I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1741—To stop Archimedes from acting on his rage and causing things to escalate to an uncontrollable stage. Bernard contemplated for a very long time before deciding to take Archimedes away.

The price of the Hammer of Thunder was 10 times more than its original value. If Master Archi called out another price, it would only continue to rise.

This premium was unreasonable

Even if Master Archi won and bought it, he would still become the laughing stock of the outside world.

Everyone would talk about him whenever they were gossiping, “Was Archimedes dropped on his head when he was born? He bought a mid-level Soulbound Weapon for 10 times its price just because he wanted to win? He’s the embodiment of having only money and no brains.

The most important thing was that they simply could not take out so much money now. When that happened, they would need the family to clean up their mess

After weighing the pros and cons, Bernard figured he could not sit idly by.

Since he could not talk Archimedes out of this, he should just knock him out and take him away!

He believed that Archimedes would thank him when he woke up.

If he decided to get another protector after this, Bernard would not be disappointed. Instead, he would feel glad

This was because he would get into trouble sooner or later if he continued to follow a master who was ruled by his emotions

It would be better to get himself out of this as soon as possible.

Bernard believed that the family would not make things hard for him since he was a late Sovereign Ranker.

Moreover, he was doing this for the sake of Master Archi and also the family’s reputation.

Archimedes was knocked out by his protector, so this meant the crazy bidding was finally coming to a stop.

David glared at Bernard, feeling p*ssed on the inside

He thought he could get more lavish points.

After being triggered by what he said, Archimedes was about to name another price.

However, the old late Sovereign Ranker beside him stopped him in time.

At the same time, David wondered, 'Isn't Archimedes the eldest son and also the first-in-line heir?

"How dare a protector that was tasked to protect him knock him out?

"Miss Fellowes, Master Archi was a little triggered today, so he lost control of his emotions. I'm sorry! I'M leave with him first. Don't worry. We'll pay for the things we bid on just now according to the final price

After Bernard said that, he left with Archimedes before Alba could say anything.

This farce finally ended.

Even though David was not happy, the result today far exceeded his expectations.

His goal was 13000 lavish points so that he could break through to partial Saint Realm.

In the end, he got 113000 lavish pints. He could even break through to Saint Realm now.

Humans could not be too greedy. Enough was as good as a feast.

David was very happy to be able to get into Saint Realm in just one step.

After Archimedes left, David said, "Miss Fellowes, since Archimedes has left, no one will bid against me anymore, right? Should you announce the winner of the Hammer of Thunder now?"

Alba came back to her senses after hearing that.

She had seen scenes of people bidding against each other like David and Archimedes before

Moreover, it always happened.

When two opposing forces met in an auction, they would want to suppress the other party and win. This was very normal.

Most of the time, the organizer would consider this whenever they sent out invitation cards.

They would invite a lot of opposing forces who shared conflicts to attend.

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 1742—However, it was normally never as intense as the one today.

They increased the price by 200 billion, 300 billion, and even 500 billion. In the end, it directly increased by 1 trillion.

Alba had hosted and attended a lot of auctions, but she had never seen this before

She had never even heard of it.

This was too exaggerated!

That was real money!

As the third young mistress of Treasure Trove, Alba could only use a few trillion Star Dollars. She would not be allowed to use more than that.

However, David spent 11 trillion.

Perhaps only a disciple of a Sacred Saint had the power to do that.

“Are you sure you want to spend 11 trillion on the Hammer of Thunder, Master David?” Alba asked.

“Of course! Miss Fellowes, even though the price of the hammer was raised so high because of my fight. with Archimedes, so many people are watching and I value my prestige. I will pay the final price of 11 trillion Star Dollars, and not a penny less,” David states righteously.

“But ”

“No buts. Miss Fellowes, even though we’re friends in private, this is business. You are the host of the auction while I’m a bidder.”

“Fine. Since you said that, there’s nothing more I can say. Is there anyone who wants to bid? Master David bid on the Hammer of Thunder, a mid-level Soulbound Weapon, for 11 trillion Star Dollars. If there’s no one else, I will announce that this hammer is sold to Master David at 11 trillion Star Dollars.” Alba looked at the other people in the room.

