

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 527

"I am Fred East, the 23rd generation disciple of the Krums. Greetings, Old Master Stefani. My grandfather is the senior elder of the Krums, Norman East," Fred put his hands together and introduced himself. "Greetings, Old Master Stefani, I am Lorraine Lovewood, the 23rd generation disciple of the Krums. My master is the third elder of the Krums, Taylor Coda," Lorraine also bowed and put her hands together to introduce herself.

When Mason opened his eyes to look at them just now, the three felt as if Mason had seen through all of their secrets.

His eyes seemed as if they could see through everything.

It was just a calm look that did not have any trace of prestige, but it made them feel like they were facing an insurmountable mountain.

'He's so powerful!'

No wonder even the head of the sect respected and admired this old man so much. "Is Ted alright now? We haven't seen each other for decades," Mason said, recalling his memories.

"The head is fine. He often mentioned you in front of us, saying that you were the person he admired the most in his life. He even said he learned a lot from you back then," Grant said respectfully.

"Haha! It's so surprising that the kid still remembers me. Decades have passed, and now that some of my old friends are coming out of hiding, an old fart like me can still have a drink with them."

The trio felt ashamed.

Ted, the head of the Krums, was over a hundred years old and he was being called a kid!

This just showed how old Old Master Stefani was. "Old Master Stefani, this is the letter that my teacher Ted ordered me to personally hand to you." Grant took a letter out at this moment.

"Julia, bring it here for me," Mason said. "Yes, Great-grandpa." Julia took the letter from Grant's hand, walked over to Mason, opened the envelope, and handed the letter to Mason.

After Mason took the letter, he began to read it.

After scanning the letter, Mason's expression did not change but he was very shocked.

If what the letter says is true, then this was pretty serious.

Still, he was skeptical about what Ted said in the letter.

He still needed some time to verify this.

Moted didn't send you three out here just to send me this letter, right?" Mason asked.

Kold Master Stefani, in addition to delivering the letter this time, we're also accompanying Lori, my junior, to go back home. She has not been home for ten years. Furthermore, the Krums are going to come out of hiding and my teacher hopes to get Old Master Stefani's consent for this," Grant said.

"Ted and I are old acquaintances. the Krums also sent someone to help Somerland when we were in our most difficult period. Thus, if the Krums want to come out of hiding, I have no reason to stop you, but you have been hidden for many years and you have no idea about the Somerland system. If you feel like you can follow the Somerland system after you familiarize yourself with it, then, of course, you're more than welcome to do so," Mason said. "Thank you, Old Master Stefani!" Grant and the gang answered happily.

After they got Mason's answer, the goal of their trip could be considered 50% accomplished. Next, they would need to slowly understand the structure of the forces in Somerland and all its rules and regulations. After they went back, they still needed to explain it to the rest of the members of the Krums in case they broke the rules of Somerland after they came out of hiding and got targeted by the Somerland official. "You don't need to be so happy yet. The Somerland system is not the same as within your sect. The core belief of the system is that everyone is equal and there is no person that's superior to others, and no one has any special privileges. This means that you can't even kill a beggar on the street just because you want to. I hope you can grasp these rules properly and explain them to Ted. If not, it will be hard for everyone." "We understand," the trio answered at the same time.

Chapter 528 After David was done packing, he saw three youngsters standing respectfully in the courtyard the moment he walked out of the door. 'Hmm? Isn't that Lorraine? 'Why are they here? 'Do they all know Mason?

"They're indeed people with strong backgrounds. No wonder they're not scared of the Gooding family.

David came to a realization in his heart.

These three were not very old yet were not weak, this would be impossible to cultivate if they were just some normal forces.

Moreover, they even had the protection of two peak Dragon Rankers. How generous!

David walked to the courtyard from the room and naturally attracted the attention of Lorraine and the other two.

The trio looked at David in shock.

Who was Mason?

The Chief of Staff of Somerland!

The head of the Somerland Parliament! The supreme ruler of Somerland!

Aside from his identity, he was also terrifyingly powerful.

Even the head of the Krums felt inferior to him.

