

Chapter 1144 Visit Tasha

"Don't be ridiculous. That would never happen," Draco said calmly.

Mandy felt that he did not take her, or what she said, seriously.

"I see you won't believe it unless you see evidence. I'll send a photo, and you will see."

Mandy was annoyed that Draco didn't believe her. He put too much trust in Janet.

Mandy sent the photo she took earlier to Draco. She also told him that if he didn't believe her, he should call Janet and ask her about it himself.

Mandy aroused Draco's curiosity. He called Janet straight away.

At Tasha's house, Janet and her colleagues were admiring the newborn baby.

Seeing Draco's caller ID, Janet answered her phone. "Mr. Wesley, what can I do for you?"

"Janet, are you having a party with your colleagues?"

Elizabeth was standing beside her and noticed

Draco's inquisitive tone. She nodded to Janet to urge her to tell him the truth.

Janet was about to speak when another colleague stopped her.

The colleague whispered in her ear, "Please don't tell on us. We didn't ask permission to sneak out during lunch break. He might lecture us later."

The others also became anxious. "Yes, if you tell him the truth, our salary will be deducted."

Under the crowd's gaze, Janet had no choice but to lie. She said awkwardly, "There's no party. I am not with my colleagues. Is there anything else, Mr. Wesley?"

"Well, no." Frowning, Draco hung up.

Noticing that Janet looked worried, Elizabeth took her outside and asked, "What did Mr. Wesley say? You have been looking weird since you hung up the phone."

"He sounded weird. He seems angry." After hesitating for a moment, Janet said, "I should send him a message and explain."

Elizabeth agreed. "I didn't say anything while everyone was there. But I think you are right.

Draco's a reasonable boss. He won't make things difficult for everyone."

Janet sent a message, explaining everything. When she put her phone away again, she heard a gentle voice behind her.

"Here you are. I couldn't find you inside the house."

Tasha wore a loose nightdress and a thick, wool coat. She looked a little plump, but her features were the same as they had been pre-pregnancy.

She was carrying the baby and walked out, smiling.

"Why did you go outside with the baby? It's windy. Come back in."

Janet and Elizabeth smiled at each other, and escorted Tasha inside.

"What secret were you discussing? Tell me!" Tasha pretended to be unhappy. She glanced at the two of them.

"It's just about work. Not a big deal," Janet said, touching the baby's nose. "He's so cute. You weren't in the living room just now, so you didn't see it, but everyone loves him!"
