

Chapter 983 A Break-through

Three days later.

Liam had managed to break through his limits, becoming a fifth-level Primogem Warrior!

With his newfound strength, Liam found himself moving faster.

Feeling pumped, he sought out Shayla to see how his speed measured up against hers.

He was thrilled with the outcome, as he was now almost as fast as Shayla, who was known for her swiftness.

Seeing Liam's improvement, Shayla felt more hopeful about their upcoming battle. She was in high spirits, giving Liam a soft look and teasing him with a smile. "You've gotten really fast, but I hope you can take it easy sometimes. It's all about enjoying the journey, after all!"

Liam shrugged, not taking Shayla's teasing to heart.

Today wasn't just about Liam's breakthrough. It also marked the start of the battle.

Shayla kept the teasing to a minimum. She rounded up the top members of her team and led Liam to the underground battle ring.

After Shayla's team left the Hoffman estate, excitement

Three days later.

Liam had managed to break through his limits, becoming a fifth-level Primogem Warrior!

With his newfound strength, Liam found himself moving faster.

Feeling pumped, he sought out Shayla to see how his speed measured up against hers.

He was thrilled with the outcome, as he was now almost as fast as Shayla, who was known for her swiftness.

Seeing Liam's improvement, Shayla felt more hopeful about their upcoming battle. She was in high spirits, giving Liam a soft look and teasing him with a smile. "You've gotten really fast, but I hope you can take it easy sometimes. It's all about enjoying the journey, after all!"

Liam shrugged, not taking Shayla's teasing to heart.

Today wasn't just about Liam's breakthrough. It also marked the start of the battle.

Shayla kept the teasing to a minimum. She rounded up the top members of her team and led Liam to the underground battle ring.

After Shayla's team left the Hoffman estate, excitement mixed with a bit of anxiety crossed Leandro's face.

His plan was finally about to unfold...

In the underground battle ring.

Shayla guided Liam into the arena and briefed him on the rules for today's showdown.

"The rules are straightforward. Each team will put forward two fighters to take turns challenging the others. The last one standing wins. And the team that the winning fighter belongs to takes home the victory! You and Devin are my champions for today," she said.

After a pause, she continued, "Besides me and Corrin, there's also Dunbar, who's known for being aloof. Another leader, Maureen, hides behind a mask. She's a woman. All of them are fifth-level Primogem Warriors. And the fighters they've chosen are mostly fourth-level Primogem Warriors. Liam, I'm counting on you! I believe you can win!"

Liam nodded, taking in his surroundings.

He quickly spotted a man with an icy expression. That had to be Dunbar.

As for the woman Shayla had mentioned, Maureen, she was wearing tight clothes that accentuated her curvy figure, making her just as striking as Shayla.

After introducing them, Shayla guided Liam to his seat, suggesting he relax before the event started.

However, just before the event was about to kick off, two unexpected visitors showed up.

It was Corrin and Nathan, who had had a clash with Liam three days prior.

Shayla, spotting them, let out a cold huff, clearly displeased. She confronted them, "Why are you here? Get out!"

Corrin, unfazed by Shayla's hostility and with a lewd grin, approached her with Nathan. With a sleazy smile, he said, "Shayla, I'm giving you one more chance. Join my side and be my woman. You'll get a piece of the Primogem that way. If not, I'll have Nathan mess up everything you've planned for today. And as for this guy Liam, I'll make sure he suffers."

Our ads aim to provide better support for authors.

