Married at First Sight Chapter 2056-The person who dared to stun Camryn who was not afraid of death, after his men found out, he would slash the back of the other's neck fiercely, so that they could also taste the feeling of being stunned.

Camryn reached out his hand to grab Callum, but Callum quickly reached out and let her grab it.

After she grabbed his hand, she pulled him closer. She sniffed him, and when she smelled a familiar scent, she relaxed her nerves, and then let go of his hand.

"Camryn?" Callum was puzzled.

Camryn said: "Go back to the car first, are you almost home? Let's talk when we get home."

Callum: "It's almost home, okay, let's talk when we get home, does your neck hurt?"

Camryn: "It's pain."

Callum: "I'll get some medicated oil for you when you go back."

Camryn didn't speak, and got into the car gropingly.

Soon, the car started up again.

Not long after, they returned to the Newman family mansion.

Callum wanted to take his fiancée in, but was rejected by Camryn. In her own home, she didn't need someone to lead the way. She had already known the place where she had lived for more than 20 years.

"Miss, Second Young Master York." The butler came out of the room, saw the two of them, and greeted them respectfully.

Camryn did not respond to the butler's greetings, and walked past the butler calmly.

The butler was accustomed to Camryn's attitude.

They had kept their selfishness towards the oldest lady, and they were not completely loyal to the oldest lady.

The oldest lady didn't change them all, because she knew that they were more loyal to the young master.

If they had a different heart, the oldest lady would have replaced them all long ago.

Furthermore, there are people from the York family in this family now, and it was arranged by the Second Young Master York. The oldest lady believed that the people who were arranged by the Second Young Master York were more important, and the butler's sense of presence was even lower.

After Camryn first entered the room, she went straight upstairs.

Callum followed her silently, and her room was later equipped with sound-proof materials, which had a sound-proof effect.

When Camryn had something important to tell him, she always took him into her new room.

Camryn, who used to be the oldest daughter of the Newman family, was not allowed to live on the second floor, but was forced to share a room with the nanny.

After Mr. and Mrs. Newman and their precious daughter went in, Camryn won the power of the Newman family without making any noise. Of course, she would not wrong herself again.

On the second floor, she chose two rooms with good lighting, opened them up, and turned them into one room, then refurbished and furnished them, and now there was a small study in her room, where she and Callum discussed important matters.

"Would you like some water?" After entering the small study, Callum asked her.

Camryn walked to the desk and sat down, leaning back on the back of the chair so that her neck would not hurt so much.

Camryn: "I'm not thirsty."

Callum poured her a glass of warm water.

Callum: "What the h-e-l-l is going on here? Who are they? You know them? In the future, let the bodyguards follow you all the time, so it will be safer."

Callum thought they were engaged, they were a fiancé couple, and it was a certainty that Camryn was the second mistress of the York family, no one would dare to do anything to Camryn.

He never thought that there were still people who were bold and not afraid of death.

“I came out of your company and walked to the bus stop outside. They parked the car in front of me, and then I heard the sound of steady footsteps and your voice. I said, don’t worry, I will go back alone, but you insisted on taking me back to the store.”

“I?” Callum’s expression turned ugly, “They pretended to be me and tricked you into getting into the car.”
