

Chapter 523

Since people were waiting for her, Elaine did not even bother to finish her meal. She quickly grabbed her bag before she took a cab to an older villa complex in Aurous Hill, the West Garden Villa.

An old friend of hers lived in the vicinity of this villa complex.

The West Garden Villa had been relatively prosperous and luxurious in Aurous Hill twenty years ago. However, since it was already an old villa complex, it was not as luxurious and elegant as it used to be.

In the past, Elaine felt that the West Garden Villa was already very good and luxurious. Moreover, she felt that she would never be able to move into a villa like this in her lifetime.

Nevertheless, things were different now. When she thought of how she was going to move into the best villa at Thompson First very soon, Elaine felt a little dismissive of the West Garden Villa.

Her old friend who lived at this villa complex was called Summer Gibson, and Elaine had met her many years ago.

Summer came from a pretty good family background. Her husband made a lot of money in his early years, and after he passed away in an accident, he left Summer with a lot of money,

After raising and sending her child abroad for further education, she would simply play mahjong for fun to pass time every day.

Summer was very rich but she had very lousy hands and poor mahjong skills. Therefore, she would always lose points to Elaine whenever they played mahjong together. Elaine would always have more points and a better hand than her.

Therefore, Elaine regarded Summer as her God of Wealth and would definitely be there whenever Summer invited her over to play mahjong.

As soon as she rang Summer's doorbell, the door was opened almost immediately. At this time, a woman who was about the same age as Elaine quickly greeted her with a warm smile on her face. "Sister Elaine, you're here! Come on in!"

This middle-aged woman was none other than Summer.

Elaine hurriedly greeted her before stepping through the door and saying with a smile, "Oh, Summer! I am sorry to keep you waiting for a long time."

After that, both of them headed to the living room. At this time, the other two friends who had gathered to play mahjong with the both of them were already sitting and waiting for Elaine at the mahjong table.

"Sister Elaine, you are finally here!"

Another middle-aged woman said impatiently when she saw Elaine walking into the living room. "Come and sit down! We will start by playing eight continuous laps today!"

As soon as Elaine and Summer sat down at the mahjong table, the mahjong game officially began.

As Elaine rubbed the mahjong tiles in her hand, she turned around and said, "Summer, you have already lived in this villa for quite a long time, right?"

After touching a tile, Summer smiled before she replied, "Yes, this villa was bought for more than ten years ago, mainly for investment purposes. After my child went abroad, I was living alone in the city, but the villa was too big for me. I could not help but feel very anxious living alone in such a huge villa."

"Then, have you thought about renovating and refurbishing your villa?" Elaine asked with an interested expression on her face. "Let me tell you, my daughter happens to own a renovation and refurbishment company, and she is also partnering with the Emgrand Group! If you are interested in renovating or refurbishing your villa, I can ask my daughter to give you a special price. When that time comes, she will surely turn your villa into a magnificent palace!"

"Sister Elaine, thank you for your kindness," Summer replied as she smiled slightly. After that, she sighed before she said, "However, I am already planning to sell this villa."

"Sell it?" Elaine was very puzzled. "Why do you want to sell your villa? You are not short of money. I know that your husband left you seven or eight different houses, and you have also invested in several real estates yourself. Isn't it good for you to keep this villa for investment purposes?"

Chapter 524

Summer shook her head before she smiled and said, "Actually, I am going to the United States after a while. I am going to settle down there, and I am not going to come back to Aurous Hill anymore."

At this time, Elaine asked in surprise, "How are you planning to settle down in the United States?"

Summer nodded slightly before she said, "Didn't I tell you that my son went abroad to study in the United States? He has not returned to the country after leaving for the United States. He is already married there, and my daughter-in-law is also pregnant now. My son does not intend to come back to Aurous Hill anymore. Therefore, he wants to bring me over to live with him in the United States so that I can help him to look after his children in the future."

One of the women sitting at the mahjong table suddenly blurted out, "Oh, Summer! Are you going to sell all of your houses and properties in Aurous Hill then?"

Summer replied, "I will just keep one of the smaller condominiums in the urban area. If there is an opportunity in the future, my family can come back to Aurous Hill for a short vacation for a few days."

Elaine could not help but feel a little sorry and disappointed when she heard Summer's words.

She was not sorry that she was going to lose a good friend whom she could chat with and play mahjong with. Instead, Elaine was upset because she felt that she would never be able to find another person like Summer who was rich and bad at playing mahjong, but would never get upset and was always willing to lose money to her!

At this time, outside the West Garden Villa, Christopher and Hannah had just parked their car at the entrance of the villa and were waiting for their real estate agent to arrive.

Christopher intended to find a suitable house that would cost them less than ten million dollars. Therefore, he had contacted a real estate company and had asked for a real estate agent to help him find a villa that cost about ten million dollars.

The average price of the houses in Aurous Hill was a little more than thirty thousand dollars, but a villa was naturally more expensive. It would be basically impossible for anyone to buy a brand new villa for ten million dollars. Therefore, they could only afford to come and look at this old villa.

Hannah was very dissatisfied as she stared at the entrance of the West Garden Villa. "Christopher, don't you think that this villa complex is a little too old? Just look at the villas here! It looks even older than the old lady's villa. Why don't we look at some other villas in another area instead?"

Christopher quickly replied, "There is no way we will be able to afford another villa elsewhere. Moreover, the first-grade houses at Thompson First are actually pretty good, but you refuse to buy a house there."

Hannah became very annoyed as she replied, "That piece of trash Charlie owns a villa at Thompson First! I do not want to risk running into Jacob and Elaine there in the future! I am not going to buy an ordinary residential house or condominium apartment at Thompson First!"

Christopher replied, "Therefore, it would be more cost-effective for us to buy this kind of old villa. It has a very large and spacious area, and it will be very comfortable for our entire family to move in. It does not matter if the villa is a little older because we can always renovate it again."

After that, Christopher continued speaking, "You have to consider the situation that we're in, Hannah. Both Harold and Wendy are both single. Each of them will already occupy one bedroom each. Both of us will take one bedroom, and that will already be three bedrooms. If Harold gets married in the future, he will definitely continue living with us. When he has a child, we have to make sure that the child has a room too. That is already four bedrooms!"

Christopher continued explaining, "And wouldn't mom come to live with us in the future too? At that time, we will have to make sure that she has a bedroom to herself too. We would need five bedrooms in total! Thus, it would be most practical for us to buy a villa."

Hannah asked angrily, "Why must your mother come and live with us? Why doesn't she go and live with Jacob instead?"

Christopher shrugged as he said, "Since the old lady has already severed all ties with Jacob's family, do you think that Jacob will allow her to live with them?"

Hannah was very dissatisfied and she continued her argument, "No matter what, the old lady cannot come and live with us! I will not allow it! Anyway, the Wilson family is already done for, and we will not reap any further benefits from the old lady any longer. We should just send her to Jacob's house. It is none of our business if he allows her to live with him or not! We do not need to care about that old lady anymore!"

Christopher quickly replied, "Hannah, you might not know about this, but my mother bought a life insurance policy about twenty years ago. It is a financial insurance policy. The insurance payout after her death is at least six million dollars! If you drive the old lady out of our house and ask her to live with Jacob instead, the six million dollars will belong to Jacob after she dies!"

"More than six million dollars?" Hannah's eyes lit up immediately as she asked in surprise, "She bought so much insurance?"

Chapter 525

"Yes." Christopher quickly explained, "This is the life insurance that my dad bought for her when he was still alive in order to leave a way out for the future generations."

After that, Christopher also said, "Why don't you analyze and do the calculations yourself? How many more years could my mother possibly live when she is already so old? I think that she can only live for another three to five years at most. Let's just let her live with us for another three to five years. After her death, we will be able to get our hands on the six million dollars life insurance. Don't you think that it is very worth it?"

"Yes, it is worth it!" Hannah replied as she rubbed her hands excitedly. After that, she said, "We have to take good care of your mother now. We should not allow Jacob and his family to lay their hands on your mother's life insurance!"

Christopher nodded as he smiled, "That is only natural. Don't worry, we will not split the six million dollars with Jacob and his family when the time comes!"

Hannah hurriedly replied, "Not only will he not get a single penny from the six million dollars, but we also have to make sure that Jacob pays half the amount of money for your mother's funeral and burial plot when she dies!"

At this time, Christopher subconsciously replied, "The old lady has already severed all ties with him. Do you think that he will willingly pay the money for her funeral and burial?"

"Are you stupid?" Hannah could not help but burst out immediately. "The old lady might have already broken off all relations with him verbally, but it does not have any legal effect at all! When the old lady dies, we can go to court and sue Jacob if he refuses to pay half of the amount that we will have to spend on the old lady's funeral and burial. After all, before the law, Jacob is still legally the son of that old lady, and he has the obligation and responsibility to pay for her funeral and burial too!"

Christopher beamed as he broke out into laughter. "Wife! You are right. At that time, we certainly have to ask Jacob to come out with half of the money for the expenses incurred. You are still the smarter one between the both of us, darling! Hahaha!"

Hannah was very proud of herself and grinned as she said, "The two fools, Jacob and Elaine, are always trying to play with us, but how could they possibly be our opponents?"

As soon as her voice fell, a young real estate agent who was dressed in a small suit came over before asking politely, "Hello, are you Mr. and Mrs. Wilson?"

"Yes, yes, yes!" Christopher replied as he nodded hurriedly. "You must be the real estate agent from the Lynnox Real Estate Company, right?"

"That's right," the young girl replied with a smile on her face. "Sir, madam, I have already made an appointment with the owner of the villa, she is already waiting for us. We can go in and take a look around the villa now."

"Okay." Christopher nodded before he replied, "Let's go over and take a look, then."

