

An Understated Dominance Chapter 2341 - 2345

Chapter 2341

Dustin's words quickly made Cassidy fall into a dilemma.

Although Cassidy believed in Dustin's medical skills, she was a little worried about Noemi's physical safety.

Don't be afraid of ten thousand; just be afraid of what happens.

If Noemi remains unconscious, what should she do?

"Sister Cassidy, I invited Dr. Rhys. I can vouch for him. Now you should let your sister have a good rest." Forcibly awakening her will not do any good." Grace advised honestly.

"Hmph! You two are in the same group; of course you would say that." Conor continued to fan the flames: "Cassidy, don't listen to their clever words. Only when your sister wakes up can she be truly saved. The rest is all empty talk."

"That's right. The patient's condition fluctuates. Although it is stable now, it may take a turn for the worse after a while. Life is at stake. I feel that this matter needs to be cautious." Zizi agreed.

Zizi, a world-renowned miracle doctor, was naturally upset that Dustin, a young boy, had overshadowed him. If he had the opportunity to step on someone else, he would certainly not be polite.

"Doctor Rhys, can you...can you revive my sister as soon as possible?" After hesitating for a while, Cassidy finally spoke.

Although Conor's behavior was a bit excessive, his words made some sense.

"Of course, but the ugly words are ahead," Dustin said calmly. "I am not responsible for any sequelae after your sister wakes up."

"Hmph! Stop scaring people here! As long as you can revive Noemi, I will bear all the consequences," Conor shouted with his head held high.

"Doctor Rhys, please. I would like to know whether it is the waves from behind in the Yangtze River that push the waves ahead, or someone is playing tricks on me." Zizi said it in a strange tone.

Dustin nodded, said no more, and walked to the hospital bed again. He then took out the silver needle and stabbed Noemi's forehead with a sharp needle.

“Buzz~!”

As the silver needle trembled, her acupoint was filled with mystical, pure energy.

Noemi’s brows suddenly rose, her eyelids began to tremble, and her expression was a bit painful.

Now that she was weak and forced to awaken, she almost instinctively resisted.

The eyes under her eyelids began to roll back and forth, and the frequency became faster and faster.

Chapter 2342

Three minutes later...

Dustin pulled out the silver needle, exhaled slightly, and said, “That’s almost it. Your sister will wake up within a stick of incense.”

“Hmph! Pretending! I don’t believe you really have this ability!” Conor sneered.

“Believe it or not, it’s up to you. Anyway, I have done everything I have to do. No matter what the consequences are, you will bear them yourself,” Dustin said expressionlessly.

He had solved the voodoo poison in Noemi’s body, which was considered to have fulfilled Grace’s instructions. As for any subsequent mistakes, he didn’t bother to ask.

“Okay, I’m tired. Let’s go back and rest first. You guys can take care of yourself.” Dustin yawned, said no more, turned around, and prepared to leave.

“Stop!” Conor suddenly stood in front of him and said, with a fierce look on his face, “Boy! Who told you to leave? I just made it very clear that unless Noemi wakes up, you won’t be able to walk out of this door today.”

“I told you that she could wake up with just one stick of incense. Can’t you understand people?” Dustin was a little impatient.

“Don’t talk about a stick of incense, not even a second!” Conor shouted.

“Get out of the way; otherwise, don’t blame me for being rude!” Dustin’s eyes grew colder.

He had long disliked Conor. If the other party really didn’t know how to praise him, he wouldn’t mind teaching him a lesson.

Conor threatened fiercely, "What? Are you guilty of being a thief? You want to take the opportunity to run away, right? I tell you, it's impossible! If something happens to Noemi today, I will ensure your burial alongside her."

"Do you have the ability?" Dustin looked indifferent.

"Hmph! You don't know how high the world is; today I will show you the world's methods!" Conor's eyes turned cold as he was about to take action.

Noemi groaned softly on the hospital bed and suddenly opened her eyes.

Seeing this scene, Conor was stunned for a moment, unable to react.