One could imagine the security in the place where this kind of big shot lived. When they came here, they had gone through so many obstacles and so many searches. The entire process lasted about half an hour.

However, they did not expect to run into the young man they had met in the Gooding residence a few days ago. No wonder Frank, the old master of the Gooding family and a master that was halfway to the God Rank, was so humble to him. Back then, even though they figured that this young man's identity was not that simple, they did not think that they would meet him again in Old Master Stefani's residence. This could not be explained by just having an extraordinary identity, it could even be said that his identity was extremely powerful. Anyone who could be related to Old Master Stefani was extremely spectacular. Therefore, the Krums would need to treat them with due consideration.

Even so, Lorraine did not feel anything special about this, instead, she simply became more curious about David.

Meanwhile, Grant and Frank were a little upset. David was not inferior to them in terms of appearance or temperament. In some ways, he was even slightly better than them.

Judging from how he took care of someone at the beginner stage of the Dragon Rank in the Gooding residence a few days ago, he was surely not weak no matter what means he used.

Besides, he was clearly more than a decade younger than them. Now, his status was even higher than theirs. At this moment, this upset the two men who often thought highly of themselves. They felt that they were the most excellent among the younger generation and they would never give in to each other.

However, now that someone who was obviously more excellent than them had appeared in front of them, they immediately felt that there was a very huge gap between themselves and the other party.

"Old Master Stefani, I'll get going now. I'll come back tomorrow," David said as he walked next to Mason.

Mason also noticed the trio from the Krums looking at David with kinds of expressions on their faces.

"Do you know each other?" 'Mason asked curiously.

The trio from the Krums should have just descended from the mountain, so how could they have had any interaction with David?

"Yeah, I guess. I met them at the Gooding Residence a few days ago. They even blocked an attack from the head of the Gooding family for me. Even though I didn't need it, I still thanked them," David said.

"David, I told you that you can come to me if you have any trouble. An old fart like me still has some authority in Somerland. Don't be scared of troubling me. It's just a minor matter to me anyway," Mason said, sounding like he was condemning David.

Chapter 529 He knew about what happened at the Gooding residence,

It was Lucas who reported this to him.

Then, he asked Abraham to settle the issue for him.

"I got it, Old Master Stefani. I'll definitely come to you next time I need help," David replied with a wry smile.

"Then, it's settled! Be sure to look for me next time. Your status is different now. You don't actually need to do all these things yourself. You need to learn how to deal with things as someone in a leadership position," Mason said.

He really wanted to train David to be his successor.

"I understand, Old Master Stefani. I'll get going now, see you tomorrow," David replied.

"Okay, Julia, go and walk David out."

"Yes, Great-grandpa."

After Julia finished speaking, she got ready to go out with David. When David walked toward the trio, he paused and said to the three, "Thank you for your help last time. My name is David."

"My name is Lorraine."

"My name is Grant." "My name is Fred." After the three introduced themselves, they said at the same time, "We are all disciples of the Krums." Since someone with David's identity took the initiative to talk to them, they dared not be careless.

"It's a pleasure to meet you, we will meet again soon. Goodbye!"

After David finished speaking, he and Julia left the place together.

As for the next time they meet, it would naturally be at the ten-year appointment. He believed that the three of them would definitely be there.

David left, but the trio was still in shock at that moment.

Old Master Stefani was so polite to David.

This was beyond their expectations.

Originally, they thought that David was a descendant of Old Master Stefani, but from the conversation between the two just now, it seemed that was not the case.

'Who is this David person?

'Why does Old Master Stefani value him so much?'

"Old Master Stefani, the Krums will definitely abide by the Somerland system. This is what the head told us before we left."

"Very good. I know Ted quite well. He was also a young man with a strong sense of justice back then, so I feel at ease with the sect he leads." "Old Master Stefani, we'll get going now. The head had asked us to finish some other tasks during our trip as well."

"Go ahead. If Ted comes, ask him to come over and catch up with me."

"Of course."

With that, the trio left.

After Julia walked them out, she returned to Mason's side.

