Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1711 -Mrs. Lewis wanted to come in but Mr. Lewis held her back and said, "Since Liberty is allowed in, let her deal with it."

The two bodyguards said with a bitter face, "Sir, if we don't go in for a while, Fourth Young Master will settle the score later. "

Mr. Lewis and Mrs. Lewis were the parents of the fourth young master. The fourth young master couldn't do anything to his own parents, but The two bodyguards were just bodyguards.

"You two go in and deal with it."

Mr. Lewis thought about the two bodyguards going in, and he didn't dare to touch Liberty.

He didn't look at Duncan's eagerness to throw Liberty out, he was more anxious than anyone else if someone really tries to do something to Liberty.

All felt bad.

Two bodyguards went in.

Liberty sat in front of the bed, and pretended she couldn't help it while she quietly observed the fourth young master patting the bed.

"Get her out of here, and don't let her in in the future!"

Duncan saw two bodyguards coming in, stopped patting the bed, pointed at Liberty, and asked the bodyguards to throw Liberty out.

Liberty turned to look at the two bodyguards: "If you can knock me out, carry me out, then do it, if you can't knock me out, you go out."

Two bodyguards: "..."

They exchanged glances, deciding not to take the initiative and stun Liberty.

Just kidding, this was the darling of the Fourth Young Master, how dare they knock Liberty unconscious.

Duncan: "Which one of you will do it?"

"He."

“He.”

Both bodyguards pointed at each other.

Liberty laughed and said, “Or, you two can decide with rock, paper, scissors.”

Duncan’s face was dark.

The two bodyguards really used rock-paper-scissors to decide, and the bodyguard who lost in the end had no choice but to step forward, as if he was about to slam Liberty unconsciously.

“You two just hold her up and drag her out.” Before the bodyguard could do anything, Duncan spoke.

“Fourth young master, Ms. Liberty is the elder sister of Ms. Serenity and we really dare not offend her. In case Ms. Serenity says we took advantage of Ms. Liberty, we really can’t wash ourselves off by jumping into the Yellow River.”

The bodyguard said with a bitter face: “Fourth young master, you also know that Mr. Zachary is crazy about his wife, and If Ms. Serenity say that we took advantage of Ms Liberty, then we’ll finish. Young master, since we have served the Lewis family for so many years, please save us.”

Duncan: “...”

To be honest, he actually didn’t want the two bodyguards to touch Liberty.

“Liberty, what exactly do you want? If you want to see me in a mess, you have already seen it, and you can go out.” Duncan changed into a begging, “Please, can you go out? I don’t want to see you!”

The two bodyguards listened to the fourth young master’s words, knowing that they would not be needed here, they backed away quietly little by little. Back and forth, they exited the ward.

There were still only Duncan and Liberty in the ward.

“If you want me to go out, you can drink the tonic soup in the insulated lunch box first, and then I will go out after drinking.”

Since Liberty decided to take care of Duncan and let him treat his legs seriously, she must stick to it. No matter what Duncan said, she always heard it from the left ear and out from the right ear.

As long as Duncan didn't attack her, she won't be afraid. Being scolded a few times by Duncan will not lose a piece of meat.

Duncan stared at her with a dark face.

"I'm not afraid of you staring, the salary that your mom gave me is very high, where can I find such a high-paying job, for the sake of money, you stared me into a wasp's nest, I'm not afraid."

Liberty took the insulated lunch box, opened the lid, and asked him, "Are you drinking it by yourself or shall I feed you?"

"Help me up!" Duncan ordered her with a dark face.

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1712 -"Okay!" Liberty readily agreed.

She got up, put the insulated lunch box back on the bedside counter, and then helped Duncan to sit up.

Duncan was tall and burly, although he had lost a lot of weight, he was still very heavy. He deliberately did not use his own strength, and Liberty would do it all.

The last time Liberty was injured, it took several months to fully recover.

When she was recuperating, she did not do heavy work, and her strength was not as good as before.

It took her a lot of effort to help Duncan up.

Duncan also felt uncomfortable.

Liberty was not strong enough, and it was difficult for Duncan to exert strength because of his leg pain.

At the beginning, Duncan did not use any force on purpose, but later he wanted to sit up quickly, because it was difficult for Liberty to help him sit up, so he quickly cooperated with her.

Mainly, Duncan couldn't bear her closeness.

This was his favorite woman.

Liberty: "Mr. Lewis, will your legs hurt like this?"

Duncan's face was ugly, "Why doesn't it hurt? It hurts even if you move."

