

Ex-Wife 1591

Chapter 1591

No, you can't!" Stefan covered Renee's mouth and said seriously, "Don't even fancy such a thought. If you get sick of me, I'll jump into the sea with you. Well start a new life, then we'll find each other a novelty again."

Their conversation gave Owen goosebumps. He would never have thought that the aloof president of Hunt Enterprise would be so clingy. Stefan behaved like a primary school kid!

Stefan had finally managed to reassure Renee, but suddenly realized there was something they hadn't addressed. "No, my wife's been dispirited lately. She's always tired and sleepy. What's wrong with her then if it's not pregnancy?"

"It's because she's suffering from-' Owen had wanted to tell Stefan the truth, but when he caught sight of Renee's panicked expression, he sighed. "I think it's the aftermath of losing her eyes. Her health got worse, and she suffered some blood loss, which is probably why she's feeling so lazy and dispirited."

"I guess so." Stefan clenched his fists and looked at Renee's eyeless face. Heartbroken, he asked,

"Can she be cured?"

"Yes, but she needs to take good care of her body. It's best to find a pair of suitable eyes for her first.

Then, her body can recover, and she can regain her eyesight again," Owen explained seriously. That was the truth, but he didn't know how long Renee would have to wait to get suitable eyes. He was afraid that she would be on the verge of death by the time they did.

"Okay, understood." Stefan nodded and asked Margaret to help Renee upstairs to rest, then said to

Owen, "Let's have some tea and chat."

Owen gladly accepted Stefan's offer, knowing that he had a lot of doubts and concerns.

Stefan made a pot of tea and poured some for himself and Owen, looking troubled the whole time.

"I feel like you've got something to ask me, but why am I the one feeling nervous?" Owen sipped his tea and teased Stefan.

"Stop joking, this is serious." Stefan frowned and stared at Owen thoughtfully.

"Okay, you have my undivided attention." Owen looked up at Stefan. "What would you like to know?"

"You said that my wife can be cured after she gets a suitable pair of eyes, so..." After a brief pause, Stefan looked firm as he asked, "What about my eyes?" Jovan had given his eyes to Stefan for Renee's sake, but Stefan felt uneasy using them. Since Renee's eyes were compatible with Jovan, Jovan's eyes should be compatible with Renee too.
