Chapter 1521

“Remy, allow me to consider this.”

Neither did Elisa reject nor accept him immediately—she wanted to think about it.

Remy said understandingly, “I know. You can take your time. I’m not in a rush. Even if you reject me, I’m willing to wait for the day you can accept me.”

Elisa smiled. “I just find it too sudden.”

“I was abrupt,” Remy said apologetically.

He thought that since everyone could already sense his feelings for Elisa, it would not be suitable to keep delaying his confession.

Since Elisa asked about it, he immediately confessed.

He loved her, so he had to let her know his feelings for her.

Not everyone could feel others’ love for them.

Silence fell between them.

After sitting for a while, Elisa stood up and said, “Let’s go back.”

“Okay.”

When they headed out, they chatted and laughed.

However, both of them did not talk much on the way back. It was Elisa who did not wish to speak.

After returning to the Stones’ house, Remy did not linger too long and returned to his villa, which was still under renovation.

Less than five minutes later, Elisa drove out in a sports car.

She was heading to Wiltspoon School.

It was obvious that she was going to look for her two best friends.

Elisa arrived at the bookstore. However, she only saw Jasmine there. Serenity was absent.

“Is Serenity not in?” Elisa asked upon seeing only Jasmine after entering the store.

“She went to Spring Blossoms, but she’ll probably be back soon. Are you looking for her?”

Jasmine was about to blend some pear juice. She asked Elisa, “Do you want some pear juice? I’ll make a glass for you if you want some.”

“I’ll have it. You guys have been giving me plain water every time I come over. It’s tasteless.”

-Jasmine smiled and said, “Plain water is originally tasteless anyway. You should’ve told us if you didn’t like it. We’ll add sugar to the water to make it sweeter and tastier. This is a bookstore. There’s nothing else besides books and stationery.”

Elisa sat in front of the cashier counter. “I didn’t say I hated it. Please give me a glass of juice.”

“Give me a moment.”

Jasmine took another pear out of the refrigerator.

“Elisa, are you looking for Serenity to talk about something? Can you tell me about it? If it’s inconvenient to let me know, I’ll send Serenity a message and ask her to return soon. I think she’ll be back soon. anyway. She said she had to accompany Zachary to a business engagement after the rush hour in the evening.”

After a moment of silence, Elisa said, “It’s nothing big. I just wanted to pour my heart out to you guys. It isn’t a must for Serenity to be here. You’re the same too. You’re my friend and someone who’s experienced.”

When Jasmine heard Elisa brought up her being experienced, she guessed it was a relationship problem.

She came out of the kitchen and asked nosily, “Who confessed to you? I knew it. How could no one like such a nice girl like you? Many men will want to marry you if you wish to get married.”

Elisa laughed. She said, "I'm only a nice girl to you guys. Others say I'm the wild daughter of a rich family. Those madames never considered having me as their daughter-in-law. They think they can't control a daughter-in-law like me "

She would not be suppressed. Her family was strong.

The usual wealthy families truly did not consider having Elisa as a daughter-in-law.

Men of equal social standing to her were married or younger than her. She would never consider dating a younger man.

"That's because they have bad eyes and blindly follow other people's opinions. They believed the rumors without trying to understand you. When Serenity and I first met you, we thought you were an honest, straightforward person."

Jasmine returned to the kitchen to prepare the juice.

"Elisa, you're really great. We're not deceiving you with sweet words just because we're friends."

Elisa entered the kitchen.

She watched as Jasmine blended the juice.

"Can you tell me who confessed to you? Is it Mr. Johnson?" Jasmine asked.

Elisa said, "Did you know about it?"

Did everyone know about Remy's feelings for her?

Jasmine smiled and said, "Mr. Johnson's special treatment for you was too obvious. He spent so much money buying the pre-owned villa next to your house to get closer to you. Do you think he lacks a house? There are many decent villas in Wiltspoon, but he never bought any of them. Instead, he bought that second-hand house. Who did he do it for if not you?"

Elisa said, "So you guys found out after he bought the pre-owned villa. I never thought about other things. at that time. I simply thought it was normal that Remy would buy that villa because even my family wanted it too.

"He wanted to refurbish the villa and sought my opinions about refurbishing plans. I didn't overthink it and mentioned my ideas to him. He took all of my advice."

“That’s a house he bought to get closer to you. It’s not surprising if he wants to live there with you in the future. Naturally, he’ll listen to your suggestions and follow your wishes.”

After a moment of silence, Elisa asked, “Jas, do you think I should accept him? He confessed to me, and I was caught off-guard.”

“There’s no need to be hasty. You can think about it slowly. If you think you’re willing to be with him and spend your remaining life together, you can accept his feelings. But for now, you should thoroughly enjoy the sweetness of being wooed by an outstanding man”

Jasmine was in favor of Elisa and Remy dating. However, she still suggested that Elisa think it through.

In their opinion, Remy was a fine man.

However, no matter how great he was, Remy and Elisa had to have mutual feelings. Even if they advised Elisa to accept him, she would not be happy in the future if she simply thought of him as a friend without harboring romantic feelings.

