

Arabella 1626

Chapter 1626

[You've got a few more days to make things right, Ms. Serena. After that, it's out of your hands.] Erik advised heartfully, [Right now, you're like a pawn in their game, and they'll remove you from the board whenever they see fit.]

[What do you think I should do?] Serena asked, desperation creeping into her voice.

[I've done all I can, but it seems like nothing works.] Serena sent him a voice message.

She recounted her recent efforts to Erik, [What else do you think should I do?]

No matter what she did, her parents were unresponsive. She was truly out of options.

[Mrs. Serena Collins, have you noticed that everything you've tried has been through a screen or from a distance? You've been their daughter for eighteen years, not just eighteen days. Maybe if they saw you in person, vulnerable, they might have a change of heart.]

[So you're saying I should show up in front of them?] Serena had considered this approach, [But they want me to stay here and reflect on my mistakes. I'm afraid of upsetting them even more.]

[Mr. and Mrs. Collins said you should reflect until you realize what you've done wrong.] Erik reminded her, [You understand now, don't you?]

[I was worried Summer's real face behind the mask wasn't good enough for David.]

[What are you saying? With Summer's talent and voice, she outshines David any day. I think he's the one not good enough for her.]

The internet users were divided into three groups: Team David, Team Summer, and the rest enjoying the drama.

At the same time, David's phone buzzed with messages from his brothers.
