Thea leaned over Alaric. She trailed kisses up his chest to his neck, then rested her forehead against his.

"I'm glad I have my memories back for this. It means so much more knowing who you are and what we mean to each other," Thea mind linked Alaric. 1

"I know. I'm glad too," Alaric mind linked her.

They kissed for a moment. "Are you ready?"

"Yes, my love. I've been ready for years."

Thea looked him in the eyes.

"I love you, Ric," she thought to him.

"I love you."

She gave him a sweet kiss on the lips then moved to the bend between his shoulder and neck. The same spot where his mark was on her. Her canines extended, she placed them against his skin, and she bit down. Alaric tensed then melted as the pleasure overtook his body. The connection building. It was so much more intense now that she had her wolf and her memory. 1

This was the last step in the mating process. Thea connected to all of them, all three triplets connected to her. They could feel each other's emotions and hear each other's thoughts.

Thea felt like she had all she ever wanted.

"Us too," the triplets thought.

Conri pumped in and out of her, hands holding onto her hips. Alaric thrust in and out of her as the pleasure grew from her mark taking root. Kai's fingers working her clit. Even though he just came, the sensations from the bond were overpowering. His other hand started stroking his hardening cock.

"Push the feeling out to the pack," Thea thought to them.

They all started pushing the feeling out to the pack. Thea pulled energy from the Earth and used it to boost it. She felt her own magic building, and she pushed that out to the pack as well. They started to feel the energy from the pack flowing back and forth, in and out of everyone, connecting everyone to each other. Something else was happening with the magic Thea added. It seemed like a forcefield was coming together around the pack lands and around each individual pack member.

Thea sunk her teeth deeper into Alaric's shoulder, deeper than she thought she could. Alaric came, and Thea felt his climax like it was her own. Conri felt it from her and came. She felt Conri's climax, and Kai felt everything through Thea. He put more pressure on her clit, and she came. Kai followed right behind her with his own climax.

Thea retracted her canines and slowly pulled them out of Alaric. She licked the punctures on Alaric's neck until they were closed, his white mark growing into a beautiful design.

Conri pulled out of her. Kai took his hand back. Alaric sat up, bringing Thea with him. He looked into her eyes.

"We may have just made a pup," Alaric thought to her.

She smiled and wrapped herself around him tight. He stood up and carried her to the river.

Conri and Kai followed them into the water, and they all rinsed off.

"Hey," Thea said out loud. "Do you guys want to know who the father is when we have a pup? I just realized we won't know whose sperm actually fertilized the egg unless everyone else wears condoms, and only one of you comes inside me. A DNA test won't help because your DNA is identical." 2

"I hadn't thought about that," Conri said.

"We should all be fathers to all the pups," Kai said after a moment.

"I agree," Alaric said. "We shouldn't know which of us is technically the father. I don't want any of us having favorites. They're all ours."

"We should treat each pup the same," Conri said. "Love them equally. Yeah, let's assume we're all the father."

"Our pups are going to be the luckiest pups in the world," Thea said. "I guess that means you two are going to need to come inside me soon."

"No problem," Conri said.

"I may need a few minutes to fill the tank back up, but I'll get the job done before the night is through," Kai said.

"Yeah," Thea said. "How many times have you come today?"

"Including this morning? Four," Kai said.

"Pretty good day, huh?" Thea said.

"We completed the mating process. You have your wolf and your memory. We know we can have pups. I'd say this is the best day," Kai said.

"You're right," Alaric said. "After all the uncertainty, sadness, and fear from what's happened over the past few months, today feels like a blessing. I feel like we have everything we've ever wanted."

"Me too," Thea, Kai, and Conri said together.

“Thank you for being so wonderful when I didn’t remember you guys,” Thea said. “I can’t imagine how I’d feel if you didn’t remember me.”

“It was scary,” Alaric said.

“I’m happy you’re back,” Kai said.

“I’ll do anything to keep you,” Conri said. “Even if it means making you fall in love with us again and again.”

Thea sighed. “I’m the luckiest girl on the planet.”

They swam around for a bit in silence.

“Was it me, or did you guys feel something extra when we were pushing the feeling out to the pack?” Conri said.

“There was something that hasn’t been there before,” Kai said.

“I added Earth energy into the mix to strengthen the signal,” Thea said. “Then I felt my magic building inside me. I didn’t do it on purpose. It just happened, but I sent that through too. I felt something like a forcefield being created around the pack lands and around each pack member individually. What did you guys feel?”

“A forcefield,” Alaric said. “That’s what I felt.”

“Like a shield,” Conri said.

“I got the feeling it could act like a tripwire. I think if someone comes onto our land, we’ll all feel it and know they’re not friendly,” Kai said.

“And maybe, maybe it might keep other magic out, like witches,” Thea said.

“Sons, Thea,” Alpha Ulric said in mind link to them. “Come to my office as soon as possible.”

“Yes, sir,” they all replied.

Thea laughed. “It’s so weird to think our parents can feel it when we’re making love.”

“Only when we’re marking,” Alaric said.

“Let’s not forget how your dad had all your guys’ stuff moved into my room without consulting any of us.”

“We’re mates,” Conri said. “He knew that from day one. He was just waiting for us to figure it out.”

“Yeah, I guess,” Thea said.

“Do you want us to move out, darling?” Kai said.

“Goddess, no,” Thea said. “No.”

They looked at her and smiled.

“I can’t be mad at him. It was one of the happiest moments of my life,” Alaric said.

“Yeah,” Thea said. “You’re right. I want to freeze time and stay like this forever, but I suppose we ought to answer your father’s call.”
