

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 1877

Chapter 1877

“What’s going on, Mister Shaw? Did you guys somehow leave out an important process or additive?” Joel’s expression was dark. Now that the results proved Mister Shaw’s initial hypothesis to be right, the only explanation he could think of was that the research and Development team forgot something crucial!

There was no other possibility to explain this!

“Well, no! That’s impossible! We double and triple–checked everything during the the manufacturing process, and I can guarantee that nothing was left out!” Mister Shaw shook his head. On second thought, he recalled something and added, “However, one of the ingredients is purified water, and there’s a possibility that this might be the crucial mistake.”

With that, Mister Shaw brought over the documents, pointed at one of the formulation processes, and began to briefly explain it to Joel.

During the formulation of their products, Elegante Group added some purified water into the mixture, at first glance, did not appear to be any different from the purified water Hiltons Corporation used!

Even after some detailed investigation, Mister Shaw and the rest of the team agreed unanimously that the purified water was, in fact, just ordinary water!

However, now, on second thought, they could have been wrong!

“Are you saying that the key ingredient lies within the purified water used?” Joel was beginning to understand what Mister Shaw was trying to say.

“Yes, exactly! If our guesses are correct, Elegante Group must’ve added some special nutrients into their purified water. This is probably Elegante Group’s most important secret that changes everything,” Mister Shaw declared. As the director of the entire Research and Development Department, he had plenty of experience in this and had the best judgment!

By now, he could tell that there was nothing extraordinary about the rest of Elegante Group’s manufacturing process. The only thing they could have changed was the type of purified water used!

With over two decades of experience in this field, Mister Shaw was certain that this was none other than the crucial ingredient in Elegante Group’s products!

He was right; this was not ordinary purified water at all, but spirit dew derived from herbs that he had concentrated within the Energy Convergence Circle!

This was the secret recipe to Elegante Group’s products, and there was no way anyone would be able to replicate it even if they were capable of doing so!

“What? I can’t believe it. That bastard tricked us!” Joel was outraged to hear this. He slammed his palm against the tabletop. With a loud creak, the table wobbled on its legs and collapsed in a heap.

With that, the remainder of the newly developed replicas toppled onto the ground, smashing into smithereens!

He thought he successfully stole Elegante Group’s trade secrets and that it would be no time before Hiltons Corporation managed to replicate their success!

However, it turned out that fate played a cruel trick on him!

It was until this moment that he realized that the real secret of Elegante Group’s products was nothing more than the purified water used!

As long as Leon continued to protect this secret recipe as though his life depended on it, no one would be able to get his hands on his trade secret!

It was no wonder Leon allowed everyone to visit his office freely! It turned out that Leon prepared for this all along!

The irony was, Joel was so dumb as to believe that he outsmarted Leon. It turned out that he was the moron instead!

One could only imagine his shock and rage at the realization of this!
