

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1931

Chapter 1931

At lunch, the two of them discussed it.

In order to prevent this woman from having any unplanned actions, Avery drove while Elliot stared at the woman.

This woman is wearing handcuffs and shackles, and there should be no accident beyond her control.

After the two got into the car, Avery asked, "Can you tell us the address now?"

"Have you been to the corpse pit?" The woman asked.

"I've been there." Elliot's face suddenly gloomy, "You said Haze is in the corpse pit?!"

Avery's fingers holding the steering wheel tightened suddenly, ears pricked, waiting for the woman's answer.

"No, she's in another place." The woman replied firmly, "You drive the car over there first, and I'll show you the way when you're nearby."

Because the distance is a bit long, Elliot said to Avery: "Why don't I drive?"

"No, I can drive there." Avery turned on the navigation on her mobile phone, and drove the car on the road.

The atmosphere in the carriage was quiet and eerie.

Avery felt stuffy, as if someone was strangling her neck: "Is my daughter alive or dead?"

"If your daughter is still alive, do you think that with your carpet-like search, you can't find her whereabouts?" The woman's rhetorical question gave Elliot and Avery a heavy blow.

Avery's tears fell instantly. She immediately raised her hand and wiped away the tears.

Elliot's mood also became extremely solemn.

Elliot: "Avery, why don't you stop the car first!"

"It's okay... Even if she dies, I will take her bones home." Avery took a deep breath, holding back her eyes tears.

Elliot looked at the woman beside him and asked, "Is there another corpse pit?"

The woman hesitated for a while, and then let out a rough 'um' from her nose.

Avery's tears fell down again!

Elliot's back was numb for a while, and his voice trembled because he was too angry: "How many corpse pits are there?"

"Two." The woman saw Elliot's terrifying face, and immediately replied, "I'll take them later. There aren't many bones in the corpse pit you went to."

Elliot's Adam's apple moved up and down. It seems that he finally heard the news of the death of his daughter Haze.

Tears welled up in his eyes, his fists clenched tightly.

"Don't hate me... We didn't join that gang voluntarily. The women in that gang were basically deceived into it." The woman tried her best to explain, for fear that Elliot would turn his anger on himself. "After we went in, they first tried to lure us, and if the lure failed, they would coerce. If we would rather die than join us, we would be killed immediately."

"Who is not afraid of death!" The woman seemed to recall her tragic past, "I just left home. Running away, looking for a job... Who knew I was tricked into this criminal gang. What can I do? I don't want to die! I can only listen to them..."

"What's your name?" Elliot asked.

"My name is Kimora." The woman replied, "This is my name in the organization."

"What's your real name? Where is your hometown?" Elliot didn't know why he asked these questions.

Probably because she didn't want to hear her talk about her tragic experience.

Haze's death has made it impossible for him to care about the suffering of others.

"My real name is Sasha Johnstone, and I'm from another city in Yonroeville. That place is close to the border of Yonroeville."

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1932

Chapter 1932

“You came so far to find a job?” Elliot endured his grief, fearing that he would be too sad and affect Avery.

“My family forced me to marry an old man, and I didn’t want to... So I escaped. I thought about how far I could escape, so I escaped here...here Prosperity, many job opportunities...” Sasha said here, and did not continue.

Elliot looked at her with no killing intent.

Sasha breathed a sigh of relief. She didn’t want to reveal so much information about herself to outsiders. These are the deep wounds on her body. Telling them to others is equivalent to opening the wounds for others to see.

Avery listened to their chatting, and her heart was empty, but it was so painful.

In fact, she was already mentally prepared for the worst.

Now it’s just been confirmed.

After more than an hour, the car drove to the first corpse pit.

“Continue to drive forward, there will be a fork in the road, go to the fork on the right.” Sasha pointed the way to Avery, “I don’t know if the car can drive in that road, it is a dirt road, and it may not be easy to walk. If the car can’t get in, you can only go in.”

“How long will it take to get in?” Elliot asked cautiously.

“It’s estimated to take ten minutes to walk! That’s where the people of our gang live. It’s been abandoned for so long now that no one has lived there.” Sasha’s eyes were cold and unfocused, “Elliot, shouldn’t you? Repent, right? I will tell you the whereabouts of your daughter, I don’t ask you to give me money, just let me go free...”

