

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 241 Keep An Eye On Felix

Sarah got into a car accident. Even though Jasmine called her lawyer, she had also gone through many investigations and evidence, but because Felix was biting her so hard that he was drunk, Jasmine's lawyer did not find anything.

Even Christian's comrade, the director of the City S's public office, checked Felix's phone number. He also did not find a place where Felix had communicated with Vivian.

In addition, this car accident happened at a crossroad, so there was also a line of suspects that Felix had crashed into a car intentionally. In the end, it could only be used as a drunken driving story.

Because of Felix's driving drunk and crashed into Sarah, Felix was completely responsible for it. Jasmine let the lawyer compile all the compensation in various aspects and finally submitted a compensation form to the court. It was a total of 1.8 million. The final judgment of the court was 1.6 million.

After the verdict, Felix let his brother take the judgment letter and find Lucas. Although Lucas and Vivian felt sorry for the 1.6 million, in the end, they were still afraid that this matter would be exposed. So another 700,000 was given to Felix.

The remaining 600,000 was the compensation and the extra 100,000 was Felix's compensation.

Luckily, Vivian got two million from Julian in one go, so this seven hundred thousand was not a problem for her.

However, the judgment was the judgment, and Felix had no ability to pay it back. The court closed Felix's account before the judgment, but his account only had a few thousand dollars in savings. His car had been scrapped in this car accident, and the most valuable one was. . . Felix's only old house.

Therefore, although Sarah seemed to have received 1.6 million in compensation for this accident, the real thing was that. . . It was just a few thousand yuan.

Jasmine got angry when she got this news and could not swallow this anger no matter what.

Knowing that her personal lawyer, Denis Cannon, was very familiar with Private Detective, Jasmine called him to her office.

"Lawyer Cannon, help me find the best Private Detective, and ask him to keep an eye on this Felix for me. As long as he has money, inform me immediately!"

"Okay! No problem. But for how long?"

"One year! When I saw the shifty look on that person's face, I felt that there must be something wrong with him. I don't believe that after staring at him for one year, he will give himself away."

"But Vice President, what makes you think that there is something wrong with him?"

"Intuition! Think about a person who often crash into cars and cheat insurance. He must have known about bank accounts long ago."

"Your intuition is correct. These people were also afraid that they would poke a hole in the bank before they swindled the guarantors, so they saved very little money in their accounts. Vice President, I'll go and find someone right away!"

"Okay!"

After hearing that Sarah only got a few thousand yuan from the car accident, Vivian was so angry that her lungs almost exploded. She never would have thought that, she had thrown 1.6 million yuan to Felix for nothing, but he actually did not take out a single cent.

When she thought about how Felix had gotten 1.6 million for nothing, she was so angry her teeth are itchy. She felt that she had been fooled by that Felix. No matter what, Vivian wouldn't be able to swallow this anger.

She asked the driver at home to send her back to her mother's house. In order to make it convenient for her to meet Lucas, she did not bring Ruby along this time.

After having dinner at home, she wrapped herself tightly and went to Lucas's house. Once she walked into the living room, she angrily walked to the sofa in the living room and sat down.

"I'm so angry! Lucas, call that Felix immediately. We should be able to get that 1.6 million no matter what. How can he keep it all to himself?" Vivian thought of so much money and was so angry that she kept gasping for air.

"This matter is indeed quite infuriating, but Vivian, I think we should not provoke this person anymore. He used to specialize in scamming money. Now that so much money is in his hands, how could he spit it out again?" Lucas did not have much confidence in getting the money back.

"Why are you so cowardly? You haven't even called, how do you know he won't give you a single cent? That's 1.6 million! It was enough for him to spend the rest of his life. No way! I can't take this lying down! Call him immediately!" Vivian became even angrier when she heard Lucas's words.

"Okay, okay, okay! I'll call! I'll call! Vivian, don't be angry. Don't hurt our child!"

Seeing Vivian's furious look, Lucas immediately compromised and took out his phone. He called Felix.

But as soon as his phone rang, a cold and emotionless voice came from the other end. Hello! The number you have dialed has been turned off!

Lucas looked at Vivian's bitter face and replied, "Vivian, he has turned it off!"

"You see, he is guilty! He knows that we definitely cannot swallow this anger! That's why he's playing this game with us!" Vivian was so angry that her body started to tremble.

Lucas saw her excited look and immediately comforted her, "Vivian, don't be so angry! Didn't that Julian give you two million? We don't lack money now. If you give him 1.7 million, then just take it as spending money to buy a lesson. You can't solve any problem with being so angry?"

"You sure know how to behave! 1.7 million is fine! Do you know how I got that 1 million from Julian before? I finally managed to save one million, and I even gave him my mother's money. You're telling me this now?" When Vivian heard his words, she became even angrier.

"But he's currently shut down. We can't find him. What else can you do? Besides, Even if you really find him, he will not pay you back. What else can we do? If he uses this matter to threaten us, then both of us will have to go to jail! Think about it. Is that one million more important or us more important? "

"But we just gave him the money like that. I really can't take this lying down!"

"That Jasmine Wilson was originally not someone to be trifled with. You see, Felix might be living a carefree life now. Maybe Jasmine has been staring at him. This time, we will just treat it as a silent loss. Anyway, we have nothing to do now. This is the most important thing. Don't you agree?"

Vivian heard his words and sighed heavily. In fact, she also understood what he said in her heart. However, she was still somewhat unwilling to give up.

She gritted her teeth and said, "That Felix must not fall into my hands again. Otherwise, I will not let him have a good time!"

"Right, right, right! If he provokes us again, I will definitely not let him off! But Vivian, The most important thing for you now is not to find trouble with Felix. Last time, you told Julian and that mother-in-law of yours that, the one in your womb is a son, and the most important thing for us right now is this matter. Don't you agree?"

"I asked you to go to a nearby hospital to look for a pregnant woman who's in the same condition as me. Have you found her?" Vivian heard his words and immediately looked at him to ask.

"Yes, I have. There are some who are similar to you. Vivian, wait a moment!" Lucas got up and quickly walked into his bedroom. After a while, he came out with a small notebook. He sat next to Vivian again and opened it for her to see.

"I found more than a dozen pregnant women. Look. These are all their home address and names, and they are all pregnant at the same time as you. They are all six months old."

"Are they all checking in Municipal Hospital?"

"Yes! All of them!"

Vivian looked at the names on the small notebook and finally had a smile on her face. "That's great. Then we can be saved."

"But Vivian, even if these people are pregnant, the most important thing is that we need to know whether they are carrying a boy or a girl. What should we do?"

"This matter is not easy to handle? You just need to give me this small notebook. I have my own ways."

"You're not going to find these people yourself, are you?"

Vivian smiled. "Don't you know that money makes the devil push the mill? As long as you take out the money, there will definitely be someone who will help me with this matter."

"Then you have to be careful. . ."

"Don't worry! I know what to do!"

Lucas saw that she was finally in a much better mood, so he smiled apologetically and asked her, "Vivian, are you going back tonight?"

"The driver is already home, how can I go back? Oh right, how have you been with Julian during this period of time? Does he trust you very much? "

"Yes, he treats me quite well now, but he still doesn't trust me very much. After all, I haven't been with him for long."

"Yeah, you're right! Anyway, when you're by his side, you should be more careful. Don't always be thoughtless, understand?"

"Okay, Vivian, don't worry! Oh right. If you don't go back tonight, aren't you worried that something will happen between Julian and your cousin?"

"Hmph, with Julian's cheating personality, how could he be calm? But he has already given us two million for that matter, so I will let him have a taste of it no matter what. . ."

"Vivian, you are too smart!"

"Who I am!"

Julian did not expect Vivian to go back to her mother's house tonight and not come back. When he heard the news during dinner, he was a little excited.

He thought about how he slept alone tonight while Kendall slept next door, which made people drool with desire, and his heart couldn't help but ripple.

Julian was supposed to be the CEO of a company, so what kind of woman he could not get? As long as he hooked his finger, there would definitely be a large group of women who would take the initiative to fall in love with him.

However, ever since Sarah married Christian, he had a special affection for Sarah. All he cared about was her shadow. He was not interested in other women at all.

But ever since he failed to get Sarah in the villa last time, he felt that it was impossible for Sarah and him to get together.

Just when he lost hope for Sarah, however, Ruby appeared in his life with Vivian.

Julian had once carefully observed this girl. Although she did not put on makeup, she had a face similar to Sarah's and a pair of big eyes. Her long eyelashes were slightly introverted because of her personality. There was always a faint blush on her face, making people want to pounce on her and take a bite.

But that night, he only took one bite, and he didn't even taste it but he was interrupted by Vivian who suddenly barged in.

But this was a once in a lifetime opportunity tonight. He could not go in the wrong direction!

Chapter 242 Treat You Well

After dinner, Julian sat on the sofa and chatted with his father and grandpa for a while. Then he got up and prepared to return to his study. Before he left, he asked his mother to bring him a cup of coffee and specifically told Ruby to bring it up before returning to his study.

Although she was reluctant, once Vivian left, Ruby was like the other maids in this house. So when she heard Daphne ask her to bring the coffee, Ruby had no choice but to take the tray upstairs and go to Julian's study.

When she walked in, she saw that Julian was attentively looking at the documents in his hands. Ruby heaved a sigh of relief and put the coffee on the table to prepare to leave.

However, Julian raised his head and called out to her.

"Ruby! Wait a minute!" Julian put down the documents in his hands and looked at her.

Ruby lowered her head and did not dare to look into Julian's eyes. "What is the matter, Young Master?"

"I have never had the chance to apologize to you for what happened last time. I am sorry."

Ruby bit her lip. She listened to him and silently shook her head.

"Nothing much happened tonight. Go back to your room and sleep first. If anything happens, I will call you."

"Yes. . ." Ruby nodded, turned around and left.

Julian looked at her back with a fierce glint in his eyes.

Ever since the last time that type of thing had happened, Ruby who was a 22-year-old girl, had always been afraid of Julian and she did not know how to face him.

Vivian was not at home tonight. When she thought about how she was going to live on the same floor as Julian, she was also very nervous. Luckily, when she went to give Julian coffee, He did not bother her much, which made her feel more or less relieved in her heart.

Ruby sent the tray downstairs. After seeing that Daphne was fine, she returned to her room. She locked the door of the room and then walked to the bedside to lie down.

The night gradually deepened and Ruby finally completely fell asleep.

She did not know if it was the experience from a few days ago, but during this period of time, she would always have nightmares. But tonight, surprisingly, she had a good dream.

In the dream, she miraculously met a prince charming. He had a graceful bearing. He was handsome and cool. She didn't know why, but she had put on a pure white wedding dress. She dreamt that she walked into the palace of marriage with him. .

In the dream, he kissed her continuously and took off her clothes one by one. However, his body was a little too heavy, so she was unable to breathe due to the pressure.

Suddenly, Ruby who was sleeping opened her eyes in the dark night and saw a man really pressing down on her in the darkness!

"You. . . Who are you?" The frightened Ruby stretched out her hand to push the person on her body, but the hand that was stretched out was grabbed by him in an instant.

