

After Prison 731

Chapter 731

Zachariah chuckled after hearing what Sheila said. "My dear, you have grown up. You used to be a stubborn girl and never accepted your defeat. And now you are not that girl anymore."

"Alright. Stop praising me. Severin needs a bigger stage. A girl from a little city like me will never catch up with him!"

Once Sheila thought about it, she felt better about it. "It's better for us to be good friends!"

"Oh. I'm leaving tomorrow. The mayors from all around the South County are going to attend the inauguration of the new governor. It's going to be very happening. I think only those mayors from further cities and smaller cities are going to miss this event. They know they have no chance even if they did go. But the rest of the mayors are going."

Zachariah chuckled and said, "What do you think? Do you want to go? If you go, you can see Severin there."

Knowing it was a chance to see Severin, Sheila was overjoyed with her eyes sparkling, "Really? I want to go! But it's not because I want to see him. I heard South Link City is a big and busy metropolis. I want to go see it!"

Sheila's intention was very obvious but Zachariah did not have the intention to expose her. He smiled, "Then we shall leave tomorrow. But you have to keep a low profile when we are there. It's South Link City and there are too many people that we mustn't offend. Even though I'm Brookbourn's mayor, we still need to keep a low profile while we are there."

"Okay. I understand!"

Obviously, Sheila's mood had gotten better. At the same time, Claude of Emerald Cloud Gang was feeling relieved.

He said with a bright smile, "Great! I was shocked when Draco Hall destroyed the Cedar Gang. Now that Draco Hall is planning to move to South Link City, there are no other underground forces here other than us! We can totally expand our forces now!"

The Great Elder chuckled. "Yes, you made the right choice. Luckily we didn't provoke Severin or Draco Hall. If we did that, the Emerald Cloud Gang is gone by now. Since Draco Hall is moving, they sold their bars to us at a low price. We got a very good deal."

Claude nodded satisfyingly. "Yes. We can finally rest assured. Severin is a talented person. He needs a bigger space. Personally, I think South Link City is not going to hold him for much too long. He's way too talented to stay there for too long."

"Are you saying he's...?"

Suddenly, a thought popped into the Great Elder's mind and had him gasp. Rumor had it. Fighters from some hidden family or sects would sometimes enter the mundane world to rain. Maybe, just maybe, Severin was one of them.

After Severin and the others finished eating, he then left the restaurant by car.

As they saw Severin off, Glenn looked at Rachel and smiled. "Rachel, what do you think about Severin?"

Rachel answered without giving any thought, "Good. He's a good man. Talented in every area. He's handsome, has high attainment, keeps a low profile, and is exceptionally talented."

After that, she frowned and asked, "Why did you ask that?"

Glenn giggled. "If you think he's that good, why didn't you make a move? I would love to have him as my brother-in-law. Think about it. He's a good man and he was the one who rescued you. Shouldn't you marry him to thank him?"

Chapter 732

The moment Rachel heard that, she blushed. Immediately, she rolled her eyes at her brother. "You idiot. What are you talking about? He has a wife!"

"So what? Look at those mayors. All of them have many mistresses. Every rich and capable man has more than one wife. Since you think he's so talented, it doesn't hurt to be his mistress," Glenn said cheekily.

"That's enough. Stop with the nonsense. I'm going to beat you if you continue." Rachel balled up her hand and threatened Glenn.

Glenn saw it, ran for his life, and made a face while looking back. "How are you going to know if you didn't try? I really think he's pretty good. Anyway, you have my blessing!"

Once Glenn was far away, Rachel frowned and mumbled to herself. "I know he's a good man but I'm not worthy to be with him. Plus, he's my boss!"

After that, she shook her head. "What the hell am I thinking? Gosh, I need to stop it. I don't want to make things weird between us that we can't even be friends.

During the gathering, they had drunk a lot of alcohol. Diane was feeling tipsy so she dozed off pretty quickly. Severin was feeling bored so he took out the cauldron to continue making medicine. Now that his success rate for producing first-grade medium-rank had increased, he was ready to try to make first-grade high-rank medicine..

A first-grade high-rank medicine was an efficient pill for a profound master with higher attainment. It could easily allow a level eight or nine profound master to level up to a level one warrior king. Just imagine how rare and precious a first-grade high-rank medicine was.