As she led them toward the villa, the young girl took the opportunity to explain the situation. "I will tell you a little about the villa. The owner of the villa is a middle-aged lady. She wants to get rid of all her properties as soon as possible because she will be migrating to the United States soon. That is the reason why she is selling her villa at a slightly cheaper price as compared to the market price. This is definitely a very good deal!"

Christopher and Hannah could not help but smile to themselves when they heard the young girl's words.

It was simply perfect if it was cheaper!

If this villa was suitable, they could use the money that they saved from the purchase of the villa to renovate and refurbish the villa instead!

Meanwhile, Elaine was still playing with Summer and her friends. As they were in the midst of the mahjong game, the doorbell suddenly rang.

Summer looked at her friends apologetically before she said, "I'm sorry but please excuse me for a short while. I think the real estate agent is here with my potential buyer. I am going to go and open the door to invite them in now."

Then, Summer stood up before she walked toward the entrance and opened the front door.

When Summer saw the real estate agent standing at the front door with a middle-aged couple, she knew that these were the potential buyers who had come here to take a look at her villa today. She smiled pleasantly at them before she said, "Hello, please come in..."

At this time, the real estate agent quickly spoke up, "Miss Gibson, let me introduce you to the potential buyers. This is Mr. Wilson and his wife, Miss Queen. This is the couple that I told you about over the phone, and they seemed to be very interested in buying your villa."

The middle-aged man smiled slightly before he took a step forward and said politely, "Hello, Miss Gibson. My name is Christopher Wilson, and I am very pleased to meet you."

The visitors were none other than Christopher and his wife, Hannah.

Chapter 526

Summer smiled before she said, "Oh, please come in! Come in! I have not lived in this villa for many years. So, please just make yourselves at home as you look around the villa."

"Okay!" Christopher nodded before he entered the villa with Hannah. After that, he began looking at the layout and interior design of the villa.

At this time, Shella, the real estate agent, smiled before she said, "Mr. Wilson, the West Garden Villa is one of the first villa complexes that was developed in Aurous Hill. The supporting facilities are all relatively complete, and it has very tight and good security. Therefore, your safety is guaranteed. The villa has an actual living area of four hundred and seventy square meters, and this fully meets all of your previous requirements..."

The reason Christopher was looking forward to buying an old villa was because it would be relatively cheaper. A normal four hundred and seventy square meters villa cost at least twenty million dollars in Aurous Hill, but the current market price of a villa in this villa complex generally costs only thirteen or fourteen million dollars. Moreover, it seemed as though he would be able to bargain and cut down the price of the villa today.

Therefore, Christopher asked Summer immediately, "Miss Gibson, how much do you intend to sell your villa for?"

"Since I will be leaving for the United States soon, I am actually in a hurry to sell this villa. Therefore, I will sell my villa for a relatively cheaper price..."

Summer smiled slightly before she said, "Well, if both of you are really interested in buying my villa, I will sell it to you for twelve million dollars. What do you think?"

"What?! Are you trying to steal or rob from us?" Hannah raised her voice as she blurted out her words in shock. "This is such an old villa, but you actually have the audacity to ask for twelve million dollars?"

Summer did not get angry and merely smiled as she said, "In this villa community, most of the listing prices for the villas here are above thirteen and a half million dollars. Some people are placing their villa for sale for fourteen million dollars. Therefore, the price of twelve million dollars that I have quoted to you is in fact a very, very cost-effective and special price."

Right then, Elaine, who was sitting in the living room, heard the familiar voices from outside. She glanced outside out of curiosity and saw Hannah who was very displeased and dissatisfied at this time.

The man standing next to her was none other than Christopher, the eldest son of the Wilson family.

Elaine really did not expect to see both of them here. After thinking about what Summer had just said, Elaine deduced that both of them were potential buyers who were interested to buy Summer's old villa.

Wasn't the Wilson family about to go bankrupt? How could Christopher even afford to buy a villa at a time like this?

At this time, Hannah had a very arrogant expression on her face as she said, "Miss Gibson, to be honest with you, only a fool would buy this old villa for twelve million dollars. I heard that you were going to the United States soon, so I know that you will want to get rid of this villa as soon as you can. If you agree to sell me this villa for eight million dollars, we can complete the sales and transaction immediately today! After that, you can even pack your bags and leave for the United States tomorrow! Wouldn't that be the best of both worlds for you?"

Hannah's main reason for lowering the price of the villa was because she knew that the other party was in a hurry to sell. In her opinion, since the other party was in a hurry to sell, she definitely had to take advantage of this opportunity to bargain and lower the price of the villa so that she could make a big profit for herself.

She felt that if Summer was anxiously waiting to leave for the United States because she had a family member who was dying or in need of help, she would surely be able to pressure her into selling her villa for a lower price.

However, Hannah did not know that Summer was actually very wealthy and had more than one house that she was waiting to sell. Therefore, she was not in need of money at all. Why would she possibly allow Hannah to take advantage of her and sell her the villa at a loss just because she was in a hurry to sell?

Summer naturally knew that Hannah was up to no good. Therefore, she frowned before she replied in a disapproving tone, "Miss Queen, I admit that my villa is a little old, but I have already given you a very fair price for it. You will definitely not be able to find a lower price for a villa in this area than the price that I have just offered you. As for the price of eight million dollars that you have mentioned, I am afraid that is nothing but a fantasy!"

After that, Summer continued speaking, "Since it seems as though both of you are not really sincere, I don't think that we need to continue talking about this anymore."

Christopher knew very well that his wife's counter-offer of eight million dollars was indeed very ridiculous. Why would anyone sell this villa for eight million dollars?! In fact, if someone placed this villa for sale at eleven million dollars, it would be sold within half an hour because it would indeed be a very good bargain for a villa like this! It would be very much cheaper than the market price!

Therefore, Christopher hurriedly replied, "Miss Gibson, please do not be angry. My wife is not sensible and she does not know that she is talking nonsense."

Hannah glared at Christopher before she said, "I am not sensible?! Christopher, have you forgotten who is in charge of this family? Have you forgotten who has always been the one making decisions for the family? I am telling you, I will not buy this villa for more than eight million dollars!"

Then, Hannah tried to wink at Christopher, almost as though she was trying to tell him that she had got this under her control. Hannah was confident that she would be able to take this woman down.

Just then, Elaine walked over with a smile on her face as she said cheerfully, “Oh! Brother-in-law and sister-in-law, you actually expect to buy this villa for only eight million dollars? Are you insane?”

Chapter 527

Truth be told, Hannah and Christopher would never have dreamt that they would run into Elaine here!

Both of them really could not comprehend the situation. Why was Elaine here at the villa?

Was she friends with Summer?

Hannah was a little annoyed at this time.

In fact, she had already planned to slaughter the price of the villa and insist on purchasing the villa for eight million dollars. If the other party disagreed with the price, she would just increase the price little by little until a maximum of nine million dollars. Hannah was confident that she would definitely be able to buy the villa for nine million dollars.

However, she never would have expected Elaine to suddenly appear and attack them at this time!

Besides, Elaine had always been very polite and respectful toward her. So, why was she suddenly so courageous to even mock her in front of everyone else today? When did she become so courageous?

Elaine had been bullied by Christopher and Hannah ever since she had married into the Wilson family. After being bullied for more than twenty years, Elaine naturally hated them to the core.

Since she heard that the Wilson family was going to go bankrupt and lose everything that they had soon, Elaine had been looking for an opportunity to taunt and humiliate the both of them. Unexpectedly, the heavens had eyes, and she was given this golden opportunity to make fun of them today!

This gave Elaine an opportunity to avenge the hatred that she had felt all these years.

The expression on Hannah’s face was very ugly after listening to Elaine’s sarcastic remark. She turned her head and looked at Elaine before she said, “Elaine, what do you mean by that?”

Elaine smiled before she said, “Oh! Sister-in-law, do you really mean to say that you do not understand what I am saying? My friend’s villa is worth more than ten million dollars, but you are actually trying to offer her only eight million dollars for it? Can you be even more shameless than this? I know that you might have become very poor recently, but this is not a valid reason for you to come out and try to take advantage of others!”

As Elaine spoke, she did not bother to conceal her feelings, or rather, she did not want to conceal it at all. Elaine did not care about their feelings whatsoever.

Her husband, Jacob, had no place or status in the Wilson family, and that was the reason why she had been living under the pressure and control of this couple for so many years. She had been suffocated and filled with grievances throughout all these years.

Since she finally had the opportunity to trample all over them, Elaine naturally wanted them to feel the bitterness she had tasted all this while!

The expression on Hannah's face turned even uglier as she glared at Elaine and said, "Okay, Elaine. It seems as though you have become even more skillful after just a few days, right? You used to be so cowardly like a mouse who had just seen a cat when you saw me in the past. Now, you actually dare to talk to me in this manner?"

Hannah was also very angry at this time!

In the past, Elaine was simply an inferior person who could not do anything or stand up to her at all.

However, when Elaine saw that the Wilson family was about to go bankrupt, she immediately had the courage and guts to jump at her and taunt her! What a bitch!

When Elaine heard Hannah mention the past, she quickly replied arrogantly, "Oh, sister-in-law. Do you really think you can continue pressuring me just because the old lady favored you? Why don't you take a look in the mirror so you can see how poor you are now? You still dare to act tough in front of me?"

Then, Elaine continued speaking, "To tell you the truth, I have already been unhappy and dissatisfied with you for a very long time, Hannah. Over the years, the old lady had always been very biased and impartial. She always favored you because you were her eldest daughter-in-law. Otherwise, how could I possibly have swallowed my pride, bowed down to you, and praised you when you were actually worth nothing at all? You are just a stinky woman who knows how to kneel down and suck up to an old lady! The Wilson family is already going bankrupt and you are still trying to act tough in front of me?! Pfft! Why don't you take a piss and look at who you really are?"