“Wait until the bones are found and the DNA confirmation results come out.” Elliot looked at her coldly.

Sasha began to feel uneasy again when she saw Elliot.

“Sasha, if my daughter is still alive, I will definitely keep you alive. But if my daughter is dead, even if you are forced to become a puppet of a criminal, you deserve to die! Including you who are still in prison. The gang, you all have to die!”

Elliot’s eyes were full of murderous intent, and he did not hide his determination at all.

Sasha’s face turned pale.

She thought that she had provided Elliot with this 'clue', and Elliot would keep herself alive.

Unexpectedly, Elliot and Avery were really the same thing, saying one thing with their mouths and doing something behind their backs.

"Yes... I don't want to live for a long time! Last time I asked Avery for sleeping pills, when I wanted to be euthanized, I didn't want to live anymore!" Sasha asked, "Can you euthanize me?"

Elliot glanced at the scenery outside the window and did not answer.

Avery had already driven the car into a fork in the road.

This fork in the road was overgrown with grass and rough, and the car stopped within two minutes of driving in.

"Get out of the car!" Avery glanced at Elliot, "Why don't we both go over there!"

Sasha got off immediately: "You don't know the location! I'll take you there!"

Sasha was wearing shackles on her feet, she was in a hurry to get out of the car, so she jumped out of the car.

Elliot and Avery watched her get out of the car and were puzzled by what she said.

"Follow me." Sasha quickly walked in front of them, "Do you think the core members of the criminal gang are ordinary people? They are all desperate madmen! Those houses are not ordinary houses."

Elliot held Avery's hand tightly.

It's one thing that the road under their feet is not easy to walk. they always feel that there is an uncertain danger hidden in Sasha's words.

Not an ordinary house, what kind of house is that?

After walking for about ten minutes, a row of dilapidated bungalows appeared in front of them.

There are six or seven houses in total.

These houses, surrounded by weeds, show no trace of human habitation.

"What do you mean by saying these are not ordinary houses?" Elliot suspected that there were traps or ambush in these houses.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1933

Chapter 1933

Sasha looked back and smiled at Elliot and Avery.

“Do you think that row of houses looks like a prison cell?”

Elliot and Avery re-examined those houses.

Because those houses were surrounded by weeds, they didn't look very carefully just now.

Now that they got closer, they could see that those houses were indeed a little different from ordinary houses.

Normal houses have doors and windows, but the houses in front of them have no doors.

“I'll take you there, or you'll get lost.” Sasha kept walking, moving forward quickly.

Elliot and Avery followed.

“On the ground, there is only one gate.” Sasha led them around to the gate.

The gate was on one side of the house, an iron gate.

Elliot held the handle and wanted to open the door, but couldn't.

Locked with a key.

“Don't worry, there is another entrance.” Sasha said slowly, “There is another entrance, you can enter from the underground.”

“Enter from the underground?” Avery exclaimed in shock.

“Yes. Criminals are extremely insecure in their hearts. We are afraid of the sun, afraid of the police, and hiding in the dark can make us feel safe. So there is a big basement here. It's better than the one you saw before. The corpse pit is much bigger.”

Elliot held Avery's hand tightly and followed Sasha to the underground entrance.

They walked west for about two minutes and came to a manhole cover.

Sasha asked Elliot to remove the manhole cover.

“This is the entrance.”

After Elliot removed the manhole cover, he saw a smooth board.

He moved the board away, and a large black hole appeared in front of him.

“Climb down this hole and you can reach the basement. Your daughter is in this basement. In addition to the bones of children, there are also the bones of adults. When the people inside us die, they are also thrown down. If you are not afraid of nausea, you can go down now. I will not go down with you because of my legs and feet.”

Because Sasha has shackles on her hands and feet, it is really inconvenient to climb down.

“There’s no lights down there, you’ll have to turn on your flashlights. To the southwest of the basement, there’s a door that opens, and you can go down the stairs to the house on the ground. But the house isn’t anything to look at. If you see the child’s corpse down there, it can prove that what I said is basically true. You can go back the same way and ask others to remove the bones.”

Sasha continued.

Elliot looked at Avery: “You stay upstairs, I’ll go down and have a look.”

