

Married At First

Married At First Sight Chapter 3324-Serenity then said, "Auntie, I'll come back in the evening."

Audrey hummed.

Audrey said, "You'll pick up Sonny and come with him this afternoon."

After a pause, Audrey added, "The old man said that Uncle Jimenez doesn't have many days left. Let the juniors let him see him."

Everyone looked at each other's faces.

Serenity asked with concern, "What is Grandpa Jimenez's disease?"

"Maybe it's the sequelae of previous injuries. The elderly are also a little bit sick, and he's too old." Audrey sighed and said no more.

The old miracle doctor wanted them to be mentally prepared.

"I'll pick up Sonny in the afternoon and come with him." Serenity also understood that Uncle Jimenez was too old and his wishes had expired, so he often couldn't hold on for long.

Serenity added, "Auntie, do you want to notify my sister to come back?"

Audrey said, "No need for now. Uncle Jimenez hasn't handed over the evidence to me yet, so he should be fine in the near future. Next time he comes over, I will let him live in my house, and our family will provide for him until he retires."

Uncle Jimenez never married and had no children.

Treating her two sisters as if they were her own children, Audrey felt that it was right for her to provide for Uncle Jimenez until he died.

The younger generation had to go to work and was so busy that they didn't have time to take care of the elderly.

Audrey and her husband retired at home and happened to take care of Uncle Jimenez. Maybe, with their company, Uncle Jimenez could live longer.

Serenity said, "Then wait until my sister comes back for the New Year, and then come over to see Grandpa Jimenez."

Audrey said, "Yes. The matter of your grandpa Jimenez's visit should be kept secret for now and don't spread out. That old woman in Jensburg is still looking for Uncle Jimenez's whereabouts. She may have found out some information."

Everyone replied, "I will never tell anyone."

Audrey still trusted her juniors very much, and they all kept their mouths shut.

"You can reveal a little bit of information to Kathryn and see how Kathryn reacts, but don't make it too clear." Audrey still needed to test her cousin again. I'll call Liberty later in the evening and tell her."

Liberty only had some time at night.

Serenity hummed.

Audrey said, "Go back and have a good rest. Zachary, take Seren back."

Zachary stood up and said goodbye to Audrey, her husband, and everyone. He held Serenity's hand, and the couple left together.

Serenity said, "Husband, you can go to work; I will go home by myself."

Zachary hugged her and let her lean against him. He said softly, "I won't go back to the company today. If I don't go back to the company for a day or two, nothing will happen. I'll accompany you home. Get some rest. We'll pick up Sonny together in the afternoon and come back together."

Serenity looked up at Zachary for a moment, then leaned back against him.

Serenity said, "Husband, thank you. No matter what happens, you are always by my side, giving me support and giving me peace of mind."

Zachary chuckled. "We are husband and wife; we are a family. Don't be so polite to me. That would be too intrusive. I will be your support for the rest of your life."

Serenity said nothing more and just hugged his waist.

It was great to have him!