"Ruby, it's me!" Julian answered as he lowered his head and kissed her neck. There was nothing on the little girl's body, but there was an indescribable fragrance that he could not smell no matter how hard he tried.

"You. . . You. . . You can't do this. . ." Ruby started to struggle, but her struggles were not worth mentioning in front of him.

"Ruby, I like you! I really like you. Be my woman, okay?" Julian kissed her neck as he lifted her pajamas with his big hands.

"No. . . You can't do this. . ." Ruby could not stop her tears from falling.

But all her struggles were futile. Julian's strength was too much. Ruby could not defeat him in the end.

He got off Ruby's body and saw some tears on her face under the moonlight. It was only then that he remembered that she was an innocent girl who did not know the relationship between a man and a woman. It was a little too much for him to torture her like this.

"Ruby, I really like you. Just follow me from now on, okay?" Julian held her in his arms and smelled the fragrance of her body. He felt indescribably comfortable. For a moment, he even wanted to marry her.

"You can leave. Just pretend that you did not come tonight. I will not tell anyone else." Ruby looked at the ceiling in the dark and her heart sank to the bottom.

Julian's hand kept caressing her body. "But I do not want to leave tonight. Can you accompany me for a night?"

He reached out and covered the two of them with the blanket. He held her tightly in his arms. Since Vivian was not coming back tonight, he did not want to go back no matter what.

". . ." Ruby was silent in the dark night and did not say anything.

Julian kissed her face and then on her forehead. His big hand kept sliding on her smooth back. "Ruby, I will buy you a house outside. I'll give you whatever you want. Just follow me from now on. Will you be my woman?"

Julian couldn't explain why he was so greedy for this girl. Even if there were other women in the past, he wouldn't be like this now, saying something like buying a house for her in just one night.

Suddenly, a thought popped up in his mind.

This woman's scent. . . It was actually somewhat similar to the smell on Sarah's body. Although he had never gotten Sarah before, but the smell on her body, he could not forget it no matter what. It was sweet and had the fragrance of grass.

"Young Master. . ." Ruby finally opened her mouth in the dark when she heard Julian's words.

"Yes, speak!"

"Will you really treat me well for the rest of your life?"

Julian immediately lifted his body and reached out to turn on the lamp beside him. He looked at Ruby, who was covered in tears, and nodded. "Yes, I promise I will treat you well for the rest of my life."

Ruby did not avoid his gaze. Instead, she looked straight into his eyes and asked word by word, "What if you can't do it?"

She was different from the people in the city. Her thoughts were unexplainable conservative. She had always subconsciously felt that a woman could only have one man in her life.

"I will definitely do what I say! If I say that I can't do it, then let me be struck by lightning. Is this okay?"

Tonight, Julian looked as if he had been possessed by an evil spirit. He looked at Ruby below him, and no matter how he looked at it, he liked her.

"I know. . ." Ruby said and closed her eyes again.

"But Ruby. . . I can be right but I might not be able to marry you in this lifetime. Do you understand?"

"Since you don't want to leave. . . Then go to sleep. . ."
Ruby did not answer his words and shrank into his arms.

"Okay. . ."
Julian did not expect her to agree so readily. He reached out and turned off the light and fell asleep with Ruby in his arms.

Although it was very late at night, the next morning, Julian got up early in the morning and went back to his room to take a shower. After changing his clothes, he walked into his study room and opened the bottom drawer.

He took out a pack of contraceptive drugs and 2,000 yuan from his wallet. He took it and went to Ruby's room.

When he walked in, he saw that she was sitting on the side of the bed in a daze. He immediately walked over and sat beside her. He stuffed the two things in his hands into her hands.

"This is the contraceptive pills. . . meaning pregnancy avoiding medicine. After eating it later, take this money and go out for shopping. After Vivian gives birth, you can leave from here. I will buy you a house outside. I will give you more when the time comes!"

Ruby looked at the pill in his hand and was stunned for a moment. She still silently took it and looked at the 2000 yuan in her hand. Without hesitation, she stuffed it back into Julian's hands.

"I took the medicine. You can take the money. Also, I don't want a house. I don't need anything." After saying that, she took out one pill from the bottle of pill. She put it in her mouth and swallowed it. Then she stood up.

Ruby looked at Julian and nodded. "Young Master, I will go downstairs first. Sister Vivian will be back in a while. . ."

After saying that, she turned around and walked out of the room.

Julian looked at her back and was stunned. He looked down at the money in his hand and shook his head with a smile. However, in his heart, his impression of this girl was getting better and better.

The women beside him, including Vivian, had never said no to him when he gave money. The only one who didn't want money was Ruby!

Jasmine would never have thought that after she took over the matter of Sarah's car accident, she ended up with such a result in the end. This made her feel a little sorry for Sarah in her heart when she faced Sarah again.

After breakfast today, she took some nutritional supplements for pregnant women and went to the hospital to see Sarah. When she walked in, Sarah had just finished breakfast when Samantha was tidying up the Insulating Tubes that she brought.

When Samantha saw Jasmine, She immediately greeted the later warmly.

Jasmine sat down beside Sarah's bed and looked at Sarah apologetically, "Sarah, I am really sorry about the car accident. I also did not think that it would end like this. . ."

"Ms. Jasmine, what are you talking about? You have helped me so much and I still did not have the time to thank you." Sarah heard Jasmine's words and immediately smiled as she shook her head.

When Samantha heard Jasmine's words, she also looked at her and said, "Sarah was in trouble this time. It is all thanks to you that the culprit was caught. We commoners do not understand these things. If I were to run into the traffic police, I would have a headache. I also heard some things about that Felix. Knowing that he was that person, even if someone else were to run into him. . . The result would be the same. You have already helped us so much. Sarah and I have yet to express our thanks. Why are you still embarrassed?"

Jasmine heard the mother and daughter's words and smiled before nodding her head. "Okay. Then I won't be polite with Auntie and Sarah."

Samantha immediately looked at her reproachfully, "That's more like it! That's right, Jasmine. How are you and David doing now?"

"Yeah. Ms. Jasmine, how are you guys?" Sarah was also very concerned about this question and looked at Jasmine to ask.

Jasmine smiled. "It's pretty good. It's just that he has been a little busy recently. . ."

"David is starting a business now. Didn't he say he wanted to start a new hotel? You should understand him a little more."

Jasmine immediately nodded. "Yes, Auntie, I will. . ."

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 243 Exchange Her Child

While they were talking, the door of the ward was pushed open.

The three of them looked towards the door and saw Sarah's good friend, Kendall, walking in with a fruit basket. "Auntie! Sarah!"

When she saw Jasmine by the bed, Kendall raised her eyebrows and walked in without saying anything.

"Kendall is here? Quickly sit!" Samantha said as she took Kendall's fruit basket.

"Sarah, how are you?" Kendall walked to the other side and sat down.

"I am already much better. I am fine."

"I was so busy in the hotel a few days ago. Mr. David wasn't in the hotel either. I had to do a lot of things. That's why I didn't have time to do anything. I came to see you so later, I'm sorry. . ."

Sarah smiled. "Mr. David told me that I know."

Kendall immediately smiled. "That's good. Otherwise, it will be troublesome if you hold a grudge against me."

"Haha! How could that be?"

"Kendall, is David in the hotel now?" Seeing Kendall ignore her, Jasmine did not mind and took the initiative to talk to her.

Kendall raised her eyebrows and replied after a while, "He should not be here, right? He sent me to the hospital door and left. I also do not know what he wants to do."

"He sent you to the hospital door? Then why didn't he come up?" Jasmine immediately asked when she heard that.

Kendall shrugged her shoulders. "I don't know about that."

Jasmine looked at her indifferent expression and did not continue to ask. She lifted her watch to look at the time and then stood up, "Auntie, Sarah. There is some work in the company. I have to go back first. I'll come and see you another day."

"Okay! Take care, Ms. Jasmine!" Sarah used her uninjured hand to wave at her and Samantha sent Jasmine out the door.

Hearing Jasmine's footsteps leave, Kendall immediately looked at Sarah and complained. "Sarah, you are not good enough to be friends. . ."

"Why did you think like this?" Sarah looked at her in confusion.

"Why are you helping Jasmine so much and not helping me? You clearly know that I also like Mr. David?"

Although Jasmine did not come during this period of time, every time she went to the hotel, she would always do some works. Her working style was very similar to that of Sarah's. So she more or less learned some things from Sarah.

"Why did I help her?" Sarah could not help but laugh as she looked at Kendall

"Why? Aren't you helping her? Didn't you bring her back to your house and teach her how to cook?" Kendall heard this from Jasmine and David's conversation.

Sarah immediately nodded. "Yes, I did teach her how to cook. How could I refuse when she asked me to help her? Kendall, if you find me to help, I will also help you."

"But you only help that Jasmine and not me. . ."

Kendall looked at Sarah somewhat gloomily. " I can also see that Mr. David seems to be interested in that Jasmine. Sigh, looks like it is good to have money. Jasmine's family has so much money. If I were a man, I would like her too!"

"Kendall, Mr. David likes Ms. Jasmine for who she was but not for Wilson Family has money!" Sarah heard what Kendall said and immediately clarified for Mr. David.

"Forget it. Anyway, I have thought it through. Since Mr. David does not like me, I will be at ease as my secretary's position! That Jasmine is famous for her bad temper. I want to see how long Mr. David can tolerate her!"

Kendall felt that even if the two of them really walked together, they would not be able to go far.

"Kendall, don't always think about Mr. David. If you want to find a boyfriend, with your qualifications, wouldn't it be very easy for you?"

Sarah had always felt that her good friend's conditions were much better than hers. It was just that her luck might be slightly worse than hers.

"Stop it. Do you think it is as easy as to go to the market to buy cabbage? You are lucky that Military Commander Cooper just happens to like you for so many years! I can tell, even if you ask him for his life, he won't hesitate to give it for you. What a happy thing! If I met such a person, I would be so happy that I would die!"

"Don't worry, you will definitely meet such a person. .

"Alright, I pray. . ."

"Haha!"

Vivian had breakfast and was originally prepared to return to the Cooper Family. But before she went out, her phone rang and she took it out to take a look. It was actually Greta who called. Her eyes flashed and she took the phone into her bedroom. After closing the door, she pressed the answer button.

"Greta, what's the matter?" The two of them had become more and more familiar during this period of time and Vivian directly called her by her name.

"Is it convenient for you to speak now?" Greta stood on the roof of the hospital and looked at the distant sky and asked slowly.

"Yes, I have returned to my mother's home. Tell me, is there something happy that you want to tell me?"

"Hehe, you are right. I'm going to tell you a piece of good news today."

"Really? That's great! Speak!"

"Isn't Sarah Wilson staying in our hospital? You should know about this, right?"

"Yes, I know! That's right, why did I forget about this?"
During this period of time, Vivian was only busy to get rid of the car accident and had totally forgotten about Sarah's matter in Municipal Hospital.

The other party's words instantly woke her up, "Greta, you will not tell me about Sarah, right?"

"Yes! Two days ago, I asked a doctor who was inspecting her to take a look at Sarah's ultrasonography and guess what she was carrying."

"Could it be. . . A boy?" If this was really the result, it would be a fatal blow to her!