Avery was worried that Elliot would go down alone, “I’ll go down with you.”

“No, what if there is danger down there?” Elliot thought The thing is, he goes down first. If there is danger below and he fails to come back within half an hour, she can call someone for rescue.

Sasha smiled contemptuously: “This place has been idle for three years, didn’t you see the seal on the iron door just now? It was sealed by the police long ago. It’s just that they didn’t know there was a basement below. Now there are only mice in the basement. For animals like cockroaches, the most dangerous thing should be ghosts. If you two are afraid, you can call someone to come and let them go down... But what you promised me before, don’t go back on your word.”

Sasha said this in one breath, and looked up at the sky: “It’s too hot today, I’ll go to the car to avoid it. Don’t make me wait too long.”

Sasha’s voice was settled, and she turned back to the way she came.

Seeing Sasha leaving, Avery raised her eyes to look at Elliot: “I’ll go down with you. It’s too dark down there. It’s a little scary to go down alone. We are together, and we have someone to take care of.”

If Avery was left alone, she would definitely be afraid.

This basement was a completely unfamiliar environment to them.

They didn't know if it's really what Sasha said.

Elliot was not afraid of the dark, and if he went down alone, he would not be afraid.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1934

Chapter 1934

But Avery's words moved him very much.

Avery said 'the two of us are together, we have someone to take care of'.

After walking a short distance, Sasha couldn't help but look back at the direction of Elliot and Avery.

They seem to have gone down.

Sasha's footsteps stopped, and a victorious smile appeared on his face.

Elliot, Avery, your time to die has come!

"Who would have thought that a big man in the business world would die in Sasha's hands so easily. Hahaha!" Sasha murmured, and after a while, a helicopter appeared in the sky.

On the ground, a group of men in black also appeared.

The group of men in black ran in the direction of the manhole cover.

Sasha walked over there.

"Weld the manhole cover to death! Then they won't be able to escape!" After Sasha walked over, he instructed the man in black, "There is no water below, no food, and within three days, they will starve to death inside hahahaha!"

The man in black was already prepared.

The manhole cover was welded to death shortly after.

The helicopter came to a slow stop not far behind them.

The shackles on Sasha's hands and feet were opened by the man in black with tools. After Sasha moved her hands and feet, she got into the helicopter.

"Is there a phone? I want to talk to Norah on the phone." Sasha made her request.

The person who came to pick up Sasha immediately dialed Norah Jones's number and handed her the phone.

After Sasha took over the phone, Sasha said to the person on the phone, "Norah Jones, at the moment, you are reliable."

"You have no choice but me." Norah Jones's tone was indifferent, "How is the situation over there now?"

Sasha said, "I saw Elliot and Avery enter the basement with my own eyes. Now the only exit has been welded. They will never get out. But they brought their mobile phones. I don't know if there is a signal in the basement. I remember the basement signal is very strong. The difference is very bad. But I'm not sure that there is a signal below."

Norah Jones pondered for a few seconds before saying, "I'll ask someone to set up a signal blocker."

"Norah Jones, you help me like this because you have an enemy relationship with Elliot, right?"

"It's not a grudge! But he's not good enough for me either. Now that I have the opportunity to step on his shoulders and climb up, why would I not do it. Moreover, Elliot only has Avery in his heart. One person, now I let them both go to hell together, and it's not bad to be a ghost couple!"

Norah Jones's voice was cold and ruthless. In her mind, various pictures of her past relationship with Elliot flashed.

The more she think about it, the more distressed she feels.

If Elliot was a little nice to her, she wouldn't kill him now.

...

Basement.

After Elliot and Avery entered the basement down the hole, the light of the mobile phone flashlight hit a pile of bones at once.

The shocking picture and the rotten smell made Avery retching.

"Avery, don't be afraid." Elliot supported her and patted her on the back.

If he had known that he would come down to the ground, he would definitely bring a bottle of water.

“...I’m fine.” Avery quickly adjusted her mood, then looked at the light source, “Why are all the bones of adults? I didn’t see any children...”

Elliot: “Let’s look carefully. Look, this basement is quite big.”

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1935

Chapter 1935

In the evening, the hotel.

The two bodyguards couldn’t get through to their respective bosses on the phone, and they were in a hurry in the hotel lobby.

