

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 301 Be Careful Of Her

"We did, but Vivian never got off that car. She was wearing a hat and sunglasses. She was far away from the surveillance camera. We could only vaguely see a person sitting inside. We could not be sure that it was Vivian."

"It's impossible, isn't it? If Lucas transferred money to Felix, the bank card must be in Vivian's name. How could Lucas transfer such a large sum of money to Felix if she was not present on person?" Jasmine asked in disbelief.

"Before they transferred the money to Felix, Vivian transferred all the money to Lucas's name. The most important thing now was Lucas's statement. He insisted that the money was from Vivian which he took as a loan! Because there is no conclusive evidence, we can't do anything about it for now. We can only interrogate Lucas properly and see if we can get an opening from him."

"What if he refuses to admit it?"

"Vivian will escape from the law. . ."

Jasmine stood up angrily and could not swallow this anger no matter what. "Then I will investigate it myself! I don't believe that I can't find out!"

After saying that, she angrily walked out of Captain Brook's office.

Jasmine walked out of the police station and sat in her own car. Thinking about what happened just now, she was so angry that she wanted to throw everything away.

She took her phone, wanted to call Sarah. But when she thought about the situation of Cooper Family, she felt that it was not convenient to call now.

They were in a terrible situation. Without solid evidence, she could not give Sarah any more trouble.

Jasmine put the phone back. But when she thought about the matter again, she felt very angry. She sat in the car for a while. After thinking about it, she still picked up her phone and called Sarah.

"Sister. . ."

"Sarah, I want to tell you something. Is it convenient for you to talk now?"

"Yes, it is. Tell me, what is it?"

"Let me tell you. You have to be careful of Vivian in the future, okay?"

"What happened?" Jasmine suddenly mentioned about Vivian which made Sarah confused.

"Sarah, you have to listen to what I said. This woman has a bad heart! Your car accident might have something to do with her!"

Upon hearing Jasmine's words, Sarah asked in surprise, "Did you find any evidence?"

"Now it is because there is no evidence that she is free. If there is evidence, she would have gone to the jail long ago! But even if there is no evidence, this matter is 100% related to her. So you have to be more careful in the future, do you understand?"

"Okay, I got it, Sis."

"Is Vivian in the villa now?"

"No."

"Where did she go?"

"She went to the Cooper Group! "

"Go ahead then. I won't bother you anymore. "

"Goodbye, sister!"

"Goodbye!"

Jasmine retracted her line and squinted her eyes as she looked in front of her. Then, she quickly started the car and drove in the direction of the Cooper Group.

The car soon arrived at the square in front of the Cooper Group. Jasmine parked the car.

Just as she was about to get off the car, she saw a black Rolls-Royce stop in front of the lobby of the Cooper Group. A moment later, the door opened and a girl got out of the car first. The next person to get out of the car was Julian. After the Rolls-Royce drove away, Julian held the girl's hand and walked into the lobby. After a while, he disappeared.

Jasmine stood where she was and hesitated for a while. Finally, she sat back in the car gloomily.

No matter what, Julian's mother had just passed away for three days. It was somewhat unreasonable for her to disturb him now. With this thought in mind, Jasmine reached out and started the car. After a moment, she left again.

...

Ever since the male and female police detectives left, Vivian's heart had been in turmoil. She could not describe the uneasiness in her heart.

Before anything happened, Lucas had already become Julian's assistant driver. If Julian started to suspect her, then she would have no place in the Cooper Family in the future.

What should he do? What should he do?

No! It was not easy for her to reach this stage today. No matter what, she can't give up easily!

She raised her hand and patted her chest. She walked to the table and picked up her phone to call Hannah, the maid. She found out that Julian and Ruby had left the villa. So the two of them would probably be there soon.

Vivian thought for a moment and picked up her phone again. She found a familiar number and dialed it.

When the black Rolls-Royce stopped in front of the lobby of Cooper Group, the door had not opened yet, Ruby's phone rang. She took it out to take a look. It was her father.

Ruby looked at Julian, who was beside her, and pressed the reject button. She held Julian's hand and led him into the lobby.

It was not work time yet, so there were not many employees in the lobby. But when somebody passed by Ruby and Julian, the way they looked at the two of them was still a little strange.

After all, everyone knew Julian's wife was Vivian.

Julian was now holding hands with another woman in the company. Even if they knew that his eyes could not see, it would still make people let their imagination run wild.

Ruby ignored the gazes of these people and led Julian towards the elevator. They entered the CEO's elevator, door slowly closed and Ruby's phone rang again.

Ruby quickly picked it up to take a look. It was still her father's number. She reached out and pressed the reject button again. She thought that after the elevator arrived, she would call her father.

"Who called you? Why didn't you answer?" Although Julian was extremely depressed, he still cared about Ruby's matter.

"Oh, my dad called. I'll call him back when you reach the office later."

"It's fine. Call him now. Don't let the old man wait too long." Julian said slowly.

"I will call you when we reached the office." Ruby shook his hand.

"Does Uncle want you to go home again?" Knowing that Ruby's father did not have a good impression of him, Julian could not help thinking about the bad side when he heard that it was him calling.

"No way. . . Don't think too much. . . "

The elevator arrived very quickly. Ruby brought Julian out of the elevator. The phone in her hand rang again and again. She looked helplessly at it, pressed the reject button again and took Julian to his office.

When Ruby opened the door, she saw Vivian sitting in front of the table like a boss and handling documents.

Seeing the two people walking in, Vivian immediately stood up and greeted them.

"Julian, you are here? There are a lot of documents in the past few days. I think we will be busy today."

Vivian walked to Julian and helped him to sit down at the boss's table.

"Sister Vivian, I will go and make a call first." Seeing Julian sit down, Ruby felt relieved and greeted Vivian.

"Go! Go!" Vivian slightly waved her hand at her.

Ruby left Office of President and walked into the lounge by the side. She closed the door and call back for her father.

"Ruby! Your wings are hard now, right? Do you think you can abandon your parents now that you have Julian backing you?" Ruby's father quickly picked up the phone and angrily questioned her daughter.

"Dad, it was a little inconvenient just now, so I hung up."

"Not convenient? Even when your dad is dying, is it still inconvenient for you?" Ruby's father retorted angrily.

"Dad. . . I was wrong. . ." Ruby had no confidence in front of her father.

"Forget it, forget it. What could be wrong with you? The ones who were wrong were all your father! I shouldn't have asked you to be a servant of the Cooper Family! Tell me now, where are you?"

"Dad. . . I just arrived at the company. . ." Ruby originally wanted to lie, but thinking that her cousin Vivian was also here, she could only tell the truth.

"Julian went to the company to work?"

"Yes. . . "

The old man nodded and said, "Alright! Since he went to work at the company, you should come back. A few days ago, it was because his mother had just passed away, I asked Diego to take care of me for two days. Diego just called and said that he is going to work at the construction site in the city. Now, your father has no one to take care of him. Since Julian has already gone to the company, come back!"

"Brother Diego didn't go today?" Ruby heard her father's words and immediately asked worriedly.

"No! I haven't even eaten breakfast yet. Do you want Julian or your dad? You can decide for yourself!" After Ruby's father finished speaking, he hung up without waiting for Ruby to speak.

"Hello! Hello! Dad. . ." She anxiously shouted a few times. When she heard a blind sound coming from the phone, she quickly pressed dial button again.

However, after calling a few times, her father refused to answer her phone anymore. Ruby knew that her father must have been angry that's why he was not answering.

Ruby put away her phone and quickly returned to Office of President. Seeing Julian talking to Vivian about the documents, she walked over with some difficulty.

"Julian, there is something urgent at home. I want to go home now, is it okay?" Ruby looked at Julian and said with some difficulty.

Julian frowned and asked with some unwillingness.
"Why?"

"The neighbor who took care of my dad went out to work today. No one is there to take care of my dad right now. He hasn't even had breakfast yet. I just called him and he refused to answer. Can I go back first?"

Julian was silent for a moment. He wasn't in a good mood to begin with. He really did not want Ruby to leave, but hearing what she said just now, he felt a little helpless.

After thinking for a moment, he said slowly, "Do you think this will work? You can call your neighbor and I will pay for taking care of your father. It's ten times his current salary! Ask him!"

He was really unwilling to let Ruby leave him.

Ruby bit her lips awkwardly. "He went to work in a foreign province and has already left. My dad hasn't had breakfast yet and he has a very stubborn temper. I will go back and discuss with him first today, okay?"

Vivian kept staring at Ruby's face the whole time. Listening to what Ruby said, she kept silent. . .

"Alright. . . Then when are you coming back?"

"After making arrangements for my dad, I will come back. . . "

"Don't forget to find someone to take care of your dad. I'll pay for all the money! The other party can ask for any price!"

"Got it. . . "

Ruby quickly left the company and stopped a taxi by the roadside to go home.

Vivian stood by the window. Seeing Ruby's car disappear, she felt relieved and turned around. She looked at Julian who was sitting in the leather chair with a dejected look on his face.

Julian did not have any passion for work at all. He had just experienced the pain of losing his mother, and now even Ruby had returned home. He could not raise his interest in anything at all.

Working had become a form of torture for him.

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 302 The Case Has Some Progress

There was endless darkness and the pain in his heart. He even felt that what was the meaning of his life?

Vivian looked at his expression and her eyes flashed intensely. Taking a deep breath, she walked to the chair opposite him and sat down. She picked up a document on the table and said,

"Julian, this is the propaganda plan of the Planning Department. I have been waiting for your comments for the past few days. What do you think we should do?"

In all the documents, what made Julian the most helpless was the planning department. Because many of the proposals involved the design of pictures, he needed to personally look through them.

So every time this came, Ruby would explain it to him over and over again before he could truly understand it.

Julian thought of such a scene in his mind.

“Julian... Are you listening?” Vivian called out.

Julian listened to her and answered powerlessly.

"Didn't you know a little about art design in the past? You just have to do as you see fit for this plan."

He really didn't have the mood and energy to deal with these now.

"Alright! Then I will do as I see fit. But Julian. . . This proposal still needs a small meeting to facilitate me to directly communicate with the people in the planning department."

Julian immediately waved his hand. "You just need to do it. . . "

"But what identity do I have? After all, I have always been your assistant. Although my identity is Madam of President, a department manager like that will definitely look down on me. So Why don't you give me a position so that I can convince the public! "

Julian closed his eyes and leaned his head into the leather chair. He raised his hand and pressed it against his forehead. "Yes, you can. What kind of identity do you want?"

He wanted to hand over all the work, so he did not care what kind of position he gave Vivian.

"If you give me a manager position as well, I still think I am on equal footing with him. Why don't you do it this way? You give me a vice president position. This way, I can handle some small matters at work myself. You don't have to bother you every time when something happens. When Ruby comes back, I will hand over the position to you. What do you think?"

Julian impatiently raised his hand. "Alright, whatever. . ."

"Then do you need to inform them?"

"Okay!"

...

After Sarah returned home, she kept thinking about the phone call Jasmine gave her. She said that her car accident was very likely related to Vivian!

But how was this possible?

Thinking back to the story between her and Vivian, Vivian was the one who snatched Julian away first. She did not owe Vivian from the beginning to the end. How could Vivian possibly want to kill her?

No matter how Sarah thought about it, she couldn't figure it out!

After lunch, Sarah fed the two children milk and coaxed the two little babies to sleep together with Maternity Matron. Just as she wanted to rest, she heard her phone ring. Sarah immediately picked it up and pressed the answer button.

"Hello, may I ask if you are Ms. Sarah Wilson?" The voice of an unfamiliar man came from inside.