Hannah's face turned red with anger at this time.

In the entire Wilson family, was she truly the only one who had been kneeling down and sucking up to Lady Wilson?

When Elaine was trying to curry favor with Lady Wilson, she was more than willing to do anything that she could, and she worked even harder than anyone else to please the old lady! So, how could Elaine say that about her when they were both obviously in the same boat?!

Chapter 528

Christopher turned pale, and he quickly stepped forward to reprimand Elaine. "Elaine! Stop trying to criticize and insult us! No matter how depressing our situation is, we are definitely better off than you. Why don't you take a look at your own life instead? Your husband is a piece of trash, your son-in-law is a piece of trash, and your whole family is simply pathetic!"

Elaine's eyes widened immediately, but she simply replied in disdain, "Oh! Big brother, you are right! My husband is really nothing but a piece of trash, but what else can I do? All the men in the Wilson family are nothing but garbage! Don't you already know this in your own heart?"

"You..." Christopher gritted his teeth in anger.

Good for you, Elaine. I was scolding your husband, but you actually dragged my husband and son into this?!

At this time, Elaine did not give Christopher any chance to continue speaking at all. She simply placed her hands on her waist as she said arrogantly, "But don't you dare say that my precious son-in-law, Charlie, is a piece of trash! My precious son-in-law is really amazing! Moreover, I will also be able to move into my luxurious villa at Thompson First next month. Can you even afford a villa there? Do you have the ability to buy a villa there?"

In truth, Elaine was not all that proud of Charlie.

However, she was simply taking advantage of this opportunity to use Charlie to antagonize Christopher. It was really exhilarating!

When Christopher heard Elaine's words, he felt very uncomfortable and distressed.

Damn it! She was right.

Even though Charlie was nothing but a piece of trash, he actually owned a luxurious villa at Thompson First. What about himself? He could only afford to buy a second-hand villa that was already twenty years old. Charlie could probably buy ten of these villas with one of his villas at Thompson First.

Elaine felt very happy and victorious when she saw the ugly and uncomfortable expression on Christopher's face. She was so excited that she felt as though she could perform a dance right here.

After that, Elaine sighed before she continued attacking Christopher. "Oh. To be completely honest with you, I did think that Charlie was nothing but a pathetic piece of trash in the past. I used to look down on him, and I really envied you and sister-in-law. Your daughter, Wendy, was engaged to the wealthy and powerful Gerald from the White family. Your family would have risen up the ranks in an instant if Wendy were to marry into the White family!"

Elaine sighed as she shook her head with regrets. "Well, who would have thought that Wendy would actually be dumped by Gerald? I guess Gerald is truly the scumbag of all scumbags! How could he be so heartless? He got Wendy pregnant, and then he dumped her without any hesitation at all. Who would do that to anyone?"

Hannah and Christopher exchanged glances with one another. At this time, they were so angry and furious, they could kill anyone!

Damn it! This lousy woman was absolutely overstepping her boundaries!

At this time, Elaine continued speaking, "But still, I envied you. Even though Gerald dumped Wendy, I heard that Wendy still got her hands on a new son-in-law for my brother and sister-in-law! I heard that your new son-in-law was Kenneth Wilson, the chairman of Modestway Group! He is so much wealthier and more powerful compared to Gerald!"

As she spoke about this, Elaine had a regretful expression on her face as she said, “However, even though Kenneth seems like the perfect man, there is still one big problem with him. He is a little too old. Brother-in-law, I think that Kenneth should be at least two to three years older than you. Am I right? Can I interview you and ask you a question? What does it feel like to have a son-in-law who is older than you?”

Hannah could clearly hear the irony and sarcasm in Elaine’s words, and the expression on her face was extremely ugly as she yelled, “Elaine! You’d better shut your mouth right now! Otherwise, I will tear your mouth apart today!”

“Hey!” Elaine replied disdainfully, “Sister-in-law, I am simply speaking the truth. Why do you want me to shut my mouth? Why won’t you let me continue speaking? Why do you want to tear my mouth apart?”

As she spoke, Elaine snorted coldly before she said, “Let me tell you something, Hannah. Don’t think that you can bully me just because you have a son-in-law who is older than you! Don’t think that I don’t know that Kenneth has already dumped Wendy a long time ago! Am I right?”

“I also heard that Kenneth gave Wendy away to Jeffrey from the Weaver family. Hahaha. Chairman Wilson is truly a very interesting person. Wendy is a person, not an item or a puppy. How could he just give her away to someone else so casually?”

“That is the reason why I say my precious son-in-law, Charlie, is still the best. Even though he can be a little useless at times, at least he is very reliable, and he will never give up on our family just like that.”

Hannah was about to lose her cool and go crazy because of Elaine’s ridicule.

She gritted her teeth before she rushed directly at Elaine as she yelled hysterically, “Elaine! I am going to fight it out with you today!”

Chapter 529

When Elaine saw that Hannah had already raised her hands as she rushed toward her, she immediately took a few steps back as she said coldly, “Let me tell you something, Hannah. You cannot afford to offend me, so you’d better keep your hands to yourself!”

At this time, Hannah replied savagely, “I can’t afford to offend a stinky woman like you?! If I do not tear your mouth apart today, my last name will not be Queen!”

Elaine snorted before she retorted, “My precious son-in-law, Charlie, is very good at fighting. I believe you have not forgotten how he dealt with the bodyguards you hired or how he taught your useless son, Harold, a lesson that he would never forget? Believe it or not, if you try and provoke me today, I will just call Charlie right now. I will ask him to come here and teach both of you a lesson immediately!”

Hannah shuddered as soon as she heard Elaine’s words. She became very frustrated and felt as though all the anger and hatred she was feeling was already dissipating...

To be honest, Charlie had truly left a very strong psychological shadow on her.

She could not figure out why a pathetic piece of trash like Charlie, who was always bullied and insulted, could actually be so good at fighting. He was really insane and uncontrollable when he was beating people up!

Christopher was also very afraid of Charlie. After all, he had personally witnessed what Charlie could do with his own two eyes, and he had almost peed out of fear the last time.

When Elaine saw that both of them were silent as they were too afraid to say anything anymore, she knew that they were both afraid of Charlie. Therefore, she sneered before she said, "Oh, I sympathize with both of you actually. The Wilson family is going down, and both Harold and Wendy are still single. I am also afraid that it will no longer be possible for Wendy to find a husband in Aurous Hill anymore. Ah, both of you are going to be so miserable and pitiful in the future."

After that, Elaine continued speaking with a serious expression on her face. "Don't blame me for not giving you a kind reminder. I don't think you should even be buying a villa at this time. Why do you want to buy a villa anyway? You should just save up whatever money you can so that you will not have to starve or find a way to put food on your table in the future. You should just buy a cheap and small house in the suburbs and use your remaining money to start a small business instead."

Christopher and Hannah were so angry that they were completely at a loss for words.

Elaine continued, "Oh, right! I think that both of you should open a mahjong hall! If that is the case, when Summer sells her villa, I will bring my friends over to your mahjong hall to support your business. That way, you and your family will not starve to death then. What do you think?"

Christopher felt as though he was coming down with a heart attack.

On the other hand, Hannah was ready to perish with Elaine!

This was the first time they had ever felt so humiliated and insulted because of Elaine.

This was the most ruthless and satirical remarks that anyone had ever said to them in their entire lives!

What was even more hateful was the fact that they could not retaliate at all!

How could they possibly retort her words?

Their food, clothes, house, daughter, son-in-law... everything was inferior to that stinky woman, Elaine!

As they thought about it, Christopher and his wife felt even more frustrated. They felt so ashamed and angry that they wanted to dig a hole so that they could hide immediately.

Elaine was very satisfied at this time that she could even sing out loud. She really could not remember the last time she had felt so happy. She had finally avenged all of the hatred and dissatisfaction she had felt in the past!

When Christopher realized that he would not be able to regain his face today, he simply said coldly, "Elaine, you will pay for your arrogance today sooner or later!"

Elaine nodded as she sighed and said, "Yes, big brother. I really think that I will have to pay the price for my actions soon. I will have to move into the luxurious villa at Thompson First next month. I am afraid that I will be lost every day because the villa is so big. How could I be able to live comfortably in the villa? The villa is so huge, I am afraid that I will feel very uncomfortable then..."

After that, Elaine sighed before she said, "Ahh, when we move into the villa at Thompson First, we will be on a completely different level and status compared to you, big brother. We might not be able to see you so often in the future. Brother and sister-in-law, it seems as though you are right. There is a price that I will have to pay for my arrogance today!"

Christopher felt as though he was going to explode in anger. In order to preserve his own life, he gritted his teeth before he stomped his feet and cursed, "Damn it! We are not going to buy this villa anymore. Let's go!"

Chapter 530

After that, Christopher took Hannah with him as they left the villa immediately.

The real estate agent who had been standing at the side also followed awkwardly behind them. Even though she also despised these two customers after listening to Elaine's words, she had no choice but to follow after them because the customer was always the king.

When Summer saw both of them leaving, she could not help but sigh and say, "Sister Elaine, your relatives are truly strange. Did they treat me as a fool? She actually dared to ask to buy my villa for eight million dollars..."

Elaine smiled before she replied, "Well, they are going bankrupt soon. In fact, they are just a bunch of poor people with no money at all. I think that they may not be able to afford it even if you promised to sell the villa to them for eight million dollars!"

Summer nodded before she said, "That is truly disappointing. Let's ignore them and continue playing our mahjong instead!"

Christopher and his wife, Hannah, began cursing in unison after they left the villa.

