

The Princess and the Pauper (Arabella)

Chapter 1006

Chapter 1006

She turned to look at Arabella, noticing the young girl's nonchalance as she expressed heartfelt gratitude and gracefully took her leave.

Damn it, this little wretch must be thrilled to bits on the inside, yet she managed to maintain such a casual demeanor on the outside!

No wonder Serena despised her. At this moment, Alma couldn't stand it either. She's such a pretender!

Alma silently vowed to herself that she would one day outshine this girl!

Upon Arabella's return to the audience, the students of Westerly College practically hailed her as a legend.

"Arabella, you're amazing! How can you play the violin so beautifully? How many years have you been studying?"

"Today, you didn't only bring honor to yourself but to Westerly College as well!

You're so extraordinary, so wonderful"

"Arabella, I admire you so much. I declare from today onwards you're my idol!"

From the moment Arabella set foot in Summerfield College, she had brought honor to Westerly College. As for them, they were just dead weight!

"I think I can smash my violin when I get back. Practicing for all these years, and I'm still not a fraction as good as Bella." one of them lamented.

"I hope Arabella plays a wrong note just to prove she's human!"

A freshman with such an exceptional level of musicality, causing such a profound impact.

Only then can she achieve higher worth, making life even more beautiful.

"I always thought it was my violin that wasn't good enough, too cheap, that's why it didn't sound as good as the others"

The girl who lent Arabella her violin confessed, "Until just now, when I saw with my own eyes that the violin I thought was an embarrassment shine in your hands, I realized it wasn't the violin's fault. It was me."

"Arabella, if anyone dares to defame you, I'll be the first to curse them! You're so down-to-earth and talented, I won't stand for anyone talking nonsense about you."

"You're not only academically excellent and musically gifted but also incredibly beautiful and kind. It's too much"

Everyone kept chattering around Arabella until she reminded them to focus and prepare for the competition, and then they finally shut up.

As for Serena, she had no words to describe how she felt.

She thought she would feel satisfied seeing Alma lose, but at this moment, a surge of jealousy and resentment made her restless.

How could that be!

How could Arabella be so incredible?

Her performance even made Oswald extend an olive branch to her repeatedly!

That's Oswald!

The president of the violin association!

She knew Arabella was a great pianist, but she didn't expect her to be so much better at the violin.

She and Martha even thought about making Arabella make some mistakes to cover up her own spotlight.

But now, it seemed like Arabella was good at everything, making it really hard to find fault!

Serena clenched her fists, her nails digging into her palms. She was full of resentment, angry that someone had taught Arabella so many talents!

She was supposed to be the least favored in the Murphy family!

She's supposed to be living at the bottom!

But now, she had become an unreachable goddess, causing unbearable frustration!
