I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2552-‘How can we save ourselves?’ Sylvio did not have any good plans at that moment so he could not help but let out a sigh.

“Gosh!”

He could only take one step at a time.

He had to find a way to meet this mysterious David first, as he was the most uncertain factor.

Then, he would think about what to do next.

Only if that did not work, would he tell Elora the seriousness of the matter.

Even if she did not like Lufian, Sylvio hoped that she could make the most correct choice for the safety of countless living creatures in Leila.

After all, only she could keep Lufian from going berserk.

Yet, even so, they would only be treating the symptom, not the root cause.

Lufian was too dangerous.

There could not be the slightest error or the whole of Leila would suffer.

After Lufian left, he ran out of Leila immediately.

He urgently needed to vent his anger.

However, rationality told Lufian that he could not do it here and must do it elsewhere.

So his target was the Robotias’ lair, their mother brain.

Not only did this race try to invade Leila many times to occupy Leila’s resources, but they also seriously injured Elora, causing her to self-detonate to survive.

And Elora was Lufian’s trigger.

If anyone dared to hurt Elora, they would have to bear Lufian's revenge.

Lufian despised the Robotias to the bone. He had wanted to get rid of them a long time ago.

However, he did not have the strength back then.

Now, it was different.

Lufian had achieved Heavenly Overlord Rank and was already stronger than most level 9 civilizations.

The Robotias obviously did not have a Heavenly Overlord.

Otherwise, they would not have failed in after many attempts to invade Leila.

How strong was a Heavenly Overlord?

They would easily destroy a level 9 civilization, but they just needed some time.

Of course, the premise is that there was no other Heavenly Overlord in this level 9 civilization.

At this very moment, countless robots were working in an orderly manner in the Robotias' lair.

From a distance, the Robotias' mother brain resembled a human brain.

It was suspended in the void and that was why it was called the mother brain.

It was just that the size of this mother brain was a bit scary.

It was bigger than Leila's biggest planet.

It had many tentacles around it, each one was thick and long.

In short, it was simply a huge alien monster.

The rest of the Robotias were not even a grain of sand compared to the mother brain.

Anyone who saw the Robotias' mother brain for the first time would be extremely astonished.

The way that this race survived and reproduced was completely different from the other living races that naturally bred in the universe.

The mother brain would devour all kinds of resources and energy in the universe, creating countless Robotias to fight for it.

They had no fixed residence.

When it devoured everything in a civilization, the mother brain would move its huge body and continue in another place.

The location where the Robotias' mother brain was located was once a level 8 civilization.

However, it had almost been entirely devoured by the mother brain. All resources had been exhausted and it was no longer as glorious and flourishing as before.

The life that was once here had long since disappeared.

It was said that a very small part fled to Leila, struggling at death's door in some corner.

The five Overlords guarding Leila knew about those who fled here but tacitly allowed them to continue living in Leila.
