Married at First Sight Chapter 2610-The Newman company was under the control of Camryn, and she would probably know every purchase Trenton made.

If suddenly there is a large transfer of money, Camryn will definitely ask him. If she knows that he has transferred a large amount of money to Carrie, Camryn may not say anything about him, but she may be disappointed with him.

He should also know that if he gives Carrie too much money, she will spend it all without stopping, not know how to grow, not be able to find a job, and will only bleed him dry.

He specifically asked for leave and wanted to visit the prison. He wanted to persuade his parents to transfer all the property in their name to his. He just wanted to control Carrie's living expenses and prevent her from ruining the Newman family property?

After thinking about it this way, Trenton decided to give Carrie only more than one thousand dollars in cash.

He quickly changed his clothes, put the money in his trouser pocket, and then walked out of the room.

After walking two steps, he saw Camryn standing not far away, looking at him quietly.

With a guilty conscience, Trenton was shocked when he saw his eldest sister.

He subconsciously wanted to cover his trouser pocket. After touching his trouser pocket, he quickly let go of his hand, feeling that his action was simply worth three hundred taels of silver.

"Sister, morning."

Trenton walked over, pretending to be calm, and greeted Camryn with a smile.

Camryn responded to him gently: "Morning, did you just come back from your morning run?"

Trenton: "Yes, I just came back from my morning run. Sister, are you not going to sleep? My brother-in-law said you are tired and need to sleep more."

Camryn said, "I wanted to sleep a little longer, but I couldn't sleep, so I just got up. Have you washed yourself? I went downstairs for breakfast, and I could smell the fragrance. I don't know what delicious food your brother-in-law made."

With that said, Camryn turned around and walked downstairs.

Trenton was stunned for a moment before following.

Unexpectedly, the two of them were still on the stairs when they heard Carrie's agonizing cry and Callum's irate roar, "Get out!"

The siblings instinctively stopped and looked at each other. Soon, they saw Carrie stumble out of the kitchen.

Things kept being thrown out of the kitchen, hitting Carrie.

For example, bowls, plates, and even spatulas were thrown out.

Some hit Carrie's back, while others fell to the ground and shattered.

Carrie ran out of the house as if running for her life, screaming from time to time.

Camryn and Trenton came back to their senses on the stairs and walked downstairs quickly.

Trenton instinctively chased Carrie out, while Camryn walked into the kitchen.

Callum was still about to throw something, but he stopped when he saw Camryn.

Camryn turned her head to look at the debris on the ground outside and then turned to look at Callum, whose face was ashen as if he wanted to kill someone. She asked with concern, "Callum, what's going on? You look like you want to kill someone. What's wrong with you?"

Could it be that Carrie sneaked in while she and Trenton were upstairs and the servants had not entered the house, trying to take advantage of Callum?

Carrie knew that her mother had planned for her to marry into the York family and become a young mistress in the past. There were nine young masters in the York family. The first three were the most well-known. Even though Zachary was married, plenty of rich girls were still after Callum and Kevin.

Carrie wanted to take revenge on Camryn and go against her. She might even have thought of stealing her man, Callum.
