

Chapter 5505

Under normal circumstances, it is difficult for other people to get a chance even if they rush to buy shares with the money.

Moreover, even if some of the An family's projects are open for investment, not everyone can get the investment share.

An family has always been strict in the selection of partners.

If the assets do not meet the threshold requirements, even if they have money, they will not be able to invest.

What's more, if the outside world wants to invest in An family's projects, it's like investing in a wealth management fund.

Even if they get the opportunity, they have to pay An family, or a trader, a certain percentage of management fees, and the management fees must reach at least 25%.

If it is a $10 billion project, and An family provides a quota of 40 to the outside world, it seems that each percentage point corresponds to $100 million,

But in fact, if the outside world wants to get a percentage of it, they will have to pay at least $12.5 billion or more.

However, Marshal's condition for Warnia was to give the Song Group 10 shares for free,

And if the Song Group wanted to subscribe for the rest, the management fee would not be charged. This is almost unheard of in An Family's cooperation project.

Warnia was also a little apprehensive for a while.

The An family offered such a big benefit all at once, and she didn't dare to accept it at all.

Even though Charlie had told her long ago, no matter what conditions Marshal gave her, she could accept them all,

But when she heard Marshal say After finishing these two projects, Warnia was already shocked by An family's handwriting.

She hesitated for a moment, and said to Marshal,

"Mr. An, thank you for valuing the Song Group. Thinking of giving out so much away so many benefits..."

Marshal was afraid that Warnia would not dare to take it, so he quickly said, "Miss Song, don't have any psychological burden."

"After all, An family is a newcomer to Aurous Hill, if we can join forces with a local company like Song's Group, An family can also save a lot of procedures for getting familiar with the local market and mediating local relations."

He said, "In addition, Miss Song doesn't have to give me an answer right now, what I said today is valid for a long time."

Marshal knew very well that behind Warnia was that benefactor, and if he came to her now and gave her a big gift, then she would definitely communicate with that benefactor first to take his opinion.

Although Warnia had Charlie's instruction, she didn't dare to accept all these benefits at this time.

Hearing what Marshal said, she felt a little relieved, so she said, "In this case, Mr. An will allow me to think about it for a while."

"No problem!" Marshal said with a smile, "After I leave, Ms. Song can think about it carefully."

If you think my proposal today is okay, then we can make another appointment, or if Ms. Song is inconvenient. Designate a person in charge to make an appointment with me, and we will meet to discuss specific matters."

"Okay!" Warnia nodded lightly, and said, "I will give Mr. An an answer after I think about it."

Marshal smiled and said, "In this case, I won't waste Miss Song's time any longer. Get busy Miss Song. I'll go back."

Warnia said, "I'll take you out."

Warnia sent Marshal to the door of the office and then asked the assistant to send Marshal downstairs, while she returned to the office and called Charlie.

On the phone, Warnia reported what Marshal just mentioned to him in detail, and after listening to it, he couldn't help laughing and said, "It seems that my uncle is really sincere."

"If Song and An cooperation is implemented, the market value of the Song Group may double or even more in the next year."

Then, Charlie said, "In addition, my uncle's discussion about the idea of development almost coincides with my previous plan. With my current ability, if I want to help Aurous Hill increase its international influence and attract more capital,"

"The best way is indeed the health care and medical care line, if it is operated well, maybe it will take a few years to make Aurous Hill the fifth first-tier city in China."

Speaking of this, Charlie sighed softly, and said, "However, this plan may not go so smoothly, and to advance so quickly, at least I will have to wait for some hidden dangers at hand to be resolved, but this is also an advance plan."

"It's a good opportunity for layout. An family's capital operation is high-level and the layout is also large. Warnia, you will benefit a lot from cooperating with them. Don't miss such a good opportunity."

Warnia said a little nervously, "Master Wade... the conditions offered by your uncle are really too generous. To put it bluntly, these two cooperation projects are completely giving money to the Song Group, and not only the money but also An family's popularity and influence... I do not really deserve it..."

Charlie said with a smile, "Warnia, you don't need to have such a psychological burden. The two conditions that An's family gave you are not simply giving you money;"

"Since they want For the development of Aurous Hill and the establishment of an Asian headquarters in Aurous Hill, it is necessary to spend money on large-scale construction projects."

"Moreover, it is unrealistic for you to ask them to bring a team from the United States to construct such a large project,"

"So he still has to cooperate with local companies. He contributes money and you work hard, and you earn his money, isn't that justified?"

"As for the health care project he mentioned, you don't have to have any psychological burden. The reason why he wants to cooperate with the Song Group is that he wants to get to me via you."

"To put it bluntly, if I don't come up with Rejuvenation Pill, this project will be just talking on paper. If this project wants to make money and make a lot of money, It must have my cooperation, so it is only natural to give up some more benefits."

Warnia was silent for a moment, and still said with some entanglement, "Master Wade... This... Is this appropriate..."

Charlie smiled and said, "It's nothing wrong. Appropriately, Song Group's current market value and profit are not ranked in the top 50 among domestic private enterprises."

"If you want Song Group to stand out from so many private enterprises, this is the best opportunity; "

Paused, Charlie said again, "What's more, you are not only taking advantage of An's family but also helping An's family to build a bridge. Only if you have a good relationship with An's family, can I establish contact with An's family through you in the future, and can without revealing my own identity;"

"Taking a step back, my grandfather has been in poor health. If he is seriously ill one day and needs pills, and it is not convenient for me to come forward, it is most suitable for you to come forward to deliver the medicines for me, so no matter what, you can't refuse An family's offer."

Hearing this, Warnia's entangled heart finally settled down, and she said without thinking, "Okay, Master Wade, then I'll give your uncle a message."

Charlie smiled slightly and said, "There's no need to be so anxious, My uncle is such a smart person, the reason why he didn't ask you to give him an answer immediately is because he knew that you would definitely ask me for advice."

"If you reply to him immediately, then he will only think that you can follow me anytime, anywhere."

"Which will make him feel that we are very close, and even make him feel that I am even in the same time zone as you, so you'd better let him go for two days before replying to him."