"Wake up, wake up! Sister is finally awake!" Cassidy cheered, looking particularly excited. She really didn't expect that Dustin could revive her sister so quickly.

"Awake? How is that possible?!"

Zizi was struck by lightning, his face full of horror. He always thought that Dustin used some dirty tricks to deceive people. But Noemi's awakening completely broke his illusion.

It turned out that the other party was not a liar but had real materials. He was shocked, frustrated, and ashamed when he realized that he, the renowned miracle doctor, was not as good as a young man.

No matter how dissatisfied he was, he had to admit that the other party was the wave behind the Yangtze River, pushing it ahead.

"Mr. Conor, don't you want to wake up from your dream? How are you now? Do you still question Dr. Rhys's medical skills?" Grace said it with bright eyes.

One sentence made Conor's face turn hot, and he was speechless.

Chapter 2343

It was Conor at this moment, and his expression was indescribably weird. Noemi's awakening surprised him a bit, but what he felt inside was more humiliation after the slap in the face.

Especially the looks between Dustin and Grace made him feel like a clown.

All the previous behaviors turned into a big joke the moment Noemi woke up.

He had never felt so ashamed in all his life as he does now.

For a time, his hatred for Dustin and Grace reached its peak.

“Sister, how are you feeling? Are you feeling uncomfortable anywhere?” Cassidy approached the hospital bed and asked with a concerned look on her face.

“My head hurts a little.” Noemi frowned, rubbed her temples, and then asked, “Cassidy, why am I here? What happened?”

At this moment, her head felt hazy, and her memory was blank, very confused.

“Sister, you ingested poison and are in critical condition.” Thanks to Sister Linsor and Dr. Rhys for saving your life; otherwise, you might have died.” Cassidy did not hide anything and simply explained what happened.

After listening, Noemi’s eyes quickly fell on Grace, with a bit of surprise on her face. “Grace, why are you here?”

“I heard that you were sick, so you specially invited a miracle doctor, but we arrived in time; otherwise, we don’t know what accident would have happened.” Grace smiled slightly.

“You are really thoughtful.” Noemi smiled and turned to Dustin. “This is Dr. Rhys, right? Thank you for saving my life. If you encounter any trouble in the future, I will definitely help you.”

“You’re welcome. I only came to the rescue because of Grace’s face.” Dustin didn’t shy away from it.

“Oh? It seems that the relationship between Dr. Rhys and Grace is not simple.” Noemi winked playfully at Grace.

“You’re so sick, and you still have the intention to joke? Just lie down and rest.” Grace said it angrily.

“I have been lying in bed for several days. If I continue to lie down, I will fall apart. I have to get up and stretch my muscles.” Noemi smiled slightly, got up, and got out of bed.

As a result, she felt dizzy the next second, and her whole body started to shake.

“Sister, slow down!” Cassidy was startled and quickly reached out to help her.

“I’m fine.” Noemi raised her hand to stop Cassidy’s movements, then closed her eyes and took a deep breath. After the dizziness slowly subsided, she opened her eyes and smiled again. “I woke up too fast. It’s just a little hypoxic; it’s not a problem.”

Chapter 2344

At this time, Dustin said with a serious face, “Ms. Marshall, to be honest, what you were poisoned with was not an ordinary poison but a very powerful voodoo. The person who poisoned you is a high-level wizard with profound knowledge. Although I can save you once, that does not mean that I can save you two or three times. The best way to avoid future troubles is to find this wizard and either turn his enemy into a friend or kill him.”

“Noemi, have you offended anyone recently? Or have you had any grudges with anyone before?” Grace asked tentatively.

“Offend someone?” Noemi frowned slightly, and after thinking carefully for a moment, she finally shook her head. “I usually don’t go out very much. Recently, I learned about a martial arts competition at Sacred Wyrms Summit, prompting me to join the fun and embark on a road trip. I have never messed with anyone.”

“That’s strange.” Grace looked back at Dustin, who nodded.

Although they didn’t speak, both of them understood what the other meant.