Liberty: "I'm sorry, I don't have enough strength to lift you all at once."

Liberty took a few breaths, then pulled up the bedside barrier from the end of the bed, and then propped up the small table for the patient to eat, and then put the insulated lunch box on the small table.

Liberty: "Mr. Lewis, try this soup to see if it suits you."

Duncan said flatly: "I have a spoon, help me find the spoon."

Liberty said oh.

When she was looking for a bowl just now, Liberty saw a spoon. After finding the spoon and cleaning it, she handed the spoon to him.

After tossing for so long, Duncan felt hungry. But he still said with a cold face: "I'm done drinking the soup, you go out right away."

Liberty: "Well, I'll go out. You drink the soup quickly, while it's hot. It won't taste good when it gets cold, and you'll have diarrhea after drinking it."

Liberty urged him to drink the soup quickly.

When Duncan started to drink the soup, Liberty said gently: "Mr. Lewis, we are all concerned about you, not to see you in distress, your injury will recover, the doctor said you can recover as usual, you can't give up on yourself."

Duncan looked up at her, and said coldly: "If you talk again, I won't drink the soup."

Liberty: "Okay, okay, I won't talk, you drink, you drink slowly."

Duncan lowered his head and drank the soup again.

Liberty didn't know if it's because he was too hungry, or the soup she made was delicious.

After Duncan drank a few sips, he couldn't stop and kept drinking until he finished a whole lunch box of bone soup, even the dregs.

"How is it? Is it good?" Liberty asked warmly.

But Duncan said: "You can go out now."

Liberty smiled, took the insulated lunch box, got up, and said to him: "Mr. Lewis, look at me, I'm leaving now."

After finishing speaking, she took the insulated lunch box, and left the ward.

After leaving the ward, she went to the pantry to get some boiling water, and then came back to clean the insulated lunch box in the bathroom.

After washing the lunch box, she entered the ward again.

Putting down the insulated lunch box, he said, "Mr. Lewis, I'm here again."

Duncan: "..."

This woman!

It's just to bully Duncan that he couldn't walk now, and there's nothing he could do with her!

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1713 -Duncan took a deep breath, took another deep breath, and told himself not to be angry.

The woman didn't care if he was angry or not.

He was so angry that he slapped the bed just now, and when he asked her to go out, she could sit in front of his bed calmly and watch him slap the bed.

Duncan was half-dead with anger, but Liberty was calm, and even looked at him like she was watching a monkey show.

Duncan would face it. He didn't want to lose face in front of Liberty like he did just now.

"Liberty." Duncan stared at Liberty with black eyes like torches, his eyes suppressed his feelings for her, and he said coldly: "You have seen me now, and for now, I don't need you, you can leave."

Liberty came over, sat down on the chair in front of the bed, and looked at him with a smile.

After she lost weight, she regained her pre-marriage beauty. Her smile was beautiful and comforting. Duncan suppressed his anger involuntarily.

“Mr. Lewis, are your listening and comprehension skills okay?” Liberty asked him.

Duncan said with a cold face: “I have injuries all over my body, but it didn’t affect my hearing and comprehension.”

Other injuries on his body had improved, except for his severely injured legs, which were still very painful.

“That’s good. I think your listening and comprehension skills are both problematic. I will pay Mrs. Lewis more money. I told your dad as soon as I came in that I was hired by your mother to take care of you. You can treat me as a nurse.”

“Mrs. Lewis gave me a daily salary of 10,000. I work eight hours. I don’t need to go to work at night. I will leave work naturally. I don’t need you to chase me away. If I leave now, I’m afraid Mrs. Lewis will detain me. Therefore, for the sake of my salary, I can only guard you here.

The daily salary of $10,000 a day is more than two or three days of turnover in my breakfast shop. It is very valuable.”

Duncan: “...”

He dared to say that she would not ask for a penny.

However, it was possible that his mother told her to give her $10,000 a day and asked her to take care of him.

“I know you don’t want to see me. You shouldn’t be hungry after drinking so much soup. You can close your eyes and rest. If you close your eyes, even if I dangle in front of you, you can’t see me.”

Duncan: “...”

He only now knew that Liberty’s eloquence was not bad at all.

Her mouth was sharp.

Duncan closed his eyes angrily, he really didn’t want to look at Liberty.

Liberty sat for a while, then got up, went to the family’s bed and lay down.

She had been busy all morning and was also tired.

Before Duncan fell asleep, Liberty fell asleep first.