"Great-grandpa, who are those people?" Julia asked curiously. "They're from a hidden sect. Their head once came out to help us when Somerland was in crisis. It is a sect with a great sense of justice." "So, are they planning for the whole sect to come out hiding together this time?" "Yes. Not only the Krums, but all the hidden sects and families are planning to come out now."

"Why? Isn't it good to live in hiding? It's been so many years, so why are they all coming out of hiding like they had planned this?"

"Julia, you don't understand some things. Troubled times are coming, and no one can hide from it. Hence, all of them want to come out to find an opportunity to survive in our society," Mason sighed ruefully. "Won't Somerland be very chaotic now that so many hidden sects and families are coming out? Those people are so amazing and 99% of Somerland is made up of ordinary people," Julia asked worriedly. "You have to thank David for this. If I die, Somerland will indeed be in chaos. However, David saved me, and since I'm around, they won't be able to do anything too serious. Don't worry. Not only did David save me, he even saved the entire nation of Somerland in some ways." 'David,' Julia murmured in her heart. This young man was two years younger than her but her great-grandpa thought so highly of him. Julia now wanted to know more about him.

Chapter 530 Two luxury cars drove out of the alley.

Lorraine was in the car in front with her two seniors. Lorraine was seated in the front while Grant and Fred were in the backseats.

The two elders were sitting in the car behind them.

The drivers of the two cars had been temporarily transferred here from the company under the Lovewoods's name.

The hidden sect was not a paradise isolated from the world. They would also learn about modern things, and occasionally, their masters would bring them out to train them in these aspects.

Therefore, they were not surprised by the secular cars and planes because they had seen them before. "Lori, can you see through that David person?" Grant could not stop himself from asking. He knew that the third elder had a secret technique that could observe some things they could not see.

As the direct disciple of the third elder, Lorraine would definitely know it, but Grant did not know how much she had learned.

As the direct disciple of Ted, the head of the sect, and also a senior in the Krums, an ancient hidden sect that was very powerful, Grant thought that he was the best among the younger generation this entire time.

He kept this confidence and felt that he the strength to back it up. However, a few days after leaving the mountain, he met someone who was no worse than him in every way. Worse still, the other party also had a huge advantage in age. Psychologically, Grant could not accept this.

"I also want to know who the hell David is. He even said that we'd meet again soon! What does he mean by that?" Fred asked.

"I don't know who he is. Although I am from Capital City, I was brought into Krum Mountain by my master at the age of ten and I have been growing up in Krum Mountain since then. Besides, I can't see through him!" Lorraine said.

"You can't?"

"Yeah, I can't! It felt as if there was a layer of smoke around him. Even though I only learned about 30% of the secret technique from my master, he's the first person among the younger generation that I can't see through."

The three fell into silence.

Grant and Fred knew what Lorraine was trying to express from that.

It meant that Lorraine could see something in them, but she could not see anything in that person named David.

'Isn't she indirectly saying that the two of us are inferior to David?' They were unconvinced, but they knew Lorraine would not lie to them.

Meanwhile, Lorraine was still wondering who this David person was.

He was so young and yet Old Master Stefani was so humble to him.

He had a very high status and yet he was filled with mystery.

After David left Mason's place, he drove to Celia's house. It had been a few days since he last came back. This time, he dropped by to say hello, and then after he brewed the last portion of the medicine for Mason, he would go back to South River Province.

After that, he still needed to handle all kinds of trouble for East League Capitals. Also, classes would be starting in half a month. He was going to be in Year 4 and he would be graduating in one more year. Even though it did not matter whether he went to class, he promised Oliver that he would go back and show his face when classes started.

When he got to Celia's house, Celia was watching television in boredom. After she was forcefully kidnapped by Hanley in the past, she stopped going out as much. David stood in front of the door and called Celia to ask her to open the door for him. Before he could even hang up the call, the door was opened.

Celia was wearing a loose nightdress and her skin was vaguely showing. Furthermore, her hair was a little messy.

David was a little stunned when he saw that.

“What’s wrong, David? Do I have something on my face?” Celia noticed David staring at him and asked curiously.

