The Ex-Husband's Revenge Chapter 56

Jenson felt as if he was struck by a bolt from the blue."

"That can't be! How could you say that you can't do anything when you predicted in advance that my grandfather was going to vomit blood!"

"If you asked me to treat him at the beginning, I can say for certain that I'm confident of curing his illness. But now that there's so many other factors at play, his condition has worsened and I don't have a similar level of confidence," Leon lamented. He said it not because he wanted the old man to die, but because he genuinely did not feel confident in turning the situation around.

Jenson was thunderstruck by what he heard, and his heart was filled with so much regret that he wanted to just slap himself a couple of times.

He knew that time was of the essence when it came to saving a person's life, and such a golden opportunity would not present itself anymore once the best chance passed!

Everything turned out the way it did because he distrusted Leon's medical skills at the beginning and allowed Hilmar to provide the incorrect treatment. As a result, his grandfather's condition worsened and he missed the best chance at saving the old man.

If something did happen to his grandfather, then the biggest responsibility fell on Jenson, for one could almost say that he killed his grandfather himself!

It was a pity that his realization came too late!

"Sir, I'm sorry for questioning your medical skills earlier. I shouldn't have done that. I'd like to sincerely apologize to you for that... I'm sure you'll have a way with the kind of medical skills you have, so I'm begging you! Please think of a way! I'm willing to pay you no matter how high your price is!"