"Yes, it's me. May I ask who you are?"

"I am from the City Criminal Police Brigade. Your car accident case has some progress. Can you come to the police station? We have something to discuss with you."

"Do you want to come now?"

"Yes."

"Okay, I will be there in a moment."

Sarah put away her phone and went out of the bedroom to check on Benjamin. Seeing that he had returned to the bedroom to take an afternoon nap, she instructed the servants to take care of the house. Then tell the driver at home to take her to the police station.

On the way, Sarah first took out her phone and called Christian. The matters at home had finally settled down. No matter what, she could not let him change his career!

The phone quickly connected. Christian's voice came from inside, "Sarah! Is there anything wrong at home?"

He was afraid that something else would happen at home. When he saw Sarah's phone call, he was a little nervous.

Sarah slowed down her voice, "It's fine! I just wanted to ask you, did you give the chief your resignation application?"

"I've been busy since I came back. I was just about to look for the chief."

Christian's troops happened to be in time for the drill. He had been dealing with things ever since he returned to the army. He had been busy all the way until now, and he hadn't even had lunch yet.

In fact, under such circumstances, he knew very well that. . . Even if he really submitted the resignation application to the Bureau Chief, the Bureau Chief would definitely not let him go!

"Don't go looking for the chief! Today, Julian went back to work. In the morning, when I took grandpa to the hospital, we saw my mother has been taking care of Dad. She said that she would take care of Dad in the future, so whether it was the company or the hospital, they've all been resolved."

"Christian, you can't change your career! Don't think about anything for now, just do your job in the army. If the Cooper Group really can't hold on any longer, you don't need to mention it, I'll be the first to ask you to come back! Our family's current difficulties are only temporary. As long as we can hold on for this period of time, I think things will get better. So let's hold on a little longer, alright?"

The Cooper Family was indeed facing some difficulties right now. However, these difficulties were only temporary.

She didn't wish for Christian to suffer because of the current difficulties. He could not give up his dream, his life.

"Sarah, you didn't lie to me?" Christian asked in disbelief.

"You will know when you have time in the afternoon to call grandpa. Why would I lie to you at a time like this? My mom usually has nothing to do anyway. She already knew your dad. Now, the only person who can take care of Dad like Aunt Daphne is my mom. She can tell Dad about the family matters. My mom is a meticulous person. So you don't have to worry about the hospital matters."

"Sarah, thank you! Thank you so much. In the past, I wanted you to marry me, so that I can give you happiness. Who would have thought that since we got married until now, our family has been in constant trouble. As the eldest son of the family, I can't do anything. . . I'm sorry. . ."

Christian felt an unspeakable guilt in his heart. He felt as a son and a husband, he hadn't done anything for his family and his little wife.

Sarah heard his words and smiled. She knew him very well.

Although he didn't show it on his face, the current incidents had also affected him deeply.

She looked at the disappearing street view outside the window and smiled.

"Christian, didn't you say that if you work properly this year, you will be transferred here the next year? So don't worry about anything. I believe in the family. It will get better and better. There is nothing that cannot be crossed in the Blazing Mountain. You have to work hard! Don't let us down. Alright?"

"Okay! I won't let you down!"

"Then you go ahead with your work. I'll call you tonight."

"Okay."

Sarah hung up and saw that they had not yet reached the Criminal Police Brigade. She picked up her phone to find Jasmine and dialed her number again.

"Sarah."

"Sister, did you tell anyone about the car accident?"

"Not yet."

"What about Mr. David?"

"He didn't even have the time to hear anything from me."

"Then I'll make a request to you."

"Okay, say it."

"Don't tell anyone about this for the time being, okay?"

"Why?" Jasmine really did not understand.

"You also know that the house is already chaotic enough. I don't want to make everyone sad because of this matter anymore. . ."

Currently, the Cooper Family was on the verge of collapsing. If the truth about the accident disclosed again, given Christian and Julian's character, who knew what kind of storm would arise.

"So you mean that we will never pursue this matter?" Jasmine asked with a little anger.

"We will talk about it later. . ."

"Okay. . ."

"I'll hang up first. Bye, Sis! "

"Bye bye."

Sarah put away the line and looked out the window to let out a breath. Actually, whether Vivian had anything to do with her car accident or not, she did not want to pursue it now.

It was not because she was too weak, but it was because the Cooper Family had finally stabilized a little. She didn't want to make people anxious before she obtained solid evidence.

The car arrived at municipal police station very soon.

Sarah got out of the car as soon as the car was parked and quickly went to Captain Brook's office, who was in charge of this case.

Once Sarah walked in, Captain Brook warmly invited her to sit down.

"How's your health recently?" Captain Brook smiled as he sized her up.

Sarah smiled. "Yes, I'm fine now. Did Captain Brook ask me to come because he found out something?"

Hearing Sarah's words, Captain Brook's face became slightly serious. "I called you here because I wanted to tell you about your case. Vivian is your sister-in-law, right?"

Sarah nodded, "Yes! Is she really related to this case? "

"We are only suspicious now, but we do not have direct evidence to prove that she is indeed related to this case. You are not unfamiliar with Lucas, right?"

"Yes. He is Julian's assistant driver."

"He's the one who told Felix to hit you."

Sarah was a little surprised when she heard that.

"Why did he do that?"

She didn't even know Lucas, other than him being Julian's driver.

"He told me that he wanted to get some insurance money. They knew the Cooper Family was rich, so they targeted you. But the accident happened at a crossroad. So this reason doesn't make sense. We've interrogated him for a few days and nights, but he's very stubborn. Furthermore, we do not have direct evidence to prove that Vivian is related to this case. That is why we called you here today to make you mentally prepared."

Hearing Captain Brook's words, Sarah nodded. Without solid evidence nobody could do anything, even if he was a criminal police officer.

Sarah looked at Captain Brook and asked. "How many years will Lucas be sentenced to?"

"Ten to fifteen years. This will depend on the court's judgment. "

"If Lucas puts all the blame on himself, what will happen to Vivian?"

"She will get away with it! That's why I called you here today to remind you!"

Sarah nodded. "Okay, I understand. Thank you, Captain Brook."

"You're welcome. This is what we should do."

...

Although he had arrived at the company, Julian's heart did not really calm down. Plus, Ruby had returned her home at this time, so his spirit was even worse.

Under Vivian's request, he gave a notice about the appointment of Vivian as the vice president in the company. Actually, he wanted her to give this position to avoid from all his works. He didn't want to do anything now.

Julian did not think much about it. To him, Ruby would at most stay at her home for a few days. When Ruby came back in a few days, his condition would definitely be much better. At that time, he would remove Vivian, the vice president. It was not a difficult matter.

Julian was not in the mood to manage the company's matters, but if he did not come to the company, his family didn't feel safe either. And he also didn't want Christian to change his career. So coming to the company was only to give his family a little comfort.

But no one knew that his condition was really terrible to the extreme. Being unable to see with his eyes was already a great torment for him. Now that the mother who loved him the most had left the world, when he thought of his mother. . . His heart ached. . .

It was heart-wrenching pain!

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 303 All Of The Power Was In Her Hands

Ever since Ruby returned home, she had never returned. So every day, Vivian would follow Julian to the company.

Because of her position as the vice president, many documents in the company were slowly transferred to her hands.

The second day after she became the vice president, Vivian changed the reception room next to the CEO's office to her own office and told Julian the reason why she did this.

She did not want to disturb Julian all the time, so she arranged an office for herself.

Julian did not care about this kind of thing at all. Every day when he arrived at the company, he would enter his lounge. He would either lie down and sleep, or sit quietly by himself.

Sometimes, when he sat down, it would take him half a day. . .

His mother's death had dealt a huge blow to him. In the past, when Ruby was not by his side, he would think of looking for her. But now, he did not even have this bit of passion.

Julian's decadent attitude made Vivian see the hope of her life.

Seeing Julian hiding in his lounge, she specially asked someone to buy some wine and add some sleeping pills into the wine. Every day when she came to the company, she would give Julian a bottle.

Every time Julian drank less than a third, he would fall asleep on the floor.

Today was the eighteenth day of Daphne's death. It was also half a month after Julian went to work.

In this week's time, Sarah rarely saw Julian's shadow in the villa, because he and Vivian came back very late every day.

Sarah knew that the company was under a lot of pressure, so in the beginning, she did not pay much attention to it. But in half a month's time, Julian actually came back so late every day. Thinking about the car accident, Sarah became a little suspicious.

So after dinner today, after the two children were coaxed to sleep and the rest of the family also went to sleep, Sarah waited in the living room alone for Julian and Vivian to come back.

As time slowly passed, Sarah kept yawning, so she watched a television program to ease her boredom.

When it was 12: 30 in the morning, Sarah finally heard the sound of a car in the yard. She immediately stood up from the sofa and walked to the door of the living room.

The door was opened and Vivian helped Julian out of the car. When she saw Sarah at the door, Vivian felt a little nervous. But thinking about this woman was not her match at all, Vivian reached out to grab Julian's arm and brought him into the living room.

From the moment Julian got out of the car, Sarah felt that something was wrong with him. Seeing his staggering steps, she immediately walked up to him, reached out and supported Julian's other arm.

Before she could open her mouth, she felt the smell of alcohol assailing her face. Sarah looked at Julian and frowned. As she walked, she looked at Vivian and asked, "What's wrong with him? Why is he reeking of alcohol?"

"He drank a little at noon." Vivian answered calmly.

Sarah listened to her and did not continue to ask. She helped Julian up the stairs with Vivian. Once they entered Vivian's bedroom, Julian lied down on the bed. He did not care about the clothes that he was wearing, turned over and fell into a deep sleep.

"Sister-in-law, go to sleep. I will take care of him."
Vivian said as she reached out to take off Julian's belt.

Sarah saw her actions and nodded silently. She turned around and walked out of the room.

The moment Sarah walked out, Vivian immediately walked over and pressed the lock. These few days, in order to not let the family see Julian's appearance, she specially came back very late. She even let him sleep in her own room.

These few days before coming back, she would call or send a text message to Hannah every time. But she did not expect that it was already 12: 30 in the morning today and Sarah was still waiting for them in the living room.

She did not know if Julian's appearance had aroused Sarah's suspicion. Vivian felt more or less uneasy in her heart

After breakfast the next day, Vivian brought Julian to the company as usual. Before leaving, she also reminded Hannah to keep an eye on Sarah. If Sarah went out, Hannah must tell herself.

Not long after breakfast, Sarah first fed the two children milk. Seeing that the time was about right, she then greeted her family. She said that she wanted to go to the hospital to see Ethan. Only then did she sit in the car and leave Villa of Cooper Family.

Seeing Sarah's car leave, Hannah immediately went into her room and called Vivian. Hearing that Sarah went to the hospital, Vivian's heart relaxed.

But in order to ensure that there would not be any problems, when Vivian arrived at the company today, she ordered people to take all the bottles away. She even asked Julian to work at the boss's table.

Sarah's car drove for a distance before she let the driver change the road and go to the company. If the previous case of Lucas was really related to Vivian, then she had to be 120% vigilant and go to see how the company was doing now.

The car soon arrived at Cooper Group.

Sarah came out of the car. She did not go directly to Julian's office, but went to the other departments of the company.

She used to be Julian's secretary. That was why many people in the company knew her. Knowing her good temper, they happily chatted with Sarah.

Sarah stayed in Cooper Group for more than two hours. Every time she chatted with a company employee, Sarah discovered a new thing.

Sarah never would have thought that. . . In this short half a month, Vivian had already taken over all of Julian's work. She had also trained some of her capable subordinates in the company. Almost all of the power in the company was in Vivian's hands!

