

Ex Wife 1309

Chapter 1309

After Leia spoke, she was overwhelmed with shame. She covered her face and rushed out of the ward. She could not fall in love casually any more. Even with her previous bad experiences, she had never been so hurt in a relationship before!

One should never fall in love! Leia had apparently pushed Shirley down the hill just now, and now, her loyal man was with her, so Leia could not ask about Quinton's affair. She decided to wait until Shirley got better before she spoke to her seriously. She wanted to see if she could find the mastermind, so she decided she would stay in the small mountainous village in the meantime. She would have to be wherever Shirley was.

Shirley was injured, so the shooting of Happy Days was paused for the time being. All the staff gathered in the small house to talk.

Adam noticed that Leia was sitting sulkily beside a pond in front of the house. He was worried that she might be taking things too hard, so he immediately went over to comfort her. "Miss Osborne, it's normal to have accidents during shooting. I believe that you didn't push Shirley on purpose, so don't blame yourself and take things too hard. We promise that we won't expose that recording, so you won't be publicly criticized on the Internet either."

"Take things too hard?" Leia turned around to look at Adam in confusion. "You're overthinking. I'm not so dumb as to harm myself because of a playboy and pretentious witch. I'm not afraid of cyberbullying either. I'm very experienced because I was a top fan who tried hard to fight for my idol back then."

Her reply amused Adam. "That's good. I saw you staring at the pond for ages, so I thought you wanted to jump into it."

"No, I won't. I only feel like kicking those people gossiping about me into the pond. I just found many fish in this pond, and I'm thinking about barbecuing them."

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" Adam burst into awkward laughter, at a loss for words. Leia was indeed a strange woman. He met a lot of people but it was the first time he had met someone so unique. She was tougher than a lot of the men on his team.

"Miss Osborne, may I ask what your relationship with Mr. Stuart is?" Adam nudged his glasses and asked carefully.

Their relationship would decide the future direction of this show, so he had to get an answer in advance.

"What relationship?" Leia frowned and tried hard to dwell on it. "Friends? Lovers? Enemies? Hmm... I don't think we're any of those. Maybe we're just bedmates. We slept in the same room last night, after all."

"Ahem, ahem!" Even if Adam was mentally prepared, he was caught off guard by her bluntness. Although she was rather bizarre, he found it easy to spend time with her; she was better than the hypocrites of the entertainment circle.

"No wonder you and Mr. Stuart look so close. He obviously favors you. It turns out that you guys have a rather extraordinary relationship." Adam was a director and a shrewd person. He could see that Xavier cared about Leia very much, and now he had gained confirmation from Leia, so his desire to promote Leia and do Xavier a favor deepened.

"Well, now it's just ordinary..."