Duncan opened his eyes and turned his head to look at her. He saw that she was asleep without a quilt. Although the weather was hot, the air conditioner was turned on 24 hours a day in the ward, so it was easy to catch cold when she fell asleep.

Duncan wanted to get out of bed to help Liberty cover a thin quilt, but he couldn't get off the ground and walk.

He touched his legs in frustration.

If he couldn't recover, he would be in a wheelchair for the rest of his life, and he couldn't even cover her with a quilt, how could he give her happiness again?

It's better to stay away while she was not in love with him.

Novel Married at First Sight Chapter 1714 -As long as Duncan treated her indifferently, appeared arrogant and unreasonable, was more violent and capricious, he would definitely make her leave. It could also change his image in her heart.

That way, when she met someone she liked in the future, she could marry the person she liked without any psychological burden.

Thinking of this, Duncan swore secretly that even if Liberty came to take care of him every day, he would have a way to make Liberty not even want a daily salary of $10,000, and stay away from him.

There was no movement in the ward, and Mrs. Lewis gently opened the door to come in to see what happened.

What she saw was his son tilting his head, quietly looking at Liberty who was lying asleep on the family bed.

Mrs. Lewis suddenly felt that it was right for her to invite Liberty to take care of her son.

As long as the son still loved Liberty, and Liberty took action, the son would be able to eat and sleep before doing rehabilitation.

Sensing that someone was coming, Duncan immediately turned his head, saw that it was his mother, he was silent for a moment, and then asked his mother: "Mom, Liberty said, you spent $10,000 a day to ask her to take care of me? "

“Yes, didn’t you say that it was Liberty who caused you to be like this? Since she caused you, let her take care of you until you recover as usual. Mom will also pay the salary of 300,000 a month. I can afford it.”

Duncan choked, and said: “Mom, you’re getting old and can’t bear it anymore, so you can go home and rest, just arrange for someone to take care of me, and you will come to see me every few days, and you don’t have to come every day.”

Seeing his parents with gray and white manes, Duncan felt uncomfortable.

“Duncan, it’s not that Mom and Dad don’t want to take care of you, Mom just thinks Liberty should be responsible for this matter.”

Mrs. Lewis spoke out of conscience.

“This matter has nothing to do with Liberty, it’s my fault.”

Duncan said nasty things in his mouth, blaming Liberty for causing him to have a car accident, it was to force Liberty to leave, to prevent Liberty from seeing him embarrassed and vulnerable look.

But when he heard that his mother had also blamed Liberty, he couldn’t help but speak up for Liberty.

Mrs. Lewis: “You said it was Liberty who caused your car accident. You said that, and you said it several times.”

Duncan was speechless by his mother.

Seeing that Liberty was not covered with a quilt, Mrs. Lewis walked over, picked up the thin quilt, and gently covered Liberty’s body.

Looking at Liberty’s sleeping face, Mrs. Lewis said softly: “Liberty is also very tired. She is in the breakfast business and needs to get up early. Sonny doesn’t live with her now and he goes to Zachary’s house to spend the night because she can’t take care of Sonny.

She has been busy all morning, and she still has to come over to take care of you, even more tired and sleepy. Duncan, if you feel sorry for Liberty, you can rest in peace of mind to recover from your injuries. You have recovered from your injuries, only then can she have a good rest. She is taking money to do things now, she has a sense of responsibility, and she will take care of this matter.”

Liberty refused to take money, but it did not prevent Mrs. Lewis from using this matter to deceive her son.

Besides, Liberty told Duncan the same way, saying that she was doing things with money.

Duncan remained silent.

Mrs. Lewis went to look at the insulated lunch box Liberty brought again, and seeing that it was empty, she turned her head and asked her son, "Have you drank the bone soup that Liberty brought?"

Duncan said angrily, "This woman doesn't keep her promise, I agreed, I drank the soup, and she left, she walked for a while, and came back within ten minutes."

Hearing her son's complaints, Mrs. Lewis wanted to laugh. Liberty was really her son's nemesis.

In the final analysis, it was because his son cared about Liberty that he was willing to drink the soup, otherwise, if he didn't want to drink it, no one would be able to persuade him to drink the soup.

Mrs. Lewis held back her smile, and said, "Liberty did it. She said that after you drank the soup, she would leave, but she didn't say that she was leaving the hospital. Since she walked away for a while, she did what she said. She didn't say she would leave and not come back."

Duncan choked again.

Knowing that his mother and Liberty were of one mind at this moment, it was useless for him to say anything.

Who told him to lie on the bed like a disabled person and couldn't move?
