

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2641-2650

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2641-“What? Do you have the Sunlit Herb? That’s wonderful!” The Western Boss was overjoyed and burst out laughing.

He knew that the Sunlit Herb was a powerful spiritual herb that contained light energy, which could complement the Rainbow Flower perfectly.

If they used the two together, there was a huge chance that they could both reach the Peak Almighty State.

Instantly, he was thrilled.

“Western Boss, I suppose that means you aren’t upset that I took the Rainbow Flower in secret now, are you?” The Southern Boss smiled confidently as everything was in his control.

“Of course, not. So long as you can get me to the Peak Almighty State, I won’t blame you. I should be thanking you instead.” The Western Boss stopped laughing and suppressed his excitement.

The malicious intent and rage in his eyes vanished completely.

Apart from Mister Orpwood, all other martial artists including him and Caleb If he could get to the Peak Almighty state, he would surpass Caleb and become the strongest martial artist in the Western region.

Soon, the Farmers would be able to control the Morrisons and rule over the western region. Even the Dragon Corps would have to think twice before doing anything to him.

This was his dream for years.

So long as the Southern Boss could get him to the Peak Almighty State, it did not matter that the Southern Boss took the Rainbow Flower.

“Sure. You don’t have to thank me, but I do have a request,” the Southern Boss said.

He offered half the Rainbow Flower and half the Sunlit Herb to get the Western Boss to the Peak Almighty State to thank the Western Boss for taking him in.

However, he was never a kind person and naturally wanted something in return.

“What is it? Go on,” the Western Boss said.

“It’s simple. My son, Rodney, is probably captured by the Thompsons. Once you get to the Peak Almighty State, I want you and your men to go to the southern region with me to rescue my son,” the Southern Boss said.

Using half the Rainbow Flower and half the Sunlit Herb, he would soon reach the Peak Almighty State and it should not be challenging for him to rescue Rodney from the Thompsons.

However, he was currently wanted by the Dragon Corps.

Alfred was in the Peak Almighty State and would likely have the help of the Dragon Guards and the martial artists in the Thompsons.

If he returned to the southern region alone and alerted the Dragon Corps, he might not be able to rescue Rodney safely.

To be safe, he wanted the Western Boss to follow him back to the southern region along with the martial artists who worked for him.

By then, both he and the Western Boss should have reached the Peak Almighty State. Even if the Dragon Corps was alerted, they could not stop him from rescuing Rodney.

This could ensure that his plan carried on smoothly.

On top of that, he could use the Western Boss and the Farmers to destroy the Thompsons and avenge what they did to him, killing two birds with one stone.

Naturally, destroying the Thompsons would require a lot of effort and the Western Boss may not be willing to pay the price. Hence, the Southern Boss did not mention this part of his plan and wanted to wait until the Western Boss followed him to the southern region.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2642-“Well, sure, I promise that I’ll go to the southern region to rescue your son if you get me to the Peak Almighty State!” The Western Boss considered for a moment and agreed.

With their combined strength once they both reached the Peak Almighty State, they could easily rescue Rodney without having to fear the Thompsons or the Dragon Guards.

Hence, there was no way that he would deny such a simple request.

What he did not know was that the Southern Boss intended to use him to destroy the Thompsons, or he would not have agreed so readily.

“Also, I can never forgive Leon. Once my son is rescued, I want you to fight him with me. I want that brat to be torn into pieces,” the Southern Boss said viciously.

Hatred filled his eyes as he mentioned Leon and he desperately wished he could tear Leon apart.

Naturally, rescuing Rodney was more important. Since Leon was far too resourceful and formidable, he intended to rescue Rodney before fighting Leon with the Western Boss’s help.

“The two of us? He is just a brat, so why would that be necessary? Don’t worry.

I’ve already sent three capable men to the hotel to capture Leon. They would return with him. Once I get the recipes for the alchemical pills, you can have your fun with him.” The Western Boss scoffed at the Southern Boss’s second request.

Though he did not know Leon, he assumed that Leon was weak judging from his age, yet the Southern Boss requested that they work together to fight Leon.

On top of that, he requested that this be done after they both reached the Peak Almighty State.

This was so ridiculous that he wondered if the Southern Boss went mad or was simply traumatized by the Thompsons.

“I hope so. I feel the same, though. Leon is far more capable than you imagine. I advise that you be careful!” the Southern Boss said cautiously.

He knew what Leon was capable of and the Potential Energy Forces he wielded had the power of the Semi-Saint State or above.

