The Ex-Husband's Revenge chapter 2512-"So Cynthion Group is already working with the Morrisons!

Everyone paused for a moment and recalled that Leon was Renee's 'boyfriend.' With that considered, the Cynthion Group would prioritize working with the Morrisons if they wished to expand.

Instantly, they were all rendered helpless and disappointed.

"Well, not really. Cynthion Group has not confirmed a partnership with the Morrisons," Leon said hesitantly.

The discussion with the Morrisons was cut short because they could not reach a consensus for the profit division.

Hugo promised to try his best and convince the others, but Caleb and the other elders were stubborn. On top of that, Jayden seemed determined to interfere so there was no telling whether Caleb would choose to compromise in the end.

On the other hand, the guests in this bouquet witnessed the power of the alchemical pills with their own eyes and were all desperate to work with him.

Amongst them, there were a few like Jensen who came from powerful families that rivaled the Morrisons in terms of influence.

Leon could simply take his pick on any one of them and achieve what he wished to accomplish with Cynthion Group.

Instantly, he started wavering and began considering if he should give up on the Morrisons and choose another family to work with.

"No? That's great!"

Everyone was overjoyed and their disappointment was instantly replaced by hope.

Though they did not know why the Morrises did not confirm a collaboration with Cynthion Group even though Leon and Renee were dating, they knew that Cynthion Group was a profitable business.

So long as there was hope, they would fight for a chance to work with Cynthion Group.

“Mister Wolf, the Dagleshs wish to work with you! Please consider it,” Jensen took the initiative to speak sincerely.

“So do we,” the others agreed along and looked at Leon with anticipation, wishing Leon would choose to work with them.

“Don’t! Hugh, you can’t agree to work with them.’ Renee started to panic.

Hugo specifically informed her to take care of Leon and make sure that the deal between Cynthion Group and the Morrises remained.

However, what she feared most was now happening.

The alchemical pills produced by Cynthion Group worked too well and the others were all fighting for a chance to work with Leon once they realized the potential within Cynthion Group.

If Leon chose to work with another family, she could not face Hugo afterward.

“I-” Leon was hesitant.

The Morrises refused to accept his proposal for the profit division and he could not keep waiting to expand into the western region market.

If he chose to work with another company, this would work in favor of Cynthion Group’s gain.

However, he came to the western region to meet with Hugo. On top of that, Renee treated him with kindness. It seemed heartless for him to choose another family and neglect the two of them.