She did not notice the loose nightdress she was wearing. At this moment, her every move would give David endless fantasies.

“Um... It’s noon. Did you just wake up?” David asked after he came back to his senses.

He quickly hid his embarrassment.

“Yeah, I just got up. I don’t have anything to do anyway,” Celia said. “Why didn’t you take a walk outside?”

Chapter 531 “I don’t want to go out alone.” “What about your friends and girlfriends?” “They all have boyfriends. I don’t want to be a third wheel.” “Why don’t... I take a walk with you outside?” “Alright, alright!” Celia said happily. “Are you going to wear this?” “You can come in and sit first. I’ll change and be right back.” Celia turned around and left in a hurry after speaking. Afterward, she went upstairs to change. It was evident that she had been extremely bored staying at home. It had been almost a week since David left suddenly after receiving the phone call. Although they chatted every day, how could it compare to seeing each other in the flesh? Meanwhile, her mother Mindy would nag her almost every day. She kept asking questions such that Celia was getting a little annoyed. She did not want to disturb David’s work.

David entered the hall and was relieved to see Celia go upstairs.

This is a sin. This is a sin,’ David thought to himself.

D

However, he felt that something was not right immediately after. ‘I’m not a f*cking monk, so why should I feel guilty?’ After barely suppressing the throbbing in his heart, David wondered if he could find a time to indirectly test Celia’s reaction. It was not good suppressing himself all the time anyway.

He was about 22.

He was almost at the legal age of marriage for a man, but he was still a virgin.

He was embarrassed to even say it out loud.

He was the founder of East League Capitals, a trillion-dollar company.

He was also one of the eleven MPs of the Somerland Parliament.

He was even a God Rank guardian, and yet, he was still a virgin. The others would make fun of him if they ever found out. While David was fantasizing about how if Celia did not resist, he could do unspeakable things to her, Celia came downstairs after changing. David observed Celia from head to toe.

This was the first time he had looked at Celia from such an appreciative point of view. She was wearing a short white skirt and a pair of knee-high socks, exposing a small portion of the skin on her thigh. It had to be said that Celia was top-notch in every aspect, if not, she would not be regarded as the most beautiful girl from high school to university. This was even in a top global university like Greenwood University.

All of the kids from rich families and kids from aristocratic families were competing for her. Yet, if she were to be compared to Lorraine, those two were polar opposites. One was a pretty and pure girl next door while the other one was an ethereal and mature fairy with a hot body.

The two had their own set of traits but one could not deny that they were the types that would capture the hearts of both the young and the old. Lorraine had the temperament of a fairy, making men want to dominate her more. However, David still liked Celia more.

Chapter 532 “What’s wrong? Do I not look good in this?” Celia walked up to David, saw David staring at her intently, and asked with a slight blush. “Good! You look good,” David said quickly “Really?”

Celia said and turned twice in front of David. Her short skirt swayed slightly, making David’s heart jump “You look really pretty. Let’s go! Have you not gone out these days?”

“Yeah, I haven’t been out for several days.”

The two then drove to the downtown area.

“Let’s find a place to eat first,” David said.

“Alright.” “You should know where to find good food here, right?” “There is a pretty good place nearby. My girlfriends and I used to eat there often.” “Show me the way then.”

“Go straight and then turn left at the second junction.” David drove under the guidance of Celia and arrived at the door of a luxuriously decorated hotel.

After parking the car, the two entered the hotel together. “Hello, may I know how many of you are here?”

As soon as they entered the door, a waiter came up and asked.

“Just the two of us. Is there a private room?” David asked.

“I’m sorry, Sir. The private rooms are all fully booked. Is it okay if you dine in the lobby?”

The waiter took the two to find a seat by the window. Then, the two sat down. After Celia ordered, the waiter left.

It did not take long for the dishes to arrive. The two chatted while eating. “Celia?” While they were eating, they heard a voice next to them. When they lifted their heads, they saw a stylish young woman standing behind Celia.

“Lilith! W-Why are you here?” Celia asked.