What made Sarah even more uneasy was that Vivian had been very close to the company's director Dowson Bates during this period of time. And this Dowson Bates had a large number of supporters in Cooper Group!

If it continued like this, the Cooper Group would very likely become Vivian's!

Such an understanding of the situation shocked Sarah!

Sarah walked out of the department and did not go to Julian's office. Instead, she took the elevator and went downstairs, leaving Cooper Group. She got in the car and ordered the driver to drive directly to Wilson Group.

From what Sarah knew just now, although Julian went to the company every day, he didn't deal with work matters.

Sarah could not understand it. In the past, Julian could not see with his eyes, but he still treated work very well. But ever since Daphne's accidental death happened, he could not raise his spirits anymore.

If Vivian took advantage of this time to take advantage of him, the Cooper Group might be in danger.

Now that Christian wasn't at home, Julian was in such a state. If she continued to ignore them, then the Cooper Group might very well be destroyed by Vivian's hands!

No way! Absolutely not!

The car soon arrived at the Wilson Group. Sarah took her bag and quickly walked into the company lobby. When she walked to the elevator, she thought for a while.

Sarah originally wanted to go and find Jasmine, but thinking about Jasmine personality, she would be more or less impulsive if she knew about it. So Sarah changed her mind and took the CEO's elevator directly to Syrus's office.

Because she was also the secretary here previously, everyone knew her. Although her identity was not made public, everyone knew that Syrus was very good to her. So no one stopped her.

When Sarah knocked on the door and walked in, Syrus was working on the documents in front of his table. When he saw Sarah walk in, he put down the pen in his hand. Syrus leaned his body into the leather chair and smiled.

"What brings you here today? Don't tell me you miss me?"

Sarah heard his words and smiled. She sat down on the chair opposite him. "Brother, I have something to talk to you about today."

"What is it?"

"You know about what happened in Cooper Family during this period of time, right?" Sarah asked.

Hearing Sarah's words, Syrus's expression changed slightly. He looked at her and nodded. "I know. Did something happen at home again?"

"It's not at home. It's the Cooper Group. On the fourth day of Aunt Daphne's death, Julian flew to work at the company. Vivian accompanied him to the company every day. I originally thought that Julian had already cheered up by now, but during this period of time, I discovered that he comes home very late every day. At first, I didn't really care, but last night, I waited until 12: 30 and only then did they come back."

"When I helped Julian up the stairs, I smelled the scent of alcohol on his body. I felt that something was wrong, so not long after the two of them went to work today, I went to the company as well. You should know that I was previously Julian's secretary in the Cooper Group. That's why many people know me."

When Syrus heard her words, his expression became much colder. He looked at Sarah and asked slowly, "What did you do in the company?"

"I went to a few departments to take a look and to understand Julian's performance in the company during this period of time. But when I heard about it, I was totally shocked."

"What happened?"

"Julian basically doesn't care about his work now. He sleeps every day when he comes to the company. He also appointed Vivian as the vice president. Almost all the work in the company was taken over by Vivian, and she was very close to the director, Dowson Bates. That person had always wanted his son to be the president. I'm worried now. If this continues, the Cooper Group will become Vivian's sooner or later."

"Ms. Jasmine had reminded me before. She told me to be careful of that Vivian, but I didn't think that much at that time. Now the situation has come to this point that I am scared. I know nothing about managing the company. That's why I came to find you."

Syrus nodded after he heard Sarah. He thought for a moment and said slowly, "You don't need to be in a hurry now. Even if Vivian takes over all the work now, she is not the chairman. There are some things that she does not have the right to do."

"But if it is as you said and she had allied with Dowson Bates, this matter is a little dangerous. After all, Chairman Cooper was currently unconscious, and with Julian's current condition. . . I am afraid that these people would do something to him. A single Vivian wouldn't be able to cause any big waves, but I know a little about that Dowson Bates. That person is an old fox. He is very close to Vivian now, so he is definitely using her. Fortunately, it has not been a long time.”

After Syrus said this, something suddenly occurred him and he looked at Sarah, “I have an idea. How about this, I'll pick you a director from the company. From tomorrow onwards, he'll accompany you to work at the Cooper Group as your assistant. I'll tell him everything about the company. As long as you appeared in the company, Vivian will restrain herself a little. But. . . don't you have two children to take care of now? ”

Syrus looked at Sarah worriedly at the end of his sentence.

"The kids are still very small. Now that Aunt Daphne isn't here, I can't leave them alone at home. I will think of a way. . ." Sarah sighed at the end of her sentence.

Syrus looked at her and thought for a while. "How about this, if you can understand the thoughts of the people of the Cooper Family, I will help you solve the child's matter."

"You're a man, how can you solve it?"

Syrus raised his eyebrows and looked at her with a smile. "I'm a man, but I can still think of a way. Although I can't feed the children, there's one thing I can do!"

"What is it?"

"Help the children find two wet nurses."

"Pfft! To think that you would think of this!" Sarah finally could not help but laugh when she heard his words. But she could not help but admire his thoughts in her heart.

If she could find a wet nurse who could feed the children, then she wouldn't have to worry about the children's problem.

"Don't be too nervous about this matter. I will get someone to find two wet nurse today. Starting tomorrow, you will go to the company to work."

After saying that, Syrus reached out his hand and pressed down on the company's internal line. He asked the secretary to call his most trusted man to his office.

Seeing that Syrus had finished instructing, Sarah looked at him and said, "Brother, you'd better change another person for me."

"Why?"

"That person is a top executive in Wilson Group. And you are making him an assistant of an employee like me. Won't it be an embarrassment for him?" Sarah felt that that person would not like to be her assistant.

Syrus smiled when he heard her. "He's called Jameson. He's my classmate and also my good friend. You don't have to mind his identity. Besides, he's only going to help you. Don't tell me you want to poach him to the Cooper Group in the future?"

Sarah couldn't help but laugh, "You are so charming. How can I have that ability?"

While the two of them were talking, Jameson walked into Syrus's office.

Jameson was a smart person. After Syrus explained to him, he immediately understood what had happened.

Jameson looked at Sarah and smiled. "Although Syrus is my superior, he is more of a brother for me. Since you are his cousin, I will also treat you as my cousin. So don't worry. Let's not talk about anything now. If there's anything you need, just tell me."

Sarah heard his words and laughed. She felt that this person had a good personality and was also very humorous. The pressure in her heart was reduced a lot.

Syrus looked at his good friend and said, "From what Sarah said, the current Cooper Group must be very complicated. After you go there, you should find out the situation first."

"Alright! I understand!"

Sarah was still a little uncertain when she heard what the two of them said. "But I will go to the company tomorrow. What kind of reason should I use? If I go there just like that, I will definitely be suspected."

As soon as Sarah's words fell, Syrus nodded in agreement. "What you said also makes sense! This is indeed a problem. . . "

Next to him, Jameson rolled his eyes. He looked at Sarah and asked, "Is Chairman Cooper still in the hospital?"

"Yes!"

"Who is taking care of Chairman Cooper now?"

Jameson asked again.

"My mother."

"The chairman still hasn't regained consciousness?"

Sarah shook her head. "No. . ."

Jameson immediately looked at Syrus. "I have an idea."

"Tell me."

...

The news of Sarah coming to the company quickly reached Vivian's ears.

Vivian thought about Sarah coming to the company but did not come to Julian's office. From what she knew, Sarah came this time, it must be because Sarah was suspicious of her.

Because Sarah understood the general situation of the company during this period of time, if not for the suspicion that she had, Sarah definitely wouldn't have come to the company like this!

Once this idea came out, Vivian immediately put it into action. She first gave Dowson a call, then went to his office.

"Sarah Wilson seems to be suspicious of me now. Did you know that she came to the company today?"

Vivian quickly locked the office door the moment she entered and walked to the sofa in the office to sit down.

Dowson nodded and looked at her and said slowly, "It seems that we need to take action a little earlier!"

"How should we do it?"

"Today, I will gather all the directors in the company. Tomorrow morning, I will hold a board meeting and propose to let you take the position of president. In any case, your ability to work during this period of time has been witnessed by everyone!"

"Okay! If I can really become the president, then things in the future will be easy to handle. . ." Vivian heard his words and felt an indescribable excitement in her heart.

If she could really become the CEO of Cooper Group, then would she be able to hold the entire Cooper Group in her hands in the future?

"But you don't have any shares in the Cooper Group. This is somewhat troublesome. . . If you also have the shares in the Cooper Group, then your prestige will rise very quickly. . ." Dowson paused for a moment, then continued again.

"Well I have an idea, I can help you. . ."

"What idea?"

With his eyes narrowed, Dowson got up, walked to Vivian's side and sat down. He touched Vivian's thigh with his big hand and said with a cunning smile.

"Whether I help you or not depends on your sincerity. . ."

With the touch, Vivian felt goosebumps all over her body.

Although she betrayed Julian and was with Lucas, it was not like she didn't have any bottom line in this aspect.

Vivian moved to the side in disgust and looked at him coldly. "You better behave yourself! If you provoke me, none of us will benefit from it!"

Dowson heard her words and laughed out loud. Then he got up and returned to his original position. He looked at her and said, "Let's see what you are angry about. I just want to test you. Now it seems that you are a person who can achieve great things. I am relieved."

"Then what did you mean by having an idea just now?"

"Come! Let me tell you!" Dowson signaled Vivian to lean forward and then lowered his voice.

Sarah went to the hospital first after coming out of the Wilson Group. When she walked into Ethan's room, she saw her mother massaging his legs. While massaging him, Samantha was telling him about the past.

"Sarah, why are you here?" Seeing Sarah walk in, Samantha stopped her movements and signaled Sarah to sit down.

"How is Dad?" Sarah took a chair and sat beside her mother. She looked at Ethan who was still lying quietly on the bed and reached out to gently hold his hand.

Samantha lightly sighed, "It's still the same as before. The various indicators of his body are clearly very good, but he just can't wake up, sigh. . ."

Sarah looked at Ethan who was on the bed. She said slowly as she held his hand, "Dad, don't keep sleeping, okay? Now that Aunt Daphne has left, Julian can't keep his spirits up. All the work has been handed over to other people. If you don't wake up soon. . . The Cooper Group will be taken away by people with ulterior motives. . . "

Sarah thought about what had happened at home during this period of time and sighed. Her voice was choked with sobs and she could not continue.

"Did something happen in the company?" Samantha asked nervously after hearing her daughter's words.

Sarah nodded, "Previously when Julian was going to the company to work, I always thought that he had already adjusted with the situation. But what is actually happening, I only knew after I went to the company today.”

“During this period of time, he only went to the company to relieve us. But in reality Julian isn’t doing anything. Now, all Julian’s works are being done by Vivian and she is gaining her foothold in the company. Furthermore, there is an old fox who is eyeing on the Cooper Group. And Vivian seems to be very close to that person. If it continues, sooner or later the whole Cooper Group will go into Vivian’s hands. . .”

Sarah paused for a moment and looked at her mother seriously, “The matter of my car accident last time has not been investigated clearly. Few days ago, Sister Jasmine called me and said that the mastermind behind my accident was Vivian. If it is really related to her, then the Cooper Group will definitely be in danger. . .”

"How could it be like this? That Vivian is not a good person from the beginning. If she really took over all the work during this period of time, that would be very troublesome. Sarah, this can't go on! Right, how about I call your uncle and ask him to help you think of a way."

Samantha did not understand the management of the company at all. But when she heard her daughter's words, she immediately thought of her brother, Joseph.

"Mom, I just came back from the Wilson Group. I went to brother Syrus. He said that he would help me think of a way."

