

Chapter 941

941 THE FINAL BATTLE (7)

The black beast moved very swiftly among the monsters, as he chased down princess Osana. She moved so fast, stumbled a few times, but the monsters seemed to avoid her.

Cane learned about these pillars from Lu's knowledge and if Osana was one of the pillars, he wondered, who were the other three.

From what Lu knew, they had to kill the four pillars in order to close the gates of hell.

Meanwhile, the crack on the ground was getting bigger, where the monsters emerged endlessly. With the number of the warriors they had, they wouldn't last long. More so, they couldn't rely for any help from the people from the Holy Kingdom.

It almost felt like a three way battle for their side, where they were the disadvantage one.

Lou was still struggling with the black wisp that tied him down, it seemed Cane was taking his revenge on him for his mocking. Thankfully, the alpha was reasonable enough to add extra layer of protection, so the monsters couldn't kill him.

Still, it was not a great experience to taste when you were being helpless and was unable to defend yourself in such dangerous situation.

Damn you, Canel

On the other hand, the black beast was still chasing down Osana. She swiftly moved among the monsters and jumped over the crack on the ground, which now was around two meters wide.

The black beast followed and when he looked down, he could see red flames from the underground. His fur was actually burned when he made this jump, as the heat was suffocating enough to make you lose your focus for a while.

On the other side of this cliff, the monsters flocked the area, fighting against one another and Cane was having even more a hard time to be able to get Osana.

But suddenly, something jumped onto Osana's face and burned her. It wouldn't kill the woman, because Lu had proved it that this woman's ability to heal was even greater than shifter, but surely, it was enough to make her stop running away and gave Cane time to get a grip on her.

The lizard then jumped off Osana's face once the black wisp from the alpha wrapped her body. The lizard actually had been in this side, but the monsters didn't bother it. Once it finished its task, the lizard when to climb the black beast back and settled there.

The black beast glanced at it, but didn't shake it off. Well, you could say the pet followed the owner's habit.

With Osana within his grasp, Cane had to fight his way back to jump over the cliff, while taking her with him. He couldn't destroy her, but divine power might be able to do it.

"Kill her," Cane said after he shifted back into his human form and freed Lou.

"You don't need to be so rough with me, you know." Lou dusted his clothes. He gave his red cloak to Ethan and wondered if he would get it back.

"The lycan should have taken Cezi, instead of you." Cane seemed to lose his patient with this merchant.

"Fine, fine. I will do it." Lou waved his hand and then used the divine power that he had and began the process like he did when he destroyed the spiderlings within the shifters' bodies. "She looked awful."

Suddenly, from behind them, there was a honey brown beast that jumped toward Osana. It happened too fast and they didn't expect this.

The honey brown beast clamped Osana's face between its fang and ripped it apart. Surely, the woman widened her eyes in shocked.

However, a moment later, her skin grew and within less than half a minute, she was already healed, her face returned to normal, yet the honey brown beast didn't stop its assault.

From the look of it, even though Osana's ability to heal was very fast, but it didn't spare her from pain.

"Well... that's brutal." Lou tilted his head. "Should we stop him?"

The honey brown beast was Will. He snapped from his fear and now he let loose his beast instinct to get the revenge he deserved.

From behind them, there was a smaller beast grey beast that approached them. It was Hanna, she shifted in time to witness that. She could feel the pain and anger from him.

"No. Let him have his time." Cane watched how Will vented out his anger and disgust onto Osana and if there was one good thing that you could get from her undying body, it would be; Will could persecute her for as long as he wanted. She wouldn't die anyway, but she wouldn't immune to pain.

Princess Osana was no longer young anymore, but she always put a great effort on her appearance. If she knew that one day he would turn out like this, where you couldn't differentiate her from a monster, she would have bawled her eyes out.

Or the fact the young man that she had assaulted was tormenting her, skinned her alive right now, she wouldn't have let Will go easily.

More so, since her mouth was being stitched, she couldn't make a sound, aside from a weak gurgling sound from her throat.

"Okay, okay. That's enough." Lou glanced at Hanna. "Get him, okay. I need to end that thing. Alpha's order."

Hanna immediately approached Will, it took a little bit persuasion from her before she could get him off Osana and Lou did what he needed to do, but neither he nor Cane expected what would happen next. www.novelworld.com

Osana's body cracked, her skin turned like a barren land in summer. There was no blood. Her eyes opened wide, as if she was in a great pain. She must have never felt this agony in her entire life. She couldn't even scream.

And after that, her body burst and crumbled, Hanna averted her gaze, but Will didn't even blink when he watched how Osana met her demise. There was no satisfaction or happiness. Will didn't feel anything.