After five attempts, Severin failed. However, he gained many experiences from the failed attempts and discovered he was not too far from successfully producing a first-grade high-rank medicine.

The discovery made him feel happy. The corners of his mouth curled up into a smile. "Uncle-master has faith in me. Is it because he knows I'm a genius alchemist? I mean it surely is an impossible mission to have all of the hall masters reaching level nine warrior kings in just one year."

It was getting late. Severin stopped what he was doing and went to take a shower before heading to bed.

The next morning, he continued after he had his breakfast and confirmed there was nothing for him to do. When it was nearly time for lunch, a smile appeared on Severin's face. He raised his palm where a round and bright medicine flew up in the air from the cauldron and floated in front of him.

"Haha! I did it! A first-grade high-rank medicine!"

Chapter 733

Looking at the medicine in front of him, Severin's eyes were filled with excitement. He knew if he could produce the first medicine, producing more was not a problem for him. This medicine worked like a wonder and could truly help Larry, Gracie, and those who had not reached warrior king yet to fasten their progress so they could become a warrior king.

There were many strong people residing in South Link City. However, just like the other places, there were not many warrior kings here. Most of them were still either a grandmaster or a profound master. If he could self-produce the medicine, it meant he could easily train a bunch of level one warrior kings.

"This is wonderful! Let's get some rest and continue after taking my lunch!"

With extra caution, Severin stored the medicine before he went downstairs.

"South Link City is a big city! I went to several shopping malls and saw many clothes that I like!"

Just when he was walking out of his villa, he saw Megan and Felicia coming back with a few shopping bags in their hands. From the look of it, they had just come back from a shopping spree.

Severin looked at them and smiled bitterly. "Mom, Megan. Try not to go out without your bodyguards. I think Diane and I should go hire some bodyguards later. We don't have enough bodyguards at the moment."

Felicia rolled her eyes at Severin. "Don't worry. We were just shopping around this area. We didn't offend anyone so no one is going to look for our trouble. Think about what you said and think about those ordinary people living in this city. How are they going to go out if they can't afford a bodyguard?"

For a minute there, Severin did not know what to say. The only reaction he could give was an embarrassed smile. "But I think it's safer to have bodyguards protecting you two. The jewelry pieces you wear are expensive. What happens if a thief tries to snatch them? You two do not know how to self-defense."

Just then, a group of people showed up at the entrance.

"Surina, my sources told me these are the villas the jerk bought. 20 villas in total. Let's surround this villa. I'm sure he's inside!"

Outside the door was a lady dressed in a white dress. She was none other than Suga herself, one of the old ladies Severin humiliated yesterday.

Surina sneered. "That jerk bullied me! I think he wants to die. I'm going to let him know the consequences for bullying me!"

Today, she brought many men with her. One of them was the elder from Namvail Mansion.

Other than the elder, there were two level one warrior kings. Whereas, the elder was a level three warrior king. Inevitably, the overall fighting power of Namvail Mansion was far more impressive and stronger than Brookbourn Mansion or Riverson Mansion.

"Ma'am, why is no one here guarding the door? Can't he afford to hire a bodyguard?"

One guy teased when he saw there was no one guarding the door.

Surina chuckled. "Who knows? Maybe he was forced to buy those villas and the money he spent was out of his budget so he has no money to hire any bodyguards now. Haha!"

After that, Surina and the others walked right in. Lillie and the other bodyguards had accompanied Judith and the Shanahans out. Thus, no bodyguards were in the villas now. When Severin noticed a group of people walking over, he furrowed his brows.

"The mistress of the mayor of Namvail. Didn't I already teach you a lesson yesterday? How dare the nerve to come here today?"

Severin asked angrily, knowing they were here to make trouble. He then discovered there were over twenty people with three warrior kings among them.

Chapter 734

"You have a good memory to remember that I'm the Namvail's mayor's mistress!" Surina laughed out loud and said, "Too bad, you're too stupid. Why didn't you run away after offending me? Why are you so stupid to move in and stay here? I think you are actually hoping to die!"

"Haha! I'm not afraid of you. Why should I run?" Severin chuckled. "I'm not going to run and I'm going to move in and stay here!"

"Hmph! I can't be bothered to talk more to you. I'm going to let you know what the consequences are for bullying me!" Surina snorted.

"Severin, who are they? Are they your friends?"