"Yes! She's carrying a boy!"

"Impossible! Absolutely impossible! How could she be so lucky?" Vivian gritted her teeth in anger when she heard the result.

"The doctor I hired also worked for more than ten years. How could she be wrong about this? I think you really have to think of a way. With the sharp and unkind personality of your mother-in-law, when Sarah gives birth, even if she is the wife of your mother-in-law's stepson, she will still have a son. At that time, she might treat Sarah even better than her own biological daughter-in-law!" Greta exaggerated and said.

"Then. . . At most, I will also have a son. Wouldn't that be enough?"

"Haha, even if you really give birth to a son, her son will definitely take the half of the family property from you. Don't you think so?"

"What else can I do? Could it be that she will have an abortion? It's easy for you to do things in the hospital. Can you help me think of a way? Let the child in her womb have an abortion?" Vivian asked ruthlessly.

"I really can't do that. She is now in the special care ward. If I take the risk to do it, I will definitely be exposed."

"If you can't do it, what do you want me to do? Could it be that you want to change her child to a girl?"

Vivian only casually said it, but her eyes lit up at this moment!

That's right! She went around looking for pregnant women who were similar to her and also wanted to confirm whether they were carrying a boy or a girl.

Wasn't the one closest to her now ready-made?

Thinking of this, Vivian immediately asked, "Greta, you have to help me with this matter!"

"How can I help you?"

"Help me exchange her child!"

"Don't tell me. . . You want to exchange your own child with hers?" Greta did not think of this idea before but after hearing what Vivian said, she became interested.

If she really did that, it would be a fatal blow to both Christian and Sarah!

Only in this way could she release the anger that she had held in her heart!

"Yes! Help me!"

"This. . . Is too difficult. . ." Greta heard what Vivian said and frowned slightly.

"You are a doctor, you will definitely be able to help me think of a way! Greta, I beg you. . ." When Vivian thought of this idea, her blood could not help but boil. She felt that this idea was simply too good.

"But even if I can help you in the hospital, there are so many people from the Cooper Family. And Sarah's mother is still there. When she gives birth, she will definitely be surrounded by them. There are also people from the Wilson Family. And if that Christian also rushed back from the army, what would you do? No matter how you think about it, it would be difficult. Don't you think it's too difficult to realize it?"

"Then what should we do? Then I can only watch helplessly as her child is born?" No matter how Vivian thought about it, she felt somewhat unwilling.

"That's not true! There is one way, but it depends on whether you can do it or not."

"Greta, quickly say it!"

"It is to lure the people of Cooper Family away when Sarah is giving birth. That way, you will have a chance."

"Lure the people of the Cooper Family away?
Including Christian?"

"Of course! He is the most important person! He cares more about Sarah than anyone else!"

"Cooper Family has nothing to do with him. It is easier said than done to lure him away."

"Can't you create something if there's nothing to do? There are still three months left. Think about it carefully. I'll go back first."

"Okay, goodbye!"

"Goodbye!"

Vivian hung up the phone and thought that Sarah was carrying a boy in her belly. She grinded her teeth in hatred.

She kept walking back and forth in the room, but her mind was too messy. No matter how hard she tried, she could not come up with a single clue.

As she listened to the voices in the living room, she recalled that she was supposed to return to the Cooper Family today. Now, it seemed that she couldn't go back for now.

No matter what, she had to wait until Lucas came back from work. She had to ask him to think of a way and come up with an idea for her. Thinking of this, she walked out of the bedroom door.

Seeing that her father was about to go downstairs for a stroll, she asked him to tell the driver downstairs at the same time that she would not be going back for the day and asked him come back tomorrow to pick her up and bring her back to Cooper Family.

Mr. Holmes nodded. Then, he left the house.

"Vivian, did something happen?" Ever since Mrs. Holmes found out about her daughter last time, she had been living a restless life. Whenever there was a slight movement in the wind, she would be scared to death.

"Mom, how could something happen so easily? Don't worry, I'm fine."

"Oh right, how's the matter you mentioned last time? Are you really going to change the child to a boy?" Mrs. Holmes looked at her daughter and felt that this matter was somewhat unreliable.

"Mom, what can I do? Even if I don't want to exchange, with the personality of my mother-in-law, I still have to! Otherwise, I will definitely not have a good life in Cooper family!"

"Sigh, even if you really change, you still won't be able to love that child! After all, he's not your own flesh and blood, and there's also your daughter in your womb. Do you really plan on raising her by someone else?"

After all, she was her biological granddaughter. Mrs. Holmes could not bear to do so.

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 244 Medicine To Relapse Heart Attack

“Mom, don't worry. I've thought it through. Even if my son isn't my biological son, think about it. I raised him up with one hand. And as long as you don't say it and I won't say it, who can find out? And about the daughter you mentioned. . . That would be even easier.”

“When the child was born, we would definitely know which family she went into. When she grew a little bigger, won't it be fine if we steal her back? Anyway, what does she know in a few months' worth of life?"

Regarding the matter of her daughter, Vivian had already thought about it beforehand. When her daughter was a few months old, as long as she spent some money to find someone to steal the child back, she would not lose her daughter. It would be perfect if she could also get a son.

Mrs. Holmes heard her daughter's words and sighed heavily. "Yes, yes, yes! But if this kind of thing is really done. . . Then it will be karma. . ."

"But if we don't do it, your daughter will probably be chased out of the Cooper Family. . . At that time, our family will have to live the bitter life we used to have. . ."

"But didn't Julian give you some money? That money is enough. We have been spending our whole lives, what do you think you need to worry about?" Mrs. Holmes still could not bear to see this happen.

"That money has already been paid back to Lucas for his gambling debts. How could I still have money? I don't even have a thousand pocket money with me right now, Mom. . ."

Mrs. Holmes shook her head helplessly. "You really want to do it?"

"It wasn't easy for me to marry into the Cooper Family, so I have to let our family live a good life. I can't be chased out by the people of the Cooper Family just like that. It's not like you haven't seen that mother-in-law of mine before. Putting aside her power and influence, if I were to give birth to a daughter, I have already told the people of Cooper Family that I am carrying a son. If I give birth to a girl at that time, what do you think the people of Cooper Family will think of me?"

"Things have already come to this point. I have no way out, and I can't retreat either! I have had enough of the suffering I had in the past. I don't want to go back, Mom. With our family's situation, my brother still needs to go to university. When he has to buy a house when he wants to work in the future, what can you buy for him? It's so hard to find a job now. Are you going to watch him go out and work for him?"

"Sigh. . . Then. . . Let's do as you say. . ." Mrs. Holmes heard her daughter's words and finally moved her heart. She helplessly sighed and then nodded.

"That's great Mom, I knew you would not disagree to help me."

That night, Lucas sent Julian home and rushed back. Because Vivian's mother specially called him over for dinner, he went to Vivian's house after work.

After dinner, Vivian reminded her mother that she wanted to talk to Lucas alone, so Mrs. Holmes brought Vivian's father back to the bedroom to rest.

When she saw her father leave, Vivian held Lucas's hand and entered her room, then quickly closed the door.

"Vivian, did something happen again?" Seeing Vivian's nervous look, Lucas also felt a little nervous.

"Let me tell you something!"

"Okay! What is it?"

"You don't have to look for pregnant women anymore!"

"Why?"

"I found her."

"Who is it? Where did you find it?"

"I received a call from Greta today. She said that she asked a doctor from Municipal Hospital to do a BT scan on Sarah Wilson. She specifically looked at the child in her womb and found that she was carrying a boy!"

"But what does the boy she is carrying have to do with us? Don't tell me. . . You want to exchange it with her?" Lucas's words shocked even himself.

"Yes! I want to change with her! Isn't she happy for not dying now? I'll let her be happy to the end!"

"Are you joking with me? " Lucas looked at Vivian in disbelief.

"Are you kidding me? I have already told Greta today that she will help me."

"But this kind of thing is too mysterious. Do you think it is possible?" Lucas asked, half-doubting. He felt that this matter was not reliable at all.

"That Greta has promised me that she can help me settle the matter in the hospital, but the matter of Cooper Family needs to be settled by me. . ."

"How will you resolve it? No matter what, Sarah giving birth to a child was a big matter for Cooper Family. Christian will definitely take a leave of absence to take care of Sarah and the people of Cooper Family will also be there. When that time comes, how can you change under the watchful eyes of so many people? "

"That's why I asked you to help me think of a way. Help me think about it. The day when Sarah and I gave birth, how could I attract all the people of the Cooper Family away? Including Christian!"

"Attract all of them? Let me think. . ." Lucas frowned and thought for a while. In the end, he shook his head. "Vivian, I think you should give up. If you want to attract all the people of Cooper Family away, you have to do it unless something big happens in Cooper Family. That way, everyone will be lured away! But how is that possible?"

"Wait a minute! What do you mean something big happens in Cooper family?" Vivian interrupted him.

"Isn't it simple? Unless someone from the Cooper Family dies. . ." Lucas covered his mouth after saying a word. He didn't dare to continue. His scalp felt numb.

Vivian heard Lucas's words and her eyes lit up!

Lucas looked at Vivian's expression and broke out in cold sweat. "Vivian, let me tell you, we can't kill people even if we beat them to death!"

Vivian looked at him angrily. "Look at you. Do you think I'm a murderous devil? If they find out who killed him, it would be a dead end. I'm not that stupid."

"Then just now. . ." Lucas heard her words and heaved a sigh of relief in his heart.

"I want to. . ." Vivian looked at the nervous Lucas and then waved her hand. "Forget it, I will think about it carefully. . ."

Knowing that Lucas was timid, Vivian did not continue to talk to him.

Lucas sat in Vivian's bedroom for a while and left. Before he left, he kept reminding Vivian not to have any ideas about killing people.

Vivian waved her hand and told him that she would not do it. After getting Vivian's affirmative answer, Lucas left Vivian's home nervously.

Once Lucas left, Vivian returned to her bedroom and took out her phone to find Greta's number. She dialed it.

Greta was not surprised to receive a call from Vivian at this time. The two of them had gotten familiar with each other recently and knew that she must be looking for her help. She went straight to the point and asked, "What is it that you are looking for me for?"

"Is there a medicine in your hospital that can cause a heart attack to relapse?"

"What do you mean?"

"Tell me if you have it."

"There is a similar. . . "

"That's good!"

This night, Vivian still did not return to Villa of Cooper Family.

After having a taste of the sweetness, Julian returned to his study after dinner. He called Ruby in, saying that he wanted her to help him drip an eye potion.

Although Ruby was unwilling, her status as a servant made it impossible for her to refuse. When Ruby walked into the study, she saw Julian sitting in a leather chair. Julian raised his hand and gently rubbed the space between his eyebrows. She did not know if there was really something wrong with his eyes.

"Young Master. . ."

"Oh, Ruby, quickly come over!" Julian opened his eyes and smiled as he gestured to her to come to his side.

Ruby slightly pursed her lower lip and walked to his side nervously. She picked up the eye potion on the table and prepared to drip it on his eyes.

As soon as Ruby walked to his side, Julian reached out and wrapped her in his arms. His big hand reached into her clothes and touched her smooth skin. His heart was somewhat moved.