The main reason why they did not dare to curse or swear in front of Elaine was simply because they were both afraid of her son-in-law, Charlie.

If they got beaten up by Charlie, they would surely be on the losing end.

The real estate agent followed quickly behind them, and after they were done scolding and cursing, she asked cautiously, "Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, do you want to take a look at other houses instead?"

Hannah had a very ugly expression on her face as she glared at the girl and cursed, "Look?! What are you looking at? Get out of my sight!"

After saying that, Hannah grabbed Christopher as they walked out of the villa complex.

The real estate agent could not help but shed tears of grievances at this time. However, since she had a weaker personality, she did not step forward to demand justice for herself.

After leaving the villa, Hannah could not help but feel even more angry and frustrated. After that, she could not help but tell Christopher, "This Elaine is really good at showing off! Look at how she is acting just because she has some money now! How can she actually go around showing off that she is already going to move into the luxurious villa at Thompson First soon?! If it were not for that piece of trash, Charlie, going around to deceive people, how could they possibly own a villa at Thompson First?! Ahh! I am so annoyed and frustrated right now!"

Christopher had a cold expression on his face as he agreed with Hannah's words. "That lousy woman is really too much!"

After that, Christopher sighed as he said helplessly, "Alas, we cannot afford to take any actions against her now. The Wilson family is going to crumble and fall soon. Anyone will be able to humiliate and trample all over us then..."

At this time, Hannah immediately asked, "Then, are we still going to buy a house then? If we do not buy a house, your mother is going to ask you to give her eight million dollars!"

"Buy! Of course, we're going to buy a house!" Christopher replied immediately. "However, we will not be buying the house now."

Hannah hurriedly asked, "If so, when will we buy the house?"

Christopher replied, "Doesn't that stinky woman, Elaine, have some money now? I think that we should try to scam the money out of her."

"Scam her? How could we possibly scam her?" Hannah asked in surprise.

Christopher had a sullen expression on his face as he said, "Doesn't she enjoy gambling? Then, let's make a bet. First, we will use a petty profit to lure her into the game. After that, we will keep luring her to place a bigger bet, and we will then hire an experienced old man to deal with her! We will eventually be able to cheat all of her money out of her!"

At this time, Christopher sneered before he said, "It would be even better if we could get her to mortgage the villa at Thompson First to us! If that is the case, we will be able to turn our lives around immediately!"

Chapter 531

Elaine did not know that both Christopher and Hannah had already begun plotting to rob her of her assets and the luxurious villa at Thompson First that was owned by her son-in-law, Charlie.

She continued playing mahjong at Summer's villa with her friends until late at night, not even bothering to go home for dinner. The four ladies decided to order some KFC takeaways instead. They held onto the bucket of chicken as they enjoyed their chicken drumsticks and mahjong game. They could not stop smiling as they continued touching the mahjong tiles.

Charlie was already done preparing dinner and was enjoying a meal with his wife and father-in-law at this time. Claire could not help but complain when she saw that her mother was not home at all. After that, Claire said, "Dad! Can you please start to control mom occasionally? You should try to stop her from playing mahjong and gambling all the time!"

"Control her?" Jacob snorted before he said, "I do not have the ability to do that. Why don't you try and control her instead? If I can actually control your mother, do you think I would be in this state today? Do you know the reason why your grandmother had always favored and doted on her uncle instead of me?"

Claire was very surprised as she asked her father, "It cannot possibly be because of mother, right?"

"It is precisely because of her!" Jacob replied as he sighed. "In the beginning, your grandfather and grandmother did not allow me to get married to your mother. If your mother had not been pregnant with you, your grandfather would never have given in and compromised in the end."

Charlie was very surprised when he heard his father-in-law's words. He never expected his mother-in-law and the old man to actually have a baby before marriage!

At this time, Jacob continued telling Claire, "Actually, your grandmother has never liked your mother. This fact has not changed at all even after more than twenty years."

"Why?" Claire was very puzzled at this time. "Even if she has any dissatisfactions against my mother, shouldn't she already let go of all her prejudices after more than twenty years?"

Jacob replied, "Your grandmother thinks that your mother is shrewd and looks down on your mother's family because they are relatively poorer."

Claire could not help but sigh at this time. After that, she said, "I know that it is not right of me to say this, but I feel that my grandmother is not any better compared to my mother..."

"You are right." Jacob nodded before he said, "I think that the main reason why your grandmother dislikes your mother so much is because she feels that she is remarkably too similar to herself..."

Claire rubbed her forehead gently before she muttered, "I think that what you said certainly makes sense..."

Charlie did not say anything but he could not help but agree with Jacob's words in his heart.

Lady Wilson was the big devil, and Elaine was the little devil. When the big devil grew older, she was afraid when she saw the little devil. She was afraid that as she grew older, the little devil would slowly become the big devil and then start oppressing her instead.

So, that was the fundamental reason why Lady Wilson had always tried to keep Elaine under her control.

In fact, the relationship between a mother-in-law and daughter-in-law in this country was very delicate. However, in the final analysis, everything pointed to nothing more than one main point: A mother-in-law would always want to have absolute control over her daughter-in-law, and a daughter-in-law would always want to be free of her mother-in-law's control.

This was especially so for a woman like Lady Wilson, who had a strong desire to control and manipulate the people around her. Not many people could actually stand or tolerate her.

At this time, the television that has been playing in the background suddenly showed a piece of news happening in Aurous Hill.

The reporter said, "The following is a piece of emergency news. A few days ago, Masao Kobayashi, the chairman of Kobayashi Pharma, died in a freak accident in Tokyo. According to the Japanese media, the cause of Masao Kobayashi's death was because he was poisoned by his eldest son, Ichiro Kobayashi. News reports showed that Masao Kobayashi took a drug with a strong excitatory effect which caused the heart to become overloaded, and he died of a sudden heart attack."

The reporter continued speaking, "Interpol has received news that Ichiro Kobayashi is currently hiding and seeking refuge in Aurous Hill. The Kobayashi family is offering a reward of three billion yen to anyone who can hunt Ichiro Kobayashi down. Therefore, a large number of Japanese hitmen and gang members have entered Aurous Hill to hunt this man down. The police are also actively hunting the killers down in Aurous Hill. The police are requesting everyone to remain vigilant, and the citizens are advised to call the police immediately if you see any suspicious people!"

As soon as Jacob heard the news, he smacked his lips together as he said, "This Ichiro Kobayashi is truly a beast! How could he kill his own father just because he wanted to inherit his family property?"

Charlie could not help but chuckle when he heard his father-in-law's words.

Ichiro Kobayashi was not a beast, he was just being seriously wronged.

He was actually a filial son who genuinely wanted to cure his father's high paraplegia.

Chapter 532

However, it was a pity that he did it the wrong way. That was the reason why this filial son was now regarded as a beast by everyone.

After two whole days of fermentation, the death of Masao Kobayashi, the chairman of Kobayashi Pharma, had aroused a great deal of attention in Japan.

Under the vigorous propaganda launched by Masao's second son, Jiro, Ichiro suddenly became the chief culprit who had poisoned his own biological father to death in an attempt to take over his father's role as the chairman of Kobayashi Pharma.

At this time, the whole of Japan was scolding Ichiro, for they thought that he was actually the most unfilial son in Japan. People even nicknamed him the shame of Japan!

At the same time, Jiro also increased the cash reward for his brother, Ichiro's head from 1 billion yen to 3 billion yen.

He wanted to take over the position of the chairman of Kobayashi Pharma as soon as possible. Therefore, he had no choice but to make sure that his brother died quickly, and he should never be allowed to return to Japan before he died.

Jiro knew very well that his elder brother had never intended to kill their father. Even if he had wanted to, he would not have attempted to kill his father while he was still stuck abroad. If he was in Japan, he could take over the role of the chairman of Kobayashi Pharma as soon as this tragedy happened.

Therefore, Jiro could only assume that his brother was also a victim of this incident, and he was also suffering at this time.

After all, Kobayashi Pharma has already transferred ten billion dollars to Charlie, and this was more than enough proof that Charlie was actually the one behind this whole incident.

However, if he did not push the blame onto his elder brother, then, as the eldest son, Ichiro would become the rightful heir to the throne. He would become the rightful chairman of Kobayashi Pharma.

If the second son wanted to counter-attack and secure the position for himself, he would have no choice but to continue oppressing his brother.

Because of this, Jiro could not wait for his brother to die in Aurous Hill.

If Ichiro was not given a chance to speak, his position as the chairman of Kobayashi Pharma would be even more stable and secure.

From his continuous increase in the cash reward and bounty for his brother's head, it was obvious that Jiro was very eager to kill Ichiro as soon as possible.

Therefore, Charlie sent a text message to Albert, asking him to contact Jiro. Charlie asked Albert to demand one billion dollars from Jiro in exchange for Ichiro. Otherwise, Charlie would personally escort Ichiro back to Tokyo and help him to hold a press conference so that he could clarify the matter in person. If that happened, Ichiro would be able to openly compete with Jiro to become the successor of Kobayashi Pharma.

In truth, Charlie's thinking was very simple. If Jiro truly wanted to become the chairman of Kobayashi Pharma, he would have to cooperate with him. Otherwise, if Charlie released Ichiro, the brothers would have to share Kobayashi Pharma, and Jiro's loss would be far greater than just one billion dollars.

Albert did not say anything and immediately got in touch with Jiro, relaying Charlie's request to him.

Jiro almost went crazy after listening to Albert's words.

One billion dollars?!

Kobayashi Pharma has already given Charlie ten billion dollars for the prescription of the poison!

The ten billion dollars incident was voluntary, and his father had been completely fooled by the other party.