“I wanted to ask you the same question. No wonder you didn’t want to come out with us after we invited you out! It seems that you’re dating,” Lilith exclaimed.

“Lilith, it’s not what you think!” Celia said, her face turning red.

“Be honest, when did you two start dating?” “W-We..” Celia looked at David, stammering a little. “Fine, I’m not going to interrogate you anymore.” After Lilith finished speaking, she said to David, “Hey handsome, what’s your name? Who are you to Celia?”

“Hello, my name is David and I’m Celia’s boyfriend.” David replied with a grin.

“David, right? Be honest, how did you manage to con Celia? So many of the people in our circle are interested in her, I didn’t expect an outsider to be quicker than them,” Lilith said. “We haven’t been together for too long. However, we knew each other since a long time ago,” David said.

“David, since you got our princess, you should do something for us.”

“What should I do then?” David asked.

“Well, I’ll invite everyone from our circle tomorrow and we can get to know each other. We’ll do it at the Longevity Club, what do you think?” Lilith asked. “Of course!” David answered.

“It’s settled then. Celia, I’ll call you tomorrow. Have fun eating.”

Lilith turned around and left after she said that. Celia had a boyfriend.

This was a huge piece of news that would shock their entire group. Hence, she quickly called her other girlfriends to discuss how to get a free meal out of David.

“David, I’m so sorry. That’s how Lilith is,” Celia said, feeling a little apologetic.

“It’s fine. It’s good meeting your friends. Besides, I have to claim ownership too, right? Eat your food. After we’re done, we’ll go shopping,” David smiled and said. “Okay!”

After they finished eating, David shopped with Celia the entire afternoon and ] bought a lot of clothes.

‘It’s truly a woman’s nature to shop.’

Halfway through, Mindy called Celia and asked where she was. After she learned that Celia was with David, she stopped asking. When the two went back home, Mindy and her husband were home.

“Mom, Dad!” Celia called out happily.

“Hello, Mr. and Mrs. Young,” David also greeted. “Hello, David is here. Put away the things and get ready for dinner. We’re waiting for you two,” Mindy said.

“Alright, Celia, where should I put these clothes?” “Help me carry them to my room.”

After Celia said that, she ran upstairs. David looked at Mindy and her husband. When he saw that they were not reacting, he carried the two bags of things and followed Celia upstairs.

When he was in Celia’s room, he was overwhelmed by a sea of pink.

This was the room of a girl who had not yet grown up.

This was also the first time David had come here.

After he put the two bags away, he saw Celia changing her shoes on the bed.

However, since the socks were a little tight and they were a little hard to remove, Celia took some effort to remove them.

“Let me help you.”

David walked over, knelt, grabbed one of Celia’s legs that were still wearing the sock, and then helped her remove the sock.

After he removed the sock, he was met with a long, soft, and malleable leg. David was slightly reluctant to put her leg down. However, he soon removed the other sock as well. “It’s done.” David lifted his head to look at Celia. He immediately spotted Celia’s red face. Even her had turned pink. “T-Thank you,” Celia murmured.

This was the first time she had let another man touch her leg. “It’s fine. Let’s go. Your mom and dad are still waiting for us to go down and eat.”

After David said that, he was about to turn around to leave.

He did not dare to continue staying here.

Right now, Celia was too seductive.

He was worried that he would not be able to hold himself back.

However, Celia stopped him before he could turn around.

“David,” Celia lifted her head to call out to David.

“Yeah? What’s wrong?” David asked curiously.

“You... You... Close your eyes first,” Celia said coyly, her face red.

The two of them looked deeply at each other.

However, David could not hold himself back from those beautiful big eyes and delicate face. Hence, he quickly closed his eyes, if not, he would lose control. He soon heard some sounds coming from the bed.

After this, David felt a pair of soft and malleable small hands touching his face. Then, a sweet scent entered David’s nose before he felt some warmth and wetness on his lips. Even though David was still a virgin, he knew what was happening despite not having the experience. He was being forcefully kissed by Celia. He had been holding himself back, but now, he was completely turned on.