"Which eye of yours is not comfortable?" Ruby held the eye potion and asked him.

"Both of your eyes are not comfortable today. I don't know what is going on. Give me some drops. . ."

He didn't know what's going on during this period of time, but in the past, it was just one eye that had some problems. Now, he couldn't see both eyes clearly.

Ruby listened to him and dripped the eye potion in both eyes for him. She then put away the eye potion and prepared to leave.

However, Julian hugged her tightly and did not let her go. Ruby could only look down at him, "Young Master.

.."

Julian closed his eyes and picked up her hand to kiss her. "Okay, you go back first. I will find you in a while.
.."

Ruby bit her lips and did not say anything.

"Don't close the door, do you hear me?" Hearing that she did not respond to him, Julian hugged her again.

Ruby was silent for a moment, and after a long while, she nodded her head, "Yes. . ."

After hearing her reply, Julian let go of her body.

"Let's go back first."

Ruby left quickly with a red face.

Julian closed his eyes and laid down for a while. He felt much more comfortable with his eyes. Only then did he open his eyes and take the documents that he brought back today to review.

Around ten o'clock in the evening, Julian walked into Ruby's room. When he walked to the door, he reached out and twisted the door handle.

That girl was indeed obedient. The door was not locked.

Julian walked in happily and turned on the light to take a look. He found that Ruby had already fallen asleep on the bed. He immediately turned off the light and walked over. He quickly got under Ruby's blanket.

"Young Master, I am not feeling well. . ." Ruby just lied on the bed and did not sleep at all. Julian was too crazy last night. Her body was still in pain from the addiction.

Julian quickly took off his clothes. In fact, he knew that she had just experienced the relationship between a man and a woman and her body was definitely not used to it. But he really felt stifled and uncomfortable. He turned over and pressed on her body and looked at her and begged her a little. "Ruby, just once, okay? I really miss you too much. . ."

Ruby listened to what he said and helplessly closed her eyes.

Seeing that she did not insist, Julian lowered his head and kissed her hard.

Although Jasmine looked for Private Detective, in a month's time, she did not find anything suspicious about Felix.

The accident had been settled just like that, but Jasmine did not give up. She gave Private Detective one year's time. She did not believe that in this one year's time, Felix would not have any flaws.

Under the doctor's treatment and mother's meticulous care, Sarah's injuries also slowly recovered a lot. But her arm was fractured. Hence, she had to recover slower no matter what.

In a month's time, Christian had also called her every day. He would ask her about her situation and tell her about the interesting things that happened in his army. He wanted to make her happy.

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 245 For My Future Grandson

Jasmine and David would visit Sarah in every few days. Their relationship seemed to be much better than before. This was the place that made Sarah the happiest.

When Mr. David's happiness was settled, she was happier than anyone else in her heart.

During the one month Sarah was hospitalized, Ethan would come to see her almost once a week. Julian had also come twice or thrice, but he did not sit for long each time. He knew that he was not very popular, so he just stood there and left.

Daphne had only been here once. She said that she was very busy at home, so she did not come again.

One morning a month later.

Sarah had just woken up from her deep sleep when she heard the door of the ward open. Her mother carried the Insulating Tube and walked in from outside.

Seeing that her daughter had woken up, Samantha immediately walked to the bedside and placed the Insulating Tube on the bed before quickly entering the bathroom. She took a basin of warm water and came out. She used a towel to wipe Sarah's face and hands.

"Sarah, I discovered something today. I wonder if there is a problem in the bank?" Samantha said slowly as she wiped her daughter's face.

"Mom, what happened?" Sarah asked in puzzlement.

"Do you remember the bank card you gave me last time? You said there was ten thousand yuan in it."

Sarah nodded. "I remember. My father-in-law gave it to me. He said there was ten thousand yuan inside. At that time, he specifically told me to keep it. When I came back, I gave you the bank card. Mom, did something happen to the bank card?"

"Yes! I took this card to the supermarket to buy some things a while ago, but I didn't really care at that time. Two days ago, I felt that something was wrong, because I had already spent more than ten thousand yuan inside. But when I took the card to get the medicine, there was still money inside. Later, I went to the ATM to check. Guess what?" Samantha stopped there.

"Mom, don't scare me. What happened?"

"The bank card you gave me actually showed more than 4.9 million. . ."

"Ah? How is that possible?" Sarah was so nervous that her eyes widened. She could not believe it.

"Could it be that there was a transfers in the bank?"

"If that's the case, we have to return the money as soon as possible. With so much money, we won't be able to sleep well at night! But you still have to ask your father about this first. What if he gave you the wrong bank card? "

"Okay! Mom, I'll call right away!" Sarah nodded her head. The amount of money was too much. She could not hesitate about this matter no matter what.

Ethan picked up the phone not long after the call was made. When he saw that it was Sarah, he took the phone and went into his study. He then closed the door.

"Sarah, why did you call me so early?"

"Dad, I want to ask you something."

"Yes, tell me."

"Do you remember the last time you gave me a bank card? You said there was ten thousand yuan in it."

"Yes, I remember. What's wrong?"

"I gave that bank card to my mother, but she told me today that there were more than 4.9 million yuan in it. I want to ask, do you know about this? If you don't know, then it means that the bank transferred the wrong money. . ."

Ethan listened to his daughter-in-law and smiled. "Then it's not the bank that transferred the wrong money, it's me who saved it."

"Dad, why did you give me so much money all of a sudden?" Sarah asked in shock. She never thought that things would be like this.

"I saved five million in there. That money was not for you, but for my future grandson! You are only temporarily keeping it for him. You just need to keep the money well! If you encounter any difficulties in the future, you can also take it out and use it urgently!"

"But Dad, I don't need that much money. Furthermore, Christian is also here. I don't need that." Sarah directly refused.

"Why not? Didn't I tell you just now? That's not for you! It's for my grandson! Take it well. If the company needs money in the future, maybe you can still use that part of your money. The company's funds are still quite abundant now. Take it. This is a little goodwill from Dad. If you return the money, Dad will definitely be angry. Back then, I said there was ten thousand yuan in it because I was afraid you wouldn't want it!"

"Dad. . ." Listening to Ethan's words, for a moment, Sarah did not know what to say.

"Sarah, Dad feels guilty about what happened to Julian. If you accept the money, Dad will feel better. Do you understand?"

"Dad, it is not your fault. . ."

"How can it not be my fault? As the saying goes, it's the father's fault whether his son becomes good or bad! It was father who did not fulfill the responsibility of being a father to educate Julian to this extent. So you must take the money as a token of appreciation from your father! Is that alright?"

"Thank you, Dad. . ." Sarah really did not know how to reject father-in-law's words. She understood his painstaking efforts and nodded.

"Yes, this is a good child. Dad will not talk to you anymore. Take care of your injuries. Dad will go and see you in two days!"

"Okay. Bye, Dad!"

"Okay, bye!"

Samantha had been sitting at the side listening nervously to her daughter's words. When she saw that Sarah had withdrawn the line, she immediately looked at her daughter and asked, "Sarah, what exactly is going on? This money was really given to you by Ethan?"

Sarah looked at her mother and nodded. "Mom, Dad said that he is giving it to his grandson and said that it was a small token of his appreciation. He must make me accept it! He always felt that he was responsible for Julian's matter. . ."

Samantha sighed. "Ethan is really a good person. Your dad did not make friends for nothing! Since he had already said so much, you should take it first. Maybe in the future when the company really has money, you might be able to help."

"Mm, Mom, then help me keep it well!" Father-in-law had already said so much. If she would return it, no matter what, it was a bit too much. So Sarah asked her mother to keep the bank card.

Although she had been cheated by Felix for 1.7 million, because she had the one million that Julian had given her later on, Vivian had been living quite well in the past month. Sometimes, she thought about Felix. She was more or less a little depressed.

Because it was getting more and more inconvenient for her body, Julian would sometimes blow some wind on her pillow. He bought her some small gifts three times from time to time, so Vivian would pretend to be opposed to the matter between him and Ruby in the beginning. But later on, she would only turn a blind eye to it.

Her heart was not originally on Julian, if her cousin could hold onto Julian's heart. . . She was also happy.

Vivian already knew what kind of girl Ruby was.

Although she looked good, she was too honest. Even if she was bullied, Ruby did not ask for anything. Just thinking about it made Vivian despise that girl from the bottom of her heart.

If the same thing happened to her, no matter what, she would make a mess out of the Cooper Family! But this was exactly what she was thinking. If she were to find someone who was too scheming, she would have to guard against them day and night. Therefore, Ruby. . . She really found the right person.

After dinner tonight, Vivian went back to her room first. Julian went to the study to look at the documents for a while and felt that his eyes were really uncomfortable. He rubbed his eyes with his hand and took out some eye drops to drip on himself. He then laid in the leather chair and rested for a while.

When he opened his eyes again, he felt that his eyes were a little comfortable, so he picked up the document again. However, before he could even see the first line of words, he felt that everything in front of him had become blurry.

Julian felt a little uncomfortable. He got up and returned to his bedroom.

Opening the door, Julian saw Vivian lying on the bed listening to music, so he walked over and sat beside her.

"Wife, I have something to discuss with you. . ." Julian looked at Vivian and smiled apologetically.

Vivian directly glanced at him. "Look at your little bit of prospects. Give it to me!" After saying that, she stretched out her hand towards Julian.

"What?"

"Money!" When this kind of thing happened too many times, Vivian did not hide anything anymore.

Julian immediately took out the wallet and took out a thousand yuan from it and gave it to her. "There is only so much today. . . I will give you more some other day. . ."

Vivian raised her eyebrows and said very generously, "One thousand is one thousand then. Hurry up and get out of here."

She was also lazy to see him. Since she could get the money to spend and also have peace, why would not she agree?

When Julian heard her words, he immediately left with a smile. He even closed the door for Vivian and directly went to Ruby's room next door.

When Julian walked in, he saw Ruby standing by the bedside folding clothes. He immediately walked over and hugged her waist from behind and lowered his head to kiss her neck.

"Ruby, do you miss me?" Julian hugged her and fell into the big bed. His big hands started to touch her body continuously. He had been with this little girl for almost a month. Not only did he not feel annoyed at her, but he also became more and more greedy for her.

From the moment he liked her body, he began to like to listen to her voice, like to watch her walk. He liked to see her smile shyly, although most of the time, she rarely smiled at him.

During this month, when he often worked in his office, he inadvertently thought of her. Sometimes, he felt like he was in love again. Because now, he was deeply fascinated by this ordinary girl.

"Young Master. . . "

"Hmm? What's the matter?"

"I'm not feeling well today. . . "

"Why not?"

Ruby's face lowered and there was a layer of red on her face. There were some things that she was embarrassed to say.

"Don't tell me you are on your periods?" Julian looked at her with a little disappointment.

"Yes. . . "

"Forget it. Since you are here, come. I will carry you to sleep tonight. . ." Even if he could not touch her body, he still liked to hug her to sleep. That kind of feeling made him very comfortable.

That night, Julian slept very well. The woman in his arms had always been very stable. She curled up in his arms like a soft kitten, making him not want to let her go no matter what.

