

An Understated Dominance

Chapter 2462

As long as one was strong, they could participate.

The condition was that they couldn't cause trouble at Sacred Wyrms Summit.

So, even some evil figures had made efforts to select talented disciples to compete against the renowned sects.

As for the outcome, the real test would be seen in the arena.

"Look! The big man from Sacred Wyrms Summit has appeared!" At this moment, a cry sounded.

More than half of the audience stood up.

Dustin looked towards the commotion and saw a middle-aged man in purple robes, holding a whisk, walking over.

The man had a jade-like face, a gentle temperament, and a smile, making him approachable.

Many people felt like they were being bathed in a spring breeze just by looking at him.

Although he did not exude a strong aura, no one dared to underestimate him because he was Sacred Wyrms Summit's new Ancient Sage, Katy Foster! He was also a top expert ranked sixth on the Astonishing World List!

Previously, everyone thought Katy Foster was just the successor of the Ancient Sage and hadn't officially taken up the role.

But today, seeing him in the purple robes, everyone understood.

The old Ancient Sage, Arion Foyer, had officially passed the title to Katy Foster.

From now on, Katy Foster was the true Ancient Sage of Sacred Wyrms Summit!

"I didn't expect Katy Foster to succeed the Ancient Sage without making any noise. Our Celestial Alliance didn't even receive any news," Cassidy thought.

Celestial Alliance had many disciples, and its intelligence network was powerful, second only to the Zenith Society.

Whenever there was a major event, Celestial Alliance would be the first to know.

But Katy Foster's succession had been hidden from Celestial Alliance's intelligence agency.

"We, Celestial Alliance, have never been involved in places like Sacred Wyrms Summit, so it's normal we didn't receive any news," Noemi said.

Although Celestial Alliance was huge, there were three major forces it didn't dare provoke: Aylka, West Lucozia, and Sacred Wyrms Summit.

Celestial Alliance didn't intervene in matters concerning these three major forces.

"It seems Sacred Wyrms Summit wants to use this competition to build momentum for Katy Foster," Fenley said.

Katy Foster's reputation in the martial arts world was not prominent.

He was very low-key.

If it weren't for this competition, many wouldn't have heard of him.

But now, contrary to his usual behavior, Katy Foster appeared in a high-profile manner.

The intention was worth pondering.

Under the crowd's attention, Katy Foster walked out, followed by his junior brother, Orion Foster, and his apprentice, Easton Foster.

In name, Katy Foster and Easton Foster were master and apprentice, but they were actually father and son.

At this time, Warren (the head of Boulderthorn Guild), Moses (the head of Zrizonacloud Sect), Remington (the head of Fassathol Sect), and Grady (the head of Dabaster Sect) stepped forward one by one and saluted respectfully to Katy Foster.

At this moment, the bigwigs from all sides in the audience, along with their disciples, stood up and saluted to show their respect.

Katy Foster was in the limelight.