If it wasn’t revenge from the enemy, then there was a high probability that it was a conspiracy by the temples to use Noemi’s death to provoke a war between the Mystic Arts Order and Celestial Alliance, thus reaping the benefits.

“Wait! I remember!” At this time, Noemi seemed to have thought of something and suddenly raised her voice and said, “A few days ago, a strangely dressed man came to me to ask for directions.” During this time, I smelled a unique smell. I didn’t notice the smell at the time, but after a while, I fainted for no apparent reason. “Do you believe it was that person who gave me voodoo?”

“It’s very possible,” Dustin nodded.

“Do you still remember that person’s appearance?” Grace asked.

“Remember, I can still draw it.” Noemi nodded, then turned to Cassidy and said, “Cassidy, bring a pen and paper.”

“Okay.” She answered, quickly left, and came back with paper and a pen after some time.

Noemi took the pen and paper, and after thinking for a while, she began to draw on the paper.

After a while, a face with clear features appeared in front of everyone.

Dustin couldn't help but be secretly surprised by his exquisite painting skills.

With just one face-to-face encounter, she could clearly draw a person. This photographic memory was indeed very powerful.

"Here, this is the person." Noemi handed the drawing paper to Grace.

After Grace looked at it, she handed it to Dustin.

After Dustin finished reading, Cassidy took him over again.

The person in the painting was about forty years old and had an unremarkable appearance.

If it weren't for Noemi's amazing memory, she might not be able to remember this ordinary face.

"Come here! Take a photo of this portrait and send it to all nearby Celestial Alliance disciples. We need to apprehend this individual within the next three days." Cassidy didn't waste any time and directly issued the order to kill him. Anyone who dared to harm Noemi, her sister, would have to pay a heavy price, no matter who the other party was.

"Noemi, you want to arrest a high-level wizard." He is powerful and has treacherous methods. You must be careful." Grace reminded her.

"Don't worry; we have many eyes and ears in the world, as well as many experts." Once we find the whereabouts of that person, we will attack him in groups and never let him escape." Cassidy vowed.

"Grace, you have saved my life. You don't have to worry about catching the murderer anymore." Noemi smiled.

"It seems I'm worrying too much." Grace nodded and said no more.

The Celestial Alliance was not vegetarian. Once the major experts have gathered together, arresting a wizard shouldn't be difficult.

Within the Dragonmarsh, not even the pantheon of gods dared to confront the Celestial Alliance head-on.

"Dr. Rhys, you saved my life. I should thank you properly, but I just don't know what you need." Noemi spoke again.

She never liked to owe favors, so when Dustin saved her life, she would naturally reward him generously.

“No, if you want to thank me, just thank Grace. I don’t need any reward.” Dustin still said the same thing.

“Okay, okay, we are all friends. There is no need to be so polite. If you really want to thank us, just treat us to a meal. We happen to be hungry.” Grace smiled.

“Okay, let’s eat first, and let’s chat while we eat.” Noemi nodded and looked at Cassidy. “Cassidy, ask Mikayla to prepare a sumptuous meal and also bring the wine that we will treasure in the world. Take it out; I’m going to entertain distinguished guests tonight!”

“No problem.” Cassidy responded and quickly started to work.

At this moment, the sun had set and night was gradually falling.

A bright full moon hung high in the sky, sprinkling a layer of silver gray on the lake.

Bright lights illuminated the villa, while the servants bustled around.

All types of wine and delicacies appeared on the table in less than an hour.

They invited Dustin and Grace to take their seats. As for Zizi, he had already left the villa in shame.

“Come on, Grace, Dr. Rhys, let me toast you two.”

Noemi was very generous. After pouring a glass of wine for several people, she stood up and raised the glass with both hands in salute.

“You have just recovered from your illness, so you can’t drink.” Dustin said it suddenly.

“Ah?” Noemi’s face froze, and then she asked tentatively, “Isn’t it okay to just drink a little bit?”

“No.” Dustin shook his head.

“This...” Noemi was speechless for a moment.