Chapter 534

David seemed to say that he had taken care of the problem just now.

‘Is that... possible?’

The two were in disbelief.

The Gooding family was not the same as the Chese family.

They were the true elite aristocratic family in Capital City.

Old Master Gooding was a true top-level big shot in Somerland.

“U-Um... David, did you just say East League Capitals got into trouble with Gooding Group and now it’s been taken care of?” Mindy asked, her mouth a little dry.

“Yeah, it’s been taken care of. East League Capitals is developing normally and we have been competing with others amicably, but the Gooding family used some shameful means to try to stifle our growth. Evil will never win against justice. So, the Gooding family has already apologized to East League Capitals,” David said casually.

What David said caused Mindy and Jon to be so shocked that they were speechless for a very long time.

Gooding Group was well-known to be very overbearing in Capital City, so would they really apologize? Besides this, he claimed that evil would never win against justice?

What complete nonsense!

In this day and age, anyone with strong connections and a strong background would be the boss.

There was only one possibility if they wanted the Gooding family to apologize. It was to be a stronger force than them so that they had no choice but to give in.

Since David could get them to apologize, Mindy and Jon were even more certain that David’s background was not that simple.

Even though David’s parents had passed away, a person’s background might not come from their father’s family.

Anything that they could utilize could be regarded as their background.

At the same time, Jon and Mindy started to feel worried.

Since David had this kind of background, would their daughter be a suitable match for him?

Even though Celia was great in every aspect, what David displayed right now could not be described as excellent anymore.

The two of them looked at Celia, who was eating with her head lowered, and they sighed in their hearts.

‘She’s our silly daughter indeed. Why is she not holding onto this man tighter?’

‘She’s still so thoughtless and did not want to ask anything.’

‘Who would she cry to if David got away one day?’

‘No. Since she’s shy and is too embarrassed to say anything, then as her mother, I’ll help her.’

‘Once the two had a child, Celia can basically lock down David.’

Mindy decided that if Celia did not say anything later, she would say it.

She had to lock down David no matter what.

The family continued to eat.

Throughout dinner, Mindy made eyes at Celia a few times, but Celia pretended like she did not see it.

Celia's face had been red the whole time since they came downstairs earlier.

Mindy knew her daughter was shy but they had been together for so many years and they had done everything before, so it was a little too late to feel shy now, right?

Mindy was disappointed that Celia was not living up to her expectations.

Celia knew why Mindy kept making eye contact with her.

She knew Mindy wanted her to ask David to move in with them or suggest that she could move out to stay with David.

However, she still had not calmed herself down after what happened between her and David just now.

How would she have the nerve to ask him about that kind of thing?

It would make her look like a bitter recluse. She could not do it!

Chapter 533

When he felt the warmth and softness on his lips, David's brain stopped working.

However, he quickly came back to his senses. It had been very difficult for him to hold himself back today, and now Celia dared to do this.

Was she not inviting trouble by doing that?

At that moment, David lost control.

He reached out his arms to hold Celia's soft and malleable body.

Celia's bed was a little high, so she was about David's height now that she was kneeling on the bed.

Just now, she kissed David because she was being impulsive.

She wanted to leave after kissing him, but she did not think that David would hug her. Right now, she was very nervous and did not know what to do.

Thus, she simply let David hold her like this as the two experienced the kiss quietly.

After more than ten seconds, Celia suddenly came back to her senses and pushed David away forcefully. Then, she jumped down from the bed barefooted and fled.

All

As she ran, she said, “D-David, I’m going downstairs. If not, my mom will come upstairs.”

David watched as Celia ran away. He was still reminiscing the sweetness in Celia’s mouth.

After he came back to his senses, he chuckled bitterly and shook his head.

When he walked to the stairs, Mindy started calling from downstairs. “David, get ready for dinner.”

“Alright, Mrs. Young,” David answered as he walked downstairs.

When Celia saw David, she lowered her head quickly and did not dare to look at him.

David and Celia’s family chatted as they ate.

“David, I heard East League Capitals got into some trouble in Capital City. Were you handling this for the past few days?” Mindy asked.

