

I'm A Quadrillionaire Chapter 1602

Chapter 1602

When he first entered this line of work, he also tried his best to serve the merchant ship that came to the Central Sacred Continent for the first time so he could find the best deals for his employers.

He would always choose large trading companies and strive to obtain more benefits for his employers.

Gradually, Willie found that doing so would not make much money at all.

No money meant no resources.

Without resources, he could not quickly increase his strength.

If he could not improve his strength, he could only struggle at the bottom.

Enter title...

The people in the same field as him all made a lot of money because they secretly used alternative means to deceive their employers.

Willie also gradually began to become depraved.

He still remembered the first employer he cheated. It allowed him to earn money that he would typically earn over a few years.

He became addicted right away and could not extricate himself anymore.

He did not care how much these people went through before they brought the goods to the Central Sacred Continent.

Willie only knew that he could not stay at the bottom this whole time.

He wanted to climb up to be above everyone.

If he still did his best to serve his employer as before, it was estimated that he might not even have reached Infinity Rank, or only barely enter it.

However, he had broken through to partial Eternal Realm not long ago.

This was the gap between the two tactics.

In Star Kingdom, talent was of course important, but resources were even more important.

No matter how great one's talent was, it was also difficult to achieve something if one did not have the resources.

Even if you had a chance to achieve something, no one knew when this would happen.

Inside the merchant ship's control room.

"Miss, that guy disappeared again."

Marlee was overjoyed.

'Are we going to run into the patrol ship of the Central Sacred Continent again?

'I have to make sure to complain about this guy.

'I can't let him follow me anymore.'

Even if the other party did not do anything, Marlee would still feel uncomfortable.

The merchant ship continued to drive forward for an hour, but still did not encounter any patrol ships.

Willie's small spaceship never reappeared either.

A little doubt rose in Marlee's heart.

Throughout this period, the merchant ship drove forward for another hour.

At this time, a larger merchant ship suddenly appeared ahead, blocking the way of Marlee and others.

Marlee commanded the merchant ship to change direction to get ready to pass the other party and move on.

However, the other party also moved their ship to continue blocking them.

Marlee's merchant ship changed direction several times in a row but was still stopped.

Marlee knew that the other party had come for her.

So, she asked politely, "May I know what's the meaning of this? Why are you blocking my way?"

"Ma'am, don't get me wrong! We are the itinerant merchants of this area. You seem very unfamiliar with the territory, so I guess you don't come here often, right? May I know what you want to sell? If you sell it to me, I will definitely give you the highest price."

A middle-aged man's voice reached Marlee's ears.

Marlee frowned.

Willie had just left, and this guy came immediately to buy from her.

'How can there be such a coincidence?'

Furthermore, the other party directly asked her what she wanted to sell.

Thus, Marlee had to tie the two together.

It was likely that they had colluded.

"Sorry! We're not here to sell. Sir, please let us go," Marlee replied.

"Are you here to buy then? I can find anything you need, and the price will definitely satisfy you."

'We're not here to buy either.'

"You must be joking. The Central Sacred Continent is the largest trade continent in Star Kingdom. There are hundreds of thousands of large and small trade zones. If you're not buying or selling, are you here for fun? In that case, you've come to the wrong place."

'This is none of your business.'

“You’re right, but as a local merchant in this area, I must let every guest who comes here have a good experience.”

“You getting out of the way would be the best experience.”

“No, no, no! You’re wrong. I must serve you well no matter what you want to buy or sell.”

Chapter 1603

Marlee was very annoyed by the sudden appearance of this guy.

‘He is clearly forcing us.

‘He also kept saying that he wanted to give his guests a good experience.

‘How can there be such a shameless person?

“Sir, you coercing us like this is not due to you wanting to give us a good experience, but to cheat us! Don’t you think you are insulting the Central Sacred Continent like this?

Aren’t you afraid that the patrols will arrest you?” Marlee was no longer feigning civility.

The other party did not intend to let them go anyway.

Therefore, saying that was her shedding all pretense of cordiality.

“Ma’am, you can’t just say whatever you want. You have to be responsible for your words. When did I force you to buy or sell?” Lou’s voice also became more sinister.

He could not afford to insult the Central Sacred Continent.

At the same time, he also had the urge to curse.

‘Who did that punk Willie introduce me to?

'Didn't he say this is the first time they come to the Central Sacred Continent?