"That's good! Syrus is the president of Wilson Group. He must know this kind of thing very well."

Sarah nodded and turned to look at Ethan on the bed.

"Dad, don't lie down anymore, okay? Although cousin is helping me now, I still don't know what to do. I'm afraid. . . I'm afraid that the Cooper Group which you created will be destroyed just like that. . . Aunt Daphne has already left and Julian's eyes have yet to find a suitable cornea. If the Cooper Group also. . ."

When Sarah said this, her tears could not stop flowing out of her eyes.

Today, after she went to the company to find out more about it, her heart had always been uneasy. Because she knew very well, there was a huge gap between Vivian and herself.

She was really afraid that the Cooper Group would be taken away by Vivian.

If that was the case, how would she explain to Christian after she stopped him from changing his career?

"Dad! Did you hear that? The Cooper Group is in danger now. Please stop sleeping, alright?" Sarah's tears kept rolling down. She knew nothing about the company and did not know what to do in such a situation.

Samantha heard her daughter's words and felt a little uncomfortable in her heart. She reached out and patted Sarah's shoulder.

"Sarah, Ethan will definitely wake up. But he needs time. Don't be too anxious. If it really doesn't work, I will tell your uncle. I am sure that he'll have a way. Don't worry. Okay?"

Sarah listened to her mother's words and leaned on her mother's shoulder with tears streaming down her face. "Mom, what is going on with this family? Why do all of them encounter this kind of thing?"

Samantha lightly hugged Sarah and said slowly, "In this lifetime. . . Everything will come to fruition when there is a cause. The Cooper Family was in such a state today. Perhaps after experiencing this tribulation, it would only get better and better in the future. The most important thing now is to rely on yourself.

"No matter what happens, you must guard the Cooper Group! No matter how scheming Vivian is, Ethan is still the chairman of the Cooper Group! In fact, Vivian is the same as you. Both of you were Ethan's daughter-in-laws. Although she had helpers in the company, you have to remember that you have the support of Wilson Group! Your uncle and the others will not sit by and do nothing! Do you understand?"

Samantha was worried that Sarah would not be able to hold on, so Samantha kept encouraging Sarah.

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 305 I Can Only Call My Husband Now

Sarah nodded and raised her hand to wipe the tears from the corners of her eyes.

"Mom, don't worry. Oh right, when I went to find cousin today, he sent me a helper."

"Helper? What helper?"

"He came with me just now. There's something I need to take care of."

"What is it?"

"You will know in a while. . ." Sarah looked at her mother and smiled faintly. She let go of Ethan's hand and wanted to stand up. But just as her body moved, she froze on the spot.

Sarah widened her eyes in surprise. "Mom. . . "

Samantha heard her daughter's words and looked up at her in puzzlement. "What is it?"

"Mom, Dad's hand. . . Just moved!"

"What. . .? What did you say? You said Ethan's hand moved?" Samantha heard her daughter's words and immediately looked at Ethan's hand, staring at it without moving.

Sarah sat down again. She noticed very clearly just now that Ethan's hand had moved.

Sarah looked at Ethan excitedly. "Dad, you heard everything I just said, didn't you? If you really heard it, answer me again, Dad. . ."

It was unknown if he really heard Sarah's voice, but Ethan's hands moved again!

This time, it was very clear!

"Sarah, Ethan really moved!" This time, Samantha also clearly saw it. She was excited and happy.

Sarah nodded excitedly and held Ethan's hand tightly. Her eyes turned red. "Dad, I knew you could hear me! You can definitely hear me!"

After saying that, she stood up excitedly. She looked at her mother and said, "Mom, you stay here and watch. I'll call the doctor right away!"

Then, she quickly ran out of Ethan's ward.

The moment he saw Sarah running out, Jameson, who was originally waiting outside the door, immediately followed her.

"What happened?"

"Dad did it! He really moved! I'll call the doctor!"

"That's great."

When Jameson heard Sarah's words, he was also very happy.

The doctor was quickly called over. Considering Ethan's condition, he immediately gave him a detailed examination.

The final result made everyone very excited.

Ethan's condition was indeed much better than before.

"Doctor, when will Dad wake up?" Sarah looked at the doctor excitedly and asked.

"We can't be sure at this time. But now it seems that Chairman Cooper's situation is already very good. As family members, you have to communicate with him constantly. Talk to him, and stimulate his reaction. Perhaps it won't be long before he wakes up."

"Thank you, doctor! We will work hard!"

After sending the doctor away, Jameson followed the mother and daughter into Ethan's ward. Sarah briefly introduced Jameson's identity and Samantha nodded her head in understanding.

"Chairman Cooper's condition seems to have improved a lot. This situation is good news for Cooper Group. But we can't announce it to the public yet. I have already booked a new room. The nurse will send the chairman over later. But we can't tell anyone about this news."

Sarah and Samantha nodded at the same time,
"Okay!"

Ethan was arranged to stay in another ward.

Of course, this room had strict confidentiality measures. The goal was to not alert the enemy.

Since Ethan's condition had improved, it was as if he had injected Sarah with stimulants. When she came out of the hospital, she even felt that the world outside the window had become sunny.

As long as Ethan's condition improved and he woke up after a period of time, the Cooper Group would have hope and the Cooper Family would become better and better!

On the way back to the Cooper Family, as Sarah thought about Ethan, she was so excited that she wanted to call Christian. But in the end. . . She held it in.

Now was not the time to be happy. Judging from what she learned in the Cooper Group today, Vivian was already coveting the property of the Cooper Group.

However, it was understandable when Sarah thought about it.

Julian couldn't see with his eyes. Furthermore, his relationship with Ruby was so intimate, but Vivian actually did not react at all. This was too illogical.

No woman could be so broad-minded!

This could only mean that Vivian did not want to walk down the path with Julian at all!

If Sarah did not suspect anything this time and did not go to the company to understand the situation today, Vivian would very likely cause the entire Cooper Group to be in a foul mood.

If the company really became Vivian's. . . Then the Cooper Family. . .

The more Sarah thought about it, the more she felt that that woman was terrifying. Cold sweat kept pouring out from her back.

Luckily! She realized it today.

Worried that Vivian would become suspicious, after Sarah ate dinner tonight, she returned to her bedroom directly. Although the lights were turned off, she did not sleep, but kept walking to the window.

Sarah looked through the curtain to see if Julian's car had come back.

It was about the same time as usual. At about 11: 30, Julian's car slowly drove into Villa of Cooper Family.

Sarah stood by the window and saw through the curtains that Julian's spirit was still somewhat unstable. Even when he walked, he looked listless.

Sarah's hand tightly gripped the curtains. Seeing Vivian support Julian into the living room of the villa, she walked to the door, gently opened the door handle.

She saw the two of them did not stay in the hall for too long and went upstairs together the moment they entered.

Sarah closed the door and returned to the bed to lie down.

For the whole night, she kept tossing and turning restlessly.

But no matter how perturbed and nervous she was, she clearly knew that she absolutely could not shrink back a single step!

...

After breakfast the next day, not long after Vivian and Julian's car left, the wet nurse that Syrus had asked for came.

Sarah usually had a good relationship with the villa's maid, Mrs. Garcia, who had been working as a servant in Cooper Family for more than ten years. Sarah introduced the wet nurse to Mrs. Garcia and told her to take care of the children.

After everything was settled, she called Jameson. She then took her bag and let the driver at home take her to the company. This time, Sarah went straight to Julian's office.

Since she knew Vivian's purpose, she could not let Vivian be so unscrupulous anymore!

But Sarah never would have thought that while her movements were fast, Vivian's movements were even faster than hers!

When Sarah rushed to Julian's office, she did not see either Julian's or Vivian's figures.

Sarah asked the secretary, Jenny, who was standing at the door and found out that the two of them went to the hotel to inspect.

After hearing this, Sarah wanted to bring Jameson into Julian's office to wait for them but they were stopped by Jenny, who told that she would not let the two of them in.

Seeing the other party's attitude, Sarah did not insist and brought Jameson to wait outside.

Jameson looked at Jenny in the secretariat room and walked over to chat with her.

"Beauty, may I ask which hotel Director Cooper went to for an inspection?" As Jameson spoke, he looked at Jenny with a charming smile.

When Jameson finished speaking, Sarah also looked at Jenny.

However, Jenny only smiled. "I'm sorry sir. The whereabouts of our president and vice president are confidential."

"Aiyo, if I didn't know earlier, I would have thought that they were the leaders of the country. Their whereabouts are this confidential? Well, do you know who this person in front of you is? This is Chairman Cooper's daughter-in-law. So no matter what, she also owns the company's shares. And you dare to stop her at the door?"

"If the chairman suddenly wakes up and knows you, a little secretary's attitude towards his eldest daughter-in-law, what do you think will happen?" Jameson looked at Jenny with a smile.

When Jenny heard his words, an awkward expression flashed across her face, but she still looked at the two of them and lightly replied, "I'm very sorry, I also don't know where they went."

Sarah heard Jenny's words and was somewhat angry. She looked at the later and coldly said, "You are really conscientious as a secretary. You do not even know the whereabouts of the CEO."

"Sorry! I really don't know." Jenny still remained unmoved as she replied.

No matter how the two of them asked Jenny, she kept her mouth shut and did not talk about Vivian and Julian's whereabouts.

Jameson gave Sarah a look. The two of them turned around and left, walking towards the elevator.

However, as soon as, they turned around, they saw Jenny talking to someone on the phone.

"Looking at her attitude, I previously thought this secretary was not bribed by Vivian and she must be a stubborn one. But now it seems like. . . The possibility of her being bribed is very high." Jameson narrowed his eyes and said slowly.

"I wonder where Julian went? Will he be in any danger?"

Sarah took out her phone as she spoke and kept calling Julian's phone. However, no matter how she called, no one answered the phone.

"Not really. But now that the two of them have disappeared, this Vivian must not have any good intention either! Where exactly did she go?"

Jameson reached out and pressed the button of the elevator. But he then looked at the secretariat room not far away and whispered to Sarah, "I will go downstairs first. Wait here."

"Okay." Sarah nodded. She took the bag and turned around to walk towards the secretariat room.

When Jenny saw Sarah coming back again, she coughed twice and continued to do the work on her hands.

Sarah walked to her side and sat down on a chair beside her. She took a book of information from the table and flipped through it.

"I am Director Cooper's sister-in-law. I think you should know this, right?" Sarah did not even look at the other party. She looked at the book and asked softly.

"Yes. . ."

"Actually, there is something I didn't tell you. A few days ago, the CEO's Big Brother wanted to come back and take over Cooper Group, but I stopped him. Although Julian couldn't see with his eyes right now, he still managed his work in an orderly manner. But during this period of time, I found that he didn't have the mood to do his work. I came today to understand that if he is really so uninterested in his work. But sigh. . ."

"Now it seems that I can only call my husband. No matter what, he is the eldest son of Cooper Family. If he comes back to be the president of Cooper Group, should I consider changing a new secretary?"

Jenny's face unconsciously twitched, but she thought about it and did not say anything. She still continued her work.

Sarah was really angered by this secretary. But there was nothing she could do about it!

Fortunately, the phone in her bag rang at that moment. Sarah immediately took out her phone and answered the call as she walked away.

From inside came the voice of Jameson, "Sarah, Julian and Vivian did not leave the company at all! Wait for me up there, I will come up later!"

"Okay!"

