Married at First Sight Chapter 2432-“I just finished eating. Let’s go for a little walk. Today there is no sun, and there is some wind. The cool breeze blows as you walk through the yard, and you enjoy in the scenery. It is extremely comfortable. It’s fine if we walk slowly, and it’s not a circle around the villa or a walk around the neighborhood.” Grandma May said.

Grandma May insisted, and Serenity accompanied her out for a stroll.

“Are you still throwing up today?” Grandma May asked with concern.

Serenity was about to vomit, but remembering that she didn’t vomit when she woke up this morning, she suddenly said pleasantly: “Grandma, it seems that I didn’t. I didn’t vomit when I woke up today.”

She changed her clothes, washed up and left the bathroom, and took Sonny go downstairs to eat breakfast, did she forget to vomit after running around, or was her suffering and vomiting days over?

Grandma May smiled and said, “It will get better gradually. From this point of view, you can rest assured that you won’t vomit like Alice.”

Everyone was really worried that Serenity would vomit until she died.

Grandma May: “Alice is a caring mother. She knows that I am tired, so she won’t torment me.”

Serenity: “My cousin Clive is very hard. Alice’s due date is coming soon. She said that after giving birth, there would be no more children. My cousin also won’t let her have another child.”

Alice liked children very much, but the pregnancy was really hard, she vomited uncomfortably, and Clive whispers in her ear every day, only one child, regardless of children, only one child fetal.

She also accepted the reality, thinking that the only child was very good, the child could get all the love of the parents, and there was no need to worry about the younger siblings dividing up the love of the parents.

“If you hadn’t gotten angry at the beginning, Zachary would have been like your cousin.” Grandma May smiled, “You two finally got married, and I’m completely relieved of your marriage. For more than a year, I always worried that the two of you will have conflicts, cold war or something.”

Although the other grandsons' chasing wives could not be said to be smooth, they did not have as many troubles as Zachary and Serenity.

And with Zachary as a negative example for the younger brothers, no one dared to hide their identities and lie to their significant other. Relatively speaking, there were less contradictions than Zachary and his pair.

“Grandma, thank you! It is you who gave me a stable and happy life.” Serenity sincerely thanked Grandma May.

Serenity didn't know it before, but she knew it later. The fact that she saved Grandma May was deliberately done by Grandma May to match her and Zachary.

And the breakdown of her sister's marriage had fueled the flames. Grandma May was thanking Hank for cheating behind her back. If Hank hadn't cheated and hated Liberty, Serenity would not have agreed to marry Zachary.

Serenity: “It's grandma who is right to thank you. You softened Zachary and allowed Zachary to have a small family. In the future, those of us who are elders will still have you and your children. We who are elders, even if you die, you can rest in peace. Grandma, you will live a long life.”

Grandma May smiled, “Everyone says that I can live a long life, and how many people can really live a long life? I am mortal, so it's not difficult to calmly face the reality that I'm getting old and I'm going to die too.

As long as I can see that they're all getting married, they'll be satisfied and have a family and children. I have to hold your great-granddaughter so I won't leave any regrets.”

When it came to the question of the great-granddaughter, Serenity touched her belly and said to the old lady: “Grandma, I feel that this child in my stomach is a son. You always want to hug great-granddaughter, you may have to count on Camryn or Hayden.”

Grandma said: “I don't favor girls over boys, but they have no daughters in the York family for several generations. I looked forward to daughters when I was young, but in the end I was all in charge. Now that I'm a grandma, I look forward to my granddaughter, and they are always in charge, so I'm a little obsessed, a little crazy.

Seren, don't be pressured. It's good for me to hold a great-granddaughter, but if there is really no chance, just accept fate. Life is not perfect."

God gave her a happy marriage and filial sons and grandchildren, but God didn't want to give her a daughter and granddaughter, leaving her with regrets.