It was damn frustrating for Jiro to even think about it. After all, his father had actually spent ten billion dollars to buy a poison that had eventually taken his very own life.

If this transaction were to be exposed to the public, this would really be the most unjust transaction of the century.

Jiro felt that if Charlie was humane, he would actually help him kill his brother in exchange for the ten billion dollars. However, he never expected this guy to open his mouth and ask him for another one billion dollars instead. Did he really think that he owned a bank?!

Chapter 533

Jiro really hated Charlie to the core.

However, he did not dare to offend Charlie.

Therefore, he could only try to bargain with Albert.

His tone was also very pious. “Don Albert, could you please convey my message to Mr. Wade? There are only about two or three billion dollars left in Kobayashi Pharma’s bank account, and many of our debtors have not paid us back. We also owe the bank several billion dollars in loan now. We are really under a great deal of pressure!”

Albert replied, “Mr. Wade has always meant what he says. So, don’t think that you can bargain with Mr. Wade as and when you please!”

Jiro begged, “Don Albert, I’m really having a hard time now. Why don’t we do this instead? Tell Mr. Wade to give me two months. I will definitely transfer the money over to him in two months. However, during these two months, he must make sure that my brother does not say anything or show his face in public, let alone return to Japan under any circumstances at all!”

“Two months?” Albert thought for a moment before he said, “Wait a moment. I will ask for Mr. Wade’s opinion.”

After that, Albert immediately sent a text message to Charlie and told him all about Jiro’s request to transfer him the money in two months.

Charlie was cleaning up the dining table at this time, and when he saw Albert’s message, he did not hesitate to send a reply immediately.

[Tell him not to try and bargain with me anymore. If he tries to bargain with me again, I will talk to his brother, and I will send his brother back to Japan to fight for the inheritance with him. Tell him that his brother would agree to my request even if I asked him for five billion yen!]

Ichiro was hiding at Albert’s dog farm at this time. He knew that countless people wanted to kill him, and so, he was in a panicked and anxious state all day.

In his opinion, he would die in the blink of an eye, so, if Charlie really gave him a chance to return to Japan and fight for his inheritance, he would even be willing to give Charlie more than eighty percent of any inheritance that he received without any hesitation at all.

Albert called Jiro once again as soon as he received Charlie's reply. "Mr. Kobayashi, you are trying so hard to bargain with Mr. Wade for just one billion yen, but have you ever thought about it in depth? If Mr. Wade decides to talk to your brother and send him back to Japan to fight for the inheritance with you, Ichiro might agree to pay Mr. Wade two or three billion yen immediately as remuneration! When that time comes, you will not only be losing just one billion yen! As far as I know, Kobayashi Pharma is a pharmaceutical company with a market value of tens of billions of dollars!"

When Jiro heard Albert's words, he gritted his teeth and replied without any hesitation at all, "Don Albert, please tell Mr. Wade that I agree to his request! I will go and raise the money right now!"

In fact, even though Kobayashi Pharma did not have much money left in their bank account, Jiro's father, Masao, had a lot of money deposited into his personal bank account.

The money was supposed to be shared between the two brothers after their father passed away. However, if Ichiro died, Kobayashi Pharma, as well as all the cash deposits, antiques, and real estate left behind by his father, would all belong to him alone.

Jiro did not want to delay anything further. Thus, he quickly transferred the money over to Charlie after a mere ten minutes. After that, he called Albert and said, "Don Albert, the money has already been transferred to Mr. Wade's bank account. Please ask him to check if he has already received the money. By the way, please ask him to send my brother on his way as soon as possible after confirming that he has already received the money. I hope that he dies as soon as possible!"

Albert promised, "Don't worry, Mr. Wade has always been a very credible person. As long as he has already received your money, he will definitely make sure that your brother will completely evaporate from this world."

After he hung up the phone, Albert immediately sent a text message to Charlie, "Mr. Wade, have you received the money from Jiro?"

Charlie replied, "Yes, I have received it."

Chapter 534

Albert hurriedly asked, "So, do you want me to kill and get rid of Ichiro now? Should I take a video of the killing for Jiro to see?"

Charlie replied, "I want you to hide Ichiro somewhere and then find someone who can make special video effects. I want you to film a headshot of Ichiro and send that video to Jiro after having that person use some special effects to make sure that Jiro will believe that his brother is already dead."

Albert asked in surprise, "Mr. Wade, are you trying to save Ichiro's life?"

Charlie replied, "Yes. I think keeping Ichiro alive will be of great use to us one day. Perhaps I can even use Ichiro to get my hands on Kobayashi Pharma in the future. I will be going too easy on Jiro if I killed Ichiro for him, just for one billion yen."

After that, Charlie spoke again, "Also, you should not think too much about morals or your credibility when it comes to this matter. After all, we don't owe the Japanese anything at all. On the contrary, the more miserable they are, the better it would be for us!"

"I understand!" Albert hurriedly replied, "Don't worry, Mr. Wade. I will arrange for more manpower to protect Ichiro from now on!"

At this time at the Moore family mansion.

The members of the Moore family were all seated around the dining table as they discussed the matter relating to Kobayashi Pharma.

As soon as Lord Moore heard the news about Kobayashi Pharma, he said, "I have a feeling that this Kobayashi Pharma incident has something to do with Mr. Wade."

Jasmine, who had just picked up a piece of broccoli suddenly put the broccoli down without eating or speaking at all.

At this time, her cousin, Reuben, also spoke up and said, "Grandpa, I feel the same way too. I heard that Masao Kobayashi of Kobayashi Pharma took a special pill to cure his high paraplegia first before he died of a sudden heart attack. I also heard that Ichiro Kobayashi had asked the genius doctor, Dr. Simmons, for the prescription to cure high paraplegia at the Chinese Medicine Expo. I speculate that the medicine used by Dr. Simmons to cure high paraplegia is the same magical pill that Charlie gave to you."

Lord Moore spoke up immediately, "Reuben! Mr. Wade's name is not something you can call out so casually!"

Reuben hurriedly changed his words, "Sorry, grandpa. I did not think before I spoke. I think that the medicine used by Dr. Simmons should be the same magical pill that Mr. Wade has given to you."

When he saw that Reuben was sincere when he changed his sentence, Lord Moore nodded in approval before he said, "I think so too. Dr. Simmons' medical skills are indeed very amazing, but he has not reached the miraculous stage where he would be able to bring a person back to life or turn his life around. Mr. Wade's magical pill is the only medicine in this entire country that could possibly have this effect on anyone."

With that, Lord Moore could not help but sigh as he said, "The medicine given by Mr. Wade the last time was indeed very effective. I was a dying man, but after taking the medicine, I can feel that my body is already much stronger than before. However, it might be because I was too ill before this, but even though my life is no longer in danger, I somehow feel that my body is still languid. It must be because of my old age..."

Reuben hurriedly responded, "Grandpa, why don't I look for Mr. Wade and ask him for another magical pill? I can also offer to buy it from him! If you take another magical pill, I believe that you will definitely feel much better, and you will also feel physically stronger!"

Lord Moore hurriedly waved his hand before he said, “No, no! Mr. Wade has already given us the magical pill once. We have not even repaid his kindness yet. If we show up just to ask him for another pill, it will look like we are insatiable. We should know our own place!”

Chapter 535

Reuben truly could not understand why his grandfather respected Charlie so much.

Lord Moore regarded Charlie as God. His reason was similar to Anthony’s reason for respecting Charlie so much. Both of them were already old men in their twilight years. The more they knew about their upcoming destiny, the more they were afraid of it.

However, Reuben was not even thirty years old yet, and if anyone told him that he would be able to live for another five years after taking the magical pill, he would easily dismiss it. On the contrary, for an old man in his twilight years, someone telling him that he would be able to live for another five years was a miracle that was truly comparable to God’s hand.

Jasmine could more or less understand her grandpa’s psychological thoughts. After all, unlike Reuben, she also owned one of the magical pills given by Charlie. She had been hiding the magical pill in her car, and the only people who knew about the magical medicine was just Charlie and herself.

With this magical pill, Jasmine had an unprecedented peace of mind because she knew that even if anything untoward happened to her, she would have a chance to survive and come back against the wind as long as the medicine was in her hands.

If other people had an opportunity like this, they would not think that it was a great deal at all. This was because they felt that they would not be able to gain anything from this magical pill whatsoever.

Reuben was like that.

He knew that Charlie’s magical pill was very precious. However, if he could get his hands on one, he would definitely give it to the old man so that he could use this opportunity to make the old man feel even more pleased and satisfied with him. That way, he would be able to secure and inherit more from the old man in the future. He would not have secretly kept the medicine for himself as Jasmine had.

This was not to say that Jasmine was not filial to her grandfather. Rather, she felt that this medicine represented Charlie’s concern toward her.

Charlie absolutely wanted her to keep this medicine for herself. Therefore, Jasmine felt as though she did not want to disappoint Charlie’s hope for herself. She did not want to use the gift that Charlie had given her to win over her grandfather’s acknowledgment and appreciation.

At the same time, Lord Moore suddenly remembered something, and he blurted out, “By the way, Reuben, Jasmine, there is something I want the both of you to do for me after dinner. I want you to make a trip to the Castle Peak Psychiatric Hospital together.”

“The Castle Peak Psychiatric Hospital?” Reuben asked in surprise. “Grandpa, why do you want us to go there? What is going on?”

Lord Moore replied, “I heard that something happened to the younger generation of the Webb family from Sudbury. That is why all of them have already rushed over to Aurous Hill to visit him.”

After that, the old man continued speaking, “I want you to greet Donald, the eldest son of the Webb family. He is about the same age as your father, but since your father is not in Aurous Hill right now, it would be inappropriate for an elder like me to personally make a trip there myself. Therefore, I want both of you to act as the Moore family’s representative. Just go and take a look at them and send our regards to them. After all, our families have always shared a close relationship.”