Sarah had just disconnected when she saw the elevator door open. Jameson walked out from the inside and looked at the Secretariat Room not far away. He pulled Sarah to the side and whispered,

"I don't know what happened today, but the company temporarily held a board meeting. It seemed to be about the company's CEO selection. I think Julian must be in the meeting room too. Let's go to this meeting room immediately! Find out what they want to do? "

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 306 New Chairman Of Cooper Group

"Okay! Follow me!" Sarah had worked here before, so she knew very well where the meeting room was. As she spoke, she reached out and pressed the elevator button.

Sarah brought Jameson to Ethan's office floor, where the company held a board meeting every time.

Sure enough, when the two of them came out of the elevator, they saw many secretaries standing at the door of the conference room.

The two of them walked forward quickly, but before they reached the door, the door of the office suddenly opened, and all the directors who were attending the meeting walked out.

Sarah immediately rushed into the office and looked for Julian.

At first glance, she saw him sleeping in the leather chair while Vivian was whispering something to another director.

When Vivian saw Sarah rushing in, her expression changed slightly.

"Julian! Julian! What's wrong with you?" Sarah walked to Julian's side and shook his body.

But Julian was really too tired. He impatiently waved at Sarah and said, "I am so sleepy. Don't disturb me!" After saying that, he tilted his head and fell asleep again.

"Vivian! What did you do to him?" Seeing Julian's sleepy look, Sarah could not stand it anymore as she looked at Vivian and shouted.

The directors who had not left were stunned by Sarah's shout and all of them looked at Sarah in confusion.

Vivian faintly smiled and still maintained a little smile on her face. "Sister-in-law, can't you see that he is very sleepy? He is my hubby. What else can I do to him?"

"Then tell me now. When he is so sleepy, what kind of meeting do you guys have here? The company's president is asleep. What are you guys doing here?" Sarah looked at Vivian and then looked at the other directors and asked.

Dowson had not left yet. He knew that Sarah was Ethan's eldest daughter-in-law. She was also the biggest rival of this company.

Dowson walked over with a smile on his face, "Miss Wilson, when we just called for the company's board of directors, the president was awake. However, after the meeting, he felt a little tired. That was why he fell asleep. If you have any dissatisfaction, you can just wait for the president to wake up and ask him."

"Then what the board of directors was doing just now? The chairman isn't here, what kind of meeting are you holding?" Sarah looked at Dowson and questioned him coldly.

Dowson smiled insincerely. "I don't mind telling you about our meeting today. The current chairman of this company is no longer Ethan Cooper!"

Sarah's expression changed. But she still looked at him and asked coldly, "Then who is it?"

"It is me!" Dowson answered slowly.

"You? Why are you the chairman?"

"I have 35% of the company's shares, and your father-in-law Ethan Cooper only have 30% of the company's shares, that's why."

"Impossible!" Sarah directly denied his words. "The Cooper Family's shares are 70%. How can you have 35% of the company's shares?"

Regarding the Cooper Group's shares, Sarah more or less knew a little about it, because Christian had told her before.

Although he was a soldier, his father wanted to be fair. So Ethan gave his two sons the same shares. Each of them had 20% of the shares.

Dowson did not expect that this girl in front of him would actually hit his vitals with just one sentence. After coughing twice, he looked at her and said, "Sorry, this is an internal matter of the company. Please forgive me!"

"What are you saying? I am the daughter-in-law of Cooper Family. This company has my husband's shares. Naturally, I can ask about the company's matters!" Sarah replied coldly.

"Then let's wait for you to get your husband's shares first!" Dowson was not moved by Sarah's words at all.

Next to Sarah, Jameson looked at Dowson and said, "The CEO of this company is currently in a daze. Naturally, he does not know the content of your meeting. Even if you are now the biggest shareholder in the company, you must get his approval! May I ask if he agrees?"

Dowson replied without smiling, "Of course he agrees. Everyone present can testify."

Sarah felt that there were some things that she could not continue to say. She immediately walked to Julian's side and shouted in his ear, "Julian, Ruby is here!"

Julian was very sleepy. But even though he was very sleepy, this sentence still made him open his eyes. He lifted his head and looked around with difficulty.

What entered his eyes was darkness and he could tell that it was Sarah's voice. He immediately asked, "Sarah, where is Ruby?"

Sarah immediately grabbed his hand, "Ruby is home and is waiting for you. Let's go home first, okay?"

As soon as Sarah's words fell, Jameson also immediately walked over and stretched out his hand to support Julian.

Seeing the situation in front of her, Vivian reached over and pressed down on Sarah, "There are still matters in the company. He cannot go back with you now! Sister-in-law, the surname of the company is no longer Cooper. Please leave!"

After saying that, Vivian looked at the people at the door and gave them a look.

A few people who looked like security guards immediately walked in and wanted to chase Sarah and Jameson away!

"Julian! Wake up! Something big has happened in Cooper Group!"

Sarah shook Julian's shoulder hard, but Julian was so sleepy that he could not open his eyes. No matter how hard Sarah shook him, he still fell asleep.

"What are you doing?" Vivian looked at the security guard beside her and asked coldly.

When the security guard heard Vivian's words, he immediately stopped Sarah and dragged her towards the door.

Seeing this scene, Jameson quickly walked in front and stopped the security guards. He looked at the two of them and scolded them coldly. "If you don't want to go to jail, let her go!"

The two security guards listened to him and nervously let go of Sarah's arm.

As she was freed, Sarah immediately turned back to look at Vivian, "Vivian! I should have seen your heart from the very beginning! Spending money to find someone to hit me doesn't satisfy you, yet you actually dare to do this kind of thing now!"

Vivian heard Sarah's words and sneered, "Sister-in-law, saying such words requires evidence! You better not slander people!"

"Humph! Just you wait, I will definitely find evidence!" Sarah looked at Vivian angrily, then unwillingly looked at the sleeping Julian in the leather chair. She turned around and left the meeting room.

Jameson coldly looked at Vivian and left as well.

Sarah and Jameson left the company and went to the Wilson Group in the car.

As soon as they sat in the car, Sarah was so angry that her chest hurt. She thought about Julian just now. He was actually in that kind of state. Sarah couldn't help but cry!

"It's all my fault! If I had kept an eye at Julian every day, I would not have let this happen to him. But what happened to him actually? Why did he keep sleeping?"

Sarah kept blaming herself. Her heart was in a mess.

From the time she graduated until now, she was only a secretary of the company. She had never encountered such a situation before. But now, the Cooper Group had become someone else's overnight.

She even promised Christian that she would make him feel at ease. But in the blink of an eye, the company's name was no longer Cooper!

What was going on? What had happened? Why did Dowson say that he was the biggest shareholder in the company?

"Don't worry. Judging from what happened just now, I think the situation must have something to do with Julian's decision."

"He's already so sleepy. What other decision can he make?" Sarah retorted while crying.

"When the board meeting started, we were not there. I think Julian might have been fed sleeping medicine by Vivian. However, when the meeting started, Julian could still hold on for a while, but he fell asleep soon after. Before that, he must have done something."

"Then what do you think he did?"

Jameson frowned slightly and looked at Sarah with a solemn expression. "Dowson said he has the most shares in the company, which means he bought shares from others. Can you tell me how many shares the Cooper Family holds?"

Sarah wiped her tears and thought for a while before answering, "I know Dad has 30% shares. My husband and Julian have 20% shares each."

"That is to say, just the Cooper Family alone has 70%. However, Dowson just said that he was the biggest shareholder right now. That means he might have bought Julian's shares. If that's the case, this will be a little troublesome. . ."

"But Julian would not do such a thing." Sarah said in disbelief.

"Did you see Julian just now? Is he still awake?" Jameson asked.

Sarah was at a loss for words. She shook her head and looked at him helplessly. "Then what should we do now?"

"Let's go back to the company first! We need to think about this properly!"

The car soon arrived in front of the lobby of Wilson Group.

As soon as she got out of the car, Sarah rushed towards the elevator. Jameson immediately followed. The two of them entered the elevator and went straight to Syrus's office.

Because Sarah was too anxious, when they entered, they didn't even knock on the door and barged in.

Syrus was sitting on a leather chair reading documents. His secretary was standing beside him. When he saw that it was Sarah, Syrus waved to the secretary beside him. The secretary immediately nodded and left his office.

"Brother!" Sarah could not wait to walk over.

"Hey brat, why are you on good terms with that brother of yours?"

Sarah had just walked to the middle of the office when a person walked over from the sofa.

Sarah immediately turned her face and saw that Jasmine was also here!

"Sister!" Sarah immediately greeted her.

Jasmine smiled and walked to Sarah's side and put her arm around her shoulder. She walked to the sofa and sat down. "I just heard from Syrus that there was a small problem in Cooper Group. You are too mean. You actually did not look for me when there was something and came to find this kid!"

Sarah knew that Jasmine would not be angry with her for such a small thing. She immediately grabbed Jasmine's hand. "Sister, quickly help me! Something big happened in Cooper Group! Sister. . ."

After saying that, her anxious tears fell again.

Jasmine looked at Jameson who was following her and frowned, "What is going on?"

Jameson walked to the opposite side of the two and sat down. Seeing that Syrus had also walked over, he said slowly, "Today Sarah and I went to Cooper Group. The situation is a little complicated. . ."

"What kind of complicated situation?" Syrus frowned and sat down.

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 307 Only One Option

“When I went to the company with Sarah, we did not see Vivian and Julian. Later, I heard that they were holding a board meeting. We finally went to the meeting room. But the meeting ended when we reached the door. We walked in and saw Julian sleeping on the leather chair in the middle. Dowson said that the person with the most shares in the company is now him. So Chairman Cooper is no longer the chairman. Julian has also agreed to Vivian's decision to make her the new CEO!”

"Isn't this nonsense? Even if Chairman Cooper is unconscious now, it is impossible for Dowson to be the chairman of the company." Jasmine frowned when she heard that and retorted.

"Yes! Even if Chairman Cooper is unconscious, his shares are still there. And no matter what, the other directors will not allow this to happen! So now I suspect that Julian's shares might have been transferred! If Julian was in the state of daze and were to sign the shares transfer agreement, Dowson would probably have gotten his shares just like that!"

"But Julian was unconscious, so how could they let him sign it?"

"He must have been awake before he entered the meeting room, but Sarah and I did not participate in the meeting, so we do not know what happened. Furthermore, there was nothing on Sarah's hands right now. Except for the identity of Chairman Cooper's daughter-in-law, she has no right to interfere in the company's matters!"

"Vivian, that slut! It seems that Sarah's car accident case is definitely related to her! This woman's heart is really too vicious!]" When Jasmine heard what Jameson said, she gnashed her teeth in hatred.

Syrus's face sank. He thought for a while and then looked at Sarah. "Sarah, does Military Commander Cooper have any shares in the company?"

Sarah nodded. "Yes! Although he is a soldier, Dad gave both of his sons 20% of the shares each for the sake of fairness. Perhaps he was afraid that this would happen, so he gave both of them equal shares."

Syrus nodded. "That's not bad! If that's the case, we can still save the company!"

Sarah immediately looked at him. "Can't we call the police now?"

"There's no way to call the police for this kind of thing. Dowson currently has 35% of the shares. This is an indisputable fact! Even if you call the police, Julian has already transferred his shares. So we have now only one option left."

"What option?"

"You have to take over Military Commander Cooper's shares." Syrus said solemnly.

"You mean. . . You want me to go to the army to find Christian?" Sarah was stunned for a moment.

"Yes! This is the only option. Because you don't have any shares in the company you can't voice out anything now. But if you have Commander Cooper's shares in your hand, you can retort their decision openly.”

Syrus said as he walked back to the table. He pressed the secretary's internal line and asked the secretary to book a plane ticket to Christian's army as soon as possible.

