

Ex Wife 1301

Chapter 1301

A videographer followed the group with a camera, recording all of their actions and words.

Adam sat in the studio, watching everything.

At first, he was worried that the episode might be ruined, and even decided to shoot another episode after Xavier and Leia left.

However, both Xavier and Leia were surprisingly interesting, especially Leia.

She was a tough woman with tons of energy, and she looked like Xavier's significant other given the latter's arrogant, germophobic, and weak nature.

As an outsider, he began to ship their romance too.

"Yes, get more footage of them! That's exactly what I want.

I'm sure it'll be popular when it's broadcasted."

Adam held a walkie-talkie and excitedly ordered the frontline filming staff.

He had been a director for many popular variety shows, so he could tell at a glance what kinds of scenes would be liked or disliked.

The first three episodes of Shirley had nothing interesting to show for, so he figured that this season would be ruined.

But now, it seemed like the show would be revived with the addition of Leia and Xavier.

There was a dense fog in the depths of the mountains, which scared the celebrities that were used to luxury and comfort.

They retreated, with nobody willing to lead the group.

"I heard that this mountain is filled with miasma, so the villagers generally go up the mountains to pick mushrooms in the afternoon.

Why don't we wait for a while?"

Myra Enfield, the newly appointed captain of the female team, suggested carefully, not daring to move forward.

"Yeah, there seem to be all kinds of insects and snakes here too.

Maybe it's better to wait."

Shirley swallowed and echoed Myra's words immediately.

The show was ongoing, so her agent and assistant were back at the camp.

She didn't want anything to happen that might ruin her public image.

"This is a slow variety show, not a wilderness survival camp.

There isn't any miasma, insects, or snakes...

What's more, there might not be anything left if you come in the afternoon! "

Leia scoffed as she picked a Boletus.

Her basket had the most mushrooms, like termite mushrooms, lion's mane mushrooms, and matsutake.

"I'm leaving, whether or not you come with me.

I'm not afraid of snakes.

If I bump into one, I'll catch it and roast it for dinner!"

She dusted the dirt off the Boletus and put it in her basket, then set off energetically and left them far behind.

"Where is Leia from? Is she a local villager?"

"No, she's the youngest and most adored lady of the Osborne family.

Her family is filthy rich."

"Why can she handle so much though? She's better than some of us, who came from poor backgrounds."

The celebrities covered their microphones and gossiped about Leia secretly.

They knew that there was a camera rolling, so they didn't dare to gossip too much.

Of course, they were talking about Shirley.

She came from a poor background, but she was pretentious and could not take hardships.

Shirley gritted her teeth.

People in the entertainment circle were very shallow.

They fawned over superior people and put inferior people down.

Before this, those people had tried their best to associate with her and please her when she was still supported in the past.

Now, after they'd learned that she would be suspended by Universal Entertainment, they started kicking her when she was down.

Shirley took a deep breath and quickly caught up with Leia and Xavier in front of her, trying to remedy her damaged reputation.

"Wait.

I'll go up the mountains with you guys."

Shirley trotted to the front and intimately held Leia's arm.

After she angled herself towards the best shooting angle for the camera, she started to act sweet and kind.

"Miss Osborne, I'm the fixed guest of this show, so I know this place better than you.

Just follow me."

Chapter 1302

Goosebumps prickled Leia's skin, and she immediately pulled her hand away.

"Yeah, I'm sure you know this place well. After all, you sleep in town at night, and even ask the local villagers to carry you out of the village. Of course, you'll know the place."

Shirley's expression turned livid.

"Miss, are you making a joke? I didn't do that. I sleep in the village at night."

"Ah, so what if you sleep in town? You don't have to hide it. You're an actress, so I'm sure you just want to memorize your script in a better place. I'm sure the audience can understand your situation!"

Leia criticized Shirley, but none of the camera crew tried to stop her.

On the contrary, they became quite excited because they were annoyed by Shirley putting on airs.

They had to wake up early in the morning and they had to spend a long time waiting for her to come back to the village from town.

It was ridiculous! Previously, no one had dared to say anything about it, but unexpectedly, the new guest was pretty bold. She scolded Shirley in front of the cameras, which made the cameramen satisfied.

"You, stop that nonsense! The camera is rolling!"

Shirley gritted her teeth and warned Leia.

The cameraman gave them a thumbs up as if he was eager for some drama.

"It's fine, you guys can say whatever you want. We'll edit and delete any unnecessary footage later."

Leia smiled.

"Yeah, they'll delete it, so calm down... You want to go with me, don't you? Hurry up. Let's talk alone."

She looked around and found that the other celebrities were far behind them.

Even Xavier was gasping for breath as they hiked up the mountain, and was walking at a distance from them.

"What... What do you want to talk about?"

Shirley became guilty and did not dare to go forward.

"Of course, we're going to talk about picking mushrooms!"

Leia suddenly grabbed Shirley's hand and ran forward, leaving the cameraman behind.

"Come! There are a lot of red and white mushrooms ahead of us. First come, first serve!"

"Stop, stop pulling me. Let go."

Shirley noticed that Leia did not want to let her off the hook. She didn't want to run but Leia pulled her, so she had no choice.

Leia stopped when she saw they had left everyone behind.

"Let me ask you one last time. Why did you conspire with the hospital to harm Quinton? You hold no grudge against him, so why did you do such a wicked thing?"

"Hmph! It's useless even if you interrogate me, I just passed the message along. The mastermind is hiding safe and sound and watching us fight with each other," Shirley sneered, her sweet and kind act gone.

"What do you mean?"

Leia's heart skipped a beat, and she immediately asked, "So, you're saying that there's someone else involved in this?"

"What do you think?" Shirley glanced at Leia.

"You're right—I don't know Quinton, so there's no reason for me to harm him. I just made a call and the doctor made his decision."

"What call did you make? Who asked you to make the call? Tell me!"

Leia anxiously grabbed Shirley's shoulders and interrogated the latter fiercely. The cameraman who caught up with them happened to catch that scene.
