The Ex-Husband's Revenge Chapter 701

"Enough, Walter! You've sent your men to attack Leon and injured both him and Snow at the same time. They both came close to dying and we came today to seek justice for them!" Benedict said. A powerful aura oozed off of his body at the same time to block Walter's force.

"What are you talking about? How do we have anything to do with that? You keep saying that we attacked Leon, but do you have any proof?" Walter questioned sharply.

"According to what we found, Morgan, Daniel and Johnny Fields attacked Leon and they were all injured by him! If you are saying that the Fields have nothing to do with this, call those three out here right now! If there's not a scratch on them at all, we will leave right away!" Benedict sneered.

Benedict was asking Morgan and the other two

I'm just telling the truth! You barged in here with no reason and injured our men. If you fail to explain yourself, none of you are leaving this property unscathed!" Walter snorted and waved his hand. Instantly, the members of the Fields surrounded Benedict, Vincent and the Vincent's true energy swarmed toward Theodore.

Unable to withstand the force that darted toward him, Theodore paled and spat blood, before collapsing onto the ground with no power to defend himself.

"How dare you?" The others did not expect Vincent to leap into action without warning and all started to roar in rage.

One of the martial artists in the Semi Overlord State among the Fields stepped forward and charged toward Vincent's back in hope to force Vincent into letting Theodore go when he defended himself.

"Know your place!" Vincent snorted and launched a punch against the attacker.

“Vincent Poole, get over yourself. Do you really think that we are scared of you?! I'll give you one last chance to release Theodore and I can pretend that this never happened! If you refuse, we are going to destroy every last Poole after this!” Walter threatened coldly.

The Kings' armies were far less powerful compared to the forces behind the Four Major Families, and the Fields could defeat the Pooles if they were determined to do so.

“Don't bother trying to intimidate me, Elder Field. I'm not so easily scared! The Pooles might not be as powerful as the Fields, but if you dare to do anything against us, we'll destroy you even if it means our demise!” Vincent swore.

Fields were capable of destroying him, he would not go down alone. Most importantly, all forces

Under the Dragon Corps' control, the Fields might not dare to actually murder Vincent and Benedict, they could capture them and destroy their powers. That way, they would not alert the Dragon Corps and could weaken the Shears at the same time.

"Quit bluffing, Denzel! If war is what you want, we'll aim to kill today until the very last moment! I'm old, anyway. It's a fair deal to trade our lives for the lives of your descendants!" Benedict sneered.

There were only two Overlords among the Fields and they would not be able to restrain both Vincent and Benedict at the same time.

Though their overall power was incomparable to that of the Fields, Benedict and Vincent could avoid Denzel and Walter, all the while focusing on attacking the Fields second and third generation descendants.

"Also, a fair warning. Try harming Leon again, and it won't end that well for you the next time! Southern King, let's go!" Benedict said, before calling out to Vincent and turning to leave with the others.

"Damn it!" Walter was furious as Benedict and the others left. However, Theodore was held hostage and the Cynthia utilized the Shears’ connection to look into the martial artists’ background and selected six out of all applicants in the end. Along with Spencer and Stephen, there were a total of eight martial artists and Leon successfully built the foundation for his army.

Theodore was the future leader of the Fields and Walter could not allow anything to happen to him. In the end, he was forced to compensate Leon and Snow 65 million. In return, Benedict and Vincent released Theodore as promised.

After witnessing Leon's capability and seeing how he rescued Janice before, Leanne longed to have Leon as her son-in-

"Mom, stop it. I'm not going out with Leon," Janice blushed and said.

"Janice, don't blame me for being nosy, but a man like Leon is a rare gem and you have to catch him while you can, or you won't find another man as great!" Leanne deadpanned.

"Yeah. I know. I'll try my best," Janice said sheepishly.

"What? Are you willing to try?" Janice was shocked and could not believe what she heard for a moment.

"I don't think that's appropriate." Janice was taken by shock.

"It's fine. Just tell him to stay quiet once the client arrives," Ava said casually.

There was another reason behind her approval in letting Leon into the meeting room with them. According to what Ava knew, the person they were about to meet had a reputation of harassing females. If Leon came into the room with them, it might stop the client from doing anything inappropriate.

"Sure. Thank you, Miss Addice." Janice was overjoyed. She did not want Leon to wait alone outside and what Ava said helped resolve that perfectly.

The three entered a luxurious private room in the hotel, where they took their seats to wait for the client.