Then he walked back to the sofa and looked at Sarah to comfort her. "Don't worry about this first. No matter what happens, Wilson Group will be your shield! Don't be afraid of them!"

Jasmine who was at the side also nodded heavily. She patted Sarah's shoulder to comfort, "Yes, yes. Sarah! This time no matter what you say, I must teach that Vivian a good lesson! I think after this matter, Julian will definitely not continue to live with this woman. So before you leave, there is still one more thing that needs to be done!"

Sarah looked at her nervously, "Sister, what is it?"

"First, settle the two children! Vivian, that kind of person, once she is forced into a corner, it is very likely that she will jump over the wall in desperation!"

Syrus heard what Jasmine said and nodded his head in agreement. "You are right!"

After he finished speaking, he quickly took out his phone and made a call to his assistant. He asked him to prepare to return to Villa of Cooper Family with Sarah downstairs.

After making the call, Syrus looked at Sarah and said, "Go back to Cooper Family immediately. Bring the two children and the wet nurse over. I will arrange them to be in the Wilson Family Villa. No one will touch a hair of theirs."

Sarah heard Syrus's words and immediately nodded her head as she stood up. "Then I will go back immediately!"

"Jameson, you send her down!" Syrus stood up as he spoke. He looked at Sarah who was about to leave and reminded her worriedly. "If you go to the army, don't say anything to Military Commander Cooper!"

"Okay!"

With the help of Syrus and Jasmine, Sarah sent the children to the Wilson Family villa.

That afternoon, she boarded a plane to Christian's army. Of course, she was accompanied by Syrus's assistant.

When the two of them got off the plane, they stopped a taxi at the entrance of the airport lobby and headed towards Christian's army.

Sarah called Christian on the way and found out that he was in his army office. She told Christian about her arrival and asked him to come to find her.

The car quickly arrived at Christian's camp. Because the two of them still had to leave in a hurry, Syrus's assistant stayed at the door and waited for Sarah to come back.

Christian's car arrived very quickly. He got out of the car and noticed a man standing beside Sarah.

Judging from the man's expression, he must be a company's manager or something.

Without any question, Christian held Sarah's hand and brought Sarah to his house.

Sarah followed him into the living room.

Christian asked her anxiously, "Why did you come over this time without saying anything? Also, why didn't you bring your luggage? What about the children at home after you came? How's my dad? And who was the man just now?"

Too many things had happened at home recently. If it wasn't for something big happening at home, his little wife wouldn't have come looking for him.

"Christian! I am in a hurry right now. I have to rush back today!" Sarah looked at Christian and spoke anxiously.

Christian frowned. "Did something happen at home? Quickly tell me!"

"It's like this! I'm worried that Julian won't be able to work well, so I want to work in the company.

However, Vivian said that since I don't have anything in the company, I don't have the right to go. That's why I came to you today. I want you to transfer all your shares to me!"

Hearing this Christian frowned. His face showed an unusual anger. "Vivian doesn't let you to go to the company? Doesn't she also have the same status as you? She doesn't have anything in the company either. So what right does she have to not let you work in the company?"

"Julian has appointed her as the vice president of the company, that's why she has the authority to deny me. Now Syrus and Ms. Jasmine are both helping me think of a way. The most important thing for you now is to sign this equity transfer contract immediately!"

Sarah said as she took out the equity transfer contract that she had prepared and placed it on the coffee table. She even quickly took out a pen and handed it to Christian.

"Tell me the truth. Did something big happen in the company?" Christian looked at Sarah anxiously as he took the papers in his hands.

"Nothing big happened. I just think Vivian might have bad intentions. So I want to take precautions! Hurry up and sign!"

Christian silently looked at Sarah. He looked at the equity transfer contract in front of him and did not hesitate any longer. He picked up his pen and signed his name on the transfer contract.

Sarah carefully put away the transfer contract and looked at Christian. Her expression eased a little

"Hubby, I have something to tell you. It's happy thing."

"What happy thing?"

"When I went to the hospital yesterday, I held Dad's hand and chatted with him for a while. Who knew that when I was about to leave, his hand actually moved! Later on, Mom didn't believe it. I just said a few more words to Dad, and he really responded to me! The doctor told me that as long as we continue to chat with him, Dad will very likely wake up very soon!"

Christian heard his wife's words and grabbed her hand to ask, "Is what you said true?"

This news was really good news to him!

Sarah nodded heavily and continued, "I came today because I want to guard the Cooper Group before Dad wakes up. You don't have to worry about me.

Brother Syrus and Ms. Jasmine are with me. They were both elites in the business field, so they were better at this kind of thing than you. Today, I came to find you because of their help. Brother Syrus was afraid that something might happen to me on the way. He had even specially sent someone to send me off. He was waiting at the door right now. Hubby, I'll be leaving first." Sarah said as she quickly stood up and prepared to leave.

Christian stood up as well. He reached out to hug Sarah. "Sarah, thank you! It has been hard on you during this period of time."

There were so many things in the family that she had to take care of all by herself. And now it seemed like something had happened to Cooper Group again. He felt an unspeakable guilt towards her in his heart.

Sarah heard his words and smiled. She stretched out her hand and patted his back. "What are you talking about? Aren't I the daughter-in-law of the Cooper Family? Besides, Dad has always treated me as his daughter. These are all things that I should do! Just work hard in the army. I'm still waiting for you to get the first place. . ."

"Sarah. . ."

Sarah struggled out of his arms and looked at him with a smile. "Hubby, I'm leaving!"

"Okay. I'll send you off."

Christian held his wife's hand and walked out of the house together. He drove her to the main door and watched as she got into the taxi.

The taxi started quickly and soon disappeared into the distance.

Christian watched the car disappear quickly. He was worried, but at this moment, he knew that if Sarah had Syrus and Jasmine as her backing, it would be hundred's time better than him, a military commander.

Although it only took an hour on the plane, it would take a longer time for the procedures to be completed. Fortunately, Syrus's secretary booked a return flight ticket for the two of them, so they only waited at the airport for a while.

When the two of them landed on the plane, it was already past six o'clock in the afternoon.

Because they had already calculated the time, when the two of them walked out of the airport, Jasmine was already driving the car and waiting for the two of them.

Once Syrus's assistant came out of the airport, he got into the driver's seat and took the initiative to drive. Jasmine just sat in the backseat with Sarah.

"How is it? Did you have him sign it?" Jasmine asked as soon as she got into the car.

"Yes, He has signed it. Sister, take a look." Sarah nodded as she took out the equity transfer contract from her bag and handed it to Jasmine.

Jasmine took it and looked at it carefully before nodding her head in satisfaction, "Not bad! From now on, you are a director of Cooper Group. You have the absolute right to speak now."

"Really?" Sarah still had some uncertainty in her heart.

"Of course! Sarah, this kind of thing was very common in large companies or in the family. So you don't need to be nervous or afraid. With me and Syrus supporting you behind your back, no one will dare to do anything to you."

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 308 Shocking Statements

Sarah immediately looked gratefully at Jasmine.
"Sister, thank you! If it weren't for you and Brother Syrus, I don't even know what to do. . ."

What she experienced in the Cooper Group today had completely thrown her into disorder. Nervousness, fear. . . Worry. All kinds of emotions were tangled together. It made her at a loss for what to do!

But with Syrus and Jasmine's help, her heart slowly calmed down.

Jasmine glared at her. "Silly girl, what are you talking about? If I don't help you, who will help? Sarah, I have made a decision today!"

"What decision?" Sarah looked at her curiously.

"From tomorrow onwards, I will be your assistant. I will follow you to the Cooper Group! Isn't that Vivian powerful? I want to see, how much that woman can persist?"

Ever since she found out that the car accident was related to that Vivian, Jasmine had been brooding over this matter. Now that she heard that Vivian had started to stir up trouble in the Cooper Group, Jasmine could not swallow this anger no matter what.

Sarah looked at her in a daze. "Ah? You will be my assistant? No! How can that be? You are the vice president of Wilson Group!"

Sarah shook her head as soon as she heard this.

"Do you think I will be with you for the rest of my life? I followed you to work because I want to help you take back the Cooper Group! Vivian had a lot of ulterior motives. In the past, I had only heard about it. But this time I have such a good opportunity to exchange blows with her. I am looking forward to it!"

When she thought about going to Cooper Group to work tomorrow, Jasmine felt a little excited.

"Alright, then don't be too impulsive tomorrow. . ."
Sarah looked at Jasmine and let out a wary smile.

"Stinky girl! What do you mean by saying this? Although I have a bad temper, I don't do things as I please. If I were that impulsive, your uncle wouldn't have let me take the position of vice president, understand?"

"Sister, I understand. . ." Sarah looked at Jasmine and giggled.

"And even if they really fight, that woman is not a match for me, your sister. I am a Taekwondo black belt! I was still holding back my anger from the car accident last time. If I really beat her up, I would be willing to compensate her."

Jasmine could not help but laugh as she spoke.

Because Jasmine was worried that something would happen in the Cooper Family, she directly sent Sarah back to Villa of Cooper Family.

When Sarah got off the car, Jasmine repeatedly reminded her that if there was anything, she must inform her at the first possible moment. After getting Sarah's affirmative answer, she then left without worry.

When Sarah returned to the villa, Vivian and Julian had not returned yet.

Because the two children were not at home, Sarah was able to save some worries.

During dinner, Sarah called Julian. The call went through, but no one answered. Sarah hung up disappointedly.

Afraid that Benjamin would be worried, Sarah told him that Julian and Vivian were working overtime tonight, so he should not worry too much.

After Benjamin heard his granddaughter-in-law say this, he felt relieved.

Julian and Vivian did not come back until Sarah and Benjamin finished dinner.

Sarah accompanied Benjamin and chatted for a while, before she helped him to his bedroom to rest. She then went back to her room.

So many things happened today. First she went to the company, where she found out about Vivian's plotting. Then she rushed to Christian's army.

Thinking about Christian, he must be worried about her at this moment.

Sarah thought about it and called Christian first. She told him to rest assured about her.

After learning that his wife was really going to work at the company tomorrow, Christian reminded her again and again that if there was anything wrong tomorrow, she had to call him at the first place.

Sarah agreed to his words.

After putting away the line, Sarah went to the bathroom to take a shower first before returning to the bed to lie down.

Taking a book from the bedside table, Sarah looked at the book, but her ears kept listening to the sound of cars outside the window.

This night, Julian did not return to Villa of Cooper Family.

Sarah waited for an entire night, but she did not see Julian's car.

Sarah understood that Vivian did not want Julian to see her now.

After breakfast the next day, when she walked out of the villa, Jasmine's car was already waiting for her at the door.

Sarah smiled and sat inside. The car quickly started moving and headed towards the direction of the Cooper Group.

"Sister, Julian didn't come back last night. Will something big happen today?" Sarah was worried about Julian.

"Don't worry! Vivian is not a fool. She will not do that kind of thing. And let me tell you. Last night, I had already informed Captain Brook of the Criminal Police Brigade and told him about Vivian in detail. He promised me that he would meet up with us in front of the Cooper Group later. He brought some men to look for Julian. If Vivian wants to do something bad to the people of the Cooper Family, the police will definitely not let her off easily!"

"Really? That's great!" Sarah did not expect Jasmine to be so considerate for her.

"Of course it's true. Why would I lie to you about something like this? Don't worry. That woman won't be jumping around for long." Jasmine said confidently.

Jasmine's car soon arrived at the Cooper Group. When the car stopped at the square in front of the Cooper Group, they saw that there were many reporters surrounding the entrance of the company. They were carrying long spears and short cannons. It was unknown what they were doing.

Sarah saw the scene in front of her and her heart jumped a few times. "Sister, did something happen in the company?"

