

Chapter 13 Finding Out The Truth

The words "sugar daddy" diverted Marco's attention from the issue at hand.

With a sullen face, he asked Cayson, "This matter is between me and Loraine. What's your relationship with her? Why do you think you have the right to stand up for her?"

Cayson explained with a straight face, "I have every right to do so because Loraine is an employee of Universe Group. It's my duty as the CEO to protect my employees at any given opportunity."

"You are doing this just because she's your employee?" Marco scoffed. "Do you think I'm dumb? I don't believe that lame excuse of yours!"

A boss would never take his employee shopping and fight for her.

Only an idiot would believe such an excuse!

In the face of Marco's mockery, Cayson asked calmly, "Now tell me, what gives you the right to interrogate me? I'm Loraine's boss. What are you to her?"

"I'm her husband!" Marco blurted out without hesitation.

"Point of correction, ex-husband!" Cayson's eyes glistened with sheer mockery. "You were married to Loraine for three years, but you never performed your duties as her husband. She was wronged every day under your nose. She's no longer your wife. Stop being a pest. Don't show up in front of her ever again!"

Marco was rendered speechless.

Guilt overwhelmed him. He hadn't paid attention to Loraine while they were married, so he had no idea of her suffering.

Cayson turned to look at Marina. "If you make trouble for Loraine again, keep in mind that you will get more than a slap."

Cayson put his hand around Loraine's shoulder and walked away with her.

This time, Marco didn't attempt to stop them.

"Marco! Do something! Why are you standing still? You haven't avenged me yet!" Marina stamped her feet like a spoiled child. "I called you here to teach them a lesson. Why did you let them go? They humiliated me!"

At the sound of his sister's complaint, Marco's face darkened. He remembered what Cayson said.

"Tell me the truth, Marina. Did you make trouble for Loraine?" he inquired seriously.

"Of course not. I did nothing wrong. Loraine just slapped me out of nowhere!" Marina lied with guilt in her eyes.

Marco squinted at her. "Since you say so, let's go and check the surveillance footage."

Marina's heart skipped a beat when she heard that. She would be in hot water if her brother watched the CCTV footage.

She began to concoct an escape plan in her mind. However, Marco held her hand and dragged her into the monitoring room of the shopping mall.

Shortly after, the footage of the clothing store was played on the big screen.

Marco saw how harsh Marina was to Loraine. He also heard her call Loraine a dog.

It dawned on him that Loraine had put up with a lot of maltreatment from his family in the past.

How could he have missed it all?

Marco couldn't stand it anymore. He stared daggers at his sister, whose head was now lowered in guilt.

"And you said you did nothing wrong!"

"Marco, I can explain!" Marina said, reaching out to touch him.

"Shut up! There's nothing to explain here!" Marco raked his fingers through his hair. "You had better go and apologize to Lorraine. Otherwise, you won't get a penny from me again!"

"What?" Marina's jaw dropped. She was shocked that her brother, who adored her, was ready to cut off her allowance if she didn't apologize to his ex-wife.

This fueled her rebelliousness.

"No way! I will never apologize to that bitch!"

With these words, Marina stormed out of the control room.

Marco didn't bother to go after her. He just kept staring at Lorraine's face in the video. Guilt set in all over again.

He couldn't help but think how much hardship Lorraine had suffered in the past three years because of his negligence.

But why did she never tell him about it?

She kept things away from him while they were married. And now, she was doing the same thing.

She didn't even tell him that she needed a job. He could have pulled some strings for her. Why did she go to Cayson instead?

At the thought of how Cayson acted like Lorraine's knight in shiny armor today, Marco was even more annoyed.

He whipped out his phone and called Carl. "Get an insider in Universe Group to keep an eye on Lorraine for me."

"Why? Did something happen?" Carl asked curiously.

"Nothing. Just do as I say!" Marco took a deep breath. "I just
