Chapter 891

The missile bases at Somerland and Falconia were very close to Dark Point.

Since the two countries had always watched each other, the missiles soon arrived at Dark Cape Peak.

Pavan smiled contemptuously while looking at the dense missiles.

They are indigenous indeed.

Do they think this kind of low-level means can threaten us?

'How whimsical.'

Pavan waved his hand lightly.

Hundreds of mecha giants kneeling on one knee in the air immediately divided into two teams consisting of dozens of people.

Each team was responsible for one direction, and they rushed toward the densely packed missiles.

David and the others stared at these tall mecha monsters carefully.

They saw that although the mechas were huge, they were extremely fast.

One of the mechas immediately rushed in front of the swarm and punched the missile directly in front of it.

Boom!

A huge explosion could be heard.

However, the mecha was not damaged at all.

Then, it rushed to the next missile and kicked it.

Boom!

Another missile was destroyed.

These mechas were like monsters that could not be harmed.

They could destroy missiles with every punch and kick, but the missile explosion did not cause any damage to them, not even a single scratch. Boom boom boom boom boom!

Countless missile explosions could be heard.

Just a few minutes later, the dense mass of missiles was cleared.

Only the smoke of gunpowder filled the sky.

David and the others did not respond as they were already mentally prepared.

They knew these ordinary missiles would not threaten these people from Stella Civilization Galaxy.

Yet, they were slightly alarmed because these humanoid mechas were so powerful.

Not only were they tall, but they were also fast. The most important thing was that their defense was amazing. On the contrary, the earthlings watching the live broadcast were utterly stunned.

“These aliens are so powerful!

‘There were so many missiles, but they managed to get rid of them unscathed.’

However, it was not over.

After the smoke dissipated, several nuclear bombs dozens of times larger than the previous missile flew over from Somerland and Falconia.

This was the current ultimate combat power on earth.

The power was so great that only one of them could destroy the entire Dark Cape.

Pavan watched as several large nuclear bombs approached rapidly. He smiled and said, “This is a little bit more interesting than the ones just now, but that’s it. To be honest, I’m quite disappointed. Is this all that a level 0.7 civilization has?”

As the nuclear bomb got closer, the octagonal alien spaceship, which was refining blood, broke off a corner and shot several rays of light, hitting several large nuclear bombs respectively.

After the nuclear bombs were hit, they started to decompose slowly.

Eventually, they became ashes and dissipated in the air.

‘What?’

David and the rest were all shocked.

‘The large nuclear bombs were disintegrated just like that?’

‘This is the most powerful weapon technology we can currently make on earth, but it was destroyed so noiselessly?’

Woosh!

The octagonal spaceship then emitted a ray of light and shot it into the distance.

After a while...

Boom!

A huge island hundreds of kilometers away from Dark Cape was instantly destroyed.

Chapter 892 The impact stirred up waves hundreds of meters high that spread everywhere. The waves would hit Dark Cape soon.

At this time, Pavan decided to stop acting.

Since the Earthlings had already taken action, it seemed impossible to opt for a peaceful solution now.

That being the case, he should suppress the Earthlings by force!

Pavan was also not afraid of David being disobedient.

Once the slave mark was planted, he would control the fate of all human beings on Earth.

David had so many friends and family on Earth.

So, at that time, he had to obey no matter what. Pavan stood up, and his body slowly rose.

He wore a golden crown, and his entire body also exuded a pale golden light.

He looked like an ancient emperor, and everyone who saw him would want to surrender and worship him.

Except for David, of course.

What realm was David in now?

Only he himself knew.

Pavan's body rose tens of meters and stopped.

"I, Pavan Tuffin from the Tuffin family, the ninth chief of the Milky Way Battle Institution in Stella Civilization Galaxy, am making you and other earthlings my slaves forever. Elders, plant the slave mark!"

Pavan sounded like he was God as his voice reached everyone's ears.

"As you wish, Master Pavan," the four elders said respectfully.

At the same time, they instantly appeared around the huge 'slave' word in the sky.

At this time, the golden 'slave' word was almost completed.

If one zoomed in 10,000 times to look at it, one would notice that this word was made up of countless other dense and tiny 'slave' words.

There were at least 100 billion of them.

Pavan's words offended all the earthlings.

It turned out that many people thought these aliens were friendly, but it seemed that they were exactly as David said.

They wanted to enslave every human on Earth.

A lot of people started yelling at Pavan.

Mason and the others could not stand it any longer.

Although they had no idea what a slave mark was, they knew that it was certainly not a good thing. They could not just stand idly by and let Pavan finish what he was trying to do.

They glanced at David and found that David was not doing anything. As they were thinking of charging over to stop it regardless of their own life, they heard Pavan's laughter. "Hahaha.... Accept my gift, Earthlings! It is your honor to have me, Pavan Tuffin, planting the slave mark on you. This is because I am destined to become the Master of the Milky Way, and in the future, you will feel proud of what you've received today."

The slave mark was completed.

David spoke suddenly as the four elders were about to start planting slave marks. "Pavan, since you haven't hurt anyone on Earth, I'll pretend nothing happened if you leave with your people now."

When Pavan heard David's voice, he was stunned for a moment. Then, he guffawed and said, "Hahaha!

David, who do you think you are? Do you think you are the Master of the Milky Way? For your information, the slave mark is already finished. No one can stop me today. Do you know how long I have waited for this day?

When I discovered you, your fate was already preordained. You have no choice except to let me plant my slave mark on you and serve me for generations. Elders, do it. Plant the slave marks now."

A box appeared in each of the four elders' hands.

Before they could do anything, they suddenly realized they could not move.

'What's going on?'

It was not just them, except for David and the earthlings, everyone from Stella Civilization Galaxy could not move, including the nine winged unicorns.

David exuded his mind power right after Pavan finished speaking and instantly enveloped the entire space to restrict the body of all enemies.

Now, his mind power was countless times stronger than it was three years ago.