Mindy paid attention to David’s company. After all, he was her future son-in-law.

Besides, Beautylish was developing well after relying on the partnership with East League Capitals.

The development of East League Capitals would not only affect her daughter, but it would also affect the future development of Beautylish.

Thus, she had to pay attention to that.

“I guess,” David replied.

He could not say that he had been to Mason’s place these past few days in case he scared this family.

It should be better to hide some parts of his identity.

Could a normal person meet someone like Mason?

The people who would be summoned by Mason were all the top in Somerland.

“How’s it going now?”

“That’s good.”

After Mindy said that, she asked curiously, “Who did you offend?”

“Mrs. Young, we didn’t offend them. East League Capitals has always been competing with our rivals with means that are acceptable within the industry. However, the other party is a local force in Capital City and they thought that they could bully us since we’re not from here. Hence, they used some shameful methods to try to make us give in. Whenever we encounter this kind of situation, of course, we’ll take strong measures against it,” David explained.

“Who are they?” Mindy continued asking.

“Gooding Group,” David answered. ‘Gooding Group?’

Mindy and Jon shuddered. Then, they quickly lifted their heads to look at each other in shock.

They had been staying in Capital City for decades, so they knew the hierarchy in Capital City pretty well.

Gooding Group was one of the most powerful companies in Capital City.

Even though they were only a group, they were low profile. Hence, their true power was that of a conglomerate.

Furthermore, the Gooding family, one of the top four prominent families in Capital City, was behind Gooding Group.

The Gooding family was several levels superior to the Chasez family from the last incident.

Now, David's East League Capital was having a conflict with the Gooding family's Gooding Group.

'W-What should we do?'

The two were a little anxious.

If something happened to David's company, their daughter Celia would not have a day of nosce in her life in the future. Moreover, Beautylish's development would also be restricted.

'Wait.'

They seemed to miss out on something.

Chapter 535 Celia did not do anything even after they finished the meal. She only lowered her head to eat.

This enraged Mindy a little. 'What's going on with this girl?'

'She promised me the last time!'

After they chatted for a while, David felt that it was almost time to go and he was about to leave after bidding farewell.

"David, you've been with Celia for so many years and it's pretty troublesome for you to keep going back and forth. Just move in with us next time," Mindy said.

"Huh?"

David could not register what was going on at that moment and he felt a little confused.

"Why? Are you not willing to?" Mindy asked with a frown.

"N-No!" David quickly denied it.

How would he be unwilling to do this?

David turned his head to look at Celia.

She was sitting on the sofa and her head was lowered, she looked a little restless.

'What's going on? 'Celia is not rejecting this! 'So is she tacitly agreeing to this?'

David was excited.

'Did they plan this?'

Celia lifted her head to peek at David. This whole time, he had been staring at her, and at that moment, she felt as if her face was on fire. She could not stand this atmosphere so she quickly got up and said, "I-I'm going to bed."

After she said that, she ran upstairs quickly.

At this moment, Celia felt as if her face was burning.

Her mother said it!

'What am I going to do now?'

'Will David say yes?'

'What if he agrees?'

'Should I lock the door?'

'He'll be mad if I lock the door, right?'

'If he doesn't agree, does it mean he doesn't like me?'

'What should I do then?'

Celia was starting to overthink it.

Her mind was a mess.

She hoped David would agree, but at the same time, she was scared that he would not.

The three of them watched as Celia left.

"If you don't have anything going on tonight, you can just stay here. It's pretty troublesome to keep going back and forth," Mindy said again.

"Um... Okay!" David answered inarticulately.

At this moment, he was overjoyed inside.

This was the first time David felt that his mother-in-law was amazing.

She was so supportive!

His dissatisfaction toward Mindy back then vanished in an instant right after Mindy said that.

David never thought that although his mother-in-law was very snobbish, she was pretty great when it mattered.

Meanwhile, Celia had just left, so even though David was anxious, he still held himself back.

'I've held myself back for so many years, so it's fine to hold on a little longer.'