The scene was silent

Only a fool would bid.

It was not worth buying a mid-level Soulbound Weapon for 11 trillion Star Dollars. Not even if it was custom-made.

The premium was too high.

Only rich kids like David and Archimedes would raise the price so high.

“If there’s no one, I will make the announcement.

“Hammer of Thunder, a mid-level Soulbound Weapon

“11 trillion going once!

*11 trillion going twice!

“11 trillion going thrice!

“Sold!”

After Alba announced that, the scene went into an uproar.

“Damn! I didn’t come to this auction in vain. I watched Archimedes, the first in-line of the Lightfoot family. get destroyed by someone else with money. What a miracle!”

“Right? Everyone in the Central Sacred Continent knows about the Lightfoot family’s wealth. They’re the owner of Splendor! Master David is so amazing. He’s my idol”

“He spent 11 trillion Star Dollars for a mid-level Soulbound Weapon. All hail Master David!”

Cheers erupted from the scene.

Even though they were saying how amazing, bad'ss, and domineering David was, they were all mocking

David in their hearts.

This kid is just a spendthrift.

Will his master slap him to death after he finds out?

David did not care if they were just praising him on the surface and mocking him on the inside.

He only cared about one thing, and that was completing this transaction with Treasure Trove as soon as possible over yet. Now, let's continue bidding on other treasures. I promise they are all on the same level as the Hammer of Thunder," Alba said loudly.

The scene plunged into silence again.

After they finished watching the drama between Archimedes and David, they should focus on their own business

Without those two rich men, the auction could go back to normal now.

Soon, another treasure was wheeled on stage.

David had lost all of his interest at this moment

Therefore, he got up quietly to leave.

However, the moment he got out of the venue, a staff member from Treasure Trove stopped him.

I'm sorry, Master David, please return to your seat. You can't leave before the auction is over."

Then why can Archimedes leave?" David asked.

He only left after paying for the treasures he bid on.

"Well, let's calculate the total amount for all of my treasure. It's not like I'm not going to pay." David said.

He came here to pay.

Did these people think he was running away?

What a joke!

He wasted so much effort spending so much money to get so many lavish points so he could become a Saint

Wouldn't he have to start over if he ran away now?

"Alright, please come with me."

David followed the other party backstage to pay

However, when he was on the way, a voice said in the staff's ear.

"Bring David to me."

The person who spoke was Valerio, the head of Treasure Trove's headquarters.

After getting the order, the staff did not dare to waste any time.

Thus, the staff took David to another destination. They reached the door of a room after they walked a little more.

Knock knock knock!

The staff knocked on the door and said respectfully. "Mr. Valerio, Master David is here."

Then, a voice spoke from inside the room.

“Let him in.”

“Yes, Sir”

The staff opened the door after saying that. Then, the staff said to David after making a gesture, “Master David, the head of Treasure Trove is asking for you.”

David was curious.

‘Wasn’t I going to pay?

“Why am I going to see the head of Treasure Trove?

Is it because the amount is too big so that’s why the head needs to handle it himself?

David walked into the room.

An old man with white hair and ruddy complexion was drinking tea while sitting in the room. It was the partial Saint who spoke on stage before the auction started.

When he saw David, the old man smiled and said, “David, sit down. I’m Valerio Fellowes, the head of Treasure Trove.”

“You’re too courteous, Mr. Valerio,” David replied and sat down without holding himself back.

Valerio was just a partial Saint

Back then, David might be vigilant when he was facing a powerhouse like this.

However, he did not need to anymore because he would soon be a Saint “David, you’re so young and promising. You managed to suppress Archimedes at such a young age. You have to know that he’s the first-in-line heir of the Lightfoot family and his family controls Splendor, one of the top five trading companies. They surpass our family in all aspects,” Valerio lamented.

“Mr. Valerio, you don’t have to say those things to me. Everyone is praising me on the surface, but they might be calling me a spendthrift in their hearts!” David mocked himself

“You don’t have to pay attention to them, David. They’re short-sighted, so how will they know how outstanding you are?”

At this moment, Valerio was not thinking about how much money David spent after that fight with Archimedes.