When he woke up the next day, Julian was woken up by Ruby in his arms. He opened his eyes and looked. However, what entered his eyes was darkness.

Julian suddenly turned his head and subconsciously looked at the window. He did not see any light outside the window. So he reached out and pulled Ruby in his arms again. "It is still not bright yet. Let's sleep for a while more."

Ruby heard his words and looked at him with wide eyes. "The sky is already bright. Young Master, quickly get up. . ."

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 246 Missed The Best Time For Treatment

Julian heard her and smiled. "Are you kidding me? There was no light outside. Who said it was bright outside? "

"It is really bright now! It's already 7: 30 in the morning." Ruby looked at his eyes in disbelief again. She knew that his eyes had not been good recently. So she raised her hand and waved it in front of his eyes.

However, she realized that those eyes did not have any reaction at all.

Ruby became nervous for a moment. "Young Master, your eyes. . . "

Only then did Julian realize that there was something wrong with the situation. He suddenly sat up from the bed and reached out his hand to grab the phone. He pressed the start button. He clearly heard the sound of the phone being turned on, but he could not see anything. The world in front of him was still pitch black!

"Ruby! Ruby! You, you, you said it was really morning now?"

"Yes!"

" My eyes! What happened to my eyes? Why can't I see anything? Why?" Julian's world suddenly panicked. He nervously grabbed Ruby's hand, his mind somewhat collapsing.

"Young Master, don't worry. Didn't your eyes not see clearly before? Calm down first. I will help you put on your clothes. Maybe it will be fine in a while." Ruby saw his nervous look and immediately comforted him.

"Okay! Quickly help me put on my clothes! You're right. I should be fine in a while. . ." Julian comforted himself in his heart.

Ruby immediately got off the bed and put on her clothes first. She then helped Julian put on his clothes. It seemed that it was almost done. Only then did she bring him downstairs.

Daphne had also just woken up and just walked out of the room on the first floor. She saw the maid Ruby helping her son down the stairs and looking at her son's eyes which was in a daze, she immediately walked over nervously.

"Julian, what happened to you?" Daphne looked up at her son and found that his eyes were not looking at her. She was so scared that her back felt cold.

"Mom, tell me what time it is now? Is it not dawn yet, right? Why can't I see anything?" Julian still held onto his last glimmer of hope, hoping that Ruby had just lied to him, but his mother's reply had sent him straight to hell.

"It's almost 7: 30 in the morning. The sun is almost out. How can it be that it was still dawn yet? Julian, can't you see me now?" Daphne held her son's hand tightly.

"Mom! I can't see you! What happened to my eyes? Why is it like this? Why?" Julian shouted in the living room with a broken expression.

Daphne immediately comforted her son, "Julian, don't worry. Your eyes might recover in a while. Go to the sofa and sit for a while. I'll take you to the hospital right away, okay?"

Daphne saw Julian like this and felt her heart ache. She held her son's hand and kept consoling him. She took him to the sofa and sat down.

"Mom, quickly call the hospital director. Ask him to arrange the best ophthalmologist for me! I can't be blind! I absolutely can't be blind!"

Julian held his mother's hand tightly and reminded her, afraid that it would be a little late. His eyes could no longer be seen. He did not want to repeat what he had experienced nine years ago.

"Alright, alright, alright! Mom will call him right away! I'll call right away!" Daphne patted her son's hand in pain and got up to go back to the bedroom to get her phone.

When Julian was shouting, Vivian also heard the sound. She immediately put on her clothes and walked down from upstairs.

Before she went down to the living room, she heard the conversation between mother-in-law and Julian and instantly understood what had happened. She immediately walked over nervously and looked at Julian, who was sitting on the sofa, looking forward helplessly. There was not a trace of focus in those eyes.

"Julian! What's wrong with you? What happened to your eyes?" Vivian sat down beside him and kept looking into Julian's eyes. She found that he could not see her at all.

Julian fumbled around and grabbed her hand. "Vivian, it's over! My eyes can't see anymore! I can't see anything now! I can't see anything! What should I do? What should I do?"

Vivian saw Julian's expression and immediately comforted him. "Don't worry. Your eyes have been having problems recently, haven't they? Maybe a little eye potion will make you feel better."

"Yes! How could I forget about this? Ruby!"

"Yes! Young Master!"

"Quickly go to the study and bring my eye medicine over! Hurry up!"

"Yes!" Ruby heard his words and immediately ran upstairs.

Ethan and Old Master Cooper also walked out of the room. They looked at Julian on the sofa and quickly understood what had happened.

Ethan looked at his son's panicked look and said slowly, "Don't worry. Your eyes have a root of disease in the past. Maybe there's something wrong with your cornea."

"Dad, will my eyes never see again?" Julian followed his father's voice and looked over. He could not help but feel nervous.

"You haven't seen a doctor yet. Maybe it's just a small problem. The most important thing for you now is to relax. The more nervous you are, the more invisible your eyes are."

While Ethan was talking, Ruby had already run down the stairs with the eye potion in her hand. She quickly ran to Julian's side and helped him drip the eye potion carefully. However, after a while, Julian's eyes still did not show any reaction, which made Julian even more nervous.

Daphne had already finished the phone call. She looked at her husband and said, "I just called the director of Municipal Hospital. He has already arranged for the best eye specialist. "

Ethan nodded and immediately asked the driver to prepare the car. He looked at his wife and said, "You follow Julian to the hospital."

"Okay!" Daphne immediately got up and went back to her bedroom. After a while, she put on her coat and walked out with her bag. She saw her son stand up from the sofa with Ruby's help. She looked at her son and thought, "Ruby, follow me!"

"Yes. . ." Ruby nodded but still looked at Vivian.

Vivian immediately waved her hand, "Take good care of Julian and go with Madam!"

"Yes!"

Daphne and Ruby helped Julian out of the living room and helped him sit in the car. After a moment, the car started to drive quickly towards Municipal Hospital.

Along the way, Julian sat in the car nervously, unable to accept the fact that he had suddenly gone blind. Daphne kept comforting her son, but no matter how much she said, it couldn't really comfort Julian's heart.

Because everything in front of them was dark, he felt as if he had been abandoned all of a sudden. The whole world had started to become unsafe. He held his mother's hand tightly along the way, afraid that she would let him go a little.

The hospital arrived very quickly. Ruby quickly went to hang up the number and then helped Julian to the specialist's consultation room with Daphne. Because Julian's eyes suddenly went blind, the specialist suggested that he go for a check-up first and then look at the examination results before coming to a conclusion. Julian cooperated with him and did a few checkups. Finally, he returned to the specialist's consultation room.

"Your eyes had problems nine years ago. This time, it should be the relapse of the old disease. You should have gone to the hospital earlier to treat it. The eye drops are useless."

"But the previous one was also an expert. That person said there was no problem. He even prescribed some medicine for us!" When Daphne heard the expert's words, she hurriedly explained.

"That person is no longer in this hospital. He left because of an accident."

"What about my son's eyes?" Daphne asked nervously.

The doctor looked at Julian and shook his head. "He has missed the best time for treatment."

Julian immediately looked in the direction of the doctor and asked nervously, "Doctor, please make it clear. What do you mean by missing the best treatment time? My eyes can't be seen anymore?"

The specialist sighed. "It's not that you can't see anymore. If there is a suitable cornea, it is still possible. . ."

Julian stood up when he heard him. "What kind of expert are you? My eyes have always been fine. I just had some problems recently. And you sentenced me to death. Impossible! Let's go!"

After saying that, Julian started to grope his way towards the door. Ruby immediately followed him and held his arm to comfort him. "Young Master, don't worry. Maybe the doctor will have a way. . ."

Daphne also immediately apologized to the doctor, "Sorry! His mood is really bad, you must forgive him!"

The specialist smiled in understanding. "I'm fine! I can understand his mood, but his eyes really missed the best treatment time. Now, we can only wait for the appropriate cornea."

Daphne still looked at the expert in disbelief. "Is there really no other way?"

The expert shook his head helplessly.

Julian's heart sank. He took Ruby out of the specialist's office.

When the three of them sat back in the car, Julian looked ahead with a blank face. "Mom, I don't believe my eyes can't see. Take me to another hospital to make a diagnosis!"

He was sentenced to death just like that. He could not accept it! Not willing!

In these nine years, his eyes had always been very good. How could something go wrong just because he said it?

Impossible! Absolutely impossible!

No matter what the doctor said, Julian would not believe it!

Daphne listened to her son and nodded. "Julian, don't worry. Mom will take you there. Let's go to a few more hospitals! Maybe this person is mistaken."

"Mom, he must be mistaken!"

Daphne brought Julian to two more hospitals, but the result was still the same even when it was past four o'clock in the afternoon.

Julian's eyes missed the best time to treat it, so he could only wait for the appropriate cornea.

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 247 He Had Gotten His Retribution

On the way home, Julian sat quietly in the car. He didn't say a word. His originally deep eyes kept staring at the world outside the window. He wanted to see a bit of light, but no matter how hard he tried, his world was still pitch black!

His eyes were filled with darkness. Other than the constant sounds of cars reminding him of the time, he couldn't see anything! How he wished that the current him was just having a nightmare!

If it was a nightmare, at least there would be a time when he would wake up. But now. . .

Knowing that her son was in a bad mood, Daphne kept comforting her son. But in the end, she was still interrupted by her son's words.

"Mom, let me have some peace!" After Julian said that, he painfully closed his eyes.

Julian's eyes could no longer be seen. For three days in a row, he sat on the leather chair in the study, holding an eye potion and continuously dripping it on his eyes. He hoped that this time, a miracle would appear!

But again and again, he still could not see anything!

Finally, he fiercely threw the eye potion in his hand out!

With a crisp sound, the small bottle was smashed into pieces!

A burst of light footsteps came to the door. Julian immediately looked over and shouted with a slight breakdown, "Get lost! All of you get lost!"

"Aiyo, your eyes can't see. It's not like I made you blind. Why are you angry at me?" It was Vivian who walked in.

When she saw Julian in the leather chair breaking down, Vivian could not help but sneer as she spoke.

"Leave immediately! Leave!"

"It's not like our family doesn't have money. As long as there's a suitable cornea, you'll always see it. Isn't it just a matter of time?"

Vivian looked at his anxious look and said softly. However, in her heart, she felt some indescribable happiness.

This fellow could not see anymore. If she wanted to do something in the future, would he not be able to control her?

This was really good news for her!

"Vivian! Are you adding insult to injury now?" Julian was so angry that his hands were trembling.

"Seriously, I am trying to comfort you, okay? Why can't you tell?" Vivian just wanted to make him angry, so she just stood at the door and did not leave.

"You. . . You. . . I don't need you to comfort me, just disappear right now! Go!" Julian shouted at her angrily.

"Tsk tsk! Let's go! I am still a pregnant woman. I am still carrying your child in my womb. Forget it. If you want to get angry, then go ahead. I'm an adult and don't care about petty people. I forgive you!" After Vivian finished speaking, she leisurely turned around and went downstairs again.

BANG!

When Julian heard Vivian's words, he angrily raised his hand and pushed all the things on the table out. The things on the table instantly scattered all over the floor. There was a burst of noise.