Then, he continued to talk to Mindy about Beautylish and East League Capitals.

However, his heart was focused on Celia the entire time.

After a while, Mindy and Jon were ready to go to bed.

“David, you should rest early,” Mindy said after she left.

“Alright, I will. Mrs. Young, you guys should go rest,” David answered.

Right now, he was a little nervous and also a little excited. Even though he was in his twenties, this was his first time after all.

He had never reached this stage back during the three to four years he had been with Sarah.

* Even though he proposed this, Sarah did not agree.

Whenever he heard his roommates talk about this, he would be so envious.

After calming himself down, David secretly cheered himself up.

He was a God Rank guardian after all, so why should he be so nervous about this trivial matter?

This would be embarrassing to the other God Rank guardians.

After he got up and switched off the light in the living room, he went upstairs and arrived at the door to Celia’s room.

Chapter 536 David was going to knock

On second thought, he changed his mind.

Celia was too shy to open the door.

‘I’ll just go right in!’

David put his hand gently on the door handle and gently pulled it down.

Crack!

The door opened.

It was pitch black

David walked into the room.

He closed the door behind him and locked it.

The room was so dark that he could not see anything.

David released a little mind power and went to the window of Celia’s room.

He pulled the curtains apart.

With the help of the faint moonlight, David sat by the bed.

Celia seemed to be fast asleep.

However, David noticed that her beautiful lashes were fluttering slightly.

David found it funny.

The girl was pretending to be asleep.

However, come to think of it, Celia would be lucky to fall asleep in this situation.

David leaned down only a few centimeters from Celia's gorgeous face. Her rosy red lips and beautiful big eyes closed tightly while her lashes fluttered slightly. He could even feel Celia's hot breath.

Unable to control himself anymore, David kissed Celia's rosy red lips, quickly conquering them and savoring the sweetness.

The moonlight outside the window seemed to know that it should not see what was going to happen next as it quietly hid in the clouds.

The room plunged into darkness.

It was a sleepless night...

When David woke up the next day, he looked at the sleeping beauty asleep on his arm.

He felt pride.

Celia was finally his.

MAN

Gently moving Celia's head away, David got out of bed, washed up, and went downstairs to find that Mindy and her husband had already left the house.

He went to the kitchen and started making breakfast.

Soon, a delicious breakfast made of love appeared.

He brought the breakfast to the room, sat down at the bedside, and said, "Celia! Get up for breakfast!"

However, Celia did not respond.

"Stop pretending to be asleep! I know you're awake!" David said with a smile.

Only then did Celia unwillingly open her eyes.

"Get up and eat something!"

"Okay!"

Celia sat up and took the breakfast David was holding.

David looked at Celia's baggy pajamas, feeling tempted again.

Celia looked up to see David's passionate eyes staring at her and blushed slightly.

David kissed Celia on the forehead and said, "There there! Eat first! I have to go out and take care of something. I'll see you at noon!"

He had one last set of medicine to prepare for Mason.

He could not delay it!

"Okay!" Celia nodded.

David went out and drove to Mason's place.

Once he reached Mason's place, he pushed the door open and went in.

Mason was already exercising in the yard, and Julia was also there.

David came a little late today.

"David's here!" Mason greeted.

"Old Master Stefani, I got caught up in something today. I'll go prepare your medicine now,"

David said sheepishly.

"It's alright!" Mason said with a smile.

Once he reached the room, David skillfully began to brew the medicine.

It was not long before the medicine was ready.

David took the medicine out so Mason could take it, cleaned up the room, walked out, and said, "Old Master Stefani, you'll recover after taking today's medicine, so I'll stop coming over from tomorrow onward."

"Thank you for all the hard work these days, David!" Mason said gratefully.

"It's nothing! It's my duty!"

"Come and see me sometime! Also, contact me if anything happens. I might be old, but I might be able to help."

"Got it, Old Master Stefani. I gotta go now!"

"Sure! Julia, see David to the door!"

"Okay, Great-grandpa!"

Julia accompanied David out of the house.

David did not notice the hint of reluctance in Julia's eyes.