Still, there was no way that he would tell the Western Boss about the Potential Energy Force, or he would never agree to fight Leon.

Both the Southern Boss and Hades predicted that Leon may not have a second Potential Energy Force, and without it, Leon was hardly a threat.

If the Western Boss could capture Leon, that would be ideal and the Southern Boss would not mind having him do all the work.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2643-He’s just a kid. I’ll inform you once we catch him!” The Western Boss paused and changed the subject. “Southern Boss, you’ve taken a few lives and the Dragon Guards will get involved. This is getting troublesome! Why don’t I find you a place somewhere remote? You can hide there for the time being.

He knew that the Dragon Corps was filled with formidable martial artists and if they found out that the Southern Boss was involved, it was only a matter of time before they guessed that the Western Boss was hiding him.

This would hardly benefit the Farmers.

Hence, he wanted the Southern Boss to hide from the Dragon Corps and prevent him from dragging the Farmers into this mess.

“It’s fine. Western Boss, don’t worry. I didn’t leave any survivor behind when I took the Rainbow Flower so there’s nothing there to trace back to me. As capable as the Dragon Guards may be, they can’t possibly know that I’m the culprit. Rest assured,” the Southern Boss said casually.

He felt that he left no trace behind and even if the Dragon Corps got involved, they would never link the crime to him, so there was no point in hiding.

“Are you sure? I heard from Felton that Jaxon is still alive. You didn’t quite take care of that,” The Western Boss frowned.

“What? Jaxon isn’t dead?” The Southern Boss was shocked.

Jaxon’s chest had taken his life right there and then.

At the time, he was in a rush to find the Rainbow Flower, so he did not check if Jaxon was alive.

To his bewilderment, Jaxon was lucky enough to survive.

This caught him by surprise.

“It’s fine. I was wearing a mask to hide my identity at the time. Even if Jaxon survived, there’s no way for him to know who did it,” The Southern Boss explained.

He only wore the mask to prevent things from going wrong, and reality proved that he was right to do so.

Though Jaxon survived, he had never seen the Southern Boss in the past and could not possibly guess that he was the culprit.

Hence, the Southern Boss was not at all worried.

What he did not know was that Leon had reached an agreement with Jaxon to meet and happened to get involved.

On top of that, it was Leon who saved Jaxon.

Based on the trace of true energy on Jaxon’s wound, Leon had already concluded that the Southern Boss was responsible.

Had the Southern Boss known about this, he would not be able to maintain his composure.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2644-“Well, alright! Since you didn’t leave any trace behind, you don’t have to hide.

Let’s see if there’s any movement from the Dragon Corps!” the Western Boss said thoughtfully.

Though he was worried that the Southern Boss would drag the Farmers into a mess, he could not force the Southern Boss into hiding if he did not wish to do so.

Since the Southern Boss repeatedly claimed that he left no trace behind, it would be challenging for the Dragon Corps to deduce that he was the culprit.

In the worst-case scenario, he could send some people to probe what the Dragon Corps' next movement would be. If they indeed found out that the Southern boss was responsible, they would likely announce it or send the Dragon Guards out to search for the Southern Boss.

It would not be too late to hide the Southern Boss at that point.

“Sure! Western Boss, if that is all, I will go and extract the Rainbow Flower's essence now. Once I'm done, I'll hand half the Rainbow Flower and half the Sunlit Herb to you. We will both ascend to the Peak Almighty state in no time,” the Southern Boss said excitedly.

He wanted desperately to work on the Rainbow Flower so he and the Western Boss could get to the Peak Almighty State as soon as possible.

Naturally, it was challenging for martial artists to get through the barriers of their training.

Before doing so, both he and the Western Boss would need to meditate for days to optimize their physical and spiritual state before they could take the Sunlit Herb and the Rainbow Flower.

That would enhance the effect of their effort and increase the chance of a breakthrough.

“Sure. Go ahead. I'll wait for your good news!” The Western Boss nodded with anticipation.

With that, the Southern Boss left, leaving Felton and the Western Boss alone in the spacious hall.

“Dad, congratulations. Not only have you obtained half the Rainbow Flower without doing much, but the Southern Boss also possesses the Sunlit Herb that can help you get to the next level. Once you get to the Peak Almighty

State, you will surpass Elder Morrison and become the strongest martial artist here in the western region,” Felton said with an excited smile.

“That’s right! The odds are with the Fermers. Once I get to the Peak Almighty State and obtain Cynthion Group, we will soon rule over the western region!”

The Western Boss’s eyes lit up.