After an unknown period of time, there was another wave of footsteps at the door. Julian looked at the door and shouted crazily, "Get lost! All of you get lost!"

"Young Master. . ." Ruby's soft voice came from beside his ear. Ruby looked at the things scattered on the floor and still walked in.

Hearing her voice, Julian sneered, "You are also here to see me make a joke, right? I have gotten my retribution now. The happiest person is you, right? You go! Go! I don't want anyone to pity me!"

Julian, who suddenly became blind, could not accept the fact that he was blind.

How did he treat Ruby in the past? He knew very well that AFTER he had become like this, She must be the happiest in her heart!

He had gotten his retribution!

What could make her happier than this?

Even Vivian had said those words to him!

How could this girl who had been raped by him truly feel sorry for him?

Ruby looked at his unfocused eyes and then looked at the things on the ground. She silently walked into the study and picked them up one by one and placed them on his desk. She then took the broken bottle and the cleaning tools to clean them all. Then she walked in front of him and said, "Young master, it's time to eat dinner. Where do you want to eat?"

Julian did not expect that not only did she not leave, she even helped him tidy up the desk. He leaned his body into the leather chair and closed his eyes tiredly.

"Go ahead and eat. I don't want to eat anything!"

He had no appetite at all, so he could not eat anything!

"But everyone is waiting for you. . ."

"I said I don't want to eat! Didn't you hear me?" Julian suddenly lost control of his emotions. He reached out and pushed all the things on the table out again.

"Ah. . ." A small piece of glass on the desk was pushed out by Julian. It hit the back of Ruby's hand and flew out again. A bloody wound instantly slid down the back of the hand.

"What's wrong with you?" Hearing her soft cry, Julian realized that he might have hurt her, so he immediately asked anxiously.

Seeing Julian's nervous expression, Ruby lightly blinked her eyes and then slowly said, "Young Master, it's fine! Everyone in the family is waiting for you. Can you go down and eat? You haven't eaten in three days. If you continue like this, your body will collapse."

"Then have you eaten?" Hearing her soft voice, Julian's anger was lessened by a lot. He was indeed a little hungry, but he did not want to go downstairs to eat.

"No. . ."

"Then go down and bring me and your food up. I want to eat here! You accompany me."

"Okay. . . Wait a moment, I will go and get it right away." When Ruby heard that he was finally willing to eat, she quickly turned around and left the study.

In these three days, Daphne had been thinking of ways to persuade her son to eat. But no matter what she said, her son was still unwilling to eat.

In these three days, Julian kept himself locked in the study. However, Daphne didn't expect that tonight Ruby actually told her that her son was going to have dinner!

Although Julian was not eating downstairs, he was finally willing to eat. It was a great thing for her.

Daphne immediately prepared dinner for her son personally. She packed some more dishes and put them on the tray along with Ruby's. She let Ruby carry it upstairs.

Looking at the back of this girl, Daphne was still a little worried as she chased to the second floor and called Ruby to stop.

"Ruby, during this period of time, concentrate on serving the Young Master. I see that he does not reject you. If he has anything he wants to eat. . . Tell me. If his attitude towards you is too much, don't take it to heart. Okay?"

Daphne was a smart person. Before Julian went blind, she had already smelled the unusual atmosphere between the two of them. Now that her son's eyes could not see, Daphne could only pretend that she did not know anything.

"Yes! Madam, don't worry. . ." Ruby nodded and carried the food upstairs.

Because Julian could not see anything, Ruby put all the food on the coffee table and helped him to the sofa to sit down. She took the chopsticks to his hand but Julian avoided it.

"You feed me!" Another reason he did not want to eat was that he could not see anything. He did not want to sit in the dining room and be looked at by everyone like a blind man. Now that only Ruby was by his side, he did not have to worry about anything.

"But. . . Okay. . ." Ruby touched his hand and nodded with a soft heart.

Because Ruby fed him dinner, Julian ate very well. He even ate all the food. Daphne looked at the plate that Ruby carried down and praised Ruby happily.

When Vivian heard Daphne's words, she curled her lips in disdain.

This night, Julian really could not bear it. He prepared to return to his and Vivian's bedroom to sleep. Ruby helped him to the side of the bed and to sit down before quickly leaving the room.

Vivian looked at the door of the room and closed it. Lying on the bed and looking at Julian on the other side, she said slowly, "I think you should go to your little lover's place to sleep. If you wake up in middle of the night, I will not help you to go to the bathroom!"

In the past, Julian was healthy. But now he could not see anything. If he woke up in the middle of the night, she didn't want to wake up in middle of her sleep with her big belly before taking him to the bathroom.

"Help me to the bathroom? Isn't it what you should do? Come over and help me take off my clothes!" Hearing Vivian's words, Julian's heart was filled with indescribable anger. He deliberately ordered her to come and help him.

"You can't see it with your eyes, and it's not like your hands and feet are broken. You want me to help you take off your clothes? I am pregnant with your child!" Vivian listened to his words and lay motionless on the bed. She deliberately spoke to enrage him.

"You. . . Vivian, don't go too far!"

"How am I going too far? My body is indeed inconvenient. It's not like you don't know? Just now when I went upstairs, I was so tired that I was out of breath. It was not easy for me to lie down on the bed to rest, and you asked me to do this and that again. You clearly can do it yourself, so why do you still need my help?"

"Alright!" Julian stood up angrily. He fumbled around the bedside and walked out.

Vivian saw him finally walk to the door and did not forget to remind him. "Don't forget to close the door for me!"

Julian angrily fumbled around the door and closed it with a bang.

Vivian looked at the door and pursed her lips.

Ruby ran out of the room and saw Julian walking along the corridor towards her door. She immediately went over to help him. "Young master, why did you come out?"

Julian grabbed her hand. "Ruby, can you stay with me tonight?"

Ruby did not say anything. She supported him into her room and took him to the bedside to sit down. She helped him take off his clothes and helped him lie down in the bed before lying down beside him.

Once Ruby laid down, Julian reached out and hugged her. He gently placed his chin on top of her head and looked at the boundless darkness in front of him and said faintly. "Ruby, I'm sorry. Can you forgive me?"

"Young Master. . ." Ruby moved in his arms. She did not understand why he suddenly wanted to say such words to her.

"I should not have done that to you in the past! I'm sorry! Can you forgive me? I was wrong! I was really wrong!"

"Young master, what happened to you?"

"Ruby, do you know that I have a Big Brother?"

"Yes. . . "

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 248 There Was No Medicine For Regret

“You may know that I have Big Brother, but you must not know that my current sister-in-law. . . She used to be my fiancée! Her name is Sarah Wilson, and her father was Patrick Wilson. He was the friend that was closer to my father even more than a blood brother. Nine years ago, my eyes were the same as now. Suddenly, I went blind. At that time, Sarah's father happened to be seriously ill. He donated his cornea to me before he died. That was how I was able to see the light again.”

“I was engaged to Sarah, even though she was only fifteen at that time. But from that year onwards, Sarah fell in love with me. In these nine years, she had always been by my side. I said don't go to west, she never goes west. I say that she doesn't look good in pink, she never wore pink. I say I want to eat beef noodles from the west of the city. No matter how far away the road is, she can still run to buy it for me. . .”

Julian looked at the endless darkness in front of him and said.

“In the past, I always felt that she was so stupid. She was so stupid that she didn't even have her own thoughts, just like a puppet. But no matter what I say, no matter how I treat her, she still likes me as always. She had always liked me for nine years! As your cousin, Vivian, I'm not afraid to tell you. Actually, she was my Big Brother's fiancée before. But I don't know why I was so obsessed at that time. I couldn't help but fall in love with her. In the end, I abandoned Sarah and married Vivian! After that, Sarah might not be willing accept the fact that I betrayed her, so she registered with my Big Brother in a fit of anger. So she became my sister-in-law. . .”

After saying that, Julian paused for a moment before continuing again.

“In the past, I always heard people say that people have done wrong in the present, will definitely face retribution in the future. But I never believed in this. I felt that it was my happiness, so I should fight for it! But after getting married, I began to realize. . . What I lost before was true happiness. I always thought that I didn't like Sarah. Later on, I found out that I really liked her! That kind of love surpassed Vivian's! But in this world, there are all kinds of medicines. However, there was no medicine for regret! The first day you came to our house, I took away your innocence! Now my eyes can't see anymore. The doctor said that he missed the best treatment time, but I feel that it is definitely not! Ruby. I have received retribution. The cornea I received nine years ago has come to take revenge on me now."

In a month's time, Julian's eyes did not show any signs of improvement.

Because his son's eyes suddenly went blind, Ethan must take over all the work Julian had, although he also gave a lot of work to his vice president. But the workload is still a lot heavier. Every night, Ethan would bring back a lot of documents and would stay in the study all the way until very late at night.

Daphne looked at her husband in the study and then at her son who locked himself in the study every day. She felt as if a knife was twisting in her heart. But no matter how unbearable it was, she had to think of a way.

Every day, Daphne would run out to find a doctor and ask for medicine for her son. She wished she could bring all the medicine in the world back and let her son take it once.

But no matter how many medicines there were. . . It was useless. Julian's eyes still couldn't see anything. In the end, when he heard the word take medicine, Julian would throw things away in anger.

After Ethan heard about it, he stopped his wife's actions. Daphne, who was unwilling, even ran to the temple on the mountain to burn incense and pray to Buddha. However, no matter how many times she knelt and begged, her son's eyes were still the same as before. In the end, even she herself fell into despair.

But a mother was still a mother. No matter what she did to others, she did her best to treat her own son. When she thought about how Julian could see the light again as long as he had a suitable cornea, Daphne went to every big and small hospital in the city and even asked someone to keep an eye on her in the hospital in the outer province. If there was a suitable cornea, she must inform her.

But even though she had put in so much effort, there was still no suitable cornea!

One month passed just like that. . .

Julian slowly adapted from the initial helplessness and despair. Ruby spent this one month with Julian.

Julian, who had suddenly lost his sight, had become very irritable. That was why many things in the study had been taken away. In this one month's time, no matter how hard Ruby and Daphne worked, Julian was unwilling to go downstairs.

He could not accept the fact that he had become blind! He also didn't want others to look at him with strange eyes!

He even felt that his life had started to become hopeless. He started to ask his family members for drinks non-stop. At first, no one gave it to him, so he went to find Vivian. He knew that that woman had a bad heart, so she definitely liked to see his dispirited look. But he did not mind these things. He just wanted to use alcohol to numb his life. If getting drunk could make him temporarily forget the pain of losing his sight, he would rather get drunk to the end and never wake up again. . .

Vivian heard that he wanted to drink with her, so she took advantage of the fact that the people from Cooper Family were not paying attention and gave him two bottles. With the wine, Julian began to use alcohol to anesthetize himself.

When Ruby smelled the smell of the wine, she realized that he had already drunk a lot. She reached out to grab the bottle in his hand, but he pushed it away.

"Get lost! Don't pretend in front of me, you guys who are adding insult to injury. . . Get lost. . ." The longer he went blind, the more irritable his temper became.

Ruby told Daphne about Julian's drinking. After knowing about this, Daphne ran over in a panic but she still could not snatch the bottle. She watched her son shrink in a corner of the study room, holding the bottle in his hand and gulping down mouthful after mouthful of wine. Daphne's heart felt as if it was being cut by a knife.