After giving it some thought, Elisa said, “I think I haven’t fallen in love with him, but I’m happy whenever we’re together. We have many common topics. I used to think Zachary was the best guy, but I realized there were many nice guys out there after knowing Remy.”

Jasmine said, “Zachary is great, but his attention isn’t on you. Remy’s status may not compare to Zachary’s, but he only has eyes for you, and his heart is filled with you. Their family backgrounds are equally excellent. What’s rarer is that both families have a good reputation.

“Elisa, if mutual love can’t be achieved, you should go for the man who loves you. He’ll tolerate and dote on you because he loves you.”

Elisa was deep in thought.

“You don’t have to do anything on purpose. Just go with the flow and interact with each other the way Josh and I did. There won’t be a lot of ups and downs, so it’ll be calm yet blissful. Josh is very romantic. He’ll prepare some romantic surprises for me often. That’s enough.

“Not many people’s romances are dramatic. We don’t have to aim for an over-the-top love but a loving partner.”

Jasmine was done blending the juice. She poured a glass of juice for Elisa. There was still enough for two more. She washed Serenity’s cup and poured it for her too.

Jasmine said, "Serenity will be back in a jiffy. I'll prepare a cup for her too."

"What yummy drink did you prepare for me?"

Serenity's voice rang just after Jasmine spoke.

Elisa said with a grin, "Speak of the devil.

"Jasmine made pear juice. She said she'll make you a cup because she thinks you'll be back soon. You came in just after she spoke. Luckily, we were not talking about you behind your back."

Serenity laughed. "Jasmine must've heard my footsteps."

Jasmine passed the blended juice to the girls.

Serenity held the juice and went to the cashier counter. After putting the juice down, she moved the small dining table she and Jasmine usually used for meals over.

The three of them sat around the table with their glass of juice.

"Seren, did you go to Spring Blossoms to look for Ms. Newman?"

Elisa asked, "How's she now? She's amazing. She managed to sue her stepfather and mother even though she's blind."

"I went to get flowers for Zachary. I didn't see Camryn. She was gone for the entire day. The store employee said she would tell Camryn to call me after she returned. Camryn hasn't been contacting me, and she switched phone numbers."

After taking a sip of juice, Serenity sighed. "It's hard being a sister-in-law."

She only went to look for Camryn because she had promised Callum.

That brat caused trouble and asked her for help.

Elisa said with a smile. "There's no helping it. Who asked Grandma May to have chosen Camryn for Callum? Speaking of which, it's Callum's job to court his wife. Why are you running errands for him?"

“He told Camryn the truth. She started avoiding him, so he came to me for help. I agreed because I thought I only had to persuade her.”

Serenity took another sip of juice.

“Camryn is blind, and she doesn’t have Whatsapp. I can’t contact her through Whatsapp. I couldn’t even find her after her phone number changed. Anyway, why do you have time to come over today, Elisa?”

Elisa immediately blushed.

Serenity was astonished that Elisa could actually blush

“What happened? Your face turned red.”

Serenity went to Elisa’s side right away. She asked nosily, “Do you have someone you like? Who is it? Tell us about him.”

Jasmine said leisurely. “Who else can it be besides Mr. Johnson?”

Serenity said, “Oh, so it’s Remy. That’s great. Remy is nice, and you’re a good match for him, Elisa. However, you’re Aunt Audrey’s only daughter. She won’t be able to bear you marrying someone who lives far away. It’s not just her. Your entire family would hate to part with you too.

“Now that you’ve found out, I won’t keep secrets anymore. Aunt Audrey had personally requested me to ask Zachary to tell Remy that she can’t bear you marrying someone who lives far away and that he should stay away from you.”

Elisa said, “It’s a little far, but transportation is convenient nowadays. It’ll only take two or three hours by plane.

“Moreover, Remy’s working in Wiltspoon long-term. He has a house in Wiltspoon. He also bought the huge villa beside my family’s and became our neighbor. It’s not far at all.”

Serenity and Jasmine exchanged glances and laughed.

Elisa might not have fallen in love with Remy yet, but she was definitely fond of him.

She defended him immediately after it was mentioned that Remy lived too far away and that everyone could not bear with her leaving.

“Why are you guys laughing? I’m not putting in good words for Remy. They’re all facts.”

Elisa pinched Serenity.

“Remy confessed to me, but it wasn’t romantic at all. There were no roses or presents. He simply said he liked me.”

Thinking back, she had made things grand when she confessed to Zachary.

Serenity teased her. “I’ll tell Mr. Johnson to prepare roses and gifts and confess to you again.”

Elisa blushed again.

“Serenity, whose side are you on now?”

“Of course I’m on your side. I’m thinking about you and hoping for your happiness.”

Serenity wished for Elisa’s happiness more than anybody else.

Chapter 1524

As long as Elisa did not get married, Serenity would always feel that she had stolen Elisa’s happiness.

Elisa liked Zachary so much, yet it was Serenity who got married to him.

Therefore, Serenity sincerely hoped Elisa could quickly find her significant other. She would only feel better if Elisa found her happiness.

Elisa had never blamed Serenity. She did not think Serenity had snatched Zachary away from her.

