Chapter 1799

The storm outside did not bother David. At this moment, he was giggling to himself in his room.

The reason he was like this was because of the system panel in front of him.

[Balance: 9957116452000000 Star Dollars

[Body: Pre-Saint level 10 [You may upgrade one level using 1000000 lavish points]

[Mind: Pre-Saint level 10 [You may upgrade using 1000000 lavish points]

[Combat: Partial True Saint Rank

[Combat Skills: Void Punch [Perfection], Air Crushing Slap [

Perfection], Evil-Splitting Sword Technique [Perfection]

[Skills: Ancient Traditional Medicine [Perfection]

[Lavish Points: 8078]

How long had it been?

David's strength had already been upgraded to partial True Saint Rank.

He also did not expect it to happen so quickly. Initially, he thought the growth of his lavish points would slowly decrease.

However, he suddenly experienced a period of massive growth which came so suddenly and fiercely.

In just one day, he got 100000 lavish points.

He did not know if this could continue. If it continued to progress like this, he would get 1000000 lavish points in just ten days.

Then, he would upgrade his Body and become a True Saint. He would not need to be scared of the Lightfoot family if that happened. Even if the two True Saints from the Lightfoot family came to him, he could still escape even if he could not defeat them.

This was true fearlessness.

David was excited just from thinking about it.

He had chosen the right plan. He made up a fake Sacred Saint master and then used all kinds of tricks to make this fake master seem believable.

At the same time, the Fellowes family needed a Sacred Saint as their backer to help them out of their predicament.

That was why they were doing everything they could to help him now.

Not only did they help David fight the Lightfoot family, but they also even used everything in their power to help David develop his company.

Of course, this was far from enough.

A True Saint could not help the Fellowes family out of their predicament yet.

David knew his situation.

He did not have a Sacred Saint master, so he had to depend on himself.

He needed to continue with his next plan once he reached True Saint Rank.

He wanted to merge and take over the Fellowes family's Treasure Trove.

Treasure Trove was one of the top five trading companies in the Central Sacred Continent, and David only needed a portion of their scale and value.

That way, he could get tens of millions of lavish points, enjoy a meteoric rise, and become the strongest combat power in Star Kingdom—a Sacred Saint.

When that happened, the Fellowes family's issue would be resolved.

As for how to convince them, David still had no idea.

After all, Treasure Trove was the Fellowes family's lifeblood.

Therefore, David needed a foolproof plan to make them agree.

They might only agree when their predicament became worse and they were facing a life-or-death situation.

David could only think about this after he got to True Saint Rank.

With that, David turned off the system and grabbed his communication device.

Then, a portrait appeared in front of him that showed David himself.

Even though this was a drawing, it was pretty similar to his likeness.

It was more than 90% similar to him.

Under the portrait was the content of the warrant.

David was at a loss at the Lightfoot family's tactic.

It seemed that they were trying to get everyone in Star Kingdom to find him.

If David was alone, he would not mind.

He just needed to stay indoors.

The Lightfoot family would not dare to do anything to him after he became a True Saint.

However, David was worried that Celia and the others would see this warrant in the Iridescent Sect where they were still cultivating.

Judging from their temper and how much David meant to them, they would surely ask Nova for help.

If Nova told them her hands were tied, they might even come out to look for him in secret.