Ruby stood by the side and looked at Julian in the corner, biting her lips slightly.

During the month when Julian went blind, no one told Sarah. Her life was still the same as before. Every day, Christian would still call her. Samantha would accompany her every day. Jasmine and David would also occasionally come over to see her and chat with her.

Although she was lying on the bed, Sarah's life was not lonely. In this one month's time, she had already started to get off the bed and walk. Although there were more than ten stitches on her legs and her arms were also covered with plaster, but she felt that if she didn't exercise, it would definitely be bad for the child in her stomach. So she insisted on walking back and forth in the ward every day for a short while.

This morning, her mother helped her walk for a little while before Sarah got on the bed. She laid down in the bed and looked at the fruit at the bedside and said to her mother, "Mom, I want to eat some orange. . ."

"Okay, I will peel it now." Samantha listened to her daughter and took two orange pieces into the kitchen by the side.

Sarah looked at her mother's figure and smiled. She put her hand on her stomach and wanted to say a few words to the person in her stomach every day.

However, before she could say anything, she saw the door of the ward being pushed open and a girl in her twenties walked in.

"Miss, who are you looking for?"

Sarah had never seen this girl before, so she felt that she must have walked into the wrong room.

Samantha heard her daughter's voice and immediately walked over. She looked at the girl in front of her and asked, "You are here to see the patient, right? Can't you find the patient?"

Samantha also felt that she must have walked into the wrong room.

The girl nervously closed the door and walked in front of Samantha. She nervously pinched the corner of her clothes and asked: "May I ask if this is Sarah Wilson's ward?"

Samantha immediately nodded and looked at her in confusion, "Yes! Miss, how do you know my daughter's name?"

"Auntie, my name is Ruby! I am the new servant of Cooper Family. . ." Ruby looked at Samantha and answered truthfully.

"Oh. . . Then what are you doing here? Could it be that something happened in the Cooper Family?" Samantha asked nervously.

Hearing this, Ruby lowered her head as well. "Yes. . . That. . . Young Master's eyes. . . Can't see anymore. . ."

"Young Master? You are saying. . ."

"It's Julian!"

Sarah looked at her in shock. "You said that Julian's eyes can't see anymore? What do you mean?"

"Yes, what exactly happened?" Samantha also anxiously asked.

"Young Master's eyes. . . Are blind!"

"Ah? How is this possible?" Samantha opened her eyes wide in disbelief. She instantly thought of her husband.

"Ruby, quickly come over and tell me what is going on. Why Julian's eyes went blind?"

Ruby looked at Sarah on the bed. Just like what Julian had told her, she looked very kind. Ruby's eyes flashed and she walked quickly to Sarah's bed. She knelt down with a plop and tears flowed out. "Young Madam, I beg you to help Second Young Master!"

Samantha looked at Ruby and hurriedly reached out to help her up, "Oh my, you child, how can you kneel down just like that? Quickly get up!"

Ruby knelt and did not move. "Young Madam, if you do not agree to me, I will continue kneeling!"

Sarah immediately nodded her head, "I promise you! I promise you! Quickly get up!"

When Sarah heard her words, she nodded her head continuously.

Only then did Ruby stand up. Samantha let Ruby sit down by the bed. She looked at the girl and slowly asked, "Child, what exactly is the matter with Julian's eyes? Tell me more details!"

Although Julian had done many things to let down her daughter in the past, he was still Ethan's son no matter what. So Samantha still cared about his condition.

"Second Young Master's eyes were a little dull a month ago. At that time, he had gone to the hospital to take a look. The doctor prescribed some medicine for him. He even took some eye medicine. But suddenly, one day, the young master's eyes could no longer be seen. When he woke up in the morning, he thought it was at night. Later, when he went downstairs, he found out that his eyes could no longer be seen. That morning, Madam found the best ophthalmologist to take a look at the young master's eyes, but the examination results said that the young master missed the best treatment time. The eyes could no longer be restored, saying that if he wanted to see something again. . . Unless there is a suitable cornea. . ."

"Didn't the doctor prescribe some medicine before this?"

"Yes!"

"The doctor had an accident in the hospital and left long ago. The Young Master was misdiagnosed by the doctor. At that time, the madam didn't believe the specialist's diagnosis and brought the second young master to another hospital to check a few more times, but the results were all the same. The young master's eyes could no longer be seen."

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 249 Sarah, I Am Sorry

Sarah's eyes dimmed when she heard Ruby's words. She shook her head in disbelief. "How could this be? How could this happen? How is Julian now?"

With Julian's confidence, losing his sight this time would definitely be a huge blow to him.

"He is very dispirited now. He keeps himself locked in the study every day. He hasn't gone downstairs for a month. He doesn't even eat. He doesn't even change his clothes. Two days ago, he had gotten wine from somewhere and kept drinking in the study. Young Madam, his eyes could not see, but his spirit could not continue to collapse like this. I know that he has always liked you. Now, the only one who can help him is you, Young Madam. I beg you to help Second Young Master. . ." Ruby said as she tightly grabbed Sarah's hand and kept begging.

"What about Second Madam?" Even if Julian lost his understanding, Vivian was still by his side.

Ruby bit her lower lip slightly. "Second Madam is pregnant now and can't care less about Second

Young Master. . ."

"But. . . How do you want me to help him? You also know my current situation. . ." Sarah looked at her helplessly. Even if she had that heart, she did not have the strength.

"I know! I only hope that you can call him to comfort him?"

"Call him? But what if he doesn't answer?"

Ruby heard Sarah's words and immediately took out her phone from her pocket. She handed it to Sarah and said, "Young Madam, put your phone number in. I will call you later. You can just call my phone in the future. Wait till I return to the villa. I'll call you, and then I'll let the young master answer. Do you think this is okay?"

Sarah nodded and quickly put her phone number into the phone. She pressed the dial button and soon her phone rang.

"It's done! It should be okay now, right?"

Ruby immediately looked at her gratefully and nodded. "Thank you, Young Madam! Thank you!"

Samantha looked at the girl who was nodding gratefully and said with some emotion, "It is hard for you to think so highly of Julian. Ruby, you are a good child! You have also seen Sarah's situation. Other than calling him, we can't help with anything else for the time being. But if there is anything we can help Julian with, you should try to call us and tell us. Do you understand?"

"Thank you, Auntie! Thank you!" Ruby said and stood up with her phone. She looked at the mother and daughter in front of her and bowed. "Auntie, Young Madam, I will go back first."

"Okay, let's go back! Remember to call me if you need anything!"

Ruby nodded and turned around to leave Sarah's ward.

Samantha sent her out of the room and walked back to the ward. She then walked to her daughter's bedside and sat down. "Sigh, why did Julian suddenly go blind? It has always been fine. If your father knew about this. . ."

Sarah looked at her mother's expression and raised her hand to pat her mother's hand to comfort her.

"Mom, Dad has already tried his best. Don't be sad anymore."

Samantha shook her head, "I am not sad. She just felt a little regretful. In the past, Julian did not treat you very well. I also knew that every time you see him, your heart would not feel good. But now that he is like this, you should relax a little and forgive what he did in the past."

Sarah heard her mother's words and smiled faintly and nodded. "Mom, I know! Last time, Christian also told me. Actually, sometimes he is still grateful to Julian because if it wasn't for him abandoning me, I wouldn't have married Christian. Although Julian had indeed done too much to me in the past, he was already like this now. I won't argue with him anymore. Mom, don't worry."

"Okay, that's good!" Samantha nodded in relief.

Ruby very quickly returned to Cooper Family. When she left, she received Daphne's permission. When she found out that Ruby was going to the hospital to look for Sarah's help, Daphne felt an indescribable gratitude towards this girl and specially instructed the driver to send her to the hospital.

Although Daphne did not like Sarah, at this time, she already could not care about that much.

Seeing the car stop in the yard, Daphne quickly ran to the living room door and nervously looked at Ruby who was walking over. She asked, "Ruby, what did Sarah say? Did she not agree?"

"Madam! Young Madam agreed!"

"That's great! Then hurry up and go up now!"

"Yes!"

Ruby immediately went upstairs quickly.

Vivian was eating snacks on the sofa and looking at Ruby's back, she did not know what the later had just run out for. She held her waist and stood up, preparing to go upstairs to take a look. Just as she took a few steps, she was stopped by Daphne.

"Vivian, accompany mom and chat for a while on the sofa. My heart is stifled and uncomfortable." Daphne was worried that her daughter-in-law would go up and ruin Sarah's call so she brought Vivian back to the sofa and sat down.

Vivian unwillingly looked at the stairs but still followed mother-in-law back.

When Ruby walked to the study room, she saw that Julian had already finished drinking and was sitting on the floor asking for wine to drink. Two bottles of wine were thrown onto the floor not far away. Ruby carefully walked over and sat down beside him.

"Young master. . ."

Once he heard Ruby's voice, Julian grabbed her hand. "Ruby, can you get some wine for me to drink? I know you are the best to me. Ruby, quickly help me get the wine! Go quickly! "

Ruby took out her phone and quickly dialed Sarah's number. The phone only rang for a moment before it was connected. Sarah's voice came from the other end of the phone and Ruby immediately placed the phone by Julian's ear.

"Julian, I am Sarah. . ."

The voice from the phone was so familiar that it could not be more familiar. Julian, who was holding Ruby's arm, suddenly froze. He looked in front of him blankly.

"Sarah?"

"Julian, it is me. I'm so bored in the hospital. Can you chat with me?"

"You also know that my eyes can't see, right? Sarah, I have gotten my retribution now. Are you very happy? You are very happy, right?"

The current Julian was indescribably sensitive. He thought about how Sarah usually wished not to even see him, so how could she call and chat with him? Just thinking about it, he knew that she definitely knew about his situation. So she called.

"Julian, I know you're feeling very uncomfortable and painful right now, but the hospital didn't sentence you to death. As long as you have a suitable cornea, you can still see the light just like nine years ago!"

"I have done so many things to you, do you still want me to see the light again? Aren't you the happiest now? Nine years ago, Uncle Wilson donated the cornea to me. Only then did I see everything again. But in these nine years, I never knew to cherish you. Nine years later, I betrayed you, and now I couldn't see with my eyes. Hehe, Sarah, you should be the one who should be happy the most. I really got my retribution. Are you happy now?"

Sarah heard his words and sighed lightly. "No matter what you did to me, you are still Christian's younger brother. You are also Dad's son. Julian, you have known me for nine years. Don't you know what kind of person I am in these nine years? I'm not in good health right now. So I can't go and see you. I think if Christian knows about you, he won't be happy either, because you're his younger brother. Julian, no matter what happened to us in the past, I won't be happy just because you can't see me. Julian, Cheer up a little, okay?"

"Even if you can't see it, you still have your family by your side. Today, the new maid, Ruby, came. Once she entered, she knelt beside my bed. Julian, Ruby is just a maid of Cooper Family, yet she wants to help you so much, let alone the others in the house. No one will be happy because you are blind. Do you understand?"

Julian took Ruby's phone and tears flowed down.

