

An Understated Dominance

Chapter 2465

Both Glenn and Fenley were among the top talents in the world.

Coupled with the competitive relationship between the Sword Union and Celestial Alliance, the two naturally wanted to compete.

Fenley had a breakthrough in his cultivation before the competition, so he was very eager to fight with Glenn now.

On the other hand, Glenn would not back down in the face of provocation.

But compared to Fenley's fighting spirit, Glenn was more indifferent.

In fact, he, who was at the top of the Legendary List, no longer took his peers seriously.

Except for Dustin, who was on par with Glenn and had been missing for many years, Glenn's current targets were all the people on the Astonishing World List.

Because the Astonishing World List represented the strongest combat power in the world, he needed to defeat one top power after another, climb over one mountain after another, and finally embark on the road to heaven!

As for what kind of scenery was behind him, he never cared and had no intention of looking back.

"Ah~!"

Suddenly, Easton, who was wearing a tattered Taoist robe, stood up and stretched, just about to block the sight of Glenn and Fenley.

Glenn took the lead in retracting his gaze, sat next to Cyrus, and began to close his eyes and rest, no longer paying attention to others.

Fenley also quickly returned to normal.

Since Glenn would come to participate in the competition, the two of them would meet sooner or later, so there was no need to rush.

His goal was to defeat Glenn openly in the finals and win the championship successfully!

By then, not only would his personal honor reach its peak, but the Celestial Alliance would also be proud and no longer questioned.

“Alas... They are all not easy to mess with. I really shouldn’t participate in this competition,” Easton looked at Glenn, then at Fenley, shook his head, and sighed.

Easton didn’t have the heart to compete; he just wanted to live a comfortable life, eating and waiting to die every day.

But the mountain gate forced him to participate, and he couldn’t refuse even if he wanted to.

Moreover, he, who was highly expected, could not fish in troubled waters.

Not to mention the top three, he had to at least enter the top eight to explain to his father, Katy; otherwise, he would be punished after returning.

He only hoped that he would not draw Glenn and Fenley, two tough guys, at the beginning; otherwise, it would be too unlucky.

“Look at the old man! He’s from Celestial Alliance!”

At this time, the crowd became agitated again.

From the southeast, a middle-aged man with white clothes, sword-like eyebrows, star-like eyes, and a handsome appearance walked over leisurely with several old men.

The man in white had a smile on his face and a noble temperament.

While walking, he nodded to some familiar people from time to time, without any airs.

The person who came was Alloy Marshall, the leader of Celestial Alliance.

After that, several elders of Celestial Alliance followed.

Compared to Cyrus’s coldness and seriousness, Alloy was quite the opposite and seemed very approachable.

No matter who he was facing, he would greet them with a smile, without any arrogance at all.