

MARRIED AT FIRST SIGHT BY GU LINGFEI

Chapter 3071

Just as Kathryn thought, Matriarch Farrell quickly understood the worry in Kathryn's words. Shiloh's only capital now is her beauty.

The three sons had all had lovers outside, probably more than one, and this was not the first time they had cheated on each other. It was just that the daughters-in-law didn't know about it in the past.

Their lust was inherited from Holden's.

If Shiloh was determined to seduce Marco and the others, she might succeed.

They already loved Shiloh, but they never had feelings for Kathryn, their biological sister.

It was inevitable that Shiloh would get some benefits from them.

Thinking of this, Matriarch Farrell's face became very ugly.

If Shiloh really seduced Marco, then both father and son would fall into Shiloh's hands.

It could be said that Holden was plotted, but as for Marco, it was the willing one who took the bait.

"Kathryn, I will take care of this matter, so you don't have to worry about it. I will send someone to keep an eye on Shiloh's every move. If she really dares to take advantage of your brothers, I will tell your sister-in-law to let them maintain the integrity of your family."

Matriarch Farrell was too lazy to take action.

She was a little bit cruel; after all, she was raised as her own daughter.

The love between mother and daughter for more than twenty years did not mean that they could let go of it. Maybe it's because she was getting older, and she no longer had the cruelty she had when she was young.

When she saw Shiloh and Holden together, she was so angry that she didn't even kill Shiloh. It could be seen that she really softened her heart a lot.

Kathryn said, "Mom, I don't have the time to mind her business. As long as she doesn't mess with me, I won't bother to care about her."

When Kathryn first came back, she indeed regarded Shiloh as her opponent. It was not that she wanted to fight to the death with Shiloh; it was that Shiloh wanted to fight to the death with her. She always acted at a disadvantage, making Shiloh think she had a chance of winning.

When she found out that the three sisters-in-law were working together to trick Shiloh, Kathryn remained silent. She was on her sister-in-law's side, and she was using her sister-in-law to help deal with Shiloh.

That move was cruel enough.

Today Shiloh was a loser in front of her.

The kind that is completely defeated and never recovers.

Did Shiloh think she could change the situation by seducing her brothers? wrong. Doing that would only destroy the last bit of love she had in her mother's heart.

If Shiloh really did that and was caught, the only thing waiting for her would be to be forcibly sent away from Jensburg or simply let her disappear from this world. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Chapter 3072

Matriarch Farrell continued, “The industries and products her company is involved in are exactly the same as ours. She is clearly competing for business with our Farrell’s. Peers in the industry compete with each other. Since she competes with us for business, she is our opponent.

Don’t be merciful when dealing with the enemy. While her company has just started and is still in a fragile stage, we must act quickly to strangle her in the cradle.”

After Kathryn was silent, she said, “Mom, most of the business deals that Liberty has negotiated are from the Queen Enterprise, and some are from big companies that are interested in the York family, the Lewis family, and the Stone family. A big company doesn’t take our Farrell family seriously.”

Matriarch Farrell said, “You have to think about how to do it. I don’t want to see Liberty rise in Jensburg.” Matriarch Farrell knew that her biological daughter did not want to be an enemy of liberty.

If Liberty was not the descendant of her eldest sister, she would have come to Jensburg to target the Farrell family, and Matriarch Farrell did not want to be an enemy of Liberty.

The three major families standing behind Liberty, although they were far away in Guancheng, were not underestimated.

If the three major families wanted to join forces to deal with the Farrell Group, the Farrell Group couldn't resist it, let alone the looming Bucham family.

Matriarch Farrell asked Kathryn to suppress Liberty's rise in a commanding tone. "There are also some people in the family who are ready to make a move. They seem to want to bet their money on Liberty. You punish these people and give them a warning and a lesson. While I'm still alive, I'm thinking of betraying my family. My eldest sister has been dead for decades. Even if Liberty is her granddaughter, so what? Can Liberty be allowed to take over?"

Now I am sitting in the position of the head of the family. When my daughter is able to take over, it is impossible to return the position of head of the family to my eldest sister's descendants."

It was impossible for her to return the power she gained by killing her sister to her eldest sister's lineage!

"Kathryn, I know that you have a conscience and upright views, but our family is like that. Don't think about returning the Farrell family to Liberty. What qualifications does Liberty have to take over the Farrell family?"

She is just the granddaughter of the previous head of the family, but you are the daughter of the current head of the family and the young mistress of our Farrell family. You are more qualified and capable than her to take over everything. Liberty is just starting out and does not have ten or eight years of experience. Even if she is allowed to take over the Farrell clan, it will be a mess. Don't think that the Farrell clan is so good.

It's been two or three years since you came back, and you're still the legitimate successor. You don't know what those old ghosts did to you? Don't underestimate them. They are really knit together and can suppress them unless they are liquidated and silenced. But now is different from the past. In the past, the era was chaotic. Now it is a legal society. If someone dies, the police will trace them, and they can't escape."

