

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2300

Chapter 2300

"Mister Wolf, what should we do now?" Angus asked, appearing somewhat troubled.

Both he and Leon already deduced that Rodney was likely the culprit behind Yonas' murder. However, it was not an easy task to gather evidence for what to do next.

"We need evidence to punish the culprit," Leon replied, contemplating for a moment. "Currently, Fiona is the key. Our immediate priority should be to find her as soon as possible. Once we locate her, everything can be resolved."

Given that Fiona was the only person with knowledge of the crime scene and a witness, if they managed to apprehend her, Leon and Angus had the means to extract the truth from her.

With Fiona's testimony, Leon's name would be cleared and Arthur could also retaliate against the Southern Boss and seek justice.

It would be a win-win situation.

"Well, alright, I'll arrange for people to find Fiona!" Angus nodded. "I'll leave no stone unturned and find her!"

Although Yuri was not able to uncover Fiona's identity and background, both he and Leon guessed she was connected to Rodney.

Moreover, Fiona was most likely a member of the Spears or affiliated with their peripheral forces. This immediately narrowed down the scope of Leon's search and if they were fortunate, they might catch Fiona in sooner.

"I'm afraid that won't work," Yuri disagreed, shaking his head. "Rodney's plan this time is meticulous, nearly flawless. He definitely wouldn't leave behind Fiona for us to capture. If things go as expected, he has either already silenced her or sent her away from the Southern region and hid her somewhere. Even if we put in our best efforts to search, it would likely be a fruitless waste of energy. The hope of finding Fiona is extremely slim."

Leon listened but maintained a serious expression. "Yes, I know that. I've also considered that. With Rodney's cunning and scheming nature, he certainly wouldn't let us find Fiona. However, no matter how faint the hope may be, we must try. It's better than sitting idly and waiting for our demise."

"Well, that makes sense," Yuri said hesitantly.

At the moment, Fiona was their only hope and if they wanted to find any lead, they would have to find Fiona first.

Even if it seemed impossible to find her, they must try instead of sitting on their thumbs.

"In any case, we need to do something! Let's try our best to look for Fiona. If we can locate or capture her, that's great; but if we can't find her, I can only risk everything and fight fire with fire to make the Southern Boss pay," Leon said with a determined look on his face.

"Fight fire with fire? What does that mean?"

Angus and Yuri shot each other a confused look.