"Let's go! Let's go down and take a look!"

Jasmine's beautiful eyebrows twisted. She pushed open the car door and quickly got out of the car. She brought Sarah along and walked towards the entrance of the Cooper Group's lobby.

Jasmine's face was not unfamiliar to the reporters in this city. The moment she appeared at the door with Sarah, many reporters surrounded her.

"May I ask if Vice President Wilson came to Cooper Group today to congratulate the new chairman of the company?" A reporter walked over and asked Jasmine.

Jasmine raised her eyebrows and looked at the reporter. She said with a smile, "I always remember that Uncle Cooper is the chairman of this company. May I ask who told you that this company has a new chairman?"

"The Cooper Group is holding a press conference today to announce that the biggest shareholder of the company, Dowson Bates, will be promoted to the Chairman of the Cooper Group. Did Vice President Wilson not receive the news?" The other party asked back.

"Is that so? I really didn't know about this! Since all of you are here, I will also take this opportunity to announce one thing!" Jasmine looked at the reporters at the door and smiled.

"Looking at Vice President Wilson's expression, it seems like there is something to be happy about?"

"Is Vice President Wilson getting married?"

"Vice President Wilson has always been a strong woman in the industry. What will she announce here today? "

" . . . "

The moment Jasmine finished speaking, all the reporters surrounded her.

Jasmine heard everyone's words and smiled. She reached out and put her arm around Sarah's shoulder. She looked at everyone and introduced, "From today onwards, I want to be a follower of my good friend! Until she becomes the chairman of this company!"

Sarah did not expect that Jasmine would say something like this. She immediately looked at her nervously.

Jasmine looked at Sarah and smiled.

When these words came out, it was like throwing a heavy bomb on the calm surface of the water!

The crowd instantly boiled up. Everyone wanted to get this news as soon as possible!

"May I ask why Vice President Wilson wants to be this lady's follower? Does this lady have any important identity?"

"May I ask what is the relationship between this lady and Vice President Wilson?"

"Why is Vice President Wilson so sure that this young lady can become the chairman of Cooper Group?"

Jasmine heard everyone's words and smiled. She raised her hand slightly and said, "The first news is that my good friend has 20% of the Cooper Group's shares."

"But 20% can't be enough for becoming the chairman of Cooper Group?"

"The second piece of news! Chairman Cooper. . .
Woke up!"

Boom!

As soon as Jasmine finished speaking, the crowd immediately burst into an uproar. Everyone was scrambling to interview her!

"Vice President Wilson, are you sure this matter is true?"

"Of course! It is absolutely real!"

"Then may I ask Vice President Wilson when Chairman Cooper will be back? It is said that the shares of the newly appointed Mr. Dowson Bates are more than Chairman Cooper's."

"Chairman Cooper has always treated this friend of mine as his daughter. I will not say anything else. But I still have to tell everyone a piece of news!"

The reporters immediately quietened down and stared at Jasmine.

"We suspect that the CEO of Cooper Group, Mr. Julian Cooper, has been kidnapped. . ."

Boom!

Jasmine's words were no different from another bomb!

Compared to the press conference which would be held by the Cooper Group today, Jasmine's words were even more attractive!

"Why would Vice President Wilson say that? Does she already have the relevant evidence?"

"Then may I ask Vice President Wilson, who is the person who wants to kidnap CEO Cooper?"

"Where is CEO Cooper now?"

"May I ask Vice President Wilson. . . "

" . . . "

Question after question rang out in the crowd.

Jasmine raised her hand slightly to signal everyone to quiet down.

"Today, Captain Brook from the City Criminal Police Brigade is also here. I think it won't be long before everyone knows the answer."

As soon as Jasmine finished speaking, Captain Brook, who was being surrounded by the crowd, walked over with two policemen.

Jasmine immediately said, "This is Captain Brook."

All the reporters immediately surrounded Captain Brook and started to ask one question after another.

Captain Brook only looked at everyone and nodded slightly. His face had a somewhat serious expression. "Everyone, be patient! Don't hinder us from carrying out official business."

After saying that, he looked at his two subordinates beside him and brought two people into the company's lobby.

All the reporters surrounded Jasmine and Sarah once again.

Jasmine took advantage of the time when Captain Brook left and wanted to leave with Sarah.

Syrus's bodyguards immediately protected the two of them and sat back into the car, then quickly closed the car door. The car quickly started and left Cooper Group.

Once the car drove down the square in front of the Cooper Group, Sarah looked at Jasmine in confusion and asked, "Sister, aren't we going to enter the company today? Why did you take me away now?"

Sarah was worried about Julian.

Jasmine smiled and looked at Sarah, "Sarah, Vivian and that Dowson Bates definitely did not expect that even the heavens would help you!"

Chapter 309 An Unknown Call

Sarah blinked her eyes in confusion. She did not understand what Jasmine meant. "Sister, what do you mean?"

"I originally wanted to bring you to the company today and directly confront them. But I never would have thought that they would do this. It seemed that Vivian and Dowson wanted to hold a press conference to announce that Dowson has become the chairman of Cooper Group. But they would not have expected that, these reporters were the first to be taken up by the two of us."

"Don't worry, I know what I just said now. Also, think about Captain Brook's appearance in the company. Even if Dowson Bates really wanted to publish it, they had to think twice! Those reporters were not easy to fool. If they try to do anything, they would surely be discovered. This time, they will have a good end! Hmph!"

Jasmine thought about the situation just now and her eyes squinted.

"Then what you mean is. . . They will probably not hold a press conference today?" Sarah looked at her with anticipation.

"If I were Dowson Bates, I definitely would not! I have already told everyone that Chairman Cooper woke up. If they heard what I said now, the other shareholders won't sit quietly. And that Dowson Bates is an old fox. Now the shares in your hands and Chairman Cooper's are definitely much more than the shares in his hands. So Dowson won't do anything impulsively. And now with Captain Brook's help, I think we will be able to see Julian soon."

Sarah heard Jasmine's words and looked at her gratefully, "Sister, thank you so much! If I were alone, I definitely wouldn't be able to beat them!"

She did not know anything about the company's matters. Since she heard about the company's matters yesterday, her mind was in a mess. She did not know how to retaliate at all.

Now that Sarah had Jasmine's help, she saw hope again.

Jasmine looked at her expression and smiled. "Silly girl, are you being polite with big sister?"

Sarah smiled. Just as she was about to say something, she heard the phone in her bag ring. Sarah took it out to take a look.

It was a call from an unknown number.

"Who called?" Jasmine looked at Sarah's expression and asked.

"Sister, I don't know it. It can't be a reporter, right?"

The scene that the two of them had just experienced, perhaps a reporter had already found out her number.

"It's fine. If it's a reporter, then give the phone to me. I want to hear what he says."

Sarah nodded, pressed the answer button, and put the phone beside her ear. "Hello."

"Hello! May I ask if this is Miss Sarah Wilson?" The voice of an unfamiliar man came from the phone.

"Yes! I am. May I ask who you are?"

"I am Chairman Cooper's personal lawyer. I have something important to tell you."

"You are Dad's personal lawyer?" Sarah was a little surprised to hear what the other party said.

"Yes! I have met you before. My name is Thomas Barrel. Does Miss Wilson still remember me?"

"Thomas Barrel? I'm sorry, I don't remember. . . "

"It's alright. You'll know me when I meet you. Where are you now? I must see you immediately."

"Wait a moment." Sarah immediately covered her phone and looked at Jasmine beside her and told Jasmine about the situation.

"Give me your phone."

Sarah passed the phone to Jasmine.

"Hello! I am Sarah's cousin and also the vice president of Wilson Group, Jasmine Wilson. Sarah is with me now. You can go directly to Wilson Group."

"Are you really Vice President Wilson?" Thomas Barrel, who was on the phone, was surprised. He did not believe it.

"Yes!"

"That's great. I will go to Wilson Group now."

"Alright! Go straight to my office."

"Got it, see you later."

"See you later."

Jasmine hung up and returned the phone to Sarah. She looked at her and said, "It seems that this Thomas Barrel also heard some news. I wonder what he is looking for you for? I hope it will be a good thing. . ."

Sarah nodded her head and thought about when she had seen him before. But no matter how she thought about it, she did not remember when she had seen him.

The car quickly reached the lobby of Wilson Group.

When the car stopped, someone immediately walked over and opened the door for the two of them.

Jasmine and Sarah got out of the car and prepared to walk towards the lobby of the company.

At this time, they saw another car quickly drive up to the platform in front of the lobby and stop behind Jasmine's car with a squeak. The door quickly opened and a middle aged man got out of the car. He looked at Sarah and shouted, "Miss Wilson!"

He was Ethan's lawyer, Thomas Barrel!

When Sarah saw him, she immediately felt that this person was indeed somewhat familiar, but she still did not remember where she had seen him before.

"Hello! I am Thomas Barrel!" Thomas walked up to the two of them and introduced himself.

Jasmine nodded. "Let's go. Let's talk in my office."

"Okay!" Thomas nodded and followed them into the company lobby, then walked to the elevator.

The three of them entered the elevator and watched as the elevator door slowly closed.

Sarah looked at Thomas beside her and still could not remember where she had seen him before.

"May I ask where we met before?" Sarah asked apologetically.

Thomas smiled. "Miss Wilson is really a person who forgets things when there are too many people. Do you remember when Chairman Cooper called you to his office a few months ago and gave you a bank card? At that time, he even asked you to sign a court certificate. . ."

Sarah heard his words and instantly understood and nodded. "Oh. . . I remember now! That day, Dad did give me a bank card and told me to deposit 10,000 yuan in it! When I went home, I gave the bank card to my mom. Later on, my mom told me that there were millions in that bank card. . ."

Thomas smiled. "It seems that Miss Wilson finally remembered me."

Sarah smiled with a red face. "I'm really sorry."

"It's alright."

Jasmine looked at the middle aged man and asked, "Is Lawyer Barrel looking for my sister because of the Cooper Group?"

Thomas did not answer and just looked at Jasmine with some doubt. He then looked at Sarah and asked, "Is Vice President Wilson really Miss Wilson's cousin? Can you tell me about your relationship?"

Knowing that he was a lawyer and was cautious with his actions, Jasmine smiled, "Sarah's mother is the daughter that my grandmother lost back then. A while ago, my grandmother had already done a DNA test with Sarah's mother. In the end, they were biological mother and daughter. This relationship shouldn't be a problem, right?"

Sarah heard Jasmine's words and also looked at Thomas. She smiled and nodded. "Yes!"

"That means. . . The chairman of Wilson Group, Mr. Joseph Wilson, is Miss Wilson's uncle?" Thomas was still surprised by this news.

"Yes." Sarah nodded again.

While the three of them were talking, the elevator had arrived at its destination. The three of them exited the elevator and entered Jasmine's office.

"That's great. It seems that Chairman Cooper's decision back then was really right."

After Thomas heard what the two sisters said, he walked to the sofa and sat down. He took out a document and placed it on the coffee table.

Hearing Thomas's words, the two sisters looked at the information on the coffee table in confusion.

"What is this?" Jasmine asked in confusion.

Thomas looked at Sarah and asked with a smile, "Miss Wilson, do you remember the day Chairman Cooper gave you the bank card? Did the chairman ask you to sign a court document?"

Sarah immediately nodded. "Yes! At that time, I thought that this document might be something related to charity that the Cooper Group does every year. Could it be that this material was the one I signed back then?"

Thomas nodded. "Yes! This is the material you signed before. Take a look at what this is."

Thomas picked it up and handed it to her as he spoke.

Sarah took it the document and turned to look at Jasmine beside her. She then opened the cover.