"Sarah. . . I am sorry. . . It was my fault in the past! I really shouldn't have done that! You. . . I was wrong. . . I was really wrong. . . I'm sorry. . ."

Julian started crying at the end of his sentence.

"The past is the past. . . We won't mention anyone else in the future, alright?"

"Then are you willing to forgive me? "

"I have already forgiven you a long time ago. Actually, I have never truly hated you!"

"Really? Sarah?"

"Of course it's true! Why would I lie to you? Julian, I can't even walk now, let alone get out of the hospital. Can you come to the hospital and see me?"

"Me?" Julian held his phone nervously. He did not know what to do when he thought about going out.

He didn't want to go out! He didn't even want to go downstairs! Not to mention going to the hospital outside!

"Anyway, you don't have anything to do now, so let Ruby bring you to the hospital to see me, okay?" Knowing that as long as he took the first step, his confidence would slowly recover, Sarah gently asked him over the phone.

"I . . . Can I really go and see you?" When Julian heard Sarah's words, his heart was somewhat shaken.

"Yes, I will wait for you in the hospital. Let Ruby bring you here. I will ask Mom to cook for us and make your favorite Coke chicken wings, okay?"

Hearing that she still remembered his preference, Julian's voice choked again, "Sarah. . ."

"I'll wait for you. Can you come quickly?"

Julian held his phone tightly and nodded. "Okay! F * ck! Wait for me!"

Julian returned the phone to Ruby when he heard Sarah put away the phone. He put his hand on the wall and stood up. "Ruby, I want to take a shower. I want to change my clothes! I want to see Sarah!"

A flash of surprise appeared on Ruby's face. "Okay, Young Master. I will immediately bring you bath water!" After saying that, she quickly left the study.

Daphne never would have thought that after Sarah would make a phone call, her son actually came down from upstairs. When she saw him walk down from upstairs dressed in a new set of clothes, this was the first time Daphne felt grateful towards Sarah.

She supported her son out of the living room and watched him sit in the car. She also reminded Ruby, who was beside her son, to take good care of him. Only then did she relax and let the driver start the car.

"Mom, what is Julian going to do now?" Vivian stood at the door of the living room and looked at the car that was leaving and asked Daphne in puzzlement.

"Ruby will take him out to relieve his boredom. . ."
Daphne did not tell Vivian the truth and turned around to enter the living room.

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 250 We Won't Let You Be Lonely

Vivian looked at the spot where the car disappeared and narrowed her eyes. She turned around and saw that there was no trace of Daphne at the door of the living room. She spat out a mouthful of saliva in disdain, "Stupid girl, I brought you to Cooper Family. I think you have given up on me. . ."

After muttering to herself, she turned around and walked into the living room.

The car arrived at Municipal Hospital very quickly. Once it was parked, the car stopped. Ruby got out of the car first and helped Julian get out of the car. She brought him to the hospital's main hall. The two of them quickly reached the floor where Sarah was hospitalized and came out of the elevator.

When they were about to reach the door of Sarah's ward, Julian stopped and asked Ruby nervously, "Ruby. Did you see how my clothes are? Did anything go wrong?"

Maybe it was because his eyes could not see it. At this moment, Julian hoped that in Sarah's eyes, he would still be the same as before.

Ruby held his hand and looked at him to encourage him gently, "Young Master! You are very handsome! As handsome as before!"

"Really?"

"Really! In front of us was Young Madam's ward. Let's go."

"Then. . . Alright. . ." Julian swallowed his saliva and followed Ruby.

When the door to the ward was pushed open, Samantha immediately came over and saw Julian walk in. She immediately invited him in warmly.

"Julian, you came? Come in quickly!"

"Auntie!" Julian looked at Samantha apologetically.

Samantha looked at his unfocused eyes and grabbed his hand. She took him to her daughter's bed and sat down.

"Julian!" Sarah looked at Julian in front of her. She could not even find where to start. Her heart felt like it was blocked by something.

Even if Julian had done something to her before, she had already completely forgiven him the moment she saw him like this.

"Sarah. . ." Julian reached out his hand and tried to grab Sarah's hand.

Sarah looked at him and reached out to grab his hand. "Why did you become so thin after not seeing you for a month?"

"Sarah. . . I got retribution, right?" Hearing her voice beside his ear, Julian looked in her direction and felt guilty.

Samantha heard what Julian said and immediately walked over. "Nonsense! What retribution? You work too long. Your eyes are different from others. You originally have a root of illness. As long as we wait patiently, we will definitely find the right cornea. At that time, you will be able to see everything again."

"That's right, Julian. What my mother said is right! Don't lose confidence in life just because you can't see anything for a moment. Think about your parents and your unborn child. Even if you can't see with your eyes, you are about to be a father. Don't you agree?"

Holding Sarah's hand, Julian felt a warmth in his heart that he had never felt before. He lowered his head in shame. "It's all because I'm too useless. I'm almost thirty years old and I still need my parents to worry about me. . ."

Samantha patted his shoulder. "Silly child, in this lifetime. Nine years ago when your Uncle Wilson left Sarah and me, I felt like the sky had collapsed. There was no hope in life. At that time, I also wanted to give up everything. But looking at Sarah, who was still so young at that time, if I really gave up, what should she do? Actually, you are the same now. In front of your father, you are a son. A while ago, your father was hospitalized with cerebral hemorrhage. Even if he had almost recovered, he was still old. If you continue to be dispirited, what will he do? And your unborn child, if you give up on yourself now, isn't that the same as giving up on him as well? Isn't that right?"

Julian once again nodded his head in shame. "Auntie, I was wrong. . ."

Samantha smiled and looked at Julian. "It is still early. You stay here and talk to Sarah. I will make some lunch for you."

"Thank you, Auntie."

"In any case, Sarah will not be able to leave the hospital for a while. If you like to come, you can come often to accompany her. Anyway, I am here too. We won't let you be lonely." Samantha smiled as she walked away.

Hearing Samantha's words, Julian's heart was filled with warmth. Thinking about how he treated the mother and daughter in the past and thinking about himself today, he suddenly felt ashamed.

Ever since Sarah started living here, she was worried about leaving her daughter to someone else to take care of. So every morning, Samantha would go to the nearby market to buy some vegetables, and the mother and daughter ate the three meals a day in the ward.

Because Julian had come today, Samantha made some more dishes in the afternoon and filled up the tea table by the side. Sarah got off the bed. She sat next to Julian on the sofa while Ruby sat beside Julian.

Sarah only realized a problem when she was preparing to eat. Julian's eyes could not see, and he did not know where the food was, let alone picking up the food to eat.

As if she could see the doubt in Sarah's heart, Ruby looked at her and said slowly, "Young Madam. You don't need to worry. I will help Young Master pick the vegetables."

After saying that, she first picked up some chicken wings and placed them by Julian's lips, "These are chicken wings made by aunty. Young Master, you can try it first. . ."

Julian nodded and opened his mouth to eat. After a while, the bones were spat out and Ruby immediately stretched out her hand. She caught the bone that he spat out and threw it into the trash can at the side. Seeing that there was a bit of oil on the corner of his mouth, Ruby picked up a tissue to help him wipe his mouth. She also picked up some vegetables and put them in the bowl in front of him. She first put the bowl into Julian's hands, then carefully put the chopsticks into his hands.

Sarah and Samantha saw that this girl was skillfully doing everything and were somewhat surprised. But no one said anything.

Samantha looked at Julian's bowl and picked up the chopsticks to give him some more food, "Julian. You need to eat more. Your body needs more nutrition, so that when we find the right cornea for you, the surgery will be more successful. Don't you think so?"

"Yes! Julian, you have to eat more!" Sarah also picked some vegetables for him.

"Auntie, the food you made today is really fragrant! It has been a long time since I have eaten such delicious food." Ever since he lost his sight for more than a month, nothing he ate tasted good. Sometimes, he would even throw up after eating it.

"Since you like it, then eat more! If you want to come in the future, Auntie will make it for you every day!"

Julian's hands paused when he heard Samantha's words. He looked in Samantha's direction. "Auntie, can I really come?"

"Of course! Ruby. In the future, you can bring them here every day, alright?"

Ruby immediately nodded her head, "Thank you, Auntie! I will!"

Julian had a very happy lunch. It was the first time he had been in a good mood ever since he went blind. Not long after lunch, because Sarah needed to rest, Julian still left reluctantly. Before he left, Samantha reminded Ruby to bring Julian here again tomorrow morning.

Ruby nodded and agreed. After saying goodbye to the mother and daughter, she left with Julian.

Samantha stood at the door and watched the two of them walk away. Then she turned around and entered the ward. She closed the door and walked to Sarah's bed and sat down.

"Mom, I think Ruby treats Julian quite well."

"Yes! That girl looked like a good child and did not have any bad intentions. It would be great if Julian could marry such a good girl. What a pity. . ."

Sarah heard her mother's words and smiled.

Julian did not say anything since he left Sarah's ward. He only held Ruby's hand tightly. It was as if he was afraid that the moment she let go, he would lose his direction in this world.

About thirty to forty minutes later, the car finally stopped in front of Villa of Cooper Family. Daphne heard the sound of the car and immediately ran out of the living room nervously. Seeing that Ruby had already helped her son out of the car, she immediately ran over. She held her son's arm.

"Julian, did you eat well this afternoon?" The thing that worried him the most was his eating problem. Ever since her son fell sick, he had never had a good meal.

"Mom, I'm fine." Julian answered his mother's words as he walked. His tone sounded very peaceful.

Daphne looked at Ruby on the other side and Ruby immediately replied, "Madam, when auntie heard that young master went, she specially made a lot of dishes that young master likes to eat. Young master really ate very well."

"Is that so? That's great! That's great!" Daphne nodded excitedly when she heard that.

"Mom, I'm a little tired. I want to go upstairs and rest! Ruby, accompany me!"

Daphne immediately let go of her son's hand when she heard that and looked at Ruby and said slowly: "Go! Support Young Master upstairs to rest! "

"Yes!" Ruby nodded and helped Julian up the stairs carefully.

When the two of them walked to the bedroom on the third floor, Ruby stopped and pushed open the bedroom door. Julian immediately grabbed her hand. "I am not resting here. I want to go to your room!"

After saying that, he stubbornly walked forward.

Ruby could only nod and take him to her own room. She helped him take off his shoes and helped him lie down on the bed.

"Ruby, come up and accompany me!" Julian looked in Ruby's direction and looked at her with anticipation.

"But. . . Okay. . ." Ruby bit her lower lip and looked at his helpless eyes. She still obediently lied beside him.

The moment Ruby laid down, Julian reached out and held her tightly in his arms. "Why did you go and beg Sarah? Why did you kneel to her?"

When he heard Sarah talk about this matter, Julian felt his heart ache for the first time, but more so, an indescribable warmth surrounded him.

After he went blind, he had always felt that everyone was watching him make a fool of himself, but he never would have thought that, at this moment, the girl in his arms, she actually did such a thing for him.

Ruby was silent for a moment and looked at his eyes for a while before saying: "I hope you can get better quickly. I don't want to see you like that all the time. .
."

"But even if I get better, I don't have a suitable cornea. I still can't see anything. What's the use of that?"
