

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 2081

Married at First Sight Chapter 2081-Kevin caught up with Hayden and reached out to hold her.

Kevin: "Hayden, you can't socialize anymore anyway, and it's too early to take a break. Let's go shopping and ask your bodyguards not to follow. It's too conscious to attract people's stars."

It's normal for two men to go shopping together.

But if Hayden brought the bodyguards with her, she would be easily recognized.

Hayden shook off Kevin's hand vigorously, and said coldly: "Kevin, I'm not free, I don't go shopping, don't follow me anymore!"

Kevin: "If you don't go shopping, then you can accompany me to have supper. I eat alone and I don't have an appetite. Only when you accompany me can I eat well."

Hayden glared at Kevin twice, and was about to walk away, but was held back by him again.

Kevin said something to her in a low voice, but Hayden's face was as dark as thunder, she stared fiercely at Kevin for a long time, and then said angrily: "Go to Greenrest Hotel to eat."

Kevin: "As long as you stay with me, it doesn't matter where you go to eat."

Anyway, since the two hotels were so close, Kevin could come back after eating until midnight.

Kevin so-and-so successfully fell in love with Hayden again.

However, his late-night snack also cost a sky-high price.

Hayden slaughtered his wallet once.

Kevin paid for the meal, and said indifferently: "Eat like this every day, and you can't go to bankruptcy. As long as it can make you earn money, you will be happy. I'm happy to come here every day for supper at sky-high prices."

Hayden: "..."

Kevin: "Hayden, I'm too full now, you can go out for a walk with me to digest the food. It's late at night, and there are a lot fewer people on the street. Even if we go shopping hand in hand, not many people will see us."

It was indeed late at night.

The entertainment journalists squatting down yawned frequently, but they couldn't see Kevin coming out, and they were unwilling to do so, so they insisted on squatting down until Kevin came out.

Hayden: "Kevin, don't push yourself too hard."

Kevin chuckled, "I just like to make progress. I have to make progress. If I don't make any progress, doesn't it mean that I have been standing still."

He wanted to pull Hayden again, but Hayden avoided his hand and said coldly, "Don't touch me."

"Then let's go." Kevin gave up holding her hand. Hayden had a thin skin, and there was a high probability that she had never been held by a man.

Kevin: "If you don't take a walk with me, I won't be able to sleep. I can't guarantee what will happen. It will affect your sleep, so don't blame me."

What Kevin knew best was threats.

Hayden thought of his tricky ideas coming out endlessly, after weighing it, she still followed him silently without letting the bodyguards follow her.

"Don't go through the main entrance, there are many entertainment reporters outside, just waiting to snap a frontal photo of us leaving the hotel."

Hayden stopped Kevin, and she took Kevin through the green passage, which was the secret passage she usually used to avoid admirers.

"Let's take off the suit, so it won't be so conscious." Kevin took off his suit jacket while speaking.

Hayden glanced at him, "Didn't you say that it's late at night and there are fewer people on the road? You're afraid of being conscious."

Kevin: "As far as the looks of the two of us are concerned, even if there is no one on the road, we can still attract ghosts. It's fine to provoke people, but we can't be entangled by ghosts, especially with your good looks, female ghosts love it the most."

Hayden: "Nonsense, there are no ghosts in this world."

Recommended Novels