future. Don't worry, Evan."

Evan smiled and said, "Abby, you're a person who can take things up and let them go. I didn't think too much about it. I'm sorry."

In fact, what Evan said was polite, and he didn't want to embarrass Abby too much.

Unexpectedly, Abby was so open-minded that, after giving up on him, she did not want to have any contact with him anymore and would never see him again when she came to Wiltspoon.

This was the best.

If they don't meet and have any interactions, his future wife will not misunderstand her, even if the one he likes is also a cheerful, bright, and generous girl.

"Do you usually go out shopping?" Abby asked casually, but she also changed the topic and stopped talking about feelings. Because they had no feelings at all.

Feelings are like that; love is real love, and not loving is really not loving.

She could pick it up and put it down.

"Very little, no time, too busy with work."

He had to go in and out of the car. After he finished his work, it was already midnight. Where did he have time to go shopping?

Abby thought of his identity, nodded, and said, "Yes, too busy. Me too. I don't know how long it has been since I went shopping with my best friends. If I need anything, call the major brands, and they will send it to me. I don't need to go out at all."

If she has time to go shopping, she might as well handle the documents properly.

Evan: "Understood. However, we still have to balance work and rest. Good health is the greatest wealth."