But Lou suddenly vomited blood. He knelt down and clasped his chest, as he breathed raggedly.

"What is it?" Cane asked with a frown. He looked down at him, while the lizard rested on his shoulder.

"Backlash," Lou said breathlessly. "Damn it. I have never had a backlash before." He shook his head to compose himself.

Cane didn't understand with that term or what the consequences of that, he only cared about one thing. "Are you, okay?"

"Yeah, I am fine."

"Good. Follow me." www.novelworld.com

Lou cursed under his breath. "Can't you be more sincere when you asked about my wellbeing?" He stood up and followed Cane, but he found it difficult to use his power because of the backlash earlier.

Cane noticed that and he used his black wisp to ward off the monsters from the merchant.

The alpha had to gather the warriors. They wouldn't be able to fight all of this monsters. They needed to move away from here. Rei used this monster and put them under the illusion, so he could control them, but no one in his side could do that.

Therefore, Cane had to change his strategy. He looked around him and instructed Cezi and Jace to bring all the people away from there. By this time, they had lost half of the warriors that they could save, which meant, only a quarter of them that survived from their initial number.

"Where are you going?" Cezi asked, when he saw Cane moved toward different direction.

Cane stared at his palm. He saw the dot that Lou gave to him. He asked this when he learned that he gave the same thing to Iris.

"I will meet you later."

Cezi and Jace then brought the warriors away from the second fortress of the Red Claw pack, but the people from the Holy Kingdom moved toward the opposite of them.

With the monsters that were under Rei's control, it was easier for them to fight these monsters that kept attacking them. The dragon alone was enough to demolish a big amount of them.

But right now, Rei was having a hard time with Ethan. The gamma clawed his face and he didn't have time to dodge it.

Blue blood splattered on the ground, but the rain washed it away, while above them the sky had turned brighter with the light of the sun.

"I am going to kill you!" Ethan growled. He shifted into his beast and didn't miss a beat when he attacked Rei.

Because Ethan clawed his face, Rei lost his vision for a while and the brown wolf managed to bite a big chunk of his shoulder, but before he could go on with the attack, a spider devil came to attack the wolf.

Iris immediately stood up, she was not going to let that creature to kill Ethan, but by doing so, she had to leave Aliana alone.

"Ethan!" Iris called his name. "Get down!" www.novelworld.com

Ethan got down as per her instruction and she used her black wisp to cut the spider devil into half, splashed the wolf in blue blood from the creature.

Because the black wisp initially was not Iris's power and she wasn't used to using this, she couldn't really rely on it.

The brown beast was ready to attack Rei again when he saw a spider devil came approaching Aliana, ready to wrap her into that fucking cocoon again.

Therefore, Ethan changed his direction, but Iris was faster to create a protection shield around Aliana, where it killed the spider devil when it tried to touch it.

"Enough!" Rei roared. He stood up, covering his face with one hand, but when he put his hand down, you could see the wound had healed. His healing ability was even greater than those shifters. How could that happen? Wouldn't he need a ritual or something, just like what Abby explained to them, in order to heal from such wound?"We don't have time to fight against each other! Our enemy is Decratic! I am here to help you!"

The brown beast growled dangerously to hear the audacity of what Rei said.

"Na. You need to see around you. Without my people, you will not be able to fight these monsters! Without me, you will not be able to fight Decratic!"

In a way, what Rei said was right. He weakened the shifters and now if they really wanted to win this war, they had to accept his help.

However, accepting his help felt like a betrayal for those warriors, who died because of him.

"Come with me, Na. Together, we will kill Decratic. Getting rid of him once and for all." Rei stretched out his hand toward Iris again. He looked at her expectantly. "You don't have any other choice, Na. Let's do it together, like the old days."

Rei stretched out his hand, but all of sudden Cane appeared from behind his back and clawed his chest. His claws pierced his body from his back and the alpha hurled him to the ground.

Blue blood oozed out from a big hole on his chest and Rei gasped in pain.

This attack was sudden and Cane appeared out of nowhere, which made the spider devil that protected him didn't have time to react.

Ethan was surprised to see Cane suddenly appeared, but Iris didn't. She knew how he could do it and when the spider devils were about to attack them, Iris took care of these pests.

She still had a lot of hatred in her heart, but she could control herself better, which in extent, controlling her divine power.

Cane walked toward her and caressed her cheek. "Good job." She proved it that she could protect herself.

Meanwhile, Rei already stood up and the wound on his chest was already closed.

Cane narrowed his eyes. This was not the first time he saw this astonishing healing ability. In truth, he just witnessed one earlier.