“It’s so late, is it possible that they have come back?” Avery’s bodyguard said, “It’s like they didn’t tell us when they went out in the morning.”

Elliot’s bodyguard frowned, and after a moment of thought, he said, “We have to go their presidential suite?”

“Okay.”

The two bodyguards took the elevator to the presidential suite.

Unexpectedly, there was a ‘Do Not Disturb’ sign on the door of the presidential suite where the two of them lived.

“D*mn it! I guessed it!” Avery’s bodyguard exclaimed, “the two of them are back! I guess they are resting now!”

Elliot’s bodyguard looked at the sign and nodded: “Then let’s go to dinner first. Let’s go!”

“Okay! Since the two of them didn’t look for the two of us, it means that the two of us are not needed for the time being.”

The two bodyguards walked towards the elevator and chatted.

Avery’s bodyguard: “I don’t know what they are doing during the day.”

Elliot’s bodyguard: “Who knows! It’s mysterious, and we won’t let us follow... I don’t know if Haze’s whereabouts are found.”

Avery’s bodyguard: “Actually, I really want to go. Take a look at the corpse pit.”

“I want to go too. I don’t know if they went there today. The corpse pit is so far away, if my boss goes there, he will definitely ask me to go with him.” Elliot’s bodyguard said.

Avery’s bodyguard sighed: “My boss is a bit stupid. Every time she goes anywhere, if I don’t follow her, she won’t call me. She’s used to going by herself. Although I’m her bodyguard, But more often, I feel like I show her the yard.”

“That’s why your salary is lower than mine.” Elliot’s bodyguard said, “But your salary is much higher than that of the yard. Avery is right. You are very nice.”

Avery’s bodyguard: “I know. I’ve always been very grateful to my boss.”

Elliot’s bodyguard: “I’m also very grateful to my boss. Although he’s serious and looks hard to approach, he’s very nice to the people around him.”

“Secretly ask you something, your boss. In the past two years, have you found another woman?” Avery’s bodyguard asked gossip.

Elliot’s bodyguard looked vigilant: “This is my boss’s private business, how can I say it?”

Avery’s bodyguard: “Since you said that, then your boss must have been looking for...”

Elliot’s bodyguard: “F*ck you! Your boss is not looking for it. Does she have a boyfriend? My boss is still single!”

Avery’s bodyguard: “Some people have found a boyfriend, but they are still innocent, and some are single, but have fun in private life...It’s your boss chasing my boss now. If you want to help your boss, then you should be more polite to me, and I can consider talking more about your boss in front of my boss.”

Elliot’s bodyguard: “Both of them are both now. They live in the same room, do you think they need your help to reconcile? Everyone is an adult, can you not be so childish. If your boss is not interested in my boss, can you give birth to so many children for my boss? What do I think?, it’s because your boss can’t do without my boss. My boss has been in Aryadelle, your boss won’t go back to Aryadelle, can they meet each other?”

Avery’s bodyguard: “You are the one who farts! My boss came back to find Haze.”

Elliot’s bodyguard: “No matter what the reason is, anyway, the two of them are hanging out together now! It’s not dark, so ‘do not disturb’, guess what are they doing in the room?”

Avery’s bodyguard: “It must be sleeping! My boss said she got up early in the morning.”

Elliot's bodyguard: "You idiot! I think they probably won't be able to find Haze. But this trip can be regarded as a 'compound trip'. Maybe they will stay in the room for a few days."

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1936

Chapter 1936

Suburban, basement.

After Elliot and Avery found out that the exit was blocked, they searched for the exit to the ground-level bungalow in the basement.

Sadly, that door was locked from the outside. They can't open at all.

After finding that they could not get out of the two exits, they immediately took out their mobile phones and planned to call for help.

However, in the basement, the mobile phone has no signal at all.

They have realized how difficult the situation they are facing.

"Why did Sasha do this?" Avery leaned on Elliot's shoulder and said in a low voice, "Is it because I deceived her in the hospital last time?"