Reuben nodded before he suddenly said, “I remember now! I saw the video of that kid on social media. It seems as though the young boy who went insane and kept eating shit was a member of the Webb family?”

“Oh, cousin!” Jasmine said helplessly as she put her chopsticks down. “We are still having dinner! Why did you have to bring up something so disgusting?!”

Reuben laughed slightly before he said, “Oh, sorry. I’m sorry. It was a slip of mouth.”

Lord Moore had also watched the video, and he suddenly felt very disgusted as well. Therefore, he put down his chopsticks before he said, “I heard that the young boy from the Webb family has already been hospitalized in the Castle Peak Psychiatric Hospital for the past two days. Just make a trip there and send your greetings to Donald. Tell him not to be offended and that your father is unable to visit him personally because he is not in Aurous Hill.”

“Okay, grandpa,” Reuben nodded quickly.

The Webb family from Sudbury was even stronger and more powerful compared to the Moore family. Even though the Moore family could rank in the top five families in the South Region, they could not make it to the top three.

These top-notch big families were all very close to one another. Generally speaking, whenever anyone visited someone else’s home court, the host would definitely do their best to entertain their guests to prove their sincerity.

Chapter 536

At this time, Jasmine asked, “Grandpa, should we bring any gifts along with us?”

Lord Moore replied, “Someone gave me a piece of cold jade a few years ago. It has the effect of calming the mind and giving peace to the owner. I want you to give it to Donald and tell him that it is for his son. Even though it might only have a small effect, it is better than nothing at all.”

Jasmine nodded before she said, “Okay, grandpa. I understand.”

Just then, Lord Moore stood up before he said, “Jasmine, I want you to come with me.”

“Okay, grandpa.” Jasmine stood up without any hesitation and hurriedly followed her grandfather into his study room.

Upon entering the study room, Lord Moore sat down on his mahogany chair before he asked Jasmine, “Jasmine, I want to ask you whether you have made any progress with Mr. Wade recently?”

Jasmine blushed as soon as she heard her grandfather’s words. “Grandpa, I... I... that...”

Lord Moore smiled when he saw Jasmine’s flustered reaction. “Young girl, why are you so shy and embarrassed? Just tell me what the progress is!”

Jasmine was very embarrassed as she replied, “Grandpa, to be honest, Mr. Wade has been very busy recently. We have almost no chance to meet at all...”

Lord Moore was a little disappointed, and he said, “Jasmine, you cannot be so nonchalant about this matter! You are still young, but your grandfather is already getting older! You might be able to wait, but your grandpa cannot afford to wait for another few more years...”

Then, Lord Moore continued speaking, “Jasmine, grandpa is not asking you to be an unethical person with no morals at all. I am not forcing you to do anything with Mr. Wade if you do not want to. The main reason I am asking you to get closer to Mr. Wade is because I can also tell that you truly like Mr. Wade from the bottom of your heart. Am I right?”

Jasmine nodded slightly as her face flushed red immediately.

Truthfully, she had become even more enamored with Charlie the more she got to know him.

She was a strong and capable woman who loved a man who was equally strong and capable. The stronger the man was, the more attractive she felt he was.

Therefore, it was completely inevitable for her to feel attracted and enamored by Charlie.

Lord Moore sighed softly before he said, “Well, the biggest pity is that Mr. Wade got married so early. However, in this modern society, people take these things very lightly nowadays. Therefore, it’s not a big deal even if a man has a second or third marriage. So, you don’t have to be too bothered about the fact that Mr. Wade has already been married before. You don’t need to care who his first wife was. All you need to know is that you should do all that you can to keep a good man by your side forever. Even if he has already been married ten times before you, the most important thing is to get him to stay by your side for the rest of your life.”

Jasmine nodded slightly before she said, “Grandpa, I understand what you are trying to say. I cannot chase after Mr. Wade too desperately because I am afraid that he would start to dislike me if I did that. I heard that Mr. Wade is still very loving and kind toward his wife.”

“Yes.” Lord Moore nodded in agreement. “In that case, it is not wrong for you to fight steadily, step by step, as you try to win Mr. Wade over in secret.”

At this time, Lord Moore recalled something and he quickly said, “By the way, it will be my eightieth birthday in a few days. Please invite Mr. Wade to come to my birthday banquet. Once he is here, you can take advantage of this opportunity to get closer to him and get to know him better.”

Jasmine hurriedly replied, "Yes, grandpa. I will do that."

"Okay." Lord Moore nodded before he said, "Alright then. It is already getting late. You should head to the Castle Peak Psychiatric Hospital now to visit the junior of the Webb family first!"

Chapter 537

Very soon, Reuben drove Jasmine out of the house, and they headed straight to the Castle Peak Psychiatric Hospital in the suburb.

In the Castle Peak Psychiatric Hospital, the nurses had just fed Kian, who was going crazy at this point.

Kian finally regained his consciousness after they fed him, wiped his mouth, rinsed his mouth, and washed his stomach for him. Kian had a very satisfied expression on his face as he lay on the hospital bed with his hands and feet tied up.

The few nurses resisted the urge to vomit as they walked out from the intensive care unit to the family resting room outside with a basin filled with the filth that they had just washed out of Kian's stomach.

At this time, Kian's father, Donald, and his brother, Sean, were sitting on the sofa with no expression on their faces.

After coming out of the intensive care unit, one of the nurses greeted them respectfully. "Mr. Webb and junior Mr. Webb, the patient, have already regained consciousness."

Donald asked coldly, "Have you finished the gastric lavage procedure?"

The nurse nodded before she whispered, "Yes, we have already completed the procedure!"

"Okay." Donald asked again, "The things that you fed him this time... have you already disinfected it?"

The nurse hurriedly replied, "It has already been sterilized. We placed it inside the pressure cooker and sterilized it at a high temperature and pressure. Even though we cannot eliminate the smell, I can assure you that there are no longer any bacteria or viruses in it..."

Kian's iron rule of having extra 'supplements' every hour on the dot remained the same.

Donald naturally did not dare to stop his son from doing so. After all, he could see that his son was truly on the verge of death if they fed him even one minute later. Donald was afraid that something would really happen to his son.

Therefore, he discussed this matter with a team of medical experts before they came up with a temporary solution, which was to put those 'supplements' for Kian in a pressure cooker for at least half an hour in advance so that it would not contain any bacteria and viruses that would make him sick.

This was the only buffer they could come up with at this stage.

Donald glanced at the few nurses before he waved his hands sullenly and said, "Alright then, you can all leave now. Please remember to prepare all of his next meals in advance."

The nurse nodded before she said, "Mr. Webb, you can rest assured that we have already prepared all of his eight meals for tonight in advance. Each of his meals has already been sterilized in advance, and we will serve the patient his meal at room temperature."

Donald suddenly felt a surge of nausea overpowering him, and he quickly waved his hand as he said, "Alright, you can leave now."

After the few nurses had left the room, Sean whispered to his father, "Dad, are we really going to let this continue? How could Kian possibly need to eat shit every hour?! If this news spreads to the public, the Webb family will definitely lose face!"

Donald asked, "What else can we do? Do you want me to watch your brother die?"

Sean hurriedly replied, "I did not mean that at all. I am just saying that we should bring Kian back to Sudbury. It is not a solution for us to continue staying here. We should bring Kian back home and use our own family doctor and nurses to handle him. At the very least, we can be more rest assured that they would be tight-lipped about this matter."

Donald thought about it before he replied, "Okay, then. We will send your brother back to Sudbury, but we cannot leave Aurous Hill yet."

"Why?" Sean asked in surprise. "What other business do we have here?"

Donald replied, "I suspect it is not an accident that your brother suddenly contracted this sudden illness. Something must have happened to cause him to behave in this manner. There must be some clues or information that we have not figured out yet. I plan to stay in Aurous Hill for a short while to investigate and look into this matter. I want you to stay here with me."

Sean nodded when he heard his father's words and said, "Yes, dad. I will stay here with you."

Donald nodded before he said, "If that's the case, we will arrange for our doctor to accompany Kian back to Sudbury tomorrow morning."

Upon saying that, Donald stood up before he said, "Come, let's go in and see your brother."

The father and son stood up before they pushed the door of the intensive care unit open. At this time, a strong and disgusting stench overcame them immediately.

Even though the windows were all open and the exhaust fan was already turned on, the smell was still lingering even after a long time.

Chapter 538

Kian was lying on his bed with tears in his eyes as he looked out the window silently. He could smell the strong stench on his breath whenever he breathed, and he felt very disgusted with himself.

“Kian.”

When he saw the decadent and desolate expression on his son’s face, Donald could not help but feel distressed.

Kian did not look at him but instead continued to stare out the window as he choked and said, “Dad, why don’t you just let me die? I am really on the verge of collapse because I have to do something so disgusting every hour of the day...”

Donald hurriedly stepped forward as he held his son’s hand and said, “My good son, you have to remember that it is always better for you to live than to die!”

Kian burst into tears before he said, “But, who can live an even more miserable life than mine? If I have to continue living like this for the rest of my life, I would rather be dead now...”

Donald felt very upset, and he said seriously, “Kian, don’t worry. Dad will definitely heal you no matter what method I have to use. I promise you!”

Kian turned his head around and looked at his father before he subconsciously asked, “Dad, do you mean what you just said?”

As Kian spoke, the strong stench coming from his mouth hit Donald directly.

Donald’s eyes reddened immediately, and he even shed two drops of tears. He resisted the wave of nausea that hit and his strong urge to vomit before he nodded and replied, “Yes, I mean it! You don’t have to worry!”

