

An Understated Dominance Chapter 2433

Chapter 2433

“Not good! Senior sister is in danger!” In the audience, Sullivan stood up in shock at the terrifying might of Cassidy’s slash.

His face was filled with horror.

Kassidy’s strength was much greater than he anticipated.

This blow was as powerful as a master!

“Sister! You must hold on!” Halle clenched her teeth and stared. Although she was not as excited as Sullivan, she was also very nervous.

It was no longer just about winning or losing; now it was a matter of life and death. Once defeated, it was very likely to die!

“I didn’t expect Cassidy’s strength to improve so fast. Breaking through the master is just around the corner.” Fenley nodded with satisfaction.

Kassidy and Noemi had similar martial arts talent, but they differed in their diligence.

Kassidy was far inferior to Noemi, so although Noemi was two years older, Cassidy’s strength was better than Noemi’s.

“Yes, Cassidy has now entered the world of a half-step master, and her swordsmanship is also superb. Once she exerts her full strength, few people can defeat her.” Noemi smiled, her face full of pride.

“Noemi, I’m worried about you. Don’t be lazy in the future; practice more; and strive to share your adoptive father’s worries as soon as possible.” Fenley rolled his eyes around her.

“Okay, okay. I know. I will work hard in the future.” Noemi made promises like a spoiled child.

Fenley shook his head helplessly and said no more.

Although Noemi liked to be lazy and play tricks, she was the most favored one in the Celestial Alliance.

At this moment, on the ring,

Kassidy's Phoenix Dance sword fell down, directly covering Rivka's entire body.

Seeing that there was no way to avoid it, Rivka's whole body of true energy suddenly burst out, and she immediately merged with the sword and stabbed straight at the huge divine bird.

"Pojun Style!"

The sword in Rivka's hand shone brightly, and the true energy around her body quickly took shape, turning into a silver giant sword.

The giant sword was nearly ten meters long and two meters wide, was encased in Rivka.

At this moment, the sword was the person, and the person was the sword.

The divine bird swooped down, and the giant sword stabbed straight up. The two sides carried the momentum of a landslide and finally collided with each other.

"Bang~!"

There was a loud noise.

The fiery red divine bird exploded instantly, causing the silver sword to collapse inch by inch.

In an instant, a wave of energy resembling a tidal wave swept in all directions, with the collision point at its center.