Just when both parties were going to engage in a fight, Felicia and Megan walked out from the villa and headed their way.

Severin smiled bitterly and explained, "No. I'm not friends with these types of people!"

"Hmph! Me neither!" Surina snorted.

As she saw Megan, she said, "Hey, kid. I didn't know that both of your wives are so pretty. The one from yesterday is very pretty and so is this one too. You're one lucky man!"

Megan frowned. She reacted quickly and explained, "Hey! He's my brother-in-law and I'm not his wife!" "Oh... so you're his sister-in-law!" Surina chuckled. "My son is not married yet. You look very pretty. Why don't you ask your brother-in-law to apologize to me? I will ask my son to marry you and we will be one big family. Then I can let go of yesterday's incident!"

"In your dream!" Megan rolled her eyes. She could tell Surina was a bad person and she had no intention to marry a bad person's son.

"Tsk. I just offer you a chance to live a better life. You don't want it? Fine!"

Surina waved her hand and acted like she did not care. "Once my husband becomes the governor, do you think my son can't find a better woman than you to be his wife?"

Felicia was shocked when she heard that. It was her dream to see Severin become the governor. How could this woman say her husband was the one who was going to be governor?

Without fail, she joined the fight. "What are you talking about? Your husband is going to be governor? Are you dreaming? My son-in-law is the one who is going to be appointed as governor!"

"Your son-in-law?" Surina was stunned. Immediately, it was followed by a sneer. "Haha. Which city are you guys from? How dare you try to be in the running to fight the governor's position with my husband?"

"We we're from Brookbourn! What's wrong with that?"

At first, Felicia sounded less promising. Severin's close relationship with the War God sprung into her mind and gave her the confidence she needed to shout back at Surina.

Chapter 735

"Haha! Brookbourn? That small city and you have the nerve to say you have a chance?" Before Surina could say anything, Suga responded first. "That's the lamest joke I have ever heard!"

The people they broke with them also burst out laughing.

It totally enraged Felicia. As an egoistic person, she could not have that many people laugh at her.

"What are you laughing about? I mean it! He is my son-in-law! Severin Feuillet! He's going to be the governor of South County after tomorrow! After that, this place you are standing is going to be the new South County. Mansion!"

"Haha. So funny. Don't you know? The newly appointed governor has to be a candidate from the list of mayors in this county. And it's usually someone from a big city. Other than better development, a governor needs to have more powerful people in the city and a close connection with the War Gods."

Surina laughed out loud and gave Felicia a disdainful look. "So you can stop dreaming!"

"Surina, let's cut the crap and beat them!" Suga was losing her patience.

"It's alright. I'm free anyway," Surina giggled, "Recently, the development in Namvail is going strong. Among the other cities, we are at the top. Most importantly, my husband had dinner with Skyler Yohe before!"

“It’s just for dinner. We know the War God too! And we have a close connection with him!” Felicia said with her gritted teeth.

Severin was afraid Felicia would accidentally disclose that the War Gods were his students so he quickly interrupted the conversation. “Felicia, why do you waste so much time talking to her? People like her know nothing!”

“What did you say? Beat him!”

That finally ticked Surina off as she shouted hysterically. “Now!”

The three warrior kings did not panic and remained where they were. Their plan was to let the others test out Severin’s ability before doing anything. Shortly after the others started the fight, it took just a few seconds before they were all lying on the ground after Severin kicked them.

“Mister Mario, protectors. It looks like you three are required to join the fight!” Surina said after being in shock.

“No problem!” Mario rubbed his fist and charged forward with the protectors.

Too bad, Mario and the protectors were no match to Severin even when the three of them teamed up together. After a while, the three of them had the same ending as the others. Being smashed to the floor and spurting blood from their mouths.

“Ma’am, he’s too powerful. Even if the Great Elder and the other elders are here, they could not beat him!” Mario said solemnly while trying hard to get up on his feet.

Surino’s face looked terrible. Never had she imagined that Severin would be so strong at such a young age.

“You! Just wait! When my husband becomes the governor, I will ask him to increase Brookbourn Mansion’s tax!” Surino threatened as she looked shocked.

Severin smiled bitterly after hearing that. “I’m sorry. I’m from Brookbourn but I’m not a member of Brookbourn Mansion.”

