

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2204

Chapter 2204

"Is that so? I wonder what Mister Wolf is capable of!" Zack scoffed.

Like the other Dragon Guards, he did not think a young man like Leon had any quality worthy of such high praise.

"Zack, to tell you the truth, Leon was the one who killed both Asmodeus and the Poisonwielder on his own," Alfred explained calmly.

"What?!" Zack and the others instantly gasped in disbelief.

When Asmodeus and the Poisonwielder were killed, Alfred reported their death to the Dragon Corps in the central region immediately, and their names were instantly removed from the criminal list.

Hence, all members of the Dragon Corps were aware of their deaths with no exception. However, they all thought the two criminals were killed after being hunted by all the Dragon Guards in the southern region and did not expect Leon to accomplish that alone.

It seemed so surreal that they all failed to understand how that could happen.

"Hang on! Mister Glasbey, I heard that the Poisonwielder was taken down by the joint effort of the southern and western regions! How does Mister Wolf here come into the picture?" Zack snapped out of it and asked.

Though he did not know much about Asmodeus, he knew about the Poisonwielder as he once heard from the person in charge of the eastern region of Dragon Corps that the Poisonwielder was extremely formidable considering his ability to wield various poisons.

The western region sought the southern region's help and the Poisonwielder was eventually eliminated, yet Alfred claimed that Leon was the one who killed the Poisonwielder.

Zack felt confused and did not know what to make of the situation.

"Zack, you don't know this, but when I sent out the backup team, Leon was assigned as leader. Though we did combine forces with the Dragon Guards in the western region, Leon ended up killing the Poisonwielder on his own," Alfred explained.

"I see!" Realization dawned on Zack.

Considering how young Leon was, Zack did not believe that it would be possible for Leon to kill the Poisonwielder on his own.

To his knowledge, the Poisonwielder was killed by the Dragon Guards from both the western and southern regions, yet Alfred credited the success to Leon, which led Zack to believe that Leon might be friends with someone important in the organization. Hence, Alfred credited all the accomplishments of the elimination of Asmodeus and the Poisonwielder to Leon.

'It's no wonder that this kid managed to become a Platinum Dragon Guard at his age. I guess there's more to the story!' He thought.

The other martial artists from the eastern region felt the same and all mistook Leon for a shameless man who took credit for others' success.

Instantly, they all turned to look at Leon with contemptuous looks on their faces
