The Ex-Husband's Revenge Chapter 16

about to ooze out of his face. It looked incredibly scary. His breathing suddenly turned weak and erratic, even his heartbeat started to get irregular, as if it was about to stop. Seeing that, even Iris and Gilbert, who were not versed in medicine, knew that the situation did not look great. "His blood is flowing in the wrong direction! How is this possible?!" Graham's expression changed immensely. He did not even dare to continue his treatment. He knew very well that, if he continued, the blood that was flowing in the wrong direction could very well assault Elder Young's weakened heart, causing Elder Young to die on the spot! "Graham, what's happening..." Gilbert asked in a panic. "I'm sorry, I've done everything I could. I've been a doctor for more than forty years, but I've never seen an illness as strange as Elder Young's. Please forgive me for not being able to help..." Graham sighed. "What? You..." Gilbert was furious. He almost lost himself and berated Graham on the spot. However, he considered Graham's reputation as one of the best doctors in the country. Graham was respected by many, so he swallowed back his words in the end. "Graham, please figure out a way. You have to save my grandfather..." Iris pleaded. "I'm sorry, there is nothing I can do to help..." "You should start getting his affairs in order..." Graham bitterly shook his head. "How did this happen? My grandfather was fine just now..." Iris's face was completely pale. She stumbled and fell to the ground with tears in her eyes. Her mother passed away quite early, and her father was always more focused on Daisy and Daisy's son. Since she was young, the only one who kept her company and cared about her was her grandfather. Her grandfather was the person she was the closest to. Hearing the bad news, it was obvious how sad and helpless she felt. Leon walked forward and helped