Chapter 736

“Haha! You’re not a member of Brookbourn Mansion? Don’t you remember how your mother-in-law bluffed that you are going to be governor? Gosh, she’s incredible at bluffing!”

Suga folded her hands and gave Felicia a disdainful look. “Someone is not feeling shameful at all when her lie is exposed!”

“I think you two are dying to have me beat you up!” Severin rubbed his fist as he looked at the two ladies.

“Hmph! Just wait for it!” It scared Surina that she took two steps back before she turned around and left in a hurry.

Severin looked at them leaving and smiled bitterly. “Haha! Severin, we’re here!”

Just when Severin was going to go back into the villa, another group of people came in. He looked back and saw it was Gracie, Roland, and the others.

"It's only just a few of you that came here?" Severin looked at them and asked curiously.

Gracie answered, "Of course not. We're slowly moving everyone and everything here. And we also found a place not too far away from here."

After that, she laughed again. "I just called Larry and Mick. They said they are going to be here in another two or three hours."

Severin nodded satisfyingly after hearing that. "Okay. Settle down first and don't pick a fight with anyone! Manage your people. If you need me, just call me."

"Okay. I understand." Gracie smiled and said, "What's wrong? Aren't you going to invite us in?"

Severin smiled. "Oh, yes. Of course. You guys must be tired after traveling. Come right in."

As that said, Severin brought them into the villa. Once they were in and resting, Severin said, "Oh. Come over and find me after a few days. I have something good to pass to you guys."

"Haha. I'm already looking forward to it!" Gracie chuckled. She was sitting across from Severin. Her eyes brightened up as she looked at Severin.

Felicie – who was listening to their conversation – grabbed Megan and left the house.

When they were outside, Felicia said, "Megan. Why do I have a feeling that Gracie talked to Severin as if she was talking to her boss? Like she needs to report everything to him?"

Megan was shocked when she heard that. "Do you have that feeling too? I felt that too but I thought that was just me."

Felicia shook her head. "No, no. I think they are not just friends. Do you think Equus Hall is under Severin. too?"

Megan gasped and quickly shook her head. "I don't think so. Brookton is so far from Brookbourn. Severin did not know her until recently. Maybe she knows how powerful Severin is and wants to please him. She's one of the people who know Severin is the War Gods' master!"

"You got a point there." Felicia nodded. "Regardless of who, anyone who knows about Severin's real identity would want to please him, including Sanchez. They kept on coming over to toast with him during the wedding!"

Chapter 737

"Oh, my, Mister Mario. What happened? Who beat you?" Regan asked surprisingly.

When Surina and the others returned to where they stayed, they bumped into Regan, the Namvail, and the other elders.

The Great Elder furrowed his brows instantly. "What's going on? Mario, you're a level three warrior king. Who can beat you like this? Did you offend a powerful upper family from this city?"

Mario shook his head helplessly. "No. Missus Surina was bullied so she brought us to get her revenge. But that kid was too strong. I think he's as strong as a level five warrior king. But I don't know if he's a level five warrior king or not. But he's definitely stronger than me!"

"A level five warrior king!"

The Great Elder's mouth twitched a few times. He was the strongest in the mansion but he was just a level four warrior king. Thus if what Mario said was true, he could not defeat the guy too.

"Who bullied Surino?" Regan was so angry that he clenched his fist tightly. After that, he approached Surino and grabbed her hand. "Surino, did he do anything to you? Did he harass you? Did he...?"

Clearly, Regan was very confident with Surino's appearance. Those questions had Surino think about Severin's handsome face. She thought, "If that young handsome guy wants to sleep with me, I'll rush to his bed immediately. He doesn't need to force me at all!"

Nevertheless, she smiled bitterly. "Honey, what are you talking about? That's not what Mister Mario meant. He humiliated me. The thing is... when we went out to buy the villa yesterday..."

Quickly, Surino explained everything.

"Hmph! That bastard! He's a real bully!" Regan snorted after hearing that. "Does he really think he's invincible just because he has high attainment? I'm just the mayor of Namveil today. But who knows! might become the governor in the future. When that happens, many upper families or those lone wolves would queue up in line to please me. And it's going to be easy to build a connection with those War Gods."

After a pause, he continued, "Once I have those connections, it's going to be a piece of cake to find any strong men to help us out. Let's note this incident first and we'll show him some color in the future."