The Morrisons were the head of all-powerful families with great influence and power. Under normal circumstances, it would be challenging for the Fermers to surpass the Morrisons.

However, the Southern Boss brought about a chance to get him to the Peak Almighty State.

On top of that, Leon was here to deliver Cynthion Group to the palm of his hands.

This was a once-in-a-lifetime chance for the Fermers.

Considering Cynthion Group’s great potential, the Fermers could easily surpass the Morrisons and rule over the western region once he obtained the recipes for the alchemical pills and got to the Peak Almighty state.

As for whether Leon was willing to hand over the recipes, he was not at all worried.

Leon was just an insignificant young man who came alone. He had no connections or backers in the western region. That made him the perfect victim just waiting to be schemed against.

The Western Boss did not think that Leon could go up against him.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2645-“Dad, speaking of Leon and Cynthion Group. I wonder if Diego and the others managed to capture him. Why haven’t they returned?” Felton asked.

Like the Western Boss, he did not think that Leon could escape them.

It was normal for him to think so as he fought Leon the night before.

Based on the power and explosive power Leon displayed, Leon was merely That level of power was nothing compared to all the formidable martial artists amongst the Farmers.

The Western Boss already sent out three capable martial artists to go after Leon. Diego reached the Almighty State, whereas Enzo and Milo were both in the Semi-Almighty State.

With such a group, Leon could not possibly rival them in strength.

If he was not mistaken, they should have already captured Leon and were on their way back.

That was the only way that things could go.

However, the reality proved him wrong.

Just then, they heard footsteps approaching. Diego, Enzo, and Milo rushed in from outside.

“Western Boss, Mister Farmer.” Diego and the other two bowed respectfully.

“You came just in time. My dad sent you to capture Leon! Um, Hugh. How’d it go?” Felton asked with anticipation.

Though he already learned from the Southern Boss that Hugh was likely Leon, it was merely a speculation.

Since the Southern Boss did not see Hugh in person, he could not be certain.

Therefore, Felton decided to continue calling him Hugh.

“Mister Farmer, we didn’t manage to capture Hugh,” Diego said awkwardly.

“You didn’t capture him? Why not?” The Western Boss and Felton were both taken aback as they did not anticipate that Diego and the others would fail.

“Hugh seems more powerful than we imagine. When we arrived at the hotel, a lot of big shots gathered outside his room, including Elder Morrison and Elder Daglesh. With so many people around, we can’t get any closer and could only return for the time being,” Diego explained and proceeded to describe what he saw.

“What?” The Western Boss and Felton could not quite believe what they were hearing.

Since Leon was just a young man with no connection in the Western region, he did not see Leon as a threat.

To his bewilderment, the situation was not like what he initially imagined.

The insignificant brat he thought Leon was had the elders of various powerful families waiting respectfully outside his room.

This was so surreal that he was utterly stunned.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2646-“Diego, why would Elder Morrison and Dagleth gather outside Hugh’s room?

What are they trying to do?” Snapping out of it, the Western Boss’s expression darkened.

Though he did not know why these people were waiting outside Leon’s room, he knew that these people all rival him in influence and status.

Neither of these people would be willing to wait for him, not to mention wait for a young junior like Leon.

He could not figure out what Leon did and could not accept what happened.

“Well, I’m not sure about that.” Diego, Enzo, and Milo all shook their heads.

“Damn it! How can this happen? Have I underestimated Leon?” The Western Boss recalled the Southern Boss’s warning.

The Southern Boss reminded him multiple times that Leon was formidable, but he paid no mind to it because Leon was far too young.

Judging from the current situation, however, there was far more to Leon if he was worthy enough to keep Caleb and Elder Dagleth waiting.

His expression turned solemn and he realized that he might have underestimated Leon.

“Dad, I got it. I know why Elder Morrison and the others are lining up outside Hugh’s room.” Felton slammed hard on the table as realization dawned on him.

“Why?” The Western Boss turned to look at Felton.

Diego, Milo, and Enzo all turned their attention to Felton as well as they were desperate to find out how someone like Leon had all these big shots waiting for him.

“During Jaxon’s bouquet last night, a lot of the guests saw just how great the alchemical pills were! A lot of them proposed to work with Hugh, but he decided to prioritize the Morrises. If I’m not mistaken, they are all waiting for him because they all waited to be the first to propose a partnership with Cynthion Group,” Felton explained.

“I see!” The Southern Boss and the others came to a realization.

The Western Boss could tell the potential Cynthion Group held and it was normal for Caleb and the others to fight for a chance to work with Hugh for profit.