Kathryn said seriously, "Mom, I know; don't worry, I will do my best to hand it over successfully."

Matriarch Farrell said, "I believe you have that ability. Kathryn, you have to remember that when we are in this position, when we face the enemy, either they will die or we will die. We must not be merciful. If we lose, we will not have a good life. Just like the princes in ancient times competing for the throne, After the successful one takes the throne, they will liquidate their siblings because they are afraid that their brothers will seize the throne like them.

Even if Liberty comes to power and won't kill us, our lives will not be easy. Those people in the clan are used to flattering and suppressing others. I know better than you and understand the character of those people. So, we can't lose to Liberty. I'm already old, so it doesn't matter what the outcome is. But you are still young, and there is still a long time to come. If you lose to Liberty, I'm afraid you won't be able to survive in Jensburg anymore." Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

"Don't think about losing; you can't lose!" Matriarch Farrell spoke sharply. Kathryn responded repeatedly: "Okay, okay, I can't lose; I want to win." Let's talk about it if they could win.

Chapter 3073

Kathryn could live a good life away from the Farrell family and run her own business. Matriarch Farrell looked at Kathryn.

Could it be that Matriarch Farrell couldn't hear the perfunctory tone in Kathryn's words? She glared at Kathryn.

Kathryn faced her mother's glare calmly.

After a long time, Matriarch Farrell sighed, stretched out her hand to touch her daughter's face again, and said warmly, "You are an independent girl. Mom and you have only been in a relationship for two or three years. You don't want to listen to mom, and mom doesn't. Did Mr. Fraser send you back just now?"

Kathryn: "Um." Matriarch Farrell: "You two are young people and get along with each other every day. What do you think of Mr. Fraser?"

Kathryn's eyes widened. "Mom, what can I think of Mr. Fraser? Mom, didn't you say that he is my assistant, an all-around assistant, and he will only be loyal to me throughout his life? He is my all-around assistant and is always with me. Isn't this normal?"

Matriarch Farrell smiled and said, "Mr. Fraser cannot have love, marry a wife, and have children; unless he has the ability to become your man, then he can have a family, a wife, and children like ordinary people. We people always pay attention to three types of unfilial piety; the greatest is not having an offspring. Even if he is an orphan, he still wants to leave an offspring for himself. The way Mr. Fraser looks at you seems to be affectionate.”

Kathryn: “Mom, you rarely see him; how come you see love for me in his eyes?”

Matriarch Farrell still smiled. “I rarely see him, but it’s not like I haven’t seen him before. I’m someone who has been there, so there’s no way you can’t see it. It means you’re in it and don’t feel it.”

Mr. Fraser hides his feelings for Kathryn very deeply.

But when facing Kathryn, he couldn’t help but show a little doting. Matriarch Farrell caught it accidentally and was sure that Mr. Fraser had feelings for Kathryn without thinking too much.

This was both a good thing and a hidden danger for Kathryn. The good side was that if Mr. Fraser loved Kathryn deeply, he would be even more loyal to her.

The hidden danger was that if Mr. Fraser didn’t practice enough, couldn’t love, hated him out of love, and did something to hurt or betray Kathryn, he would become a hidden danger to Kathryn.

Although the assistants were all people who were loyal to Matriarch Farrell or the young mistress for a lifetime,. But there are no absolutes in this world. Matriarch Farrell had to worry about this.

Kathryn recalled every detail of her time with Mr. Fraser. It was very normal, just like when she was with Hayden. It couldn’t be more normal.

Did he have love for her?

Kathryn didn’t quite believe it.

“Mom, Mr. Fraser, I have no ideas for the moment.” Kathryn didn’t say anything.

Who knew what would happen next?

What if she also had feelings for Mr. Fraser in the future?

After a moment of silence, Matriarch Farrell said, “I don’t object to your romance with Mr. Fraser. In fact, it’s best for you to be with him. He will be loyal to you for the rest of his life, and he won’t mind becoming our son-in-law. There are very few capable men who are willing to be our women’s son-in-law. Chapter 3074

The assistant around her was respectful and loyal to her, but not loving.

Likewise, she had no romantic feelings for her assistant, so it was just the relationship between the head of the household and her assistant.

If she had fallen in love with her assistant, maybe the children she would have given birth to would have been better, and her daughter would not have been exchanged.

Kathryn smiled and said, “Mom, I don’t want to think about love now, and I don’t have time to fall in love. I told you that if I really need a successor, I will give birth to a daughter, but only as long as the daughter does not want a father. Let me be like you, who was betrayed by my father.”

Matriarch Farrell: *...” She also wanted to bring her daughter together with Mr. Fraser.

Mr. Fraser was an orphan and would not be a burden to his family. Whether he married into the Farrell family or not, he would be loyal to Kathryn.

Kathryn only wanted a daughter, not a man. After all, she was her biological daughter. How could Matriarch Farrell see her daughter stay single all her life?