Suga took a step forward. "That's right. You have no idea how arrogant that guy was. Even after we told him you are the mayor of Namveil, he did not give a f*ck! They also said they are very close with the War Gods and said he's going to be the next governor. Haha. I wonder how he is going to be the governor when he's not even a mayor."

"Haha. I have seen too many people like him. They think too much of themselves when all they have is just a little money and power. Sooner or later, they are going to trip over their own ego!"

Regan chuckled and consoled Surino. "Honey, sorry, we can't go after the guy for now. Don't worry we will go after him in the future!"

"Okay. You're the best!" Surino ran into Regan's arms and talked in her baby voice.

At the same time, Diane, Judith, and the others went to the shopping mall with Lillie and the other bodyguards protecting them. Just then, there was a man sitting in the cafe drinking his coffee. He accidentally noticed Diane and the others.

The moment he saw Diane, he sprung up from the chair shockingly. "No way! Why are they here? Are they here to deal with some business?"

Chapter 738

The man in the cafe was none other than Edward. He ran from the city with cash and many pieces of jewelry as soon as he noticed the situation was not in his favor.

When the Horsefields left Brookbourn, they came to South Link City to venture into a new business.

Although they had over seven million dollars of wealth, they were left with just enough to open a small business after buying a house and a car. Their condition was much better than average people but it was far less than their past lives when they were living in Brookbourn. Thus, he felt ashamed of himself.

Every night he had dreamt that he could kill Severin. If it were not for Severin, his life would not be so miserable. At least he would not have to think twice before buying clothes or buying a glass of beer when he was in the bar.

"It's really them! Why are they here?"

Sitting across from Edward was an elder from his family. The elder frowned. "Mister Edward, we need to be careful for the next few days. Maybe they are just here for a holiday and will leave after a couple of days. Let's stay in the house for the next few days and avoid going out. If they find us, we're going to be in big trouble. They might kill us."

"This is also a chance. A chance for me to kill Severin. I don't want to miss out on this chance!" Edward gritted his teeth while he could not conceal his hatred,

The elder replied by saying, "But Severin is too strong. I think he's a warrior king. The strongest in the family is only a profound master. We just can't beat him, Killing is easier said than done."

"Send someone to follow Diane and send me the location of where they will be staying. Maybe I can't kill him but the Zavalas can!" Edward gritted his teeth while he made a decision.

"But I thought you do not like the young miss from the Zavalas? She's as fat as a pig. And you're trying to avoid meeting her at all costs."

The elder stood up and guessed what Edward was thinking.

Edward stood up too and sneered coldly. "It doesn't matter. As long as they can kill Severin for me and take my revenge for me, I don't mind being a live-in-son-in-law for the Zavalas. They are a second-tier upper-class family in this city. What's wrong with being their live-in-son-in-law? When I have the money in the future, I can still get myself a mistress secretly. When that happens, I will get a chance to sleep with Diane in the future!"

"Alright. I'll follow them now or I'm going to lose sight of them!" The elder sighed after thinking about what Edward said and quickly left the cafe.

When the elder left, Edward took out his phone to call Miya, the young miss of the Zavalas.

"Mister Edward. To what do I owe this pleasure to receive a phone call from you?"

Miya was sitting on the sofa and eating snacks when her phone rang. She weighed nearly two hundred pounds. When she saw it was Edward calling, her eyes lit up. It was love at first sight when she saw Edward for the first time. Too bad, Edward ignored her no matter what she did to please him. It left her feeling speechless.

Edward smiled. "Miya, if you can kill this person for me, I will be your boyfriend. Heck! I don't even mind being a live-in-son-in-law!"

Chapter 739

"Are you serious?" Miya got so excited after hearing that. She jumped up from the sofa immediately.

Despite being a large size girl, there were many rich kids who were after her family's wealth. To make it more interesting, she was the only daughter. Therefore, there were many young men who wished to court her to make their life easier. However, none of them caught her eye until she met Edward where she fell for him immediately.

During their first meeting, Miya went over to talk to Edward when Edward did not know her real identity. He did not portray any disgusted feelings toward her and even chatted with her like she was his friend. That had her believe Edward was a good man.

"But it's not going to be easy to kill him. He's a good fighter. Anyone below the warrior king level could not defeat him!"

After careful thinking, Edward gave Miya a heads up.