Upon consideration, it all made sense and he figured out that they were all waiting outside Hugh’s room to be the first to negotiate with Hugh.

That must be all and there could not be any other explanation

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2647-“Here I thought there’s more to that kid. So he’s just acting smug because he represents Cynthion Group.” The Western sighed a breath of relief.

He initially thought that Leon was more capable than he anticipated and thought he needed to reconsider his plan to take over Cynthion Group.

However, upon learning that Leon was not truly that capable, he was relieved.

“Dad, Cynthion Group’s potential exceeds our expectations if it can get all these families to fawn over it. We have to seize control of it no matter what,” Felton said.

“You are right. Cynthion Group is ours by right!” the Western Boss said.

Though he could tell that Cynthion Group had great potential, it surpassed his expectations if so many powerful families were fawning over it.

Instantly, he was more certain than ever that he needed to make Cynthion Group his.

“Sir, what should we do now? Should we go back to the hotel to capture Hugh?”

Diego asked.

He, Milo, and Enzo all thought that Hugh was someone important and were intimidated by it.

Upon learning that Caleb and the others were merely waiting outside Hugh’s room to obtain a chance to work with Cynthion Group, they no longer feared Hugh.

“Of course! Just go to the hotel and wait. Once Elder Morrison and Daglesh leave, you can go ahead and capture Hugh!” the Western Boss said.

He knew that it would be impossible for his subordinates to capture Hugh with Caleb and the others waiting outside.

However, they would all soon leave the hotel and could not possibly stay there forever.

Once they left, Diego and the others should be more than capable of capturing a When Leon was under his control, he could obtain the recipes of the alchemical pills and proceed to rule over the western region.

“Yes, sir!” Diego and the other two said.

With that, they left and headed back to the hotel.

Meanwhile, at the hotel.

It was already afternoon and the crowd outside Leon's room waited for over four hours without any sign of Leon returning.

They were thirsty and staring, so some were getting impatient.

However, considering the potential of a partnership with Cynthion Group, they could only put up with it.

"Damn it. Where's that kid? Is he toying with US?" Jayden ran out of patience and grew displeased with Leon.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2648-"Jayden, can't you be a little more composed and stop fussing?" Caleb shot Jayden a displeased look.

"Dad, I'm just telling the truth. Hugh is just a vice president. Who's he to keep us all waiting here for him?" Jayden paused and turned to the others." Elder Daglesh, Elder Rathbournes, forgive me for being blunt. You're all influential figures. Even if the chairman, Leon, is here, he has no right to keep you all waiting. Hugh's just the vice president, yet you all let go of your pride to wait for him here. Don't you think it's a little foolish?" Jayden said frankly.

"Well," Elder Daglesh and Elder Rathbournes were instantly rendered speechless.

Though they were waiting here voluntarily and Hugh had no part in it, what Jayden said made sense.

Hugh was just the vice president of Cynthion Group and was not the chairman.

He was not qualified to have all these powerful figures waiting here for him.

They realized that this was far too flattering for someone of Hugh's status. After waiting for so long, Hugh was nowhere to be seen and they could not help wavering.

"Mister Morrison, what do you think we should do, then?" Elder Rathbournes asked.

"It's simple. Though the alchemical pills produced by Cynthion Group are indeed powerful, they are just outsiders here with no connections or influence.

If they want to expand into the western region, they would need to work with one of US. If we all fought for a chance to work with him, he would get smug and lower the profit rate to the bare minimum. If that's the case, we might as well all leave. No one should approach Hugh. He will then be left with no choice but to come begging. That way, we can assume a more assertive role and obtain more profit," Jayden said.

"Well, that's true," Those who were already wavering started to cave.

They all lived for profit and that was precisely why they all came to fight for a chance to work with Cynthion Gorup.

If they accepted Jayden's advice and got Hugh to come begging instead, they would certainly be able to obtain more profit.

This was naturally what they all wanted.

"How about this? Let's set the profit division to fifty-fifty. No one should compromise. So long as we all stand by the same condition, Hugh will have no choice but to accept it. Who he chooses to work with in the end will be left for fate to decide," Jayden added.

He and the Morrisons only delayed accepting the partnership with Cynthion Group because the profit division proposed by Hugh was far from ideal.

Though Caleb and the elders already caved to Hugh's proposal, Jayden was still reluctant to accept it. Hence, he tried to convince the others to set a unified condition of an equal division of profit.

He wanted to know if Hugh would have a choice then.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2649-'Fifty-fifty, Huh?' Everyone's eyes widened.

