

Mistaken Marriage, Unexpected Love

Chapter 127

Chapter 127 We Are A Couple

"No, he's sleeping now. I gave him some milk," Laura said, more worried about

Camila now. She had seen the look on Robin's face, and judging from Camila's countenance right now, the discussion must not have gone well Camila nodded and said, "Okay. We should leave this place first."

"Where are we going?" Laura asked

Camila paused. She didn't know either

All she knew was that she had to leave with Joe right now

Laura just nodded and asked, "Mila, are you really okay?"

It was obvious that her friend wasn't okay at all

"I didn't think things through, Laura. I've gone about things the wrong way," Camila murmured in a pained voice.

Robin had made her see things more clearly. @

She had let her love cloud her judgement

How could she be so reckless? Joe was that one insurmountable gap that she and Isaac couldn't cross.

Isaac had a complicated family background. A child with a different surname couldn't fit into his family

No! She couldn't let her son suffer

If she stayed with Joe here, he wouldn't have a happy childhood

"What are you talking about, Mila? What did you do?"

Laura asked

"I shouldn't have brought Joe here. Robin didn't lash out at me today just out of respect for my deceased grandfather.

If not, I'm very sure that he would have thrown both my son and me out instantly."

It was her fault

Robin was right

Laura sighed after hearing this. She didn't know how to comfort Camila. She reached out and gently patted her friend on the shoulder

"I'm fine. Don't worry," Camila said and took a deep breath. She had brought this upon herself. She couldn't blame Robin for making those requests to her

If only she had thought things through thoroughly and considered every scenario

They left the villa and found a good hotel to stay at Laura helped Camila with her things until she was all settled in. Then, she looked at Camila and said, "You can't always move around like that. You should think of settling down."

Camila was an adult, so it wasn't really a problem for her to move around without having a fixed place. But she had Joe now. He was too young to always be on the move this way

"You're right. Once my father's funeral is settled, I will buy a house for me, my mother and Joe to live in." Camila sat at the edge of the bed and stared at the little bundle of cuteness. "I have Joe. There's no need looking for love elsewhere."

"Oh don't be silly. You can have love even after giving birth to a child," Laura comforted her friend. She realized that Camila had become too pessimistic

She sat next to Camila and held her hand gently. "I was worried about it at the beginning and let you hide the child from the Johnston family because they aren't the average normal family."

Laura was disliked by Forrest's big family too, so she could understand what Camila would have to face

Just thinking of her own situation got her really sad

"But your case is much better than mine. Forrest really loves you." Laura was not alone

But Camila felt alone

She took a deep breath and decided not to think about it anymore. She had to focus on burying Marvin successfully

"Laura, can you take care of Joe for a couple of days?"

"Sure," Laura answered readily. "Don't worry. I will take good care of him." Camila knew her that she could trust Joe with Laura. She was her best friend after all

"A lot of things are happening at once. You need to take care of yourself," Laura said

Camila nodded determinedly. She would cheer up and stay strong for her son

"I'm afraid that my mother will suffer in the Haynes family. I have to go there and stand with her," Camila explained

Laura agreed and told her to go ahead

After that, Camila left the hotel and went straight to the Haynes family house

As soon as Camila entered the room, she saw Trudy flaunting her superiority in front of Rowena

"You are despised and rejected. How dare you preside over Marvin's funeral? I'm Mrs. Haynes and should be the one presiding over it!"

In the past, Rowena always stayed silent and swallowed her anger whenever they talked down on her, but not anymore

"But you're not. I'm still married to Marvin, and as such, I am the Mrs. Haynes," she said calmly, but her words were powerful enough to shut

Trudy

Trudy had always hated the fact that she wasn't Marvin's legitimate wife

Hearing those words from Rowena annoyed her to no end. She was also angry that Aldrin was injured. All these bubbled up and she was about to slap Rowena, but Camila held her hand

"My father just died. Should you really be acting like a shrew at a time like this?" Trudy's eyes almost popped out of their sockets. "This is crazy! None of you took care of him when he was sick, and now that he is dead, you're all here! Are you here for the property? Listen, everything the Haynes family owns will go to my son, Aldrin."

Then she looked at Camila sharply and said, "As for you, you dared to hurt my son! I won't let it go so easily."

Camila just clicked her tongue indifferently and threw Trudy's hand away

"Just stop making a scene for nothing."

They could settle all of that after the funeral

Trudy held back her anger and let it go for now. She knew that she couldn't actually defeat Camila and Rowena now. This thought made her think of her son. If only Aldrin were here, she wouldn't have been scared to confront Rowena and her hateful daughter

Rowena didn't want to bring herself to the same low level as Trudy. She pulled her daughter aside and asked, "What are you doing here?"

"What about Joe?" "Laura is with him, mom. Don't..."

"Mila..." Rowena interrupted her before she could finish

"What's wrong, mom?" Camila looked at her in confusion

She followed Rowena's gaze and saw Isaac coming towards them

She looked at him in surprise. "What are you doing here?"

"I came to see you," he answered as though it was obvious

Rowena patted her daughter's hand and said, "It's okay. I'm here. You can go and talk to him."

Camila nodded and was about to meet Isaac halfway, but he came to them instead. "Please let me know if you need my help."

He seemed to be talking both to Camila and Rowena

Rowena knew that her daughter and Isaac didn't marry out of love. Also, Camila gave birth to his child secretly. So, it was obvious that they didn't have a good marriage

She was his mother-in-law, but just on the papers
She didn't want to cause any trouble for her daughter
So she gave the man a curt nod and walked away

Camila took Isaac aside and asked again, "Why did you come here?"

Isaac found that her question was strange. He quirked an eyebrow and answered, "We are a couple. Your father has passed away and I'm your husband. I have to be here."

The words "couple" and "husband" triggered Camila's sadness again. Her nose twitched like it did whenever she was sad

"Don't be sad," Isaac said and held her in his arms. He thought she was sad because of her father's death. "I will take good care of you, okay?"

Camila closed her eyes for a brief moment and let herself enjoy it

Three days later, the funeral was over

Marvin's lawyer called all the members of the Haynes family together. They were all seated in the living room Aldrin's head was still wrapped with gauze. The wound on his head wasn't completely healed

He looked uninterested by what the lawyer was going to say

After losing his dad, he seemed to have lost interest in everything

"Mr. Haynes wrote a will after he found out he was sick..."

"He decided to give all the property to Aldrin?" Trudy interrupted

The lawyer replied calmly, "I have the will here. There's no need to hurry."

Then, he took out the document