'It doesn't seem like that at all!

'The people who came to the Central Sacred Continent for the first time will always be submissive, for fear of speaking too loud and offending us local bullies

'This woman looks like someone who has experience.

'This is a bit troublesome.'

However, Lou could be regarded as a well-known merchant in this area.

Although his reputation was not very good, he would not be intimidated by a few words from the other party.

'You know inside your heart whether or not I'm speaking recklessly. I saw a patrol passing by just now, so you'd better get out of the way, or you will suffer the consequences. Don't blame me for not reminding you," Marlee said coldly.

"Ma'am, if you want to do this! Then there is nothing I can say. Do you believe that I'll make it difficult for you to do anything in this area?"

After Lou finished speaking, he released the energy from his body.

The merchant ship where Marlee and others were located was shaken to the point of collapse.

'An Eternal!'

Marlee was taken aback.

Before she could react...

Boom!

A golden giant shadow soared into the sky from the merchant ship.

As he stood in the void, he looked coldly at Lou, who exuded the energy of an Eternal.

David was the one who cast the Eternal Golden Body.

Along the way, he could clearly hear what was happening outside.

This guy was obviously colluding with the partial Eternal just now with their purpose being to buy the goods on the Jung family's merchant ship at a low price.

Such horrendous behavior upset David very much.

The worst thing was that they even blocked their way.

David was not in a hurry, but he could not waste time here either.

Furthermore, he had the same mindset as Marlee.

The people who used this method to deceive others would not have a strong background.

Since they did not have a background, David decided to attack them before deciding what to do next.

The energy released by the opponent was at Eternal Realm mid-Ruler Rank.

Hence, David, a beginner Ruler Ranker, decided to use him as a practice target.

David directly cast the Eternal Golden Body, which stunned Lou.

His original intention was to use his energy to frighten the opponent so that they would obediently sell him the goods at a low price.

It never occurred to him that there was an Eternal hidden on the merchant ship in front of him.

If he knew, Lou would never have come.

There was an Eternal on the other side, so it meant their plan had completely failed.

'That punk Willie deceived me!'

"Um... My friend, this is a misunderstanding..." Lou wanted to show his weakness.

He did not want to make a big deal out of this.

He would be in trouble if the patrol team came over.

However, David did not give him a chance to speak at all.

Lou was scared to attract the attention of the patrol team but David was not.

Hence, he directly swung a punch over.

'Void Punch!'

The force of the Void Punch swung by the Eternal Golden body was not the same as back then anymore.

If this punch landed, aside from Lou the mid-Ruler Ranker, everyone he brought along and his entire merchant ship would turn into dust.

'You wouldn't dare, you thief!'

Chapter 1604

Lou was also pissed.

Of course, he felt the power of the punch.

Boom!

His Eternal Golden Body also swung a punch, aiming it directly at David's attack.

Boom!

The punches collided.

The loud voice was thunderous.

They all held their heads in pain.

Enter title...

Luckily, the duo blocked the shockwaves of the collision.

If not, the big and small merchant ships would turn into dust from the shockwave alone.

Luckily, this was the edge of the Central Sacred Continent, and below it was a vast oldgrowth forest.

If they were above a city, the aftermath of a battle of Eternals would kill countless people.

Of course, David would not do this if they were above a city.

The two Eternal Golden Bodies backed away from the shock.

However, David did not back away as much as Lou.

David clearly got the upper hand during the first collision.

Lou was also shocked by David's combat power.

'This beginner Ruler Ranker is so powerful.

'I am a mid-Ruler Ranker, but not only did I not gain any advantages, but I was also at a loss.'

"My friend, let's talk about this. It's my fault, so I'm willing to..."

Lou was in the middle of his sentence.

"Again!"

David murmured and charged at Lou again.

'Again?

'Have you never f*cking fought before?'

Lou yelled in his heart.

However, he did not dare to waste any time.

Boom!

Another intense collision.

Then...

Boom boom boom!

Countless collisions could be heard.

The two Eternal Golden Bodies entangled together, creating a feast for eyes for the passengers of the two merchant ships.

Marlee and the others saw David cast the Eternal Golden Body to annihilate the eight partial Eternal Realm space pirates in seconds.

However, this time was different.

This was the collision between two Eternal Golden Bodies.

If they were not protected by David's mind power, they would have been dead.

Lou was not having a good time.