They all knew the potential hidden within Cynthion Group. If they could obtain an equal share of the total profit, they could profit handsomely without doing much.

However, this was a rather harsh condition for Cynthion Group so there was no way that Hugh would accept it.

Still, what Jayden said made sense.

Cynthion Group had no connection in the western region and if they wished to expand, they would have to work with one of them.

So long as everyone proposed the same condition, Cynthion Group would have no choice but to accept it.

“No way! Uncle, fifty-fifty is too harsh. Mister Wolf would never agree to it,” Hugo was shocked and argued.

He knew that Jayden was a selfish person who was constantly trying to obtain more profit from Leon.

On top of that, Caleb and the elders hesitated to confirm the partnership mainly because they were under Jayden’s influence.

Both he and Renee worked so hard to finally convince Caleb and the elders to accept the terms.

Still, Jayden refused to give up and even tried to team up with others to corner Leon.

It was simply too naive of him.

‘Why not? So long as we all offer the same, Hugh will have no choice but to accept unless he and Cynthion Group intend to give up on expanding to the western region.’ Jayden scoffed.

He knew that Hugh came to expand and establish a branch in the western region.

This was the plan for Cynthion Group so there was no way that they would give up so easily.

Hence, he was not at all worried.

‘Yeah, Mister Morrison’s right!’

‘For our benefit, we can all work together and gamble on this.’

Quite a few people agreed along.

They were convinced and wanted to try Jayden's method to adjust the profit division to fifty-fifty.

If they succeeded, they could profit more. If they failed, they had nothing to lose.

But," Hugo wanted to argue but was interrupted by Jayden before he could speak.

'There's no 'but'! It's settled, then. Alright, let's all leave and wait for Hugh to come begging. Then, it's up to luck to see which one of US secure the right to work with Cynthion Group.'" Jayden took the opportunity to conclude.

"Sure!"

'Let's all leave!"

A few people were tired of waiting and agreed with Jayden, so they prepared to leave.

Others, such as Elder Dagleth and Jensen, did not quite agree with Jayden's point of view.

They felt the same as Hugo and thought that it was unrealistic to expect even a division of profit.

However, most of the people were already convinced.

With his status considered, Elder Dagleth could not quite argue with the others.

Since there was no telling when Hugh would return, he could only accept this and decided to return home for now.

However, before they could leave, the situation took a sudden change.

Just then, they heard footsteps approaching and Leon finally returned.

The Ex Husbands Revenge Chapter 2650-Howard and Fletcher returned alongside Leon.

After discussing the matter concerning the Southern Boss with Mister Orpwood, a feast was arranged to welcome Leon.

During the feast, Leon came across a few old friends he met during the mission to eliminate the Poisonwielder. They all thanked him respectfully and they all drank in joy.

Once the feast was over, Mister Orpwood noticed that Leon had quite a few to drink, so he arranged for Fletcher and Howard to escort Leon back to the hotel.

“Alright! My room’s right up ahead. You can both go back,” Leon stopped and said to Fletcher and Howard.

Fletcher and the others all paid their respect by drinking with Leon earlier. Not wanting to be the wet blanket, Leon drank quite a few glasses and still felt slightly tipsy.

“Sure, Mister Wolf. Rest well. Well both leave now. Let’s gather again when we have the chance,” the two of them said with a smile.

Before the two could leave, they turned and noticed a bunch of people hurrying over.

“Huh, why are there so many people?’ Howard and Fletcher froze and showed confused expressions.

As Dragon Guards, they were instantly alerted when they noticed all the people coming over were all dressed splendidly.

“What do you mean?” Leon turned around and spotted the crowd as well.” Elder Morrison, Mister Morrison, it’s you! Why are you here?”

Leon was shocked when he recognized Caleb and the others. However, he never met the others and didn’t know who the rest were.

“It’s not just Elder Morrison. There’s Elder Daglesh, Elder Cades, and Elder Rathbournes as well. They’re all here! What’s going on? Did something big happen?” Contrary to Leon’s reaction, Howard and Fletcher’s jaws dropped.

Being members of the Dragon Corps, they knew all the big shots in the western region, so they instantly recognized everyone and knew that they were all powerful figures.

Each one of them wielded power in the western region, yet they all gathered here.

It was surreal.

Thankfully, they saw their fair share of surprises and were not intimidated by the sight.

“Hugh, you’re back just in time. We are all here to discuss business with Cynthion Group. We’ve been waiting for a long time,” Renee was the first to speak and explained their intentions.