Then, Donald spoke again, “I will arrange for someone to take you back to Sudbury tomorrow. I will stay behind in Aurous Hill to find the culprit who did this to you. After that, I will surely find a cure for you. Make sure that you take care of your health after you go home. Wait for your father to come back with good news!”

Kian nodded excitedly as he suddenly felt a glimmer of hope.

Sean could not help but sigh as he said, “Kian, don’t worry. I swear I’ll take revenge for you and kill the person who did this to you!”

Kian was very touched and nodded before saying, “Thank you, brother!”

At this time, a nurse came knocking on the door before she entered and said, “Mr. Webb, there is a Mr. Moore and Miss Moore who are here to see you.”

“Mr. Moore and Miss Moore?” Donald frowned slightly before he came to a sudden realization. “They must be from the Moore family. Please invite them in.”

After that, he hurriedly added, “Please ask them to wait in the waiting room outside. Don’t bring them into the ward.”

The nurse nodded before she turned around and left.

Sean asked in surprise, “Dad, is the Moore family here?”

“I think it should be them,” Donald replied. “We have not visited the Moore family yet since we came to Aurous Hill to deal with our personal matters. Perhaps the Moore family has already heard about our predicament and have decided to visit us instead.”

Sean nodded when he heard his father’s words. At this time, he suddenly thought of Jasmine, the young lady of the Moore family.

The last time he had seen Jasmine was about three to four years ago. At that time, Jasmine was already very beautiful.

He had thought of pursuing Jasmine back then. After all, Jasmine was not only very beautiful, well-educated, and capable, but the most important thing was the fact that the Moore family was also very wealthy and powerful. It could be said that the Moore family would be a perfect match for the Webb family.

However, he had not completed his studies at that time, so he did not have the time to pursue and go after Jasmine.

After returning to the country, he had been busy learning the ropes and taking over the family business from his father. Therefore, he did not come to Aurous Hill and kept delaying his intentions and plan to pursue Jasmine.

When he heard that there were visitors from the Moore family, Sean’s affection and feelings for Jasmine suddenly returned!

He was already looking forward to meeting her again. He sincerely hoped that Jasmine would be one of the two people who came here today!

Chapter 539

Donald and his son, Sean, had just come out from the intensive care unit when the nurse brought Reuben and Jasmine into the family waiting room.

Sean spotted the slim and glamorous Jasmine at a single glance. He was taken aback for a moment and only regained his senses after a few seconds.

Donald was also a little surprised to see Jasmine.

He was Jasmine’s elder, so he had not had much contact or interaction with Jasmine. They had not seen each other for several years, but unexpectedly, this young girl was now even more beautiful and attractive than she had been in the past. She would not lose out to those big celebrities at all!

At this time, Reuben quickly stepped up as he spoke very respectfully, “Hello, Uncle Webb. I am Reuben from the Moore family, and this is my cousin, Jasmine. My grandpa heard that you are in Aurous Hill, so he wanted us to come and pay you a visit.”

Reuben continued, “My father is not in Aurous Hill for the time being so he could not come and visit you in person today. Please forgive us for being rude.”

Donald hurriedly replied, "Oh! Lord Moore is too polite. I was supposed to visit him, but something happened at home, so I could not walk away at all. I was the one being rude."

Even though there was a substantial difference between the wealth and power of the Webb and Moore family, they were both one of the most powerful and influential families in the South Region. Therefore, it was already a traditional custom between these two families that anyone who visited the other person's territory should take the initiative to come and visit the host first.

If Donald came to Aurous Hill, under any normal circumstances, the first thing he would do was to visit the Moore family. That way, the two families would be able to maintain a close relationship with one another.

However, Donald could not help but feel a little embarrassed.

After all, his family's current predicament was indeed a little special. He felt that it would be very shameful to talk about his youngest son's current condition.

Therefore, he simply replied frankly, "Oh, the reason I came to Aurous Hill this time is because my youngest son, Kian, has come down with some physical and mental problems. As soon as I arrived at Aurous Hill, I stayed at the Castle Peak Psychiatric Hospital without going anywhere else. Otherwise, I would have gone to visit Lord Moore a long time ago. I hope that Lord Moore will forgive me and I sincerely hope that he will not hold this against me."

Jasmine hurriedly replied, "Uncle Webb, you don't need to be so courteous and polite. Grandpa knows that you have some personal business to deal with. Therefore, he does not blame you at all."

As she spoke, Jasmine took out the piece of cold jade with a carving of Guanyin on it and handed it to Donald saying, "Uncle Webb, my grandfather asked me to pass this piece of cold jade to you. He said that it has the effect of calming the mind and bringing peace to its owner. He hopes that it will be able to alleviate your youngest son's condition a little."

Donald hurriedly said, "Please help me thank Lord Moore for his kind gesture."

Then, he reached out his hand to take the piece of cold jade from Jasmine.

Sean had been watching Jasmine all this time without saying anything at all. After he had finally regained his composure, he said calmly, "Jasmine, it seems as though we have not seen each other for a long time, right?"

Jasmine nodded as she smiled slightly and said, "Yes, I think it has already been three to four years since we last met each other. I don't remember too clearly."

Sean smiled before he said, "Time really flies by! You have already changed a lot over these few years. It seems as though both of us should keep in touch in the future! Otherwise, we might not even recognize each other when we bump into one another in two more years!"

Jasmine laughed before she replied politely, "Yes. We have not seen each other for so many years, and everyone has already changed quite a bit."

Donald was keenly aware of Sean's abnormal behavior, and he could instantly tell that his son was interested in Jasmine.

At this time, he suddenly felt that it would actually be great if Jasmine could marry into the Webb family. It would be perfect if she became his daughter-in-law!

There were many other large and powerful families in the South Region, and many of them had daughters of marriageable age. However, one of the main problems with girls from a wealthy and powerful family was that they were usually not very good looking or attractive.

Even though some of them were pretty good looking, they had very poor temperament because they had been spoiled ever since they were young. There were rarely any girls who were as intelligent and well behaved as Jasmine.

If there was a marriage arrangement between the Moore family and the Webb family, they could join forces and would also be able to actively promote and help each other out.

Chapter 540

If the two families could work together after marriage, the two families might even have an opportunity to lead and take control of the entire South Region.

As he thought about this, he deliberately smiled and asked, "Jasmine, you are so outstanding and beautiful. So, I cannot help but wonder if you are already married?"

Jasmine quickly replied in a hurry, "Uncle Webb, you must be joking. If I were to get married, my grandpa would surely have notified and invited you to come to my wedding banquet for a drink already!"

Donald smiled as he nodded slightly. This girl was very intelligent, and she knew exactly what to say.

After that, he asked again, "Then, Jasmine, do you have a boyfriend now? If you have a boyfriend, can I know which family he is from?"

As soon as Sean heard his father's question, he hurriedly looked at Jasmine with a concerned expression on his face as he looked forward to Jasmine's reply.

Jasmine immediately thought of Charlie at this moment.

How good would it be if Charlie was not married yet? She would have already confessed her feelings to him.

Moreover, Jasmine believed that Charlie would not turn down her confession as she could be regarded as one of the better choices amongst all the girls who were interested in him. If that was the case, she could proudly reply and say that Charlie Wade was her boyfriend when someone asked her a question like this...

As she thought about it, Jasmine could not help but sigh in her heart. Then, she replied, "Uncle Webb, I do not have a boyfriend yet."

Both Donald and Sean heaved a huge sigh of relief.

She did not have a boyfriend. That was perfect!

It would not be easy for them to find another girl like Jasmine. Since she was still single, it was the perfect opportunity for his son to pursue her!

Donald immediately said to Jasmine, "By the way, Jasmine, please send my regards to Lord Moore when you go home later. Please tell him that I have already arranged for a plane to send my youngest son home for treatment tomorrow. Sean and I will be staying back in Aurous Hill to investigate and look into Kian's sudden illness. So, both of us would like to come and pay a visit to your grandfather tomorrow."

Jasmine did not think too much about it and simply nodded before saying, "Okay, Uncle Webb. I will definitely inform my grandfather when I get back."

Donald felt that he should take advantage of this opportunity to bring Sean over to the Moore family mansion so that they could stay there for a few days since they would be in Aurous Hill for some time anyway.

As the host, it was only natural for the Moore family to arrange for Donald and his son to stay at the Moore family mansion for a few days since they were visiting Aurous Hill. This way, he would also be able to create an opportunity for his son to get closer to Jasmine.

Donald also felt that this would be an excellent opportunity for him to bring up the topic of marriage to Lord Moore. He presumed that Lord Moore would not turn down his request.

After all, the Webb family was the wealthiest and most powerful family in the whole South Region. Sean was also the eldest grandson of the Webb family, and he was the first heir of the younger generation. It was not an exaggeration to say that he was a diamond in the making in the South Region.

As long as Lord Moore agreed to his request, Donald was certain that he would definitely help him persuade Jasmine to agree to Sean's marriage proposal. That way, they would be able to decide on their marriage, and the two families could choose an early auspicious date so that they could get the marriage done and over with as soon as possible.

After all, Donald was not young anymore. He had already been looking forward to the day where he could hold his grandson and personally witness the continuation of the Webb family name. However, he had not met a woman who he deemed worthy of his son.

When he saw Jasmine earlier, he immediately felt that there would be no better candidate to become his daughter-in-law in this world other than Jasmine!

He never would have imagined that Jasmine's heart already belonged to someone else.

Moreover, the man who made Jasmine so enamored was none other than the culprit who had turned his youngest son into a shit-eating beast. It was Charlie!

Chapter 541

At this time, Reuben, who had not spoken for a long time, stared at both of them coldly. He could tell that both father and son from the Webb family were interested and moved by his sister, Jasmine.