Even though he was one small realm stronger than David, David's combat power was not weaker than his.

Moreover, Lou did not have mind power, so he needed to constantly protect his merchant ship from getting destroyed by the shockwaves.

Hence, he was at a disadvantage the entire time.

It seemed that he was completely at David's mercy.

Boom!

David sent Lou flying backward with a punch again. Then, Lou collided with a mountain in the distance.

This time, he did not continue his attack.

Lou got up with an unpleasant look on his face.

He was furious at David's attack.

He was beaten to this state in front of his people by a beginner Ruler Ranker.

How embarrassing.

If he did not win this battle, how would he continue showing his face in this area?

“Back away!” Lou said with a gloomy expression.

Then, he led the merchant ship to back away quickly.

David did not stop him during the process.

When Marlee saw the other party backing away, she also instructed her merchant ship to do so in case David would not be able to focus during his fight.

However, David stopped them when they started moving.

“Marlee, you don’t have to do that. You can stay here and watch.”

Chapter 1605

David did not ask Marlee and the others to leave because he did not think it was necessary.

They were safe under the protection of his mind power.

Now that David had spoken, sure enough, Marlee stayed.

She also did not want to leave and miss the battle between Eternals.

She was just worried about affecting or distracting David, which was why she wanted to leave.

However, what David said to Marlee and the others sounded extremely insulting to Lou.

It sounded as if David was looking down on him.

You are nothing but a beginner Ruler Ranker while I am a dignified mid-Ruler Ranker.

I am one level higher than you and you dare keep those burdens around while fighting with me.

'How reckless.

'Don't think that you'll win just because you initially gained the upper hand.

'The real battle begins now.'

Lou was only relieved when his subordinates drove the merchant ship far away.

The people on the merchant ship were all his confidantes whom he trained over the years, so he could not let anything happen to them.

Otherwise, he would be all alone.

Now that they were gone, Lou would fight without worries.

However, after seeing David's appearance clearly, Lou murmured in his heart.

"This kid is a little young."

Just now, the other party attacked without saying a word, so he did not observe carefully.

Only now could he see clearly.

"If he became an Eternal at such a young age, it means he has a pretty powerful force supporting him.

'Did that punk Willie lie to me?'

However, Lou could not give in at this time so he could only bite the bullet and said, "My friend, I was wrong, but we're all Eternals and you're being so disrespectful."

"Really? Why do I think I went too easy on you? Don't you know what you want to do with that kid named Willie? If I weren't here today, the cargo Marlee and the others worked so hard and went through several life and death situations to transport would have been plundered by you. Do you think I need to give you any respect?" David said coldly.

"My friend, you misunderstood me. I, Lou Sirr, am a serious merchant. Of course, I will pay if I am buying. It'll not be taken for free. My price will definitely satisfy everyone, and I have nothing to do with the person you mentioned," Lou did not admit his relationship with Willie.

'That kid caused so much trouble for me.

"I will have to settle accounts with him after this!

"As a man, aren't you ashamed of lying through your teeth like that? You probably don't even believe what you said! Do you think we will believe it?" David sneered..

"My friend, that's too much!" Lou said, frowning.

Lou considered himself defeated since there was an Eternal hidden on the target merchant ship.

He would be fine if he had to apologize or pay some reasonable damages.

However, he was a mid-Ruler Ranker.

Therefore, he was still enraged when the other party was so disrespectful.

"Is it? I don't think so! Do you know how much painstaking effort Marlee and the others have spent on this cargo, and how many risks they have gone through to transport it safely to the Central Sacred Continent? Behind this is the rise and fall of a family. You unscrupulous merchants only do things against your conscience. Don't you think you're also too much?" David sneered.

"So, what do you want?" Lou asked.

"Get that kid named Willie, and you both should apologize to Marlee. Then, compensate them for causing them distress. After that, this matter will be over and I will not pursue it."

"Impossible! You actually want me, an Eternal, to apologize to someone at Universe Realm? What wishful thinking! If I do this, how will I show my face in this area in the future?" Lou directly rejected David's request without hesitation.

He could still barely apologize to David the Eternal.

After all, he was wrong.

On the contrary, it would be impossible for him to apologize to someone at Universe Realm.

Was he so thick-skinned?

“I don’t care, but if you don’t apologize to Marlee, then I will have to use force. I hope you won’t regret it later.”

Lou laughed at David’s words.

‘Regret?’”
