

Chapter 1004 Birthday Party

Days passed by quickly, and it was Wednesday now.

As planned, Dooley held his so-called birthday party in Hantinn Restaurant, the most luxurious restaurant in Esterham. It was grand and festive.

However, his company was short of money now. This kind of extravagant consumption even made him feel a little distressed.

"Damn you, Dragon! I will tear you into pieces when I see you!"

Dooley's face darkened, and coldness flashed through his eyes.

But even in such a situation, he didn't think the business empire he had built painstakingly in Esterham would be destroyed.

As long as he was still alive, his giant business empire would never be destroyed.

He had this confidence because of his identity. He was a Sanderson, after all.

When it was almost noon, Dooley went to Hantinn Restaurant in a suit and leather shoes to personally welcome his guests at the entrance.

What he didn't know was that in the building opposite the hotel, someone was watching him from above.

"Don't worry, Dooley. The show is about to begin," Trevor sneered, putting down the binoculars in his hand. He was on the rooftop of the building across from the restaurant.

He was playing with his phone, feeling a little excited when he thought of the careful planning he made with many company CEOs.

If everything went well, the giant business empire Dooley had built in Esterham would be destroyed today.

The pleasure of revenge made his blood boil.

As Trevor watched the scene expectantly, the first guest arrived and was welcomed at the entrance of Hantinn Restaurant.

This guest got out of a luxury car calmly. She was Effie Moran, the CEO of Sapphelle Group.

Dooley put on his most polite smile and walked over to greet her.

"Hello, Miss Moran! Long time no see. Thank you for coming to my birthday party."

If this was in the past, Effie would have responded with a polite smile.

The influence of Dooley's family in Esterham was so great that even his competitors didn't dare to disrespect him.

But today, Effie was different.

She looked at Dooley up and down and seemed to have seen through the filth beneath his hypocritical appearance.

She just nodded calmly. "Well, it's been a long time indeed."

After saying this, Effie didn't say anything more. She continued to walk into the restaurant with a cold face.

Dooley was confused by Effie's sudden change of attitude.

While watching her receding back, he couldn't help snorting unhappily.

He murmured, "What is wrong with that woman? Why does she wear a long face?"

Dooley tried to think about it. But he couldn't figure out the reason, so he thought Effie was only in a bad mood.

He didn't take her indifference to heart.

However, after greeting a few more guests, Dooley was in a bad mood.

The CEOs he had invited had actually come.

But their attitude towards him was very strange.

When they talked, they were cold. And he even noticed a hint of mockery in their words.

Only some heads of small families and companies tried their best to please him.

Dooley was very confused. He didn't know what was wrong with those CEOs.

Since he had no idea why their attitude towards him suddenly changed, he could only look at Zakai suspiciously and ask in a low voice, "Did you do something else that I don't know?"

Zakai was taken aback, but he immediately waved his hands in confusion.

He was about to explain when the employee of the restaurant said aloud, "Dragon has arrived."

Dragon?

Not only Dooley but also Zakai was stunned when they heard the name. They both turned their heads and looked towards the door. There they saw Trevor standing with a smile.

Trevor walked over to them, reached out his hand to Dooley, and greeted, "Mr. Sanderson, it's been a while. I'm here to wish you a happy birthday."

Chapter 1005 A Special Gift

"Damn it! You are courting death! How dare you come here?"
Zakai screamed angrily upon seeing Trevor.

Dooley frowned, confused.

He misunderstood Trevor's purpose.

He believed that Trevor had come to his party to apologize after hearing about the power of the Sanderson family.

How dare a mere bodyguard challenge him?

Dooley grimaced at the thought of this.

"Dragon, you must have come here to beg for mercy after realizing the extensive influence the Sanderson family wields, right?"

Zakai was shocked at first upon hearing his father's guess, but then he thought it added up.

Excitement was audible in his voice as he said, "It's too late!
No way, Dragon. You hear me? No way! Don't think you will be forgiven after an apology! You are finished."

Zakai and his father moved forward to stop Trevor.

Trevor smiled calmly and said, "Really? You do not appear to want me here, right?"

Dooley thought it demeaning to show anger against a mere bodyguard, so he admonished his son with a look.

Zakai understood his father's expression and stepped forward to provoke Trevor.

"Do you think my father's birthday is open to a commoner like you? I think you are just looking to get a free meal, aren't you? You couldn't afford a meal here. I was the one who brought you here last time, wasn't I?"

Zakai sneered when he saw how casually dressed Trevor was and that he had no gift.

"Do you not see that the attendees are all famous and influential figures in Esterham? How dare you show up here? Bah! Besides, you have brought no gift, knowing quite well it is my father's birthday party. That shows how uncultured you are."

Trevor stared at Zakai emotionlessly and said, "I didn't bring any expensive gifts, but I did bring a gift."

Trevor then proceeded to take out a small gift box from his backpack.

"What the hell! How dare you call this a gift?" Zakai grabbed the gift box. "Let me see what you've brought."

A slight smile curved Trevor's lips, and he said, "The gift belongs to your father. I advise you not to open it."

Zakai glared at him and said, "How dare you tell me what to do? Humph! I'll do what I want."

He immediately tore open the wrapping paper and proceeded to take out an MP4 player from the box.

"What's this? Is this your idea of a gift?" Zakai scoffed and turned on the MP4 player.

However, he froze when he saw the video on the screen, his face a mask of horror.

It was when he was electrocuted by an electric baton and he was moaning with pleasure.

Dooley pulled a long face when he saw that.

"No! This... This isn't real." Zakai's face flushed with embarrassment. He tried to turn the MP4 player off.

However, he mistakenly played the next video.

The content of the video was even more shameful.

It was an obscene video of Zakai masturbating in the car after taking the aphrodisiac accidentally. The scene was appalling.

The sound of Zakai's disgusting groans, coming from the video, could be heard from the restaurant's entrance as the video played on.

"No!" Zakai screamed in horror.

Click!

Zakai slammed the MP4 player repeatedly on the ground in anger before it stopped playing.

Trevor couldn't help laughing. "What do you think? I warned you against opening it."

Zakai trembled with rage. He stared at Trevor, with murder in his eyes.
