The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1281

Chapter 1281

As Felix learned the truth, he was on the verge of losing control.

Rosalynn said, "What's the use of losing control? The trajectory of her life depends on the guidance of her parents. How did you educate her in the past? What values did you impart to her? She will live her life according to that direction."

Felix paused for a moment and quickly replied, "I only taught her how to escape, how to protect herself, how to

His words suddenly trailed off. Besides those things, Molly had also seen him fighting the people who were after him. He had shared many of his past combat experiences with Molly. They would even sit by the roadside occasionally, watching people pass by, as he told her the vulnerable points of the human body

Felix's intention was that if Molly were ever kidnapped in the future, knowing the weaknesses of the human body would allow her to quickly counterattack and gain time to escape. His purpose was not to teach Molly to kill.

But

From another perspective, what he taught could indeed be more effective in taking someone's life.

Felix covered his head and crouched down

He had heard about Simon being beheaded, and now the royal family couldn't even find a trace of the killer. And now, knowing that the killer was his ten-year-old daughter, Molly, Felix's worldview was crumbling.

Mike looked at Rosalynn.

Rosalynn gently shook her head at him, indicating that he should stay standing

After a moment, Felix gradually calmed down.

He let out a deep breath: "Mrs. Silverman, thank you so much for taking us in during this period. I understand your concerns about Molly, I will take her away tomorrow and will not let her pose any threat to anyone in your family

"So, you plan to continue living a life on the run with your daughter?" Rosalynn asked coldly.

Felix's hand trembled violently.

Truth be told, this was the most peaceful time he and Molly had had. She has even started going to school and was doing well.

Teachers praised her many times.

She didn't even have to start from first grade, she could start from third grade.

"We all like her. She's still young and can be taught gradually. If you really take her away, she might walk in your footsteps and become a killer Mike said seriously. Felix looked up at Rosalynn.

"If I really minded, I wouldn't have kept you guys here in the first place, Rosalynn said calmly "I know she's not bloodthirsty. She took on that task just to free you She might look a bit weird, but that's because the environment she grew up in was weird.

Felix lowered his head in shame. "I grew up in the organization, I don't know how to raise a child"

"Molly is just fine as she is now. She'll take the entrance exam later, be a happy elementary school student, and then go to college, get into a top university!" Mike said.

He had dreamed of this when he was young

You can choose to go to school, get into a top university, then be like those people who come out of office buildings, drinking coffee every day

“Mrs. Silverman, don’t worry. I’ll definitely take educating my child seriously. We won’t cause you any trouble!” Felix thought for a moment, then promised Rosalynn seriously.

“As for the weapons issue, you can prepare them for her if you want, but you must make it clear to her not to bring them to school and not to attack other children at school, if someone really does something excessive, let her come to us, Rosalynn said seriously

Originally, she planned to discuss this issue with Felix after the entrance exam was over.

But since he came today and mentioned the child issue, let’s just talk about it.

“got it!”

“Good, you can go now.”

Felix nodded, then turned and walked out

Chapter 1282

Mike nodded and quickly followed suit.

“Felix!”

He caught up with Felix

Felix gave him a glance: “If you’re here to apologize for accidentally leaking the secret, there’s no need, I know it’s a good thing in some way”

Otherwise, he would never know in his lifetime how deeply Molly was affected by him.

“When you go back later, don’t blame Molly. She’s about to take her entrance exam. If her mood is affected, it would be awful if she doesn’t do well on the exam Mike said seriously

Felix thought for a moment won’t tell anyone about this!”

“You won’t?”

Mike laughed. "Good! Good! I also think it's better not to say anything. That jerk Simon deserves to be punished. Molly did the right thing! There's no need to blame Molly for such a person!"

Felix didn't say anything, he just quickened his steps to go home.

When he arrived at the dormitory, Molly was waiting for him under the eaves.

She was lightly dressed.

Seeing this, Felix immediately ran over. It's so cold, you should wear more clothes!"

"Dad, what does she want from you? Did I do something wrong?" Molly asked.

Felix shook his head: "We were just discussing your entrance exam.

"You're lying." Molly stared at him, somewhat helpless, "If I did something wrong, you can tell me directly. Only when I know what I did wrong can I correct it."