At this time, he could not help but feel a little excited.

It would be great if Jasmine could marry into the Webb family!

At that time, Jasmine would marry into the Webb family and become a part of their family. When that happened, she would naturally not be able to compete with him for the Moore family's property and inheritance. He would naturally become the well-deserving heir of the Moore family.

In fact, Reuben was afraid that Jasmine would truly end up together with Charlie.

He did not know Charlie's true identity and status. He only knew that Charlie seemed to have some supernatural powers, and that was the reason why his grandfather respected him so much.

If Jasmine ended up with Charlie, there was no doubt that Charlie would marry into the Moore family. At that time, he would definitely be in trouble!

Jasmine was already his biggest rival when it came to vying for the Moore family's property and inheritance. If she did not marry far away, she would always remain as his rival and competitor!

Moreover, Reuben knew that his grandfather really respected Charlie very much, and he had been desperately hoping for Charlie to join the Moore family. If Jasmine could accomplish what their grandfather wanted her to do, their grandfather would certainly place more attention and focus on Jasmine and Charlie!

Jasmine and Charlie would certainly take over the Moore family if that happened. So, what would happen to him then?

Therefore, Reuben absolutely did not want Jasmine to end up with Charlie at all!

Since the Webb family seemed to have intentions of taking Jasmine as their daughter-in-law, all he had to do now was think of a way to persuade his grandfather and Jasmine to accept the marriage proposal offered by the Webb family. Reuben had to send Jasmine away as soon as he could!

Jasmine was not aware of the intentions of the father and son from the Webb family. Finally, Jasmine and Reuben courteously approached them before excusing themselves as it was already getting late.

Donald and Sean walked both of them downstairs before they watched silently as the pair drove away from the hospital in their car. It was only at this point that Donald finally sighed and said, "Jasmine is truly a very perfect and wonderful girl!"

Sean nodded and said, "Yes, I honestly did not expect her to become even more beautiful after just a few years."

Donald replied seriously, "Beauty is one thing, but family background, education, and temperament are the most important things."

After that, he continued speaking, "Jasmine is amazing in all of those aspects. If you can marry her, it would be a good thing for you."

Sean smiled before he said, "Dad, I will really need you to help me out in this matter. Jasmine's parents have already passed away. So, you will have to try to convince her grandfather on my behalf."

Donald smiled as he assured his son, "You can rest assured. I know what I have to do. I believe that Lord Moore will also want Jasmine to marry into a good family. The Webb family will surely be a perfect choice for him."

After that, Donald spoke up again, "I think that Lord Moore will definitely agree to it as soon as I bring this topic up. After that, we can proceed to plan Jasmine and your marriage. If everything goes well, we should be able to discuss and plan your wedding well within a month!"

"Okay!" Sean was very excited. "It would be best if we could have our wedding this year!"

At this time, all Sean could think about was Jasmine. He had completely forgotten about his pitiful and miserable younger brother.

After returning to the ward, they found that Kian was starting to lose control again.

The nurses were already bringing in his 'extra meal' that had been sterilized under high temperature and pressure. After that, they fed Kian his food so that he could enjoy it first before they performed gastric lavage on him to wash out as much of the 'food' as they possibly could.

Donald stepped into the intensive care unit to take a look and immediately walked back out with a black expression on his face.

Sean did not even bother to enter the ward at all. He simply sat on the sofa outside as he looked through Jasmine's social media profile.

Before coming to Aurous Hill, he had not paid much attention to Jasmine whom he had not seen for so many years.

Chapter 542

After seeing her just now, all of his deep desires and feelings for Jasmine ignited once again.

Therefore, he wanted to browse through each and every photo of Jasmine's circle of friends.

He carefully observed every picture of Jasmine and her friends. As he looked at her pictures, he sighed as he thought to himself that she was indeed a very perfect girl, and there was not the slightest fault that he could find in her at all.

Thus, he secretly vowed to himself that he would have to get Jasmine no matter what he had to do!

On the way back to the Moore family mansion, Reuben tentatively said to Jasmine, "Jasmine, I think that Sean seems to be interested in you!"

Jasmine replied flatly, "Oh."

"Oh?" Reuben parroted her before asking curiously, "Why are you so cold and indifferent toward it?"

"Then?" Jasmine asked, "Does he mean anything to me at all? No, he is nothing to me. So, do I have to pretend to be very excited just because he is interested in me?"

Reuben asked, "Sean is very handsome. Aren't you in the least bit interested in him?"

Jasmine shook her head before she said, "I have no feelings for him at all. In fact, he is not even a friend of mine. At best, he could only be considered an acquaintance."

Reuben hurriedly tried to persuade her, "Are you stupid? Do you know how wealthy and powerful the Webb family is? They are the top and most influential family in the South Region! If you get together with Sean, this will definitely be the icing on the cake for the Moore family!"

"I have no feelings for him whatsoever," Jasmine replied indifferently. "I will not get together with a person I have no feelings for even if he is the richest man in this world."

Reuben asked in surprise, "Jasmine, don't tell me that you are really in love with Charlie?!"

Jasmine glanced at Reuben embarrassedly, and she could not answer his question at all.

Reuben sighed before he said, "My dear sister, are you truly that foolish? I know that grandpa might be confused, but are you really going to try and pursue Charlie just because grandpa asked you to do that? Charlie is already someone else's husband. He has a wife. What about you? You are the noblest and most eligible girl amongst all the other girls in Aurous Hill. How could you possibly get together with a man like Charlie?"

At this time, Jasmine evaded his question and said, "Brother, don't worry about me. I will take care of my own business."

"Hey!" Reuben replied as he sighed pretentiously. "I am your brother, and I've watched you grow up ever since you were a young girl. As your brother, I sincerely hope that you will be able to marry a man who is right for you and has never been married before, just like you. It would be a huge pity if you married a man like Charlie who has already been married before!"

After that, Reuben continued speaking, "What's more, Charlie is just a useless son-in-law who knows nothing at all. How could he possibly be worthy of someone like you?"

Jasmine turned around and looked at Reuben before she said sternly, "Brother! Mr. Wade is not as useless as you make him out to be. You just haven't seen him for who he is yet."

Reuben replied disdainfully, "What is he capable of? What other abilities does he have? All that he knows how to do is to concoct some medicine. I don't think that is so great at all."

Jasmine shook her head before she said, "Everyone has their many different faces. In many people's eyes, Mr. Wade might be nothing more than a piece of trash and a useless son-in-law."

However, in my eyes, Mr. Wade is a real master, and he is different from what everyone thinks he is!”

Reuben curled his lips slightly before he said, “Don’t tell me you really think that he is a real dragon in this world, Jasmine. I want to laugh when I think about it! Pfft...”

Jasmine glanced at Reuben and felt that the sarcastic expression on Reuben’s face made him seem like he was mentally retarded.

However, Reuben felt that it was time for Jasmine and his grandfather to open their eyes and see Charlie’s true colors.

Charlie was the real dragon in this world? If so, Reuben would just have to figure out a way for Sean to become Nezha so that he could strip Charlie of his skin and tendons!

Chapter 543

At the same time, Anthony was at the Serene World Clinic and was currently in a daze as he stared at the Rejuvenating Pill that Charlie had given him.

He was thinking about what Charlie had said to him. Charlie told him that this medicine would be able to make him ten years younger, and it would also extend his life by another ten years.

Although he knew that Charlie had magical powers, he still felt that this kind of medicinal effect was simply a fantasy.

As the saying goes, there would be a day when flowers bloom and people would never be young again.

Human beings could control anything in this world, but time was the only thing they could never control.

How many people in this world could actually come up with a Rejuvenating Pill that could turn time around?

However, since the medicine had been given to him by Charlie, Anthony had full confidence in the medicine’s ability.

He knew that Charlie would never deceive or lie to him. If Charlie said the medicine would have such a magical effect, it simply meant that the medicine would have that effect.

Therefore, Anthony made up his mind to take the medicine according to Charlie’s instructions.

Anthony carefully placed the Rejuvenating Pill into his mouth. He initially thought that it would be very difficult for him to swallow this pill. Unexpectedly, the pill immediately dissolved, and there was a pleasant and sweet taste that flowed directly into his abdomen.

This was followed by a magical moment that Anthony would never forget.

He felt a warm current tightly wrapping itself around his whole body, and it felt like strange energy was beginning to work on every part of his body.

At first, Anthony could feel some tightness on his face. Then, his scalp began to itch and go numb before the rest of his joints started feeling a little warm.

A few minutes later, Anthony felt as though he had been completely reborn!

He truly felt that his body had been restored to the way it had been ten years ago!

Anthony subconsciously stepped in front of the mirror and was shocked when he saw his reflection!

It was no wonder why he had felt some tightness on his face earlier. It turned out that his old and wrinkled skin had tightened up, and he looked so much younger than he was before!

What was even more amazing was that he previously had a head full of grey hair, but unexpectedly, half of his head was now filled with black hair!

He could also easily straighten his body which was already hunched and bent over, and there were great improvements in his severely degraded joints.

Anthony hurriedly checked his pulse and found that his breathing and pulse had greatly improved compared to how it had been before!

This meant that Anthony not only looked younger and had stronger bones, but his internal organs had all been rejuvenated and made new again!

This was equivalent to him suddenly returning to his sixties when he was in fact already in his seventies!

Anthony was filled with shock and excitement!

If a person's life was a clock, the energy stored in the clock would continue to fade over time, and this clock would stop completely when the moment came where all of the energy stored in the clock was completely exhausted.

Yet now, it seemed as though Charlie had used his God's hands to rewind and turn Anthony's clock backward twice!

This also meant that Anthony's clock could run for another two more rounds!

Wasn't this a miracle?!