Just reading a few lines, Sarah's eyes immediately widened!

Jasmine saw Sarah's expression and quickly took the document over. She stretched out her hand to open it and looked at it.

Just like Sarah, a few lines were enough to even a woman like Jasmine to widen her eyes in shock.

Jasmine looked at Thomas with a look of disbelief, "Is this true?"

Thomas smiled. "Of course it's true. The original copy of this material is in the safe of the Central Bank. This one is only a copy."

Sarah looked at the equity transfer letter in disbelief. "But. . . How is this possible? At that time, Dad was still fine and I did not get into the car accident. It was impossible for him to predict that something would happen to Cooper Group in the future. Why did he transfer it to me?"

"Chairman Cooper explained this to me. The reason why he transferred 30% of his shares to you was because he felt that he owed your father all these years."

"When Cooper Group started its business, Chairman Cooper had suffered a painful lesson. At the time, the whole Cooper Group was on the verge of bankruptcy. That time, your father sold his only house to save Chairman Cooper and the Cooper Group. "

“Although the Cooper Group survived the crisis and Chairman Cooper paid off his debts, that time if your father didn’t help Chairman Cooper, there would be no Cooper Group present today. So Chairman Cooper always remembered it in his heart. Also, your father donated the cornea to Julian before he died, but Julian betrayed your feelings. These things made Chairman Cooper feel even more guilty towards your father and you.”

“Chairman Cooper always felt that you are kind and don’t covet Cooper Group’s property. He did this because he thought there would be problems in the company in the future. I didn't think that Chairman Cooper's actions would really save the company. I just heard the news from the company today. That's why I rushed over to look for you!”

After Jasmine heard Thomas's words, she immediately smiled and patted Sarah's shoulder.

"That's great! It seems that this time, it would be appropriate for you to be the chairman of Cooper Group. You now have 50% of the shares! You are definitely a major shareholder in the company!"

Sarah looked at Thomas and asked, "If that is the case, then I can join the board of directors, right?"

Thomas smiled. "Not only can you participate now, you can also gather all the directors in the company and hold a board meeting."

Sarah immediately stood up when she heard that and anxiously said, "Then let's go quickly!"

Jasmine nodded in agreement and stood up, "Coincidentally there are reporters at the entrance of Cooper Group now. If we go back again, we will definitely let them have a good look this time."

Thomas also nodded and stood up. He said as he followed the two sisters.

"Vice President Wilson should bring more bodyguards. I'm afraid that someone will cause trouble today. . ."

"You're right." Jasmine nodded and took out her phone to make a call. She called a few of well-trained bodyguards to protect them.

When the three of them got down to the door of the lobby, all the bodyguards had arrived.

When the door opened, the three of them sat in succession. The car started up quickly and drove towards the Cooper Group!

THE CONTRACT MARRIAGE

Chapter 310 Twenty-five Years

Vivian didn't bring Julian back to the villa last night because she wanted the press conference to be held on time.

But the appointed time for the press conference had not arrived yet and she heard what happened at the company's entrance.

This made Vivian feel indescribably nervous and perturbed. She was afraid that this time. . . She was afraid that she would be completely destroyed by Sarah's hands.

But at this point, she had no way out.

She had put her life on the line, so she had to fight for it! It was something she had to do!

The moment Vivian heard about Sarah and Jasmine's arrival, she quickly went to Dowson's office.

When she walked in, she saw Dowson quietly discussing something with his son.

When he saw Vivian barge in so quickly, Dowson was somewhat unhappy, but he did not show it on the surface. Instead, he looked at Vivian and smiled.

"What happened to CEO Holmes? Did something happen to Julian?"

Vivian immediately walked to the sofa opposite Dowson and sat down. "I just heard that Sarah Wilson and that Jasmine Wilson from the Wilson Group came and they loudly preached at the entrance of the company, saying that this time Sarah Wilson will be the chairman of the Cooper Group. Director Bates, what should we do about this?"

Dowson nodded and frowned. "I heard about this too. But don't panic. Even if Sarah Wilson has 20% of the shares, she can't possibly become the chairman of the Cooper Group. Don't forget. I have 35% of the shares now. What can she use to compete with me?"

"And that Jasmine Wilson always liked to bluff. Can't you see that they are trying to trick us now. Do you think it is possible for us to give up our positions just because they talk to the reporters?"

"But. . . I just heard that Captain Brook from the criminal police team came as well. Jasmine has reported the case and said that I kidnapped Julian. I think he will find me soon. Maybe when I come, he has already gone to my office. What do you think we should do about this?"

Vivian had never thought that Sarah would call the police. If the police interfered in this matter, then everything would be in vain.

"He can investigate however he wants. What's more, even if that Captain Brook found Julian now, so what? Don't forget. Yesterday, when Julian signed the equity transfer contract, he was awake! No one put a knife on his neck to force him."

"Besides, he didn't even leave the company. How can they say that we are the ones holding him hostage? Don't scare yourself! Now, it all depends on who has strong endurance. Whoever survives until the end will be the winner of this battle!"

Obviously, Dowson was confident that he could become the chairman of Cooper Group.

"But. . . Jasmine said Ethan Cooper woke up. If he really woke up, what will we do?" This was the thing that worried her the most!

Vivian's heart was filled with an indescribable uneasiness.

When Dowson heard her words, he smiled again.

"Don't you think about whether her words are convincing or not? Ethan didn't wake up till yesterday, but he suddenly woke up when we announced that we were going to hold a press conference. It was obvious that she was trying to trick us. Don't fall for the other party's trick! If Ethan Cooper really woke up, why didn't Sarah bring him to the company when something so important is going happen today? Don't worry about anything now. They just want us to fail today's press conference. After the press conference, everyone will be helpless. Don't worry!"

Hearing Dowson's words, Vivian's heart slowly relaxed. She looked at Dowson and said, "Then is our press conference going to happen?"

"Yes! Of course! Since Jasmine has already publicly said those words downstairs, we cannot shrink back. If today's press conference doesn't happen, doesn't that mean that we have something on our mind? We must! Later, I will get someone to inform them. At 11 o' clock, the press conference will officially begin! Invite all the reporters to the venue! I want everyone to see if I, Dowson Bates, have been scared out of my wits!"

"Alright! Since you say so, then I'll throw caution to the wind. I'll go back and take a look now." When Vivian heard Dowson's words, she also had a plan in her heart. She stood up from the sofa and quickly left Dowson's office.

Seeing the door of the office close, Dowson's son, Diego immediately looked at his father. "Dad, you are really amazing! This foolish woman would never have thought that when you become the chairman, the first person to kick out of the company would be this Vivian!"

Dowson heard his son's words and smiled sinisterly. "Hmph! She still wanted the Cooper Group? That was just a pipe dream! This woman's heart was too wild. As long as I become the chairman of the Cooper Group, I will send her to another place in a week's time! At that time, this company will belong to us completely. "

Vivian came out of Dowson's office and quickly took the elevator to her office.

Just as she walked to the door, she saw Jenny walking over and waving at her. Vivian immediately followed Jenny into the corridor.

"Director Holmes, Captain Brook from the criminal police team is looking for you. He's in CEO Cooper's office. What do you think we should do?" Jenny took the treatment fee from Vivian and kept an eye on every movement here.

Vivian was silent for a moment. She then looked at Jenny to ask, "What did he ask you?"

"He did not ask me anything. He just asked where you went. He said that he had something to ask you to verify. . ."

Vivian nodded. "I understand. Go and do your work."

"Yes!" Jenny nodded and went back to her office.

Vivian thought for a while and then lifted her foot to Julian's office.

When she opened the office door, she saw Captain Brook standing by the window and making a phone call. It sounded like he was talking about a case.

Vivian lightly coughed and walked in.

Captain Brook saw Vivian coming and put away the line. He turned around and looked at her with a smile. "I didn't expect Miss Vivian to be so busy just now. I almost can't find her."

Vivian also smiled faintly. "Captain Brook must be joking. I just went to different departments to check. I didn't expect that I would be caught by Captain Brook."

Captain Brook heard her words and put away his expression. He walked in front of her and said rudely, "Someone said that you kidnapped the CEO of Cooper Group, Julian Cooper, so we came to investigate!"

Vivian laughed out loud when she heard this. She looked at Captain Brook without changing her expression.

"Captain Brook really knows how to make jokes. Look, Julian is here. You have already seen him. Why do you still say that I am holding him hostage? Besides, I am a woman. I am not the boss of some gang. Even if I have that heart, I do not have that courage, right?"

In any case, Julian was right in front of them. So Vivian was not afraid at all.

"You are right! But can you explain to me why he keeps sleeping?"

"He's been in a bad mood recently. You know Julian's mother died in an accident. Moreover, he couldn't see anything now. He had nightmares every night. He has insomnia throughout the night, so he takes some sleeping pills every day. You can ask him about this when he wakes up. No matter what, he is still an adult with his own independent consciousness. Even if I lie, this lie will be exposed in an instant. Captain Brook, don't you agree?"

Captain Brook listened to her words and nodded in agreement, but he still looked at her and said coldly: "You are right. Since you didn't do anything, then do you mind if we take Julian away?"

Vivian raised her eyebrows. "Of course! But I think it would be better for you to wait until he wakes up before taking him away."

"You don't have to worry about that." Captain Brook looked at his two subordinates and gave them a look.

The two police officers quickly stood up and walked to Julian's side. The two of them lifted him up and were about to leave.

Vivian stood in the middle of the office. When she saw that the two police officers really wanted to take Julian away, she immediately reached out to block them.

Captain Brook looked at her and smiled. "What is it? Miss Vivian wants to prevent us from carrying out official business?"

Vivian immediately corrected him, "I don't want to prevent you from carrying out official business. If you want to take him away, I have no objections. But the Cooper Group is holding a board meeting today. I think you have already seen the reporters at the entrance of the company when you came up. If you take Julian away now, it will definitely have a bad influence on the Cooper Group. If you really want to take him away, I hope you can take him away after the press conference!"

Captain Brook heard her words and said with a serious expression. "I'm afraid we can't do that. Since someone has reported it, we must bring him back to investigate clearly now! When we understand it, we will definitely send him back!"

After saying that, he walked towards the door.

Vivian looked at his back and bit her lips tightly.

When Captain Brook walked to the center of the office, he seemed to remember something. He turned around and looked at Vivian with an ambitious expression.

"Miss Vivian, there is something that you might not know yet, right? The main culprit in the Sarah Wilson's previous car accident case has already been convicted."

As soon as Vivian heard this, her heart tightened. But she was afraid that her expression would expose her inner thoughts, so she suppressed her emotions and continued to ask. "Is that so? I wonder how long my neighbor, Lucas, was sentenced to?"

"Twenty-five years!"

Vivian finally could not take it anymore and frowned. "How could it be so long? Did Captain Brook remember wrongly?"

Captain Brook smiled faintly. "Lucas is not only suspected of intentional murder, but he is also suspected of fraud. So the punishment of two crimes together must be a little heavy. I think Miss Vivian did not forget the 1.8 million that she lost, right?"

Vivian looked at him dumbfoundedly and said with her chin raised, "Of course not!"

No matter how uncomfortable her heart was, she had to suppress the pain in her heart and could not expose any of her emotions.

"That's good! Speaking of Lucas's fraud, I have to thank Miss Vivian for providing evidence to bring Lucas to justice!"

"You are welcome. . ." Vivian maintained a faint smile, but her heart was so stifled that she could not breathe.

"Then I will not disturb Miss Vivian anymore.
Goodbye!" Captain Brook looked at her and smiled.
He walked out of the office door.