Elisa said she and Zachary were destined to meet but not fated to be together.

It had nothing to do with Serenity.

It was a fact that Zachary did not love her.

Even without Serenity, other women would still appear.

Elisa would rather Serenity than other people.

She had said smugly before that Zachary even had to acknowledge her as his cousin after being with Serenity. She was secretly happy that she could make that arrogant cold man bow down and call her his cousin.

“Seren.”

Elisa held Serenity’s hand.

“Don’t feel guilty for me. You didn’t do me any wrong.”

She knew how Serenity felt.

“I’ll be happy. I won’t compromise on marriage. I’ll get married to a good man so I can enjoy happiness.”

Serenity nodded.

After Elisa drank the glass of juice and poured her heart out to her best friends, she knew what her choice was.

She left in the evening.

Meanwhile, at York Corporation, Zachary exited the office with a huge bouquet once it was time to get off work.

It was the bouquet Serenity gave to him personally in the afternoon.

He was a grown man and did not like flowers, but they were a gift from his wife. He would treasure it even if it were a piece of grass.

After taking the elevator to the first floor, he bumped into Josh, who took another elevator down.

Upon seeing Josh, Zachary hugged the bouquet closer instinctively. He was not afraid of Josh stealing his flowers. He was simply drawing Josh’s attention on purpose with his action.

Josh smiled and said, “Serenity cent it, right? The bouquet is beautiful.”

Zachary maintained his cold and haughty appearance. He said, “Seren gave it to me. I’ll only like the flowers she gives to me. I won’t even spare a glance at flowers given by other people. It’s beautiful, right? I think it looks great too.

“Josh, I remember there’s a flower vase in your office. Where did you buy it? Is there a bigger one?”

“I want to get a bigger one than yours. It can't be helped. The bouquet my wife gave to me is too big. I have no choice but to get a larger vase to fit the bouquet.”

Josh complained about his friend inwardly.

It was nothing more than him receiving a bouquet from his missus, but he acted smugly about it.

Zachary was acting like a teenager and not the CEO of York Corporation.

Ever since he fell in love with Serenity, the steady and calm side of him disappeared.

Josh thought his friend was childish.

However, if Jasmine were to send a bouquet to him, he would also bring it around the company and show off his lovey-dovey relationship.

“Do you still need to buy a vase? You should move one of the antique vases from your house to the office and place it in your office. Then, you can arrange the flowers Serenity gave you in that vase. What a brilliant idea!”

Zachary nodded.

“Your idea isn't bad.”

Chapter 1525

Josh said, “Don't you have a business dinner tonight?”

He changed the topic.

It was to prevent Zachary from talking about the flowers again.

Zachary made it look as if Josh had never received flowers.

“I'm going to pick my wife up She's accompanying me tonight

Josh hummed in acknowledgment

“I'm going to take a break after working for another week

It would be his and Jasmine's wedding soon

Zachary said, "Isn't there still half a month until the wedding day?"

As Josh walked outside with Zachary he said, "Half a month is only two weeks Can't I take a break a week in advance?"

He could not possibly work up till the day of his wedding, right?

Zachary had nothing to say about that

"Mr York, Mr. Bucham."

Everyone greeted them respectfully as they walked out.

"Shall we leave together?"

Josh was walking toward Zachary's car Zachary asked him that question with raised eyebrows

"I have to bring my wife home to have dinner and then visit the house we'll live in after our marriage.

Josh did not intend to live with his parents after the wedding

He wanted to have privacy with Jasmine.

His parents respected his decision.

As long as he was willing to marry and bear children, it would be easy to deal with his parents.

"Which house are you using after the wedding?" Zachary asked casually.

They got into his Rolls-Royce while Josh's Porsche was handed over to one of Zachary's bodyguards to be driven to the bookstore.

"It'll be the villa on the hilltop. The one near your house. Jasmine and Serenity are best friends, so using that villa as our love nest will make it convenient for them to meet up too."

Josh had always followed Zachary's footsteps in buying houses.

Whenever Zachary bought a house, he would also buy one in the same location. He could scrounge free meals whenever he wanted if they lived nearby to each other.

"I thought that if you were changing neighborhoods, I'd refurbish a house near yours for Serenity and me to move into after we get married. Since you chose the villa on the hilltop, I'll remain there I've lived there for almost ten years and have grown attached to it anyway."

Zachary stayed in the villa on the hilltop often. There was no need to renovate it because he had used only the best for everything.

Serenity was not a materialistic person either.

However, Zachary still planned to ask her whether she had anything she wanted to change about the villa.

He could make the changes according to her wishes while there was still time.

Josh said, "You don't have to refurbish your villa again, right? Although you've lived there for almost ten years, you used the best refurbishing design back then. Nothing will be out of style even after another decade.

"Most importantly, the renovation can't be completed in a day or two."

Josh did not renovate his villa either. He rarely lived there, so he just had to decorate it.

Zachary agreed. "I think so too, but I'll still ask for Seren's opinions. I think the house would look presentable after a good decorating."

"Whose house can be considered presentable if yours isn't?"

Josh laughed and said, "Other people's newly renovated houses aren't even as luxurious as yours." Ring, ring...