"It shouldn't be. She definitely has a helper." Elliot's voice was cold. "There are only two possibilities. Either this criminal gang was not cleaned up at the beginning, and more than one Sasha escaped. They wanted to kill us and avenge the accomplice who was executed before. Or Sasha was bought by others. "

"I think the latter is more likely." Avery pondered for a moment and said, "Sasha said that most of the people in that gang were forced. I think their hearts may not be aligned. Who bought Sasha? Elliot, did you tell your friends from Yonroeville about your itinerary this time?"

"No. After Haze's accident, I have very little contact with this side." Elliot's brain speeded up. Running, thinking of ways to escape.

But the mobile phone had no signal, the exit was blocked, it was stuffy and damp, and he was already hungry.

"Avery, are you hungry?" Elliot asked.

"Well...Are you hungry too?" Avery asked back.

“A bit.” Elliot’s breath was a little dignified, “I didn’t expect that we would be trapped here. Avery, I just thought of a way, we can only wait for someone to save us now. If our bodyguards are not in danger, they should find a way to find us.”

“Yeah.” Avery ate less at noon, and now she was too hungry to have any strength.

Elliot: “Avery, don’t be pessimistic. Stay awake and don’t go to sleep yet.”

“But talking all the time is exhausting.” Avery reached out and rubbed her empty stomach, “Actually, there is still good news.”

“Huh?” Elliot didn’t know what’s the good news.

“There are no children’s bones here. Sasha lied. Haze may still be alive.” Avery felt much better when she thought of this possibility.

“I don’t know if we can get out alive.” Elliot really wanted to see Haze with his own eyes.

Now Haze’s life and death are unknown, and he and Avery are also on the line.

“Don’t think about it so much.” Avery comforted, “Life and death are destiny, death is not so scary.”

“Death is not scary, what is scary is that when you die, you will never see people you care about. I can’t bear our children.” Elliot said regretfully, “Don’t you want to be reluctant?”

“Of course I am. It’s just that we are trapped in this place with no signal. Even if our bodyguards find out that we are missing, they may not be able to find us here.” Avery said pessimistically, “Elliot, let’s have a heart-to-heart talk!”

Elliot: “Aren’t we talking heart-to-heart all the time?”

“We are already dying, so in every sentence that follows, we will only speak the truth, okay?” Avery raised her head and looked at Elliot.

His cell phone flashlight was always on.

Avery looked into his eyes through the faint light.

“Okay.” Elliot pressed her head on his shoulder again, “You ask first.”

“Aside from the child factor, do you still love me?” Avery asked.

When His Eyes Opened by Simple Silence Chapter 1937

Chapter 1937

“I never didn’t love you.” Elliot didn’t think about it, and said what he said in his heart, “Sometimes there is friction, if you don’t listen to my explanation, don’t listen to me, even if I hate you at the time, it will soon be Forget your hatred for you.”

Avery heard his answer, her nose slightly sour. She wants to talk, but she doesn’t know what to say.

Elliot: “Avery, it’s not because we have so many children and I want to give them a complete home, so I lowered my head and pursued you again. This causal relationship is just the opposite.”

“Elliot, stop talking.” The light flickered, and she held back, so she didn’t cry.

In fact, Avery still has a lot of small questions she wants to ask him. But now, she felt that the latter issue was no longer important.

“Avery, I also have a lot of questions to ask you.” Elliot said. Even if he dies, he still wants to be a clear ghost.

“I won’t ask you, so don’t ask me.” Avery said, “If you think it’s unfair, then I can answer a question for you.”

“Okay.” Elliot planned to think about it and ask her what question.

“Elliot, I love you too.” Avery didn’t give him time to think, “I only answer your question.”

Elliot smiled bitterly: “Avery, I’m not going to ask you whether you love me or not. If you love me, of course It’s the best result, but if you don’t love me, I will do what I want.”

“I only admit to answering your question. There is no need to ask other questions.” Avery sniffed.

“Indeed. With this answer, other things are not important.” Elliot put away his curiosity.

Elliot was going to ask her about Billy.

But judging from his attitude, Avery probably didn’t intend to answer.

“Elliot, are you cold?” Avery felt a little hard to breathe, “I’m so cold all of a sudden.”

Elliot heard that her breath was unsteady, and he immediately took her into his arms: “It’s really cold here. Avery, Stay boil. As long as the rescuers come, we can be saved.”

“I’m so hungry...” Avery leaned against his arms, her voice low, “I knew I would have eaten more at noon.”

