

Chapter 927

927 THE SECOND FORTRESS

How could he pull it through?

How strong he was?

The storm was very powerful where it came in full force toward the fortress. Everyone was able to see how strong Rei's power and even the knights and the magic users didn't have any clear idea about it until now.

They were dumbstruck and speechless, especially when most of them only knew about Rei's existence by hearsay.

Meanwhile, Cane was on alert when he witnessed it, even Lou couldn't pull this kind of power. It saved to say this was not something that Cane was expecting at all. There is something vicious about it that he couldn't explain by word and this kind of power that could bring such massive destruction, shouldn't have existed in the first place.

Everyone watched as the strong and powerful fortress was being blown away as if it was nothing and when you just snapped out of your shocking state, everything was done. Everything had turned into dust and dirt, leaving the evidence of Rei's strong power.

"This is unbelievable." Lou was in disbelief. Even a magic user like him was amazed by his power. "How he can do that?" He muttered to himself and Ethan agreed with him. (w)ww.n0(v)elw0rM.c0m

The fortress crumbled before their eyes and there was nothing more terrifying at this moment than the ancient black magic user before them who happened knew how to call the storm.

Rei breathed deeply and when he turned around his face was as gentle as usual. "I am done. I think it is safe for us to go inside now." He was a little bit disappointed because he couldn't see Iris since the Alpha sent her to stay inside the carriage, but it didn't dampen his mood.

Above them, the sky was clear again and the warm light of the sun basked upon them.

Cane showed nothing on his expression, he was as callous as usual and when he led his warriors to charge forward he didn't show an ounce of emotion.

They went inside the pack and found a few things there. The front area of the pack, where the main gates were, had been abandoned. Houses around this area had been left by the owner, instead there was this new high wall that separated the two area, it's almost like a second fortress.

"I don't remember there is this high wall the last time I was here." Lou looked around them.

Cane and the shifters led the people in the front but Lou didn't join them, he stayed beside Iris's carriage with Zale and Abby's carriage right behind it with Cedric stayed inside with her.

Meanwhile right behind them was the people from Holy Kingdom. The Merchant and magic users brought up the rear. The magic users from the Holy Kingdom were wearing black cloak with hoodies that covered their faces, which making a challenge to know whether they were men or women.

"What happened Lou?" Iris asked, poked her head out of the carriage window. She could feel something was not right and they stopped for a while in this spot.

Lou then gladly explained to her what happened, while in the front, Cane was talking with Koda and the old thing argued about something with the alpha. (w)ww.n0(v)elw0rM.c0m

"There is no question about it, you can blow it away like how you did it earlier, right? What is so hard?" Once again, Koda was acting more authoritative when he talked with them, as if they could go this far thanked to him. When in reality, his contribution was close to zero.

"No, I can't do it again," Rei replied calmly. This calmness specifically bothered Cane, because it made it harder for him to read him.

"Why not?" Koda had been laying low when they faced adversity, but when they got closer to Red Claw pack, he became more active and noisy.

"Because I don't have enough power to do it again. I have reached my limit and summoning storm is not an easy thing to do." Rei actually explained this to him with patient.

On the other hand, Cane went away from their meaningless argumentation and saw something that piqued his interest. Cezi saw it and followed him.

"Did you find something, alpha?"

Cane narrowed his eyes at one of the abandoned houses. "There is someone there."

"Someone?" Cezi followed his line of sight but he couldn't see anyone. "Do you want me to go and check? I don't smell strange scent, but I can be wrong."

(w)ww.n0(v)elw0rM.c0m

Even though Cezi was actually on the same title like Cane, but he treated Cane more respectfully, as if he was in higher status than him.

"No. I will check it myself, stay here and pay close attention to the two of them." After saying that Cane went to check the person, who has been looking at them secretly from inside the house.

Cezi was right, he didn't smell strange scent. Or maybe because the distance between him and the house? He was not sure about that. (w)ww.n0(v)elw0rM.c0m

"Where did Cane go alone?" Iris could see Cane walked away from the shifters and entered the abandoned house.

"Maybe he wanted to take a pee." Lou let out his idea and Iris gave him a look. "What? That's normal, Okay?"

Iris was couldn't with this merchant. She then decided to walk out of her carriage to check on Cane. She was worried. She had been sensing this ominous feeling ever since they meet with the Devil Spider, which could only mean two things; first, it could be only her being paranoid, because of this whole uncertainty, but second, this ominous feeling could be a very strong black magic.

When the black magic was too powerful, Iris only left with this ominous feeling. She felt it often when Rei nearby.

"Wait, I will come with you!" Lou rushed behind Iris. But when he looked to his left side he saw Zale came with them too. "What are you doing? Shoo! Shoo!" He waved his hands as if he wanted to get rid annoying insect.