Felix felt sad

She couldn't even clearly distinguish whether what she did was right or wrong in others' eyes.

"You didn't do anything wrong, it's just that Mike was careless in his words! He pointed to Mike

Mike: "I told Mrs. Silverman about the folding knife you wanted

Molly frowned, glanced at Mike, and then looked down, "If it's inconvenient, forget it."

The most important thing is to stay.

"No, Mrs. Silverman is very kind, she likes you very much, how could she not give it to you?" Felix hurriedly said, "But we have to make an agreement, you can't bring a knife to school, and you can't fight with classmates in the future. If someone really annoys you, you can tell me and Mrs Silverman, we will help you solve it!

"I won't hit kids. Molly said seriously.

In the past, she had also been bullied by some ignorant children.

If it comes to fighting, those kids are no match for her.

But she never fought back

"That's what dad said! Felix looked at Molly.

Thinking that she was so young, she cut off Simon's head and escaped from the palace with the head.

The danger of it he didn't even dare to imagine,

If there was a slight oversight, she would...

Thinking of this, he suddenly felt a palpitation

"Sweetie." Felix gently touched her head, "From now on, both of us must be completely loyal to Mrs. Silverman. She has given us a new life. Her kindness to us is comparable to the grace of rebirth. She is our benefactor understand?"

Molly nodded.

At this moment, no one could foresee. Rosalynn's little help would save her and her children's lives in the near future.

Two days later, the final exam results were out.

Chapter 1283

Cory did an awesome job, acing the first place in the grade as expected, with a total score close to perfect.

As for ivy, well, she didn't exactly flunk, but compared to Cory, her performance was a bit lame

When Ivy received her report card, her disappointment was evident. On that particular day, Wayne and Rosalynn visited the school. Wayne had generously donated an art center, which made the principal go out of their way to impress him. However, Wayne's true intention was to provide his daughter with a dedicated place to paint at school, so inside the art center, there was a studio specifically designed for ivy.

After examining Ivy's report card, the principal diplomatically mentioned, "Ivy's grades could use a boost during the winter vacation. At that moment, Ivy suddenly perked up and exclaimed with joy, "Liam The three adults immediately followed her gaze and noticed Liam approaching. He greeted Mr. Silverman, Mrs. Silverman, and the principal Rosalynn gently inquired, "Liam, did you secure the first place once again? Liam simply nodded in response.

The principal boasted, "Even though Liam is somewhat special, his grades are top-notch indeed. If he participated in the exchange program, his grades would definitely improve even more when he came back. It's a pity that he gave up that opportunity"

The principal was still dwelling on the exchange student thing.

Then, Liam's gaze fell on Ivy's report card, and his eyebrows furrowed slightly.

He always noticed Ivy attentively taking notes in class whenever he passed by her classroom. Why were her grades still so low?

Rosalynn noticed his gaze and asked, "Liam, I heard from the principal that you tutor other students?"

Liam replied. "Yes."

Rosalynn said, "Could you spare some time to help Ivy with her studies? She grew up abroad and spends most of her time painting, so she struggles a bit with her studies

Ivy also chimed in, "Yes, Liam, could you tutor me? My desk mate says you explain really well. Her brother always goes to you when he has problems, and she says you explain better than the teachers!"

Liam replied, "Cory is even better than me"

Ivy honestly expressed. "Cory is incredible, but his explanations of problems confuse me" Cory possessed natural intelligence, effortlessly solving simple math problems with just a glance, bypassing the need for detailed processes

Initially, Liam was inclined to decline, but upon observing Ivy's grades, he grew perplexed. How would she be accepted into college with such results?

While her parents support could secure her a spot in an average college, gaining admission to top-tier institutions would be a completely different challenge. Ultimately, Liam replied, "I'll check my schedule." Rosalynn responded with a smile, "Great! I'll be eagerly awaiting your call." "Okay," Liam nodded slightly before making his way towards the school gate

The principal shook his head, sighing. "That kid his family has truly hurt him his demeanor reflects it." Rosalynn, observing Liam's retreating figure, countered. "Cold? I find him to be very warm-hearted." He always lent a helping hand to those in need,