“It’s okay.When we go out, we will bring you what you want to eat. What we don’t want to eat now, let’s think about the children... Is it possible for them to video call you tonight? If they can’t get through your video call, they will be very anxious.” Elliot whispered in her ear.

Avery’s breathing was a little heavy. She heard his voice, but didn’t answer. She wants to save her physical strength as much as possible and stay up until rescue arrives as long as she can.

“Avery, I saw a piece of news on my phone last time.” Elliot continued to whisper, “There was an earthquake in one place, and some houses collapsed. There was a little boy buried in the rubble without water and food. The rescue was underway. On the seventh day, just when everyone thought that under the ruins, no one would be alive, the boy was rescued. The boy was still alive...”

Avery replied softly.

Bridgedale.

In the morning, after Robert had breakfast, he suddenly missed his father, so he was clamoring to make a video call for his father.

Layla couldn’t beat him, so she dialed Dad’s number.

“Huh? Is my dad’s phone off?” Layla couldn’t get through to her dad, so she dialed her mom’s number. After a while, she frowned, “Why can’t my mother’s cell phone get through? Why did the two of them shut down together?”

After Layla finished speaking, Hayden frowned immediately.

“Brother, I can’t get through to my parents, try calling.” Layla put down the phone and looked at her brother.

Hayden went to get his phone.

After getting the phone, he dialed his mother’s number.

——Sorry, the number you dialed is temporarily unavailable, please try again later.

Chapter 1938

"I can't get through my mother's number either." Hayden did not continue to call Elliot's number.

Layla can't get through, so Hayden can't get through either.

"What time is it over there now? Are they both sleeping?" Layla asked.

Hayden glanced at the time: "they probably haven't slept yet. It's eight o'clock in the evening on their side."

"Oh...I'll call the bodyguard uncle to ask." Layla picked up the phone and listed in the address book, found the bodyguard's phone number and dialed it.

Fortunately, the bodyguard quickly answered the phone.

"Uncle bodyguard, my brother wants to make a videocall for my dad, but my dad's phone can't get through." Layla spoke first.

Bodyguard: "Did you call your mother? The two of them live together."

"If I call, I can't get through." Layla glanced at her brother, "My brother has to make a video call for my father. But why are they both turned off? Is it?"

The bodyguard blushed: "Layla, don't you really want your parents to get back together? The two of them are resting in the room now...The two of them put up a 'do not disturb' sign on the door, so they should not want to be disturbed. You ask your brother to stop arguing and wait for the two of them. I'll make up with you, of course I'll call you." The bodyguard explained.

"Oh, I see." Layla hung up the phone and coaxed her brother, "Mom and Dad are already asleep. When they're asleep, they'll call."

"Call him." Robert was angry.

"Dad is coaxing mum! When he coaxes mum, mum will stay with us." Layla taunted, "Don't you want mum to live with us? And brother... It's great for our family of five to live together!"

Hayden: "Layla, if you help Elliot chase your mother, then don't call me brother."

Layla blushed and denied: "I didn't help Dad! I really didn't!"

Hayden: "I just remind you "

Layla: "Brother, don't you believe me?"

"How can I believe you when you said that?" Hayden didn't want to be too serious, for fear of scaring his younger sister, so he said, "We also have a younger sister named Haze. Counting Elliot, we are indeed a family of five."

Layla pursed her mouth: "I think my mother will want my father."

"Sister Haze. In this way, we have four brothers and sisters in our family, how lively!" Layla looked forward to the picture of family reunion.

Yonroeville.

The next morning.

After the two bodyguards got up, they first took a look at the presidential suite.

There is still a 'Do Not Disturb' sign on the door.

The two looked at each other.

"It's nine o'clock. Did you say they had breakfast?" Avery's bodyguard asked.

"How do I know that? Even if they're hungry, they can order food and have it delivered to their room. They don't even need to go to the restaurant."

Guard Avery's bodyguard sighed, "Why don't we two go to the corpse pit?"

"Even if we go, we must tell the boss. What if the boss needs us later?" Elliot's bodyguard touched his chin, "Call your boss and try. See if you can get through."

Avery's bodyguard immediately took out his mobile phone and dialed Avery.