Since Mr. Fraser had feelings for Kathryn, she told her daughter that she had no objection to her daughter being with Mr. Fraser. Putting aside her cruelty in the past, Matriarch Farrell was also an ordinary mother. She was also worried about her daughter's life events.

“After your dad is discharged from the hospital, I will go on a long trip, and the company and family affairs will be left to you.” Matriarch Farrell changed the topic.

She was unable to persuade her daughter to think differently about the crucial issue of marriage, and she rejected her daughter’s suggestions.

In short, neither mother nor daughter could make the other surrender.

Unpleasant topics could only be avoided. Kathryn asked with concern, “Mom, where are you going? Going to Wiltspoon again?”

“Why did I go to Wiltspoon? Liberty came to Jensburg. I have an old friend. I heard that he was in a certain city. I want to see him to make sure whether it is really him.”

She had been secretly in love with her eldest sister’s assistant ever since she first learned about love, and he was the old friend Matriarch Farrell mentioned.

After the eldest sister died, the man disappeared without a trace.

Worried that he might have something to fall into the hands of the other party, Matriarch Farrell had not stopped looking for him for decades.

After searching for decades, she finally got some clues recently, but she was not sure whether it was him or not. She needed to go there and see the person before she could confirm whether it was him.

The news her assistant conveyed to her was that the other party was in his nineties and still in good health. He did not live alone, but he had made several old friends and lived together with them.

His old friends heard that there were people who knew medicine and often helped him regulate his body so that he could live to be in his nineties and still be healthy. His assistant said that based on his current condition, he would live to be over a hundred years old. It was not a problem. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel

Matriarch Farrell thought he had died long ago.

After searching for decades, it could be said that she had searched everywhere she could; even though she was only three feet away from digging, there was still no news about him.

Considering his age, Matriarch Farrell thought that even if he had evidence that she killed her eldest sister and younger sister, such an old person would die of old age.

Unexpectedly, he was still alive.

After her eldest sister and younger sister passed away one after another, he disappeared because he knew that he could not fight against Matriarch Farrell on his own, and since she was the only one left among her three sisters, Matriarch Farrell would definitely fall to him. On this long journey, Matriarch Farrell made a decision.

Chapter 3075

“Mom, who is your old friend?” Kathryn asked curiously.

Matriarch Farrell did not tell her but just said, “It’s just my old friend. Don’t ask so many questions. When I’m not at home, you can take care of the company and handle the affairs of the clan. If anyone doesn’t listen to your arrangements, remember to wait until I come back to deal with them. It would be better if you could handle it well. After all, I’m getting older and need to slowly let go and let you get the hang of it. You can’t rely on me all your life.”

Kathryn said, "Mom, I know you can go out without worries. It's not the first time that you have traveled far away. Last time, you went to Wiltspoon for more than half a month, and I did a good job at home."

Kathryn felt more at ease when Matriarch Farrell was not at home, and those people had no way to use Matriarch Farrell to suppress her. She could do whatever she wanted.

Matriarch Farrell said, "Well, I believe you. It's very late. Go upstairs and rest. I will watch TV for a while and then catch up on my sleep."

Kathryn hummed, said good night to Matriarch Farrell, then got up and went upstairs.

After Kathryn went upstairs, Matriarch Farrell raised her hand and pulled out a necklace that she had worn all year. There was a pendant in the middle of the necklace. There was a small photo hidden in the pendant. The small photo was of the previous assistant to the head of the family when he was young.

It was Matriarch Farrell who secretly photographed him before. After posting it, she cut it into small pieces and hid it in her necklace pendant.

It is said that the first love is the most unforgettable.

She and he couldn't be said to be their first love because he had never loved her and only treated her as a little doll or a second lady.

In his eyes, her eldest sister was the woman that he loved most.

For the sake of her eldest sister, she believes he will never marry.

"No matter which corner you hide in, as long as you are still alive, I will dig you out." Matriarch Farrell murmured.

This was the first and only man Matriarch Farrell fell in love with. Even after decades, he had a place deep in her heart. She married Holden because she needed a husband and children so that the power she had finally won could continue. Holden told Kathryn that there was someone in her mother's heart.

That's true.

Matriarch Farrell had someone in her heart. She never showed the necklace and the pendant she wore because she didn't want people to see that she secretly hid a man's photo in the pendant.

Matriarch Farrell leaned back on the sofa chair, closed her eyes, and recalled the past days. Before she knew it, she fell asleep.

In the dream, she dreamed not only of him but also of the eldest sister who raised her as a daughter, and even more of the eldest sister.

The eldest sister was so many years older than her and had played the role of mother since she could remember.

After her mother gave birth to her younger sister, she passed away a few years later.

She and her sister relied even more on her sister.

Her sister was very busy and left early and came back late, but she did not ignore her and her sister and loved them very much. Her elder sister was guarded against everyone, but not the two younger sisters.

In the end, it was her sister who killed her.

When Matriarch Farrell woke up again, her face was full of tears. She quickly took out a tissue and wiped the tears on her face, fearing that someone would find her crying. Visit to read the latest chapter of this novel