Miya smiled. "Don't worry. Don't worry. I'll bring a couple of warrior kings over and kill him for you!"

Several minutes later, three cars stopped in front of the cafe where Edward was in. Miya got out of the first car and quickly went inside to look for Edward.

"Edward, do you really mean what you say? Are you really going to be a live-in-son-in-law, my husband after I kill that guy?" Miya looked at Edward with an excited face.

Edward nodded. "That guy was the reason my family went bankrupt and why I had to leave Brookbourn and come here. I need him dead. If you can kill him, I will marry you!"

"Hooray!" Miya cheered like a little kid and pointed outside. "I brought six warrior kings with me. The two strongest men are level three warrior kings. What do you think? It should be easy for them to kill your nemesis"

Edward was thrilled to hear that. He had no idea how strong Severin was, to be honest. In the past, he had hired a couple of assassins to kill Severin but all of them failed their missions. Based on that, he presumed Severin could be a profound master at level eight or nine. Hence, he figured there would be no problem for a warrior king to kill Severin.

Besides, he found out more about attainment after he was here in South Link City and discovered most smaller cities did not have any warrior kings. Severin was destined to be a dead guy now that Miya brought six warrior kings over.

His heart finally found his inner peace. "Great! He's dead this time! Oh, I heard he has six bodyguards and they are very strong too. I'm guessing they are all profound masters. Can you kill them too?"

"Sure if you're willing to be with me!" Miya came over and clung on Edward's arm.

It gave Edward the chills to have a large-sized lady clinging to his arm. Somehow he was not used to this feeling. Especially when there were many gorgeous women after him in the past and he did not lack having any woman in his life before.

"What's wrong? You don't like me, do you?"

When Miya noticed Edward's reaction, she pouted and asked.

Edward quickly explained. "No I like you but I'm not just used to it

Chapter 740

It was too obvious that Miya knew Edward was lying. "It doesn't matter. I know it takes time and we can do it slowly."

She added after giving it a thought. "Edward, shouldn't you show a little appreciation by kissing me since you're asking me to help you take revenge?"

Edward was so speechless and disgusted that he nearly threw out the coffee he drank just now.

It definitely gave him a scare. "Isn't that a little too fast?"

However, Miya was not going to miss this chance easily. She said shyly, "No. I'm twenty-six years old this year and this is my first kiss. How is that fast?"

The corner of Edward's mouth twitched a few times before he said, "Miss Miya, we have just known each other a few days ago. I don't think it's appropriate for me to kiss you now. Besides, there are so many people in the cafe. It doesn't look good and it will tarnish your reputation if the others see us."

Miya thought about what Edward said and realized he got a point. Nodding her head, she said, "You're right. Let's head to the car and you can kiss me when we are in the car. Don't worry. No one can look into the car through the window. Even if we did something else, no one is going to find out about it!"

The more Miya said, the more embarrassed she felt. Her face blushed and to avoid people seeing that, she lowered her head when she was leaving the cafe.

"But... but..."

Edward felt speechless. Nonetheless, he gritted his teeth and followed behind Miya to the car when he thought about his current situation. As the car door was closed, he looked at the fat woman in front of him and had mixed feelings.

Regardless of that, he closed his eyes and quickly kissed Miya. "Done!"

"So fast?" Miya got so excited. "That's too fast. It's my first kiss and I didn't feel anything!"

"Let's discuss that next time!" Edward tried to end the topic quickly.

Soon, he received a call from the elder he was having coffee with. The elder followed Diane and the others back to where they were living.

“Alright. Send me the location. You can go back and leave the rest to me!”

Edward hung up the phone and had a smile that had been long gone on his face. “Severin. I bet you never thought there will be a day when I seek my revenge! Today is the day you die!”

“Don’t worry. He’s going to die today!”

Miya smiled, rested her head on Edward’s shoulder, and said, “Edward. Let’s go for a movie after we killed that guy. After the movie, we should go drink at the bar and when night comes, you’re free to do anything. you want to me. After all, you’ve promised to be my man.”

It scared the freak out of Edward that he needed to gulp loudly. He smiled embarrassingly. “Miya, this is going too fast. Can we at least pace ourselves slowly?”

“But you have promised to marry me and live with me. I don’t think we’re going too fast.”

Miya smiled. “Remember, you have made a promise to me. If you dare to break it, I will order my man to kill your family!